Washington correspondents say it is well understood that the Nicaragua canal commission, which has recently returned from an examination of the canal route, will report to congress in favor of the construction of the canal. It estimates the cost at $110,000,000, and the time required as seven years. Whether it favors the government undertaking or subsidizing a private company, is not stated.

One McGill, who runs a 7x9 weakling in Portland, speaks of this paper as a "plutocratic organ." If that means that its publisher pays his bills and works ten hours per day, we enter a plea of guilty. McGill is a professional agitator, without brains, and has a hard time begging for money to keep his sheet alive. He is a disgrace to the party that he "claims" to represent, and attempts by his silliness to tear down every one who is a gentleman in the organization.

THE OLD TRICK.

The big insurance case recently on trial in the U. S. courts in Seattle resulted in favor of the plaintiff. As is frequently the case, the insurance company tried to avoid the payment of the claim on technical ground but it did not succeed this time. It seems that Guy C. Phinney carried a policy for $100,000 in the N. Y. Mutual company. Prior to his death he omitted to pay his premium when due, and the company used this as a pretext to refuse payment. The plaintiff based her case on a New York state requiring notice of the date when the premium would be due and fought it out on that point. The defense maintained that the company had a right to cancel the policy upon the non-payment of the second and third premiums by Mr. Phinney. Mrs. Phinney recovered $97,012.84.

The decision of Judge Parker of the United States Court at Fort Smith, in the case of the publisher of a newspaper in that city charged with using the mail to perpetrate a fraud, is one that advertisers will unhesitatingly approve of, touching as it does one of the greatest evils with which they have to contend. In this instance, the publisher received a page advertisement from an advertiser. It was set up and five copies of the paper run off with it and the advertisement omitted from the balance of the edition. The five copies were sent to the advertiser as proof of insertion. They were, as usual, sent through the mail and that is where the publisher got himself in trouble. The facts in the case having come to the attention of the post office inspector, the publisher was indicted by the grand jury and at the trial was convicted of the charge.

Sure democratic states almost unanimously declare for free coinage of silver. In the doubtful northern states a compromise is made by substantially adopting the 1892 platform, which may be construed in any manner one may wish. All the power of the administration and the office holding class has been used to prevent any declaration in favor of free coinage.

The republican candidates for congress in this district are having a merry time trying to shelve Mr. Hermann. Unfortunately for their ambitions our congressman refuses to be turned down and will undoubtedly fight for a re-nomination.

The official report of the World's Fair is completed. It comprises 3,500 pages of printed and typewritten matter, is illustrated by 2,000 photographs and bound in twenty-two volumes.

No telling where a fashion will stop. First it was balloon sleeves, then by some sort of evolution they worked further down on the female anatomy and developed into bloomers. Whichever one first goes out of fashion may be used for the other purpose.

Sportsmen are obeying the game law in regard to Chinese pheasants unusually well this season. Although many of the birds are well grown few if any have been brought to market. The open season commences September 1st, when good shooting and fine birds may be expected.

Our people who go to overcrowded Newport, where accommodations are very limited, and prices high, should remember that they can rusticate at Florence by the ocean at small cost, be well cared for, have a quiet time, and not be crowded near to distraction, by a hungry frantic mob of so-called pleasure seekers.

Our city fathers are wrestling with the bicycle question. The courts have uniformly decided that bicycles are vehicles, and therefore entitled to their rights as such on wagon roads. This view of the case bars them the right to use sidewalks, where they are a constant menace to the safety of pedestrians, for whose exclusive use walks are built.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Several years ago my blood was in bad condition, my system all run down, and my general health very much impaired. My hands were covered with large sores, discharging all the time. I had no strength nor energy and my feelings were miserable in the extreme. At last, I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla and soon noticed a change for the better. My appetite returned and with it, renewed strength. Encouraged by these results, I kept on taking the Sarsaparilla, till I had used six bottles, and my health was restored."—A. A. The minister who preaches against the extravagance of the rich is on the wrong track. It is impossible for the rich to be too extravagant. The money they spend to gratify their whims is of benefit to the world that it would be if hoarded. The miserly rich are the ones who ought to be preached at.

The fight was a slashing one, and Jakes' screams could be heard half a mile. No arrests have been made. Both were infatuated with the same girl.

But Twelve Jurors.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—The district attorney has decided to try Theodore Durrant for murder with 12 jurors instead of securing 14, as at first contemplated. The managing and city editors of the Chronicle and Examiner were in court this morning to plead to the charge of contempt of court in publishing the views of sworn jurors in the case. Judge Murphy ignored their presence, however, and proceeded with the examination of jurors.
