THE CASCADE RESERVE.

It is to be hoped that Senator Mitchell will succeed in his intentions to have the larger portion of the Cascade reserve restored to the public domain. The scheme was conceived by a few men who saw a fortune in store for them in lieu school lands at $1.25 an acre. Advancing the price to $2.50 an acre frustrated their fine scheme. The congress that passed the act did not know what they were doing, but were caught by the name of the act. They did not know they were taking land equal to a fair sized state from the heart of Oregon, stopping settlement, retarding growth of our lumber interests and injuring without cause stock men who use the summit of the mountains for a summer range.

In Lane county, alone, 52 sections comprising 1872 square miles are included in the reserve. Think of it. Over one fourth of the area of the county withdrawn from settlement and possible development, nearly double the area of the state of Rhode Island, which has but 1054 square miles, exclusive of bays and inlets. About equal to the state of Delaware with her 2120 square miles of territory. About one-fifth of the area of the state of Oregon. The plea for preservation of our forests is not well founded on facts. With present appliances in lumbering there are thousands of acres of timber in our mountains that cannot possibly be touched. Their extremely rough and broken characters make it impossible to remove timber except along the streams. Then, too, young timber grows very fast and soon replenishes barren tracts. The first settlers found large sections of this valley comparatively open, where now young timber grows thickly, some of it large enough for the saw mill. The greater portion of the reserve should be restored to the public domain where it belongs.

Captain John G. Bourke, United States army, describes the numerous receipts used on the Mexican border, and gives the following as a potent love philter: "Kill a jack rabbit, take out his eyes, dry them, grind them into a powder, put them into tobacco, make a cigarette and give to the young lady to smoke. She cannot help falling in love with you." Sometimes the ingredients are varied, but the height of efficacy was gained by putting a pinch of it in the young woman's shoe.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

THE ONLY ADMITTED READ RULE XV. "Articles that are in any way dangerous or offensive, also patent medicines, nostrums, and empirical preparations, whose ingredients are concealed, will not be admitted to the Exposition."

Why was Ayer's Sarsaparilla admitted? Because it is not a patent medicine, not a nostrum, nor a secret preparation, not dangerous, not an experiment, and because it is all that a family medicine should be.

Pleasant Hill Items.

October 19th. S Handsaker had charge of the Pioneer store and the post office while W. L. Bristow and wife were in attendance at the co-operation meeting at Eugene.

Early sown wheat looks fine, especially that on the farms of John Shelly and the West Brothers.

The families of John Sellars and Henry Mathews have returned from Kilton's springs, after a two weeks' visit, and report an excellent time with good results to all.

Postmaster Bristow and wife will leave on Monday for a two weeks' trip to Portland and other places down the valley. During their absence the business will be ably managed by Mr. Robinett, of Creswell.

Dr. W. Kykendall returned last night from Salem, where he had been to attend a meeting of the board of regents of Willamette University. The doctor has accepted the position offered him as professor of gynecology in the medical department and will enter upon his duties November 1, at which time the department of the college opens.

Dr. Kykendall's presence will be required in Salem but one day of each week—quite likely on Wednesday—at which time he will deliver a lecture before his class. He will retain his residence in Eugene, and will be here on every other day, excepting the one which requires his presence in Salem, to attend to his duties as usual.

WITH THE CARLTON COMPANY.—Mrs. G. A. Yerington, formerly of Springfield, is now playing with the Carlton Company between this city and Portland. Theatre going people will remember the Carlton Company who played here about a week this fall. The troupe is playing "Hazel Kirke" and "Mrs. Yerington has the part of 'Dollie,' formerly played by Mrs. Rendick. It is also rumored that Mr. Yerington will join the company soon and will have charge of the orchestra.

MORE TOOLS STOLEN.—Last evening about 6 o'clock some sneak thief stole some carpenter tools belonging to J. S. Lamson and Ed Farrington from the new Catholic rectory which they are building. The thief took the tools to Winters' Ninth street second hand store, where he disposed of them. The tools stolen from J. S. Higgins a few nights ago were returned last night to their place from where they were taken. A warrant was out for the arrest of the supposed guilty parties and they doubtless became alarmed.

DISMISSED.—Geo. Saunders, of Florence, brought here by deputy constable Hadsall, from Florence, on a commitment charging him with rioting and assault, was brought before County Judge Fisher this morning on a writ of habeas corpus, on petition. His attorneys made an argument that the commitment papers were faulty and the judge so held and the defendant was discharged from custody. He immediately left for his home at Florence.

TO THE MINES.—Sale in Post: Mark Holmes and Arthur Brock left this afternoon for the Holmes ranch in Polk county, where they will fit out for a six weeks' trip to the Bohemia mining district, where Mr. Holmes has a couple of promising locations. Chas. B. Craven will join them the early part of next week and the party will go overland.

ASSAULT CASE.—A warrant was issued last evening for the arrest of S. N. Glick, charged with assaulting John Spahn with a monkey wrench at the A Meek place below town. The case will be heard next Wednesday.

MARRIED.—At the Revere House, in Albany, on Monday, October 21, 1893, by Judge J. N. Duncan, Mr. T. J. Stevens and Miss P. E. Thomas, both of Harrisburg.

MARRIAGE LICENSE.—County Clerk Jennings today issued a marriage license to W. H. Davis and Elma E. Palmer, all of Lane county, Oregon.

Ex-Sheriff Shattuck of Josephine county, after several years experience, will not raise water melons next year. He says that they do not ripen soon enough, and the railroad ships early melons from Sacramento valley to Portland at the same rate as they charge him from Grant's Pass.

The Baptist Convention.

Daily Guard, October 23.

The tenth annual meeting of the Baptist state convention convened in the Baptist church in this city at 7:30 o'clock last evening. A representative number of delegates from different parts of the state were in attendance.

The time yesterday evening and today was taken up with the pastoral conference. In the absence of Rev. J. F. Dullin, of Grants Pass, and Rev. W. T. Flenner, of Seattle, Washington, preached last night. At the close of his sermon, the enrollment of delegates and election of officers took place. Officers for the ensuing year of the pastoral conference were elected as follows: President, Rev. M. L. Rager, of Oregon City; vice-presidents, Rev. J. F. Dullin, of Grants Pass, and Rev. E. B. Paes, of McMinnville; secretary and treasurer, Rev. J. H. Hargraves, of Grants Pass.

The conference opened again this morning at 7:30 o'clock with devotional services led by Rev. Short. This was followed by a paper on "Expository Preaching: What is it? At its Value," by Rev. E. B. Paes, of McMinnville. Next was an address, "The Preacher and His Study," by Rev. Geo. N. Ames, of Ashland. The morning session closed at 11 o'clock with ministerial and missionary experiences, led by Rev. J. C. Douglas, of Pendleton.

The afternoon service opened at 2 o'clock with devotional meeting. A prayer for missionary work in Oregon was led by Rev. J. F. Day, missionary of the Corvallis Association. At 2:30 Rev. A. W. Snyder of Portland delivered an address on "The Preacher and his Closet." This address was followed by a general discussion. Rev. J. Merley, of Medford, talked to the congregation on "The Preacher's relation to the community." This, too, was followed by a short discussion, after which Rev. Geo. T. Ellis, of Baker City, spoke on the "Preacher's relation to Politics." This closed the deliberations of the pastoral conference and they adjourned to assemble again in convention at 7:30 this evening.

CONCERNING THE HOP.

A Shortage of the World Over.

New York: The new crop is now felt to be so much less than last year's and so much of it was left unpicked, and in spite of large stocks of old hops on both sides of the water, certain dealers who are loaded up with olds are disposed to buy new hops more freely. Brewers are still well supplied and show little disposition to alter their policy. It is more to buy hops only as they need them. The Brewers' Journal concedes that the new crop is 40 per cent below last year's, and that the Pacific coast will not have over 125,000 bales compared to 185,000 bales of '93's against 350,000 bales last year, and claims a shortage of 40 per cent in Germany and on the Continent. But the serious shortage at home and abroad is now recognized by dealers and speculators, though no one can predict the future. Prices are based only on small sales made in this market, and reflect the feeling here only for the immediate present.

Comparatively few Pacific coast '95 hops have reached Eastern markets up to the present time. While the shortage is fully realized, our Western hops are selling only in a hand-to-mouth way in New York with prices scarcely established. Prime hops sold to arrive at $1.00 with some rather inferior obtainable at 80c, while our choice dealers ask 100c. Growers are not in the market for Pacific hops to any great extent.

Hops are lower than I ever saw them at this time of the year in my thirty years' experience. Never before have I seen a hop market so nearly paralyzed in October.—Albro Akin, N. Y. City.

HOP PURCHASES.—Salem Statesman: Heron & Levy, the hop buyers, have purchased several lots of hops in Polk county this week—about 250 bales—comprising the crops of O and P Hansen, Sheriff H. B. Plummer, County Judge Birch and others. The prices paid were 6, 6j and 6j cents. J. P. Meeker also secured several lots numbering about 150 bales.

Millionaire Lucky Baldwin of San Francisco is being sued again for seduction. He has to stand father for a goodly proportion of illegitimate children in our sister state.
