

CASITORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Casitoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Acheson, M.D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of 'Casitoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it needs a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Casitoria within easy reach."

CASITORIA cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Truss, Flatulency, Kinds worms, gives sleep, and promotes growth, without injurious medication.

"For several years I have recommended your 'Casitoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beautiful results."

WHEAT COMPARISON.

The following figures give a comparison of the price of wheat at Liverpool and Chicago, showing the difference between the two cities in regard to wheat:

July 29—	Price.
Liverpool	80 1/2
Chicago	71 1/2

Difference in Liverpool... 8 1/2

September 15—	Price.
Liverpool	79 1/2
Chicago	71 1/2

Difference in Liverpool... 8 1/2

October 28—	Price.
Liverpool	79 1/2
Chicago	69 1/2

Difference in Liverpool... 10 1/2

Salem Post: Is the Liverpool price too high, or the Chicago price too low? Is the Englishman paying too high a price for his wheat? It is likely when he has the wheat of the world to select from?

Roseburg Review: John Hall reports the sale of the Petite prunes in the vicinity of Myrtle Creek at an average price of 4 cents a pound, which will give the growers a fair profit. They could have sold the Italians at the same price, but consider it too low. Joan Weaver is shipping a carload of Petites to Columbus, Ohio, today.

Oakland Item: Roseburg Plumber: Mr. George Stearns returned last Tuesday from Portland's exposition where he and his wife have been visiting. Mrs. Stearns visited their son daughter and niece at Eugene, who are attending the university there. Mrs. Stearns returned home Saturday.

A Walla Walla man tried to trade off his wife for a bicycle, on which he aimed to skip the country. When his wife found out she quietly got him a ticket to St. Paul and told him to get. He got as far as Pasco and then came back, but his wife is taking legal steps to marry the bicycle man. It's a fact.

Salem Journal: The Willamette river is certainly getting very low. The gauge at the O. R. & N. company's dock now registers but .5 of a foot above low water mark and is slowly eroding. The boat experience considerable difficulty in crossing the bar just below the big steel bridge but there are other places in the river that more materially hinder navigation than the one just mentioned.

An Albany man who has been with the Indians a great deal, says there is no use talking, you can't make much out of them by education. They may go to school and learn something about books, but he has observed that in a short time they get back to their old habits. He knew one boy who was sent back East to one of the big Indian schools and obtained an excellent education. He came back to Eastern Oregon and in a little while was running around with a blanket around his shoulders like the rest of them. Some of them get religion and stand by their profession, but most of them when the gambling season comes around tumble into the pit.

POLITICS AND RELIGION.

Here is a mixture of politics, religion and protection with a vengeance, and a considerable display of donkeyism. Mr. Ephraim Morris is a woolen manufacturer of Hartford, Vt., and one of the principal supporters of the Second Congregational church of that pretty New England town. A year or two ago the church advertised for a preacher who was "young unmarried and a republican." Rev. Herbert W. Boyd applied for the place and was accepted. It leaked out however that Mr. Boyd voted for Mr. Cleveland in 1892, and because of that fact the woolen manufacturer, Mr. Morris, withdrew both himself and his contributions from the Second Congregational church of Hartford, Vt. Most remarkable of all is Mr. Morris' letter in which are given the reasons for his absurd behavior.

"I mistrusted, from Mr. Boyd's application that he was not a republican and cautioned the committee against hiring him, saying that I would not contribute toward the support of a democrat; but they were all wise and had their way. I gave them fair warning, and they must take the consequences. I went to Mr. Boyd, and he acknowledged that he had voted for Mr. Cleveland. I am a woolen manufacturer. Democracy is detrimental to my business, and I would not hear the gospel preached by a democrat any more than I would cut off my right hand. If they secure a republican they can have my support; otherwise they'll go without it."

This carries its own comment. If Mr. Morris cannot get to heaven without the aid of a liberal republican pastor who committed the crime of voting for Cleveland three years ago, he prefers to try a warmer climate or cut off his right hand. He can do either, or both.

The weather clerk denies the Willamette valley her usual quota of rain this season.

The semi-annual report of the clerk of Lane county shows a fair condition of the treasury. The indebtedness has been reduced to a little less than $30,000.

Albany Democrat: "What's the matter of having Mr. Hermann investigate the Calapooia. Doesn't that need improving?" Why not let him get his work in also on Camas Swale.

Robert Golet is contemplating the erection of a $3,000,000 cottage at Newport. That is good. It will furnish employment to hundreds of men and help keep the money in circulation.

Steamboats for the upper Willamette river are more plentiful than water this season. It is quite a contrast with the fall two years ago when we had a fourteen foot stage of water in October.

Twelve states hold elections on November 5—Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New York, New Jersey, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia. Eight states elect legislatures, which select United States senators: Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, Virginia, New York, Ohio, Utah.

The conflict of authority between the high courts of Eugene and Fall Creek appear to have been satisfactorily adjusted. It would have been far better if the girl had not been arrested. She has been sufficiently punished for her fault, and it is not probable that any grand jury will return an indictment against her.

Hops are quoted in the Willamette Valley at 6 1/2 to 7 cents per pound. As the duty on hops is now 7 cents per pound just as it was from 1883 to 1890. When prices ranged from 12 to 30 cents, will some of our Republican contemporaries please explain that the reduced price was caused by the Wilson-Gorman tariff bill.

Comparatively few men have been murdered this year because in the eyes of some idiot a man looks just like a deer, but one case is reported this week from Southern Oregon. Several years in the penitentiary, with daily diagram lessons showing the difference between the two animals, man and deer, would be about the right penalty for this species of criminal carelessness.

"My husband was subject to severe attacks of neuralgia which caused him great pain and suffering. The pain was principally about his eyes, and he often had to remain in a darkened room not being able to stand the light. Ayer's Pills being recommended, he tried them using one before each meal. They very soon afforded relief, followed by permanent cure. I am a strong believer in the efficacy of Ayer's Pills, and would not be without them for ten times their cost."—Mrs. M. E. A delegation of seven prisoners were received at the state penitentiary from Grant county Sunday. They were: Lloyd Miller and Fred Gulon, each seven years, for larceny of cattle; J. H. Miller and Charles Kimball, each five years for a similar crime; John Scott, two years, larceny in a dwelling; William Cutting, one year, larceny of a horse; Thomas Scott, one year, assault with a dangerous weapon.

Alonso Cople, aged 16, was received at the reform school. Two more prisoners have been convicted and are awaiting sentence from Grant.

John Woods, a United States prisoner, sentenced to one year for subornation of perjury, was received from Portland.

Daily Guard, October 29.

A MISTAKE—Today's Oregonian: "A 14-year-old boy was arrested in Lane county recently and presented to the grand jury for indictment on a criminal charge. Investigation proved that the charge was maliciously brought, the outgrowth of a family feud." The legal prosecution of the child through malice is one degree more heinous than the brutal castigation of a child in anger. Eugene has had a recent exhibition of the one and Portland of the other. The grand jury in both instances did its duty, though the result in each case fell far short of justice." The boy hails from Linn county instead of Lane.

THE FIRST WEDDING IN OREGON.

The Bride is 30 Years Dead, but the Groom Hale and Hearty.

Corvallis Times: Minor Swick returned last Friday from a trip to his ranch in Grant county, Eastern Oregon, where he has a band of horses. This trip is the second made by Mr Swick to the eastern country this season, and it resulted in the sale of a portion of his band. At Paulina, Crook county, Mr Swick met a man who claims to be the first white man married to a white woman in the territory that has since that time become the great state of Oregon. The claimant to this distinction is W H Foster, and the girl he married was Miss Mary Brown. The ceremony was performed by Rev Father Waller of Oregon City, August 15, 1843. The groom was from Arkansas and he came by wagon as far as Green River and made the rest of the trip to Oregon by pack animals arriving October 15, 1842. The bride was also from Arkansas and made the trip across the plains to Oregon the same year as the man who afterwards became her husband. She was related to James Brown, who at one time lived on the James Bennett place, near Corvallis, and to the Cooper family now residing in Benton county. She died about thirty years ago.

Mr Foster now resides with his son in law, John T Faulkner, postmaster at Paulina, and, though his hair is whitened by the snows of 79 winters, is as hale and hearty. He is able to do a fair day's work and complains that the days are too short for him to accomplish all the work he wants to do. His long life early educated to be satisfied with the humble environments and simple wants of pioneer life, has ever been upright and his old age is full of peace, honor and respect. Three sons and a daughter, the fruit of their early wedding, are gathered in homes near the old gentleman, in the vicinity of Paulina, Crook county.

THE FERRY MANDAMUS CASE.

Monday's Portland Telegram: Judge Shattuck today announced a decision in the ferry mandamus case which was argued before him a few days ago, practically sustaining the petitioners who want the free ferry operated. The court leaves the county commissioners no alternative but to operate the ferry. The case, however, goes to the supreme court immediately. Judge Shattuck said that the law was plain. It was the commissioners' duty to run the ferry as the law directed, no matter what the condition of the county's finances are. The suit of the property-owners against the county court came up on a motion to strike out parts of the answer of the defendant to the complaint. The motion was allowed and the permanent writ of mandamus was granted in accordance with the petitioners' prayer.

The decision is a victory for those who demand that the ferry shall be operated since the legislature established the law for it. It leaves the county court without the discretion to do as it deems best in the matter.
