

Salem Foot Ball Notes.

Sunday morning's State-man is responsible for the following: Carey Martin, a deputy to Secretary of State Kincaid, witnessed the contest. He had a black silk ribbon-ornamented with lemon-hued ribbon—the U of O colors—and carried a tin horn. Mrs H H Thompson was an U of O enthusiast, also, wearing a massive bow of lemon ribbon. During her girlhood days she was a resident of Eugene and its graduate of that institution. Naturally her feelings were for the visiting team. J R Wetherbee, physical director of the U of O, was among the spectators. Russell Coleman was Eugene's left end, and is the pluckiest player in the team. He's from Salem, that's why. "Rus" is attending the college at that city.

Jay McCormick, Willamette's right half back, and "Rus" Coleman engaged in a slight encounter near the close of the last half and were ruled off the field. Red Holman went in as a substitute for Jay and Shattuck held down Coleman's position thereafter. The day of victory for the University of Oregon, marked as it was by many and generous good feeling on the part of both victors and vanquished, was brought to a fitting close last evening by the reception tendered to the visitors by the young ladies of the University in the society halls of the University. For two hours all formality was laid aside, the fraternal feeling which exists between the students of the colleges pervaded the social atmosphere, and the Oregon grape mingled freely with the cardinal and old gold, while at intervals during the evening the company were entertained by music and recitations. The stalwart visitors from Eugene were made welcome, although words were unnecessary, by President Hawley in a few happy remarks to which response was made by Prof Wetherbee on behalf of the University of Oregon. The recitations of Miss Ethel Hughes and Miss Mabel Carter were very highly appreciated, as were the vocal solos by Miss Davenport and Mr Morse, and the ribbies of the company were irresistibly awakened by the comic recitation of Mr Morse, Willamette's popular coach. About half-past ten the U of O boys were obliged to leave for their train and the company dispersed feeling that they had enjoyed a rare privilege in meeting the many boys from Eugene. Among those present were Messrs Stockton, Holden and St Helens, of the State Normal School, and Messrs Pearson and DeForest, of Portland University, and Mr Wayne, of the Portland club.

Invented a Fanning Machine.

Chas Diederich of this city has invented a fanning mill which certainly possesses merits equal, if they do not exceed, those of any like machine ever placed on the market. Mr Diederich has a patent pending on his machine. The makeup of this machine is different from that of the ordinary fanning mill. The grain falls from the hopper on to a zinc screen, being fanned as it goes. When it drops out of the receptacle and falls into a half cylinder which is placed on the inside of the revolving cylinder and remains stationary. When the grain comes out of the mill it is perfectly clean, every grain of cockle and other foul stuff being removed from it. This new fanning mill will undoubtedly be of great value to farmers for cleaning seed grain. It can be operated by hand and has a capacity of from 150 to 200 bushels of grain per day. It will clean all the different kinds of wheat, grains, beans, etc., grown on a farm, equally as well, and will sell at the normal sum of about $30. Mr Diederich has been working on his invention for a period of eleven years. It is now on exhibition at his place of business on 7th street.

COOS BAY COMMENT.—We find this in the last issue of the Marshfield Mail: "The Eugene GUARD published an article two weeks ago in regard to the doings of the county court here, which contains serious charges. The Mail has been asked to publish the article but withholds it for the present so that the authorities can explain. It is very harmful to publish a false charge and scatter it all over the county before the explanation is furnished. The members of the county court and others know what those charges are and it would seem the best plan to let them move first in the matter, as the affair is awakening a good deal of interest and will doubtless be investigated." The charges are true and cannot be successfully denied.

Daily Guard November 2.

U OF O BOYS.—Yesterday's Salem Journal: The Eugene delegation arrived in the city this afternoon on the 2:20 local. They were met at the depot by representatives from the Willamette University and escorted to the gymnasium. The two football teams will give a parade on the principal streets before leaving for the fair grounds in their special car. A reception will be tendered the visiting team at Willamette University Saturday evening by the young ladies of the university when the defeated team will enjoy the event as well as the victors.

Daily Guard, November 1.

TO SALEM.—The U of O foot ball team left for Salem on this morning's local train. This will be a practice game and does not count in the league series. The following is the line up of the team: Gilleland, c; Edmundson, r; Shattuck, l; Herbold, r; Fraher, l; Travis, r; Coleman, l; Bryson, c; By, F; Templeton, r; Bishop, l; H. Templeton, f; Sube, C; Templeton, Strossell, Higgins; Keene, manager. Coach Benson will accompany the team and act as umpire of this game.

MONDAY NOVEMBER 4.

A phonograph man is in town. City election at Junction today. Commissioners court Wednesday. The lecture chairs have arrived for the university. Holmes, the Philadelphia murderer, has been convicted. Two children of Mrs M E Carman's are seriously ill with fever. Senator J H Mitchell left Portland for Washington, D.C., today. Geo T Hall & Son consigned three carloads of hops from Goshen today. Prof D W Jarvis has been elected principal of the Portland night school. The rooms to be occupied by Messrs Cass & Pease are being nicely fitted up. The Seavey-Armitage party left on a hunting expedition to Fall Creek today. Pathmont won another pacing race for a $1000 purse at San Jose, Cal., Friday. The assessment of Douglas county shows a decrease of $200,000 from the list of last year. Hon S G Reed, one of the pioneers of Portland, is very ill at his home in Pasadena, Cal. The Eugene shirt factory has removed into the building formerly occupied by the Eldridge bakery. The Autumn social at the Christian church Saturday night was quite well attended and an enjoyable time was had by all present. November contains five Fridays and an equal number of Saturdays. Thanksgiving is the only legal holiday, occurring Thursday, November 26th. Col and Mrs S P Sladden, who have been visiting for several months in the East and are now in Chicago, will return to their home in Portland in a few days. The interment of the late Alex A King occurred yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the I O O F cemetery. It was largely attended by his relatives and old friends. Gray haired and bald headed men are heading down the front seats in the court house this afternoon. Balfi McClanahan took a snap shot of them with his Kodak. It will make an interesting picture. Rev Nell, of Iowa, the new United Brethren minister assigned to the pastorate of the church at Irving by the recent conference held in this city arrived at that place this afternoon to take up his work. The Dansaur News says the railroad company are going to build snow sheds over the track just above Upper Soda Springs, where the big slide was last winter. They will build a shed 1700 feet long, and extend it up the mountain side so a slide can come down and shoot right over it. Visitor—You must have a mighty queer board of works here. This is the first town I ever saw where the streets were so much smoother than the sidewalks. Citizen—We got to keep the sidewalks rough, friend, to keep the bicycle fenders from running over our children.—Indianapolis Journal. Thirty-two mining claims have been filed upon the wood tin lodes discovered in Yamhill county by M V Ensey township 3 south range 6 west. The tin ore has been assayed by the government assayer at Washington, and is, it is said, 87 1/2 per cent tin. A party equipped with pumps left McClanahan yesterday for the mines. Florence West: The case of the Russ brothers and their brother-in-law, arrested for the larceny of a wagon, was tried last Thursday before Justice Hradal at Seaside. The boys were fined $25 each, in default of which they were taken to the county jail. The brother-in-law entered a plea of not guilty and was acquitted. The boys plead guilty. Prineville Review: W R Uren, who is in Prineville at the present time registered a letter this week from his son T A Uren, informing him that his son and family were well and enjoying the trip fluely. The letter was written from Canary Islands and ere this they are at their point of destination, Port Elizabeth, South Africa. Horace Greeley once said: "The way to resume is to resume," speaking of again putting gold into circulation after the war. But you may say "resume" any number of times to that torpid liver of yours and it won't budge until you take Slinmons Liver Regulator. Many people seem to forget that constipation, biliousness and sick headaches are all caused by a sluggish liver. Keep the liver active. Halloween pranks played by Corvallis boys were very boisterous and, in some instances, indecent. During the night one band of the boys dropped around to Bryant Young's place, where a wagon stood. "This is where the old duffer lived who chased us last year," remarked one of the boys as they started for the wagon. "Yes, and I am right here again," remarked Bryant, as he rose from behind a shrub and began to throw stove-wood. The first stove-wood struck the fence with a loud noise, and no band of wild cattle was ever more effectually stamped out than were the boys.

Another Shipment.—Sunday's Salem Statesman: The Oregon Fruit & Produce company sold and shipped east yesterday a carload of dried prunes and raspberries and at very good figures, everything considered. Shipment consisted of 4,461 pounds of raspberries at 15 cents per pound; 11,370 pounds of Italian prunes, grade 60-70, at 31 cents per pound; and the following amounts and grades of French prunes: 2421 30-60 at 4 cents; 591 pounds 60-70 at 4 cents; 3233 pounds 70-80 at 31 cents; 190 pounds of 80-90 at 3 cents; 548 pounds of 90-100 at 2 cents; 1073 pounds of 100-120 at 2 cents. When prunes are so small that it takes 100 to 120 to make a pound they are not worth evaporating, as it costs as much to handle them as larger ones, and the result does not pay.

Delayed.—The Florence stage due here Saturday evening did not reach here until yesterday afternoon. The delay was caused by a tree falling across the grade near the Lake creek bridge. Quite a wind storm prevailed down the Suslaw last Friday.

Miss Mary Thompson is much improved from her recent sickness. J P Meeker a Payallup, Wash., hop buyer, spent Sunday in Eugene. B A Washburne, of Springfield, was doing business in Eugene today. Mrs Grace Osburn returned home to Roseburg yesterday after a short visit in this city. Victor Fogle has sold his restaurant and bakery at Junction and returned to Eugene. Captain W S Gilbert was Saturday commissioned chaplain of the Second regiment at Eugene. Edgar Newton, of the Newton Gum and Candy factory, at Portland is visiting friends in Eugene. G W Campbell came up from Corvallis today and after a few days' visit will leave with his folks for Arkansas. S S Sigel of Portland, while on his way home from San Francisco, stopped off here awhile yesterday to visit with relatives. Gus Hiekether, an old time resident of Eugene, spent yesterday in this city. He is still in the tombstone business.

Attorney A C Woodcock went to Corvallis today to resume his duties as referee in the O P R it disbursement case. Judge Fullerton and Prosecuting Attorney Brown spent Sunday at Roseburg, returning here this morning on the local train. Roy Hurley, who is attending the U of O, received a telegram last evening while in attendance upon church, that his brother Clifford Goodrich Hurley had died in Portland. The young man was 13 years, 6 months and 5 days old. Roy went to Portland on the early train.

Report of the Grand Jury. The following report of the grand jury was handed in Saturday evening. In the circuit court of the state of Oregon, for the county of Lane; final report of the grand jury. To the Honorable J. C. Fullerton, Judge: We, the grand jury of the October, 1895 term, of the above court, for our final report say as follows: We have examined the records of the different county officials and find the books kept in a neat, business like manner. We have examined the county jail and it is neat and clearly kept. The county records are insecure on account of the vault. We have examined into the different alleged crimes committed and tryable in Lane county, so far as the same has come to our knowledge, and have returned indictments in cases where we thought the evidence would warrant a conviction before a trial jury. We have examined with great care and caution into the Sinslaw riots, and while we regret the cost to the taxpayers of the county, we were afraid of a repetition of the riots, and we also thought that it should be settled whether law and order or criminal forces should rule Lane county. Having completed our labors we ask to be discharged. Dated at Eugene, Oregon, this 2nd day of November, A. D., 1895. C. J. DODD, Foreman.

A NEW INVENTION.—Portland Telegram: You can be profitably entertained by a visit to the workroom and warehouse of Poole & Crouch, at the foot of Morrison street. The gasoline engine invented by Mr F J Crouch and manufactured by this firm, is one of the most wonderful inventions of the day. They also make a harmless dynamo, which will interest visitors, and electric lights of all kinds. This firm reports a fast increasing business and building up an enterprise worthy of Portland's new life and activity. They are both identifiable workers and merit the paragon of the Northwest.

Justice's Court.—Three cases which have been pending in the justice's court were dismissed this morning, as they had been presented to the grand jury and that body had failed to find true bills. They were the Dr L W Brown assault case, the B F Smith case for threatened assault on Jas Borkman at Mohawk, A E Smith case, arrested on suspicion of having robbed J W Stewart's store at Springfield.

Com Off, Col.—Florence West: "During the past few months Binger Hermann has visited many towns in his district for the laudable purpose of conferring with the people on such legislation as is needed. He has been invited to make addresses in all except Eugene. The self-swellng importance of that town will burst it very soon."

BORN.—To the wife of Sam Howard November 3, 1895, a daughter.

MISSING.—Junction City Times: "Pres Nail is missing. About a week ago he disappeared from his usual haunts and has left his business affairs in a condition that only the courts can adjust. A search party went out Tuesday but no trace of him was found. It was rumored that something dire had befallen him, yet the union opinion is that he quietly folded his tent and stole away. Pres Nail came to this valley a year ago from Eastern Oregon worth near $50,000.00 but now he is penniless, and his downfall was caused by his own hands. Whiskey. It is thought he returned to Eastern Oregon to recuperate his fallen fortune. He has many friends here who are anxious to know of his whereabouts."

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.—The Eugene-Florence stage discontinued tri-weekly trips Saturday night, and this morning commenced making two round trips a week. Stage will leave Eugene on Mondays and Thursdays 1 1/2 h, arriving at Seaside at noon Tuesday and Friday, and turning back immediately, reaching Eugene on Wednesday and Saturday evenings. The boat will leave Florence Tuesday and Friday mornings at 8 o'clock, returning the same day, arriving at Eugene about 4 p m. This change in the schedule will continue until May 1st, 1896.

DEMPSEY'S PATHETIC DEATH.—Friday November 1st: His death came painlessly at 6:35. Dempsey's last act was to kiss the crucifix just before he breathed his last. His last utterance was his wife's name. About 11 o'clock last night there was a perceptible change in his condition. He grew delirious and in his delirium fought over some of his battles, frequently mentioning the name of Jimmy Carroll. About 4 o'clock he became conscious and seemed to realize that the end was near. He bid his wife, children and friends good-bye and then waited for the end.

FRISHMAN CLASS.—Last evening Miss Grace Brown entertained the members of the Freshman class of the U of O, at the home of her parents in this city, in an elegant manner. During the evening an excellent luncheon was served. Following are the names of those present: Misses Mary Mc Alister, Lulu Renshaw, Clara Pengra, Grace Murray, Mamie Marsh, Pearl Cooper, Susie Gibbs, Dorothea Dele, Edith Wilcox, Grace Brown. Messrs Day, Alderman, Bradley, Willoughby, Davis, Wester, Carrio, Gilbert, Whipple and Hovey.

ARRESTED.—Chas. Hartley, one of the Sinslaw rioters during the recent strike, was arrested in this city this morning and placed in the jail to await trial. Hartley had started to Eastern Oregon and had gotten this far when he was placed under arrest by the county authorities.

Mrs Hannah Indicted. ALBANY, Or., Oct 31.—Mrs Emma Hannah, charged with the murder of Mrs Charlotte Hunt at Jordan recently, was today indicted by the grand jury on the charge of malicious and premeditated murder. The case will probably go over until the next term.

WILL CONTEST.

From the report of progress in Referee A. C. Woodcock's court to adjudicate the payment of the Oregon Pacific funds, it is learned that the holders of receiver's certificates issued to pay insurance have already filed their objections to the tax claims of Benton, Marion, Lincoln and Linn counties, as well as the school districts claiming taxes. These objections will raise an issue on the following points: 1. That there was not a proper assessment. 2. That there was no levy against the properties of the defendants. 3. That the taxes attempted and pretended to have been levied do not constitute a lien upon the properties. 4. That the taxes assessed were subject to be set off by the company's indebtedness, during the pendency of the time the statute of indebtedness exemption was in force, which indebtedness the record has at all times shown to be far greater than the assessments.

We learn that some of the assessments are somewhat irregular, and will require proof to establish them. Prominent attorneys of Corvallis who have expressed themselves say that the law in this state is not such that taxes can be recovered or even be declared a lien upon the property.

GAME LAW MATTERS.

Attorney General Idleman has rendered an official opinion upon the question as to whether or not the costs incurred by the prosecution of offenders against the late game law should be borne by the county or state, construing the language: "One half of all the money paid into the county treasury over and above the amount necessary to reimburse the county for any expense paid out of the treasury." etc. The opinion cites section 2361, Hill's code, which provides that costs and disbursements in criminal actions are paid by the county in which the action is brought, and holds that section 38, of the game law clearly recognizes the same rule for the protection of game, fish and wild fowl, and to provide for the appointment of fish and game warden, and that the repealing clause does not include section 2361, and therefore, concludes that costs must be paid by the county in which the action was instituted, and not by the state. The attorney-general has advised Fish Commissioner McGuire that, until annulled by some tribunal having jurisdiction, section 12 of the new law is in force. This will materially effect cold-storage firms, as that section makes it unlawful to have in possession, dead or live birds, fish or fowls, out of season.

WILD HORSES.

A gentleman recently read a paper before the Bombay Historical Society, in which he took the ground that there was now no really wild horse, but that all such now existing were descendants of domesticated animals. At the same time he says there were no horses on this continent until a few hundred years ago, the first being imported and landed at Buenos Ayres in 1557. He then goes on to show that the horses originated somewhere in Central Asia, and that if there are any really wild horses they will be found in that section. The author evidently never heard of the John Day fossil beds, says The Dallas Chronicle, and the petrified remains of horses dead so many centuries ago that imagination cannot even begin to fix the date. The gentleman's paper was no doubt an interesting one, but it shows how easily the learned savants may be mistaken in working out a pretty theory once they have originated it. In the case in point it is safe to say that Eastern Oregon furnishes indisputable proof that the horse author was wrong, and that it is a horse on him.

The following twelve states hold elections tomorrow: Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New York, New Jersey, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia. Eight states elect legislators which select United States senators: Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, Virginia, New York, Ohio and Utah.

The jury convicted Theodore Durrant promptly when they got a chance at the horrible fiend. Now the case will spend a year or more in the higher courts. He should have been disposed of weeks ago and forgotten.

Governor Lord has restored Wirt W Saunders, the Albany murderer, now a lawyer at Spokane, Wash., to full citizenship. This was the correct thing to do.

FAKE MEN AND FAKE TITLES.

Pension Commissioner Loehren notes that nearly 30,000 pensioners have died during the year just ended. Each year during the next decade will see an increasing number of the crippled veterans drop out. The passing of the soldier is seen, too in the present campaign in the East, where we think Gen. Martin T. McMahon, nominated by Tammany for a New York judgeship, is the only conspicuous officer in the late war who is a candidate for office. There are generals enough, but the titles were not won on the battlefield. In Ohio Bushnell, republican candidate for governor, is general by courtesy; Coxe, populist candidate, was general of the commonwealth army. In New York Palmer, republican candidate for secretary of state, is called general because he was commander-in-chief of the Grand Army; King, the democrat candidate, was a militia general. Wat Hardin, democrat candidate for governor of Kentucky, is called general because he was once attorney-general of the state.—Post Intelligence.

Life: "You say that horse isn't afraid of anything. Can my wife drive him?" "I dont know, sir, I've never seen your wife." Bismark has fought 20 duels and was never wounded but once. That time he was adversely cut by the sword of his adversary, which flew from its socket and struck him in the face.

New York Sun: Daughter—Mamma? Mamma—Yes, dear? Daughter—If Mr Bankleigh, that old millionaire, asks me to marry him when he calls this evening, how shall I answer him? Mamma—Promptly, my child.

Barney Bernato, the South African capitalist, whom Lombard street rates at $100,000,000 attributes his success in life largely to the fact that he never forgets anything in business and never refers to memoranda of any sort.

Yonkers Statesman: Yeast—I expect to live to see the day when the bicycle will take the place of the horse entirely. Crimsonbeak—Well, I don't. They'll never be able to make frankfurter sausages out of the bicycles.

Jack Dempsey, the victor of eighty battles, died from consumption yesterday at Portland, aged only 33 years. He was quite a gentleman notwithstanding his "profession." In any other walk of life he would have made a useful citizen and an ornament to society.

Oakland Times: Father (whose wife had presented him with twins)—Tommy, you may stay at home from school today, and tomorrow tell the teacher that you have two new brothers. Tommy—Wouldn't it be better to say I have only one new brother? Then I can stay at home a day next week for the other one.

Senator Allison went to Iowa from Ohio in 1857; he was first elected a member of the house of representatives in 1862, and he became a member of the United States senate in 1873. He was not a member of the 42d congress, but with that exception he has been in public service for a third of a century.

The horse is the cleanest of all domestic animals. It will not eat anything but good healthy food, nor drink anything but pure water. A horse would rather starve than swallow the rotten stuff often given to pigs and cattle. It is nothing but prejudice that prevents us from eating horseflesh. Horseflesh is the most nourishing of all meats, and its taste is hardly to be distinguished from beef. The flesh of a horse fed on oats has a smell similar to gooseflesh. Trichinosis and similar diseases are unknown in horses. Yet in spite of this and all other eulogies upon horse-meat people will have none of it.

The Jennings heirs should read with interest the latest information about the Antrim heirs of Indiana. These who have been organizing and hiring lawyers to go to England and lay claim to the fabulous sums said to have been left by Lord Antrim, have received a letter from an English lawyer saying that for a few shillings it can be ascertained that there never was £15,000,000 at any time in the Antrim family or one-one-hundredth part of that sum. He says a set of lawyers have been practicing the dodge of making Americans believe they have large estates awaiting them to such an extent that the English government now requires a report every three years setting forth all the funds in chancery amounting to more than $250. The last report showed that there were two estates now on hand amounting to more than $75,000, and neither of these has anything to do with the Antrim estate.
