Cottage Grove Leader: All the carpenters of Cottage Grove and Lemait were invited to examine the route of the five mile flue to be put in from J I Jones' mill to the S P railroad, Friday. An estimate of expenses and a bid for constructing the flume was the object in view. We learn that it will cost somewhere near $2,500 and that the money is on deposit at Eskin & Bristow's bank, Cottage Grove, for the work. Mr Jones wants to pay the cash to the local workmen if possible which is highly commendable. Creswell's correspondent is excusable when he makes a "blow" about a shipment of perhaps a thousand pounds of poultry from that place "all in one day," for he is not alive to the fact that this little station, as insignificant as it may appear, does more business in that line than any point on this division excepting Oakland, or at least so say the train employes, who call this the "poultry and egg station." No, Creswell is no comparison with Goshen in this line. A shipment of a thousand pounds of poultry is a frequent occurrence for us.
