THE GREAT HUDYAN

When a voluminous report of a committee on a newly invented gun was handed to Lincoln he exclaimed: "I should need a new lease of life to read this through. Why can't a committee of this kind occasionally exhibit a grain of common sense? If I send a man to buy a horse for me I expect to tell me his points—not how many hairs there are in his tail."

"The great thing about Grant," said Lincoln once, "I take it, is his perfect coolness and persistency of purpose. I judge he is not easily excited, which is a great element in an officer, and he has the grit of a bulldog. Once let him get his teeth in and nothing can shake him off."

Max O'Rell said some years ago: "When she marries, the English woman loses her liberty, the French woman gains hers and the American woman continues to do as she pleases."

FROM OREGON.—On an expression to the governor of Tennessee in regard to the Tennessee centennial exposition to open at Nashville, on May 1, 1907, and continue six months, Gov. W. P. Lord has written the following: "Personally I shall be very glad to attend and participate in your celebration, and will give every publicity to your announcement, in the hope that many of our citizens will be induced to visit your exposition, which, I trust, will only serve to intensify the amity and unity of our people."

MONEY MADE EASILY.

A New York dispatch of the 14th says: Following the story of the bond purchase comes many rumors of riches acquired by bidders who had no money, but whose tenders were considered, and who afterwards sold their right to receive bonds at a higher price than their bids, and so made handsome margins.

No one had to put up large sums of money in order to have his bid considered by the treasury officials. For instance there was an alleged doctor in Texas who bid for $10,000,000 worth. No one ever heard of him, and so the bid was thrown out, as an obvious "fake." There were others like him.

It is said, however, that a shrewd boy in a down-town office in this city invested two cents in a postage stamp and made $6,000 on that insignificant capital. He sent in a bid for $150,000 of the bonds at a price which insured his getting them, then sold his right to receive them for $6,000—just $5,999.98 better than his investment. Of course noticeably large bids in the millions, from persons who are not known to the financial world, excited suspicion, but there are many men in this country who are able to invest $150,000 that such bids were accepted in good faith. The result of this state of things was some of the most remarkable financial transactions in the history of Wall Street.

At last accounts, however, a return of $6,000 on an investment of two cents is the record breaker.

NO TAX COLLECTIONS.

The Rolls Shoved Back into the Clerk's Office—Full of Errors.

Daily Guard, February 23.

The Lane county tax rolls which have been in the hands of Sheriff Johnson for collection for the past ten days were today returned to County Clerk Jennings for correction. No taxes can be paid until the corrections are made.

A reporter tried to interview nearly everybody around the court house this afternoon but nobody seemed to know anything about the matter.

One thing is certain, however, and that is that the rolls were returned to clerk Jennings for correction at noon today. During the short time that the tax rolls have been in possession of Sheriff Johnson innumerable mistakes have been made. These mistakes are in the original roll and not in the original roll as completed by the assessor. In making the changes inaugurated by the state board of equalization and figuring up the amount of taxes of each individual is where the mistakes have been made. This work was performed by deputies employed by Mr. Jennings.

Sheriff Johnson did not wish to close accounts for the county which were thus full of mistakes, and accordingly returned them for correction. Considerable tax money has, however, already been received and these accounts closed will in all probability remain as they are.

D. W. Coolidge and Joel Ware have been employed to correct the extended list and commenced work on them at 1 o'clock today. It is not known how long it will take to correct the list but it will take several days at least and until the work is finished no taxes can be paid. Quite a number who desired to pay their taxes have been turned away from the court house today.

The authorities should notify the people of this fact so that they will not be inconvenienced by making a trip to the county seat.

A BIG WASTE OF MONEY.

Pendleton E. O.: The East Oregonian is in receipt of a pamphlet entitled "monthly report of the Oregon state weather service, report for October, 1895." It is issued by B. S. Pague, local forecast official of the United States weather bureau. It is to be presumed that the report has been sent to every newspaper in the state, several hundred in number; to many prominent citizens; to all local observers, and probably a large number will lie in the office of Mr. Pague at Portland and never be used. It would be no violent presumption that at least a 1000 copies were issued. It is a monthly publication, and consists of an average of over 30 pages. It can cost no less than $100 per month, or about $1200 per year. The work is done by W. H. Leeds, the Oregon state printer at Salem. The report contains page after page of matter which is of no practical value to the newspapers or people, and possesses as much interest to the taxpayers as would information showing how many wharf rats there are about the docks at Astoria.

Run Down with DYSPEPSIA

STOMACH AND LIVER AND HEART AFFECTED. Almost in Despair But Finally CURED By Taking AYER'S PILLS

"For fifteen years, I was a great sufferer from indigestion in its worst forms. I tested the skill of many doctors, but grew worse and worse, until I became so weak I could not walk fifty yards without having to sit down and rest. My stomach, liver, and heart became affected, and I thought I would surely die. I tried Ayer's Pills and they helped me right away. I continued their use and am now entirely well. I don't know of anything that will so quickly relieve and cure the terrible suffering of dyspepsia as Ayer's Pills."—JOHN C. FITZCHARD, Brodie, Warren Co., N. C.
