

THE RACES.

Daily Guard, May 28.

The third day of the Eugene meet of the North Pacific Racing Circuit saw another perfect day. The attendance was much better than on any previous day and a big crowd is expected tomorrow. Four races were on the program today and some good races had again.

As before some delay was experienced in getting the races started. Shortly after 2 o'clock the bell was sounded and the first race, a three-fourths dash, was called.

THREE FOURTHS DASH.

This race was a three-fourths of a mile dash, purse $150.

The following horses were entered, taking positions respectively: Red Top, by H. Montague; Free Coinage, by Cardwell Bros; Robin H, by R. H. Wylie; Broadrein, by D. M. McDonald. Broadrein was favorite on pools and Red Top on mutuels. Broadrein being barred from the latter.

Broadrein proved an easy winner, with Free Coinage 2d, Red Top 3d and Robin H 4th; time 1:19.

Robin H made a good run, but did not hold out on distance.

2 YEAR OLD TROT ONE-HALF MILE.

The second race was a 2-year-old trot, 1/2 mile, two best in three heats. Purse $150.

Horses entered: Utopia, by Van B. DeLashmutt; Volo, by D. W. Kahler; Almoline, by E. E. Stats. Volo favorite.

The first heat resulted: Volo 1st; Utopia 2nd; Almoline 3d; time 1:29.

The second heat resulted the same as the first, giving the race to Volo; time second heat 1:27.

ONE-HALF MILE DASH.

The third race called was a half mile dash; purse $125.

Horses entered: Black Prince, by H. Somerville; Goldy by J. L. Hunt; On Time, by Ed Fortune. Black Prince favorite.

Black Prince won the race, with Goldy close second; time 59.3-5.

Tomorrow promptly at 1:30 p. m. a grand mount of all the horses in attendance upon the races will be had at the park track. This mount and parade will comprise the best exhibition of horseflesh that has ever been witnessed within the territory of the North Pacific Racing Circuit. Everybody should see this grand combination of speed and beauty.

2:30 PACE, 1 MILE.

The last race called yesterday was a 2:30 pace, special, purse $100.

Horses entered: Daisy D, by D. J. Gover; Bill Frazer, by S. E. Juston; Bessie Rankin, by W. O. Trine; Pasco, by Van B. DeLashmutt.

The betting was light, with Pasco favorite on first heat.

The first heat resulted: Bessie Rankin 1st; Bill Frazer 2nd; Daisy D 3d; Pasco 4th.

The heat was won easily by Bessie Rankin; time 2:42.

Bill Frazer took favorite on second heat. The second heat resulted: Frazer 1st; Pasco 2nd; Rankin 3d; Daisy D 4th.

Bessie Rankin made a bad break, causing her to lose the heat. It was won by Bill Frazer; time 2:36.

Bill Frazer was still favorite on the third heat, which resulted as follows: Frazer 1st; Rankin 2nd; Pasco 3d; Daisy D, 4th.

Bessie Rankin would have won the heat easily but for another bad break.

Bill Frazer won the heat and race; time of last heat 2:40.

DAILY GUARD, MAY 28.

The last day of the Eugene meet of the North Pacific Racing Association dawned with the same bright prospects of the three preceding days. The day was somewhat cooler and a stiff breeze prevailed at the park. Four times as many people were present as any previous day, and the benches were full for the first time.

A grand mount of all the horses in attendance upon the races, and a hurdle race had been advertised as the side attractions of the day were the means of inducing a great many people to attend.

It can be said that the Eugene meet has closed under most favorable auspices and has been a most delightful one for horsemen.

A 2:25 TROT.

The first race called after the bell was sounded today was a 2:25 trot, 1 mile, 2 best in 3 heats; purse $150.

Horses entered: Naylor, by J. Beach; DeLinn, by J. E. Noster; Multnomah, by E. E. Stats. DeLinn favorite.

DeLinn won the first heat by a neck over Multnomah; time 2:38.

The second heat resulted the same as the first, DeLinn winning the race by the length of a neck; time 2:30.

THE PARADE.

The parade was had immediately after the first heat of the 2:25 trot. Only 7 or 8 horses out of the 75 or 80 in attendance were paraded to the disappointment of the big crowd which had been promised the largest and finest display of horseflesh that had ever been seen in the jurisdiction of the Northwest Association. The only excuse for omitting this part of the program seemed to be in the fact that the horsemen were too slow or did not care to come out with their animals.

TWO YEAR OLD DASH ONE HALF MILE.

The second race was a one half mile dash for 2 year olds. Hoffman Horse bar purse $125.

Horses entered: Neptune, by Geo. Irwin; Free Coinage, by Cardwell Bros; Metcutin by Frank Strong.

Free Coinage favorite. Free Coinage won the race by a length; Mercutio 2nd; time 52.2-5.

FREE FOR ALL TROT.

The third race was a free for all trot, 2 in 3, purse $90.

Horses entered: Conde, by Van B. DeLashmutt; Caryle Carne, by J. Schilling; Vanquish by Van B. DeLashmutt.

Caryle Carne favorite. Just as the start was made Conde lost three nails out of a shoe, causing considerable delay.

The first heat resulted: Vanquish 1st; Conde 2nd; Caryle Carne 3d; time 2:25.

The second heat resulted: Vanquish 1st; Caryle Carne 2nd; Conde 3d; time 2:21.

Fastest mile on track.

The hurdle race had not been reported at the time of going to press.

2:20 PACE.

The fourth and last race called yesterday afternoon was a 2:20 pace, 1 mile, two best in three heats; purse $250.

Horses entered: Altawood, by R. Gilmore; Stanwix, by Van B. DeLashmutt; Peek-a-boo, by J. C. Mosier.

The horses entered were all speedy and a good race was predicted. Stanwix was favorite in the two heats that followed.

The first heat was close and exciting. Stanwix and Altawood were almost neck and neck around the entire course, but near the finish the former stretched out a little and passed under the wire in the lead. Time 2:25.

The second heat was another neck-to-neck race, but was won by Stanwix, with Altawood a close second and Peek-a-boo third. Time 2:22.

This was the prettiest and fastest race that has been seen on the track.

The fourth race of the day and last race of the meet was a five-eighths hurdle—3 hurdles, purse $175.

Entries: Great Falls, by Geo. Irwin; Dottie Reed, by Ed Fortune; Robin H, by R. H. Wylie. Dottie Reed favorite.

Great Falls won by a good distance, Robin H 2nd, and Dottie Reed a close 3d. Time 1:11.

This was one of the prettiest races of the meet. The magnificent racers sped around the course to good time, bounding over the three hurdles without a mishap.

The betting was nearly 5 to 1 in favor of Dottie Reed, who had a reputation as a hurdle animal, but who, though her rider urged her for the best speed, could only come in third to the disgust of her supporters.

Joint Meeting.

Daily Guard, May 28.

The Eutaxian and Lauran societies of the U of O in accordance with a long established custom of the societies met in joint session last evening at their hall. On motion the regular order of business was laid on the table, and the following program was presented:

Address of welcome by the president of the Lauran society.

Essay—Abby Fry.

Declaration—Lee Travis.

Solo—Miss Lenna Holt.

Address—B. B. Richards.

Eutaxian address—Anna Roberts.

Address—J. M. Edmondson.

Declaration—Jennie Bentlie.

Lauran address—F. M. Mulkey.

Several old time members of the societies were present and gave added interest to the meeting by instructing and interesting remarks. Among those present were: Mrs. Robert McMurphy, Miss Myra Norris, Miss Lenna Holt and Miss Carrie Friendly. Messrs. A. S. Hays Jr., J. S. McClure and Harry Hopkins. The ladies of the Eutaxian society were chaperoned by Mrs. Robert McMurphy.

Junction City Items.

Times, May 28.

Mrs. C. A. Harp left Tuesday on an extended visit with friends in the East. She will visit at Minneapolis for a month and then go to Indiana.

Senator McClung, J. M. Williams, Mr. McMurray and other prominent republicans of Eugene attended the campaign picnic Wednesday.

Wayne Gibbs had the misfortune to break his leg one day last week. He was riding on the running gear of his wagon and came in contact with a stump and broke his leg below the knee.

Mrs. Ella Frazer, accompanied by Mesdames Willoughby, Lawrence, Taylor and Anderson, were here from Eugene Thursday and organized a Women's Relief Corps, R. B. Hays, No. 50, with a charter membership of 13. The following officers were installed: President, Mrs. Mary Butler; Senior vice president, Mrs. A. M. Lee; Junior vice president, Mrs. May R. Moorhead; Secretary, Miss Anna Lee; treasurer, Mrs. Cora Jackson; Chaplain, Mrs. Ella Beuham; Director, Miss Mamie Dorman; Assistant Director, Mrs. Mary Saylor; Guard, Mrs. Lizzie Cummins; Assistant Guard, Mrs. Laura Folsom. The corps starts out with bright prospects.

Oregon Fairs.

Following are the places for the holding of the various fairs to be held in Oregon:

The Oregon state board of agriculture holds at Salem, October 7th to 13th, inclusive. First Southern Oregon district board of agriculture holds at Central Point, Jackson county, (date not yet reported). The Second Oregon district board of agriculture holds at Roseburg, Douglas county, beginning on August 25 and lasting for five days. First Eastern Oregon board of agriculture holds at Baker City, (date not yet reported), and the second Eastern Oregon board of agriculture holds at The Dalles, (date not yet reported).

WATCHES STOLEN.—A tramp entered the residence of Milt Awbery on High street about 8 o'clock last evening and stole two gold watches and chains belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Awbery. Mrs. Awbery and two daughters, Misses Mae and Annie were about the premises at the time. Mrs. Awbery had laid the watches on a bed and left the house for a few minutes. Miss Mae was up stairs and Miss Anna was in the parlor. The former saw the tramp enter the yard and supposed he wanted something to eat and that her mother was in the kitchen and would give him something. The tramp entered the house and finding no one present took the watches and departed. A few minutes later the loss was discovered and the officers notified. A search has failed to reveal the watches or the guilty man.

U B SOCIAL.

Daily Guard, May 28.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the U of O church gave an ice cream and strawberry social at the parsonage, Thirteenth and Ferry streets, last evening. The lawn was lighted with Chinese lanterns and the delicacies of the season were served to all present. It was both a social and a financial success.

SOPHOMORE PICNIC.

The members of the Sophomore class of the U of O held a class picnic on the banks of the McKenzie near Neave's ferry today. Several carriages bearing members of the class left town about 9 o'clock this morning.

DRIFT.

Writes a Very Interesting Letter Concerning Chicago University.

It is a prevailing opinion that "Chicago University has a halo around it." The fact that it is new—newer than the New Woman—does not serve to dim the lambent brightness of its intellectual aureole. Most of Chicago's mammoth institutions are new and money can work wonders when the supply is practically unlimited.

Where three years ago, this summer, the shouts of the camel drivers echoed in the streets of Cairo, and dark eyed hours languished in the shadowy recesses of the Turkish booths, where the gay, good-natured crowd of World's Fair visitors swept and surged like a great human river that touched upon the shores of every land, stands now the Chicago University. The grass grows green and soft as velvet along and over what was once the Midway Plaisance. Instead of the fantastic walls and towers that made up that magic wonder-place rise from emerald lawns stately halls of learning that eclipse in architectural dignity all of the older schools and universities on this side of the Atlantic.

"How is it possible?" asked the woman who always wants to know everything. "How is it possible that such splendid structures could have been built in so brief a space of time?"

"Well," replied the bright young man, "it was all done by coal oil. It is sustained by kerosene."

"I don't quite understand," said the woman, looking puzzled.

"My friend, Mr. Rockefeller, could explain it to your satisfaction no doubt."

"Oh!" said the woman, "I see and I think it is a splendid thing for Chicago that Mr. Rockefeller has so much money. I read the other day that his income was nearly two thousand dollars every hour of the day and night."

"Representing," remarked the bright young man, "so many thousands of gallons of crude petroleum."

"The vulgarity of wealth," remarked the third person present. "Mr. Rockefeller ought to go over to England and get knighted like Sir George Pullman," she said.

There is plenty of room in the Chicago University grounds for a modest city to spring up. But it will be when built a classic city of gray stone. Already eight tall and stately structures lift their Gothic gables cloudward, but this is only the beginning. And this suggestion of breath and space and "elbow room" is characteristic of the university life. There are no narrow grooves, no restrictions of personal opinion, no trying to mould the student to fit some conventional cut and dried conception. There is perfect freedom of thought, speech and action. Personal liberty is recognized as a natural right.

There are no rules—not one. The students are self-governed, self-trained. Does this seem to you of lawlessness? You will find nothing of the kind here. The atmosphere of the place impresses one as cultured and artistic, sweet and unpretentious. Co-education is something ideally realized as one sees it in the Chicago University. There are three halls given over to the use of the young women. In each hall there are about forty girls. And there is nothing in the least suggestive of a dormitory to be found anywhere within the walls. They are homes. The head of the house is a member of the faculty, but the young women manage everything to suit themselves. Every Monday evening at one or another of these homes a reception is held to which all of the students are informally invited. Monday is the weekly holiday of the university, instead of Saturday. Anything more enjoyable than a Monday reception at Foster Hall is rarely experienced in social life. There is an air of refinement about these young people, an unpretentious dignity and a certain sweet cordiality that compels respect and admiration. They are well-dressed. There is always the conventional black of the gentlemen as a background for the bright colors and tasteful attire of their comrades and fellow-students—the young women. There is no lack of brilliant conversation, of light, bright talk, but there is a noticeable absence of idle chatter. Everybody has something to say and says it well. "Ideal association of the sexes has found a practical working every day verily at last, or I am dreaming!" declared the woman who was interested in everything new.

"Yes," replied the bright young man, "and you may consider yourself very much awake whenever you are within the sacred precincts of Chicago University."

"Sacred!" ejaculated the third person present, "privileged would be a better word—'privileged precincts,' that sounds well." But neither the woman nor the bright young man paid any attention to the remark, so the irrepressible third person continued: "I have it on good authority that while the under graduates give little trouble, the professors are very difficult to manage."

"Why, what do you mean?" asked the woman.

"Oh nothing, only it has not been quite three years since the ground was broken for the foundation of this most remarkable institution of learning and already six of its professors have married university students."

"Suppose they have," replied the woman, "I am sure they have shown their good taste."

"Certainly they have," exclaimed the bright young man, "I should like—" but the woman looked at him and he did not finish the sentence.

DROWNED.—James Beard, an unmarried man, aged about 25 years was drowned Thursday forenoon in the Ingram slough, about four miles north of Junction. In company with Lee Ingram they were fording the slough in a wagon when it became uncoupled "throwing the occupants into the water. Ingram managed to reach the shore, but Beard was drowned. The body had not been recovered at last accounts. The horses were saved.

COMPLIMENTARY.—Stayton Times, democratic: "H. B. Miller, of Grants Pass, and John A. Caron, candidate for district attorney, spoke at the Opera House last Friday evening. The speech of Mr. Miller was spoken of as being the best of the season."

THE ELECTION.

State, County and Precinct Officers Being Voted for Today—A Quiet Affair.

Daily Guard, June 1.

The right of franchise is being exercised throughout the state today, and by tomorrow, in most localities at least, it will be known who the men are that will administer to our state, county and precinct affairs for the next two years.

In this county things are decidedly mixed this year, and lots of "scratching" is doubtless being done in every precinct today. Several issues are at stake and serve to divide the votes of all parties. Besides people are coming to that point where they vote more for the man and less for the party than they used to do.

In this city the election is passing off very quietly and all is serene. Considerable electioneering, however, is being done on the quiet. Nine or ten livery carriages and a few private rigs have been placed in service by the different factions to convey voters to and from the polls. It is said that money is being used in favor of some of the candidates though probably in very limited amounts, as the Australian ballot system practically does away with vote-buying. The scheming politician has no assurance that his subject will vote as desired when he gets in the booth, and is reluctant to part with his "boodle" on such an uncertain investment.

Owing to the "mixed" condition in which political matters now are, it is impossible to form any idea of the outcome with any degree of correctness. The hardest fights in this county are on the senatorial question and the clerk's and sheriff's offices. It is said that some sacrifices are being made and that trading is being done on Johnson, Jennings and Driver. Blyee, democrat, for representative is receiving a great many republican votes, also Spencer.

Very little betting is being done on the outcome. A bet of $40 a side was made this afternoon on the sheriff proposition.

The polling places and officers of election of the four Eugene precincts inside of the city limits are as follows:

North Eugene No. 1—Polling place in city engine house. Judges: Wm. Preston, Geo. Midgely, Howard Davis. Clerks: E. J. Fraser, S. W. Taylor.

North Eugene No. 2—Polling place in McFarland building on Eighth street. Judges: J. L. Page, J. C. Church, W. E. Brown. Clerks: Geo. O. Yoran, M. S. Walls.

South Eugene No. 1—Polling place in Rowland building, East Eleventh street. Judges: J. P. Ramsey, J. S. McMurray, H. D. Wylie. Clerks: J. M. Howe, S. R. Williams.

South Eugene No. 2—Polling place in second story of Coleman building, Eighth street. Judges: G. R. Christian, F. W. Osburn, M. O. Wilkins. Clerks: Edis Matlock, S. M. Yoran.

At the time of going to press the Eugene precincts had polled the following number of votes respectively:

Table with 2 columns: Precinct Name and Number of Votes. Total 763.

An Old Yarn.

Ex: Among our real estate assessors a year or two ago was one named Dennis McElhinney. On his rounds he came to the habitation of his friend Michael Mulcahy.

"Good mornin' Michael," says McElhinney.

"Good mornin' Dinny," returns Mulcahy.

"It's assessin' 'is mornin' I am, Mike," says the official.

"Then be aisy wid me, Dinny."

"I'll be aisy, Mike. I'll put ye down fur ten dollars a fut. Dat will be 'irty times ten in 'res hundred fur de lot and twinty fur de goat."

"Phaw," cried Mulcahy.

"Tree hundred fur de lot and twinty fur de goat."

"De goat's not real estate."

"It's so under de new law."

"Go 'way wid yez."

"I can prove it to yez," says the assessor, drawing out his instructions.

"Rade dat will yez? 'Assis at its proper valuation per front foot all property aboundin' and abuttin' on both sides of the state.' Many's the time I've seen your goat aboundin' and abuttin' on both sides of the state. Twinty dollars (or de goat, Mike."

Letter List.

May 28, 1896. Bridge, Wm H. Orr, Robt. Hull, John Ricks, Mattie Miller, T. T. Sanders, Miss Mary Mitchell, B. F. Spencer, Charlie Morris, Ida Travin, Rosa May McSheery, C. H. Wade, W. E. A charge of one cent will be made on all letters given out. Persons calling for letters will please state when advertised.

TAX ROLL CLOSED.

The tax roll will be closed tonight by Sheriff Johnson and all persons who have not paid in by that time will become delinquent. One per cent will be charged on payments until the delinquent list is made out, which will perhaps take nearly a month. After that time the costs of collection will be added.

LOCATED.

A private letter from Boise City, Idaho, states that Len L. Stevens and Jos E. Young have rented rooms in one of the leading blocks of that city and will open up a law office. We wish the young men success as they are deserving of it.

BROKEN BONE.

Joseph Bond, of Coburg, a first year student at the university, broke the large bone of his left forearm near the wrist while playing tennis yesterday afternoon. Dr. Loomis set the injured member.

THE ELECTION AT PORTLAND.

It is Believed that the Mitchell Ticket and Penoyer are in the Lead.

Special to the Guard.

PORTLAND, June 1, 4 p. m.—The election is passing off very quietly. A very heavy vote is being polled. There have been several arrests made for illegal voting and a few personal encounters are reported.

Sam Goodman, a Simon "beeler" was arrested shortly after noon for attempting to vote four prisoners from the county jail.

The impression prevails at this hour that Penoyer, for mayor, and the Mitchell legislative ticket, were in the lead.

False Impression Corrected.

The impression that gained credence at the cemetery Saturday, May 30th, during the decoration of the graves of our departed comrades, that a visiting comrade had deposited flowers in memory of his Southern comrades, it is my pleasing duty to correct in behalf of our visiting comrade, with whom I have been acquainted for several years, and that the "Mississippi Marine Brigade" was recruited by Col. Elliot of the United States service, for the purpose of patrolling the Mississippi river from New Orleans to Memphis to keep the river clear of marauding parties that infested that section. For the record of this brigade, reference is made to the "Official Records of the War of the Rebellion."

CLOSING EXERCISES.—The closing exercises of Decoration Day, which were so fittingly observed by the citizens of Eugene and vicinity, were held at the opera house Saturday night, being witnessed by a large audience. The program consisted of prayer, music, recitations, a flag drill by 24 little girls, and an address by Dr. U. E. Loomis. The program of the evening was well rendered and together with the exercises of the day have served to plant more deeply in the minds of the people a due amount of reverence for the veterans who fought to save the country.

A TARIFF SPEECH.—Wallace McCamant of Portland, addressed a few republicans at the court house Saturday night. Owing to exercises of the G. A. R. at the opera house, which drew most of the patronage, Mr. McCamant had a very limited audience. Like most of his predecessors of the republican party, he took up most of his time discussing the tariff question. The silver question, which the people of Lane county are so anxious to learn more about, received but little attention at the hands of Mr. McCamant.

PARK DANCE.—The second of a series of dances was given at the park pavilion last night by C. P. James. This dance, like the first one, was a social success, but was not well enough attended to make it a financial success. The pavilion is a most delightful place for an evening dance and Mr. James makes it as attractive as possible.

NEW BUGGIES.—E. Bangs of the Ninth street stable and Robt. Bowlsby of the Olive street stable each received a new buggy built on "jarless" springs, direct from the Minneapolis carriage factories Saturday. These are the first buggies of this kind ever brought to this city. They are said to be the easiest riding buggy made.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR.—Albany Democrat: The money is ready for the last dividend of the principal due depositors from the Linn County National Bank. It will put $25,000 in circulation here. Interest will be paid in a few weeks. The showing is a good one, one that will be appreciated generally.

THE GYPSY.—The Gypsy left down stream this morning with a light load of freight and a few passengers. The boat will return Saturday and will leave down the river again Sunday morning, taking a lot of race horses and a full load of oats for E. H. Ingham.

CREAMERY BUSINESS INCREASING.—The creamery has doubled its production since starting up. It now receives about 1100 pounds of milk daily. A churning is made every other day and each churning turns out about 60 pounds of butter. Ice cream is now manufactured at the creamery.

BAPTIST SOCIAL.—The ladies of the Baptist church gave an ice cream social at the residence of J. M. Howe, Thirteenth and Mill streets last evening. The lawn was brightly lighted with Chinese lanterns, a large crowd was present and a most enjoyable time was had by all present.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.—Saturday evening the U of O Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. held their farewell reception in the gymnasium. A program was rendered and a delightful lunch was served. It was a very pleasant evening for the two societies.

RECEIVED A MEDAL.—M. S. Barker has received a handsome medal for the most practical inventions on a bicycle that have passed through the patent office at Washington. The medal is donated by manufacturers of bicycles.

WON ANOTHER RACE.—Ed E. McClanahan won the bicycle race of one mile, for boys under 17 years of age at the Albany bicycle tournament Saturday. Time made 2:59.4. He is the fastest boy bicycle rider in Oregon.

The favored residents of the Pacific coast know nothing of cyclones such as the awful one that swept St. Louis Wednesday evening. Many is powerless in the face of this mighty destroying element. The St. Louis record of hundreds killed and thousands injured stands without a parallel in the cyclone belt.

MONDAY, JUNE 1.

A rather quiet election day. Taxes are delinquent now. Dr. D. A. Paine is in the city. Lovely evenings for boating. The year is nearly half gone. Two A. O. U. W. assessments for June. Father Black returned from Monroe today.

Judge H. S. Bean came up from Salem today.
