TWO PLATFORMS ON MONEY.

Salem Journal, Rep: The people have gone one way, the party another. Thinking men should compare the following platform: OREGON REPUBLICAN, 1890.

"Sixth—That recognizing the fact that the United States is the greatest silver producing country in the world, and that both gold and silver were equally the money of the constitution from the beginning of the republic until the hostile legislation against silver, which unduly contracted the circulating medium of the country; and recognizing that the great interests of the people demand more money for use in the channels of trade and commerce; therefore we declare ourselves in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and denounce an attempt to discriminate against silver as unwise and unjust."

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN, 1896.

"The republican party is unservedly for sound money. It caused the enactment of the law providing for the resumption of specie payments in 1879; since then every dollar has been as gold."

"We are unalterably opposed to every measure calculated to debase our currency or impair the credit of our country. We are therefore opposed to the free coinage of silver, except by international agreement with the leading commercial nations of the world, which we pledge ourselves to promote, and until such an agreement can be obtained, the existing gold standard must be preserved. All our silver and paper currency now in circulation must be maintained at a parity with gold, and we favor all measures designed to maintain inviolable the obligations of the United States, and our money, whether coin or paper, at the present standard, the standard of the most enlightened nations of the earth."

THE TARIFF PLANK.

Portland Tribune: It looks as if the tariff plank of the St. Louis platform were made to catch gold democrats. There is nothing of the McKinley tariff ring to it. The same plank in the Chicago platform would cause no split at all in the democratic party.

"We demand such an equitable tariff on foreign import which come into competition with American products as will not only furnish adequate revenue for the necessary expenses of the government, but will protect American labor from degradation to the wage level of other lands. We are not pledged to any particular schedule. The question of rates is a practical question to be governed by the condition of time and production. The ruling and uncompromising principle is the protection and development of American labor and industry. The country wants a rest settlement, and then wants rest."

Pendleton E. O.: Governor Altgeld of Illinois briefly sums up the national republican platform upon which McKinley and Hobart stand as a declaration of "greed and gold." The republicans a few years ago were howling with all their might against British gold and British influences and now they have embraced both with open arms.

Corvallis Times: "A great victory has been won" is the gleeful exclamation of the London Times in speaking of the gold plank in the new republican platform. Of course, Johnnie Bull is happy. The single gold standard is the desire that lies nearest his heart, and with a strong party in the United States fearlessly espousing his cause, what wonder that he grins with delight and reaches across the water to shake hands in a delighted congratulation. The single gold standard is a powerfully good thing for Johnnie Bull's bondholders, for it helps them to milk the American government out of heavy bonuses when the latter wants a little gold, and why shouldn't the lion hoist his tail and roar with sheer happiness?

Speaking of a new wagon road into Nehalem the Astorian says: The right-of-way for the new road from Arch Cape to Nehalem has been practically finished for several days. Grading will probably commence at once, so that the road can be completed within a few weeks' time. Those who have ever traveled over the narrow trail around the face of Necanic mountain, can appreciate the advantages of a roadway of sufficient width to allow a wagon to go over with perfect safety. The part of the road around the mountain will be a much travelled thoroughfare during the summer time, it being in several places over 800 feet directly above the ocean, and commanding a vista unequalled on the coast. The opening up of the Nehalem will undoubtedly lead to an early development of the coal beds in that neighborhood, as well as a large area of government land heretofore inaccessible to take provisions and products in and out. The merchants of this city who aided the enterprise financially will surely reap a rich reward in the near future.

A QUER AD.—We find the following advertisement in the Albany Democrat: "Crows Wanted.—10 cents apiece will be paid for all crows, dead or alive delivered at Froman Bros. They are death to chinese pheasants and it is desired to kill them off."

ROAD TO BOHEMIA.—The committee who have the matter in hand of securing the establishment of a wagon road from this city to the Bohemia mines will send out a force of four or five men under Wallace Chamberlain tomorrow to select the route of the proposed road after leaving the Military wagon road. They will leave tomorrow morning by team, taking supplies for the trip. They will leave the Military road at a point near John Hill's, about 60 miles east of here, and will select a route from there to the mines. A petition for the road was circulated some time ago, and being liberally signed, the county court at its last session granted the prayer of petitioners and appointed viewers and a surveyor to view out and survey the road on July 2. As the road will become a county road, it is quite likely that some county aid will be given toward its construction and maintenance.

WEDDING DAY.—This is evidently wedding day for Lane county. The GUARD has accounts of five young couples who will be linked together in the holy bonds of matrimony before the evening dew will have fallen again. No 6 applied for license last evening, being a young lady being tender age and the application paper not being properly made out the county clerk could not issue the license and the matter had to be deferred until the groom-elect will have had time to return home and get the proper papers correctly signed.

IN ATTENDANCE.—The following Lane county ministers have been in attendance upon the Oregon Christian convention at Turner: Revs W A Wood, E C Sanderson, M L Rose, W Loney, John Handsaker, E Beecham, Eugene R Doty, Lorane M T Horn, Emma, A D Skiggs, Junction; A H Sanderson, Natron, Sam Baughman, I N Mulkey, R M Callison, Pleasant Hill; A M Sweeney, Ison, Burnside, Cottage Grove.

DEATH.—The infant child of Mr and Mrs Elias Isaacson died of membranous croup at Colburg early this morning. The funeral was held today and the remains interred in the Muddy cemetery in Linn county.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Marriage licenses were today granted by County Clerk Jennings to Charles Martin and Miss Mary E Sylvester, and to James A Miller and Miss Clara B McCready, all of Lane county.

MATCH RACE.—A match horse race will be run Saturday afternoon, 40 yards, at Harris' track, between Brannon's filly and the sorrel horse only for $50 a side. It promises to be hotly contested.

A MONSTER BEAUTY.—Mr O Beck with has presented this office with a monster beauty—a big red cow that measures seven inches across. It is one of the largest that grows.

Report Made.

We find the following in the proceedings of the Oregon Christian convention now in session at Turner: Rev A D Skiggs, secretary of district No 5, consisting of Lane county only, containing nearly 1,400 members of the church. Rev Skiggs, an old traveling evangelist, stated flat-footed that the fault of the church in his district, No 5, and in fact, the whole state, was lack of organization and un-qualified ministers. He favored the education of ministers so that they could preach not only to grown people but to children also, and that they would use plain language in place of using so large words. Another fault he mentioned was that of ministers who have two or three living wives. He related a case of a minister who had worked in the state, and finding upon investigation, that his record was bad he injured the cause. He recommended that preachers entering the state be required to file their credentials with the state board before being allowed to preach.

His district has twenty-two congregations and twelve church buildings, valued at over $12,000, exclusive of debt. His congregation at Junction City, he stated, was accused of manufacturing young preachers, and he was proud of the record made in that line.

The fifth district, he said, believed in preaching to all men, and is brought in touch with all the work of the church. He recommended that no more organization work be done in the district but that the efforts be confined to evangelization and building up of those congregations already in existence.

He recommended the putting to work the pastors to visit neighboring congregations and to provide pastors to look after small congregations scattered around in rural districts.

He paid a glowing tribute to the Willamette valley and made a plea for the work in as beautiful a valley—the Umpqua—in Southern Oregon, where Roseburg is located, where the work is so much needed. He warned the ministers against criticizing young preachers, as these young men can sit back and criticize their own critics in their own language.

Rev Skiggs has converted, in the five years he has been in Junction City, 201 members, of which only twelve have gone back to the world. In his remarks he discussed the resolution passed a year ago, requiring new ministers in the state to file their credentials with the state board, and this brought on quite an unexpected result when he quoted. Three of the ministers in the convention, who have entered the state since the resolution referred to was adopted, arose and stated that they had not filed their credentials as it was an entirely new thing to them, and they felt somewhat hurt over the turn affairs had taken, but they were soon satisfied on that point, as the state boards had secured the records of the gentlemen from other sources.

A DEPOSITOR'S SCARE.

False Rumors Cause a Run on the Bank of Weiser.

The Bank of Weiser, Weiser, Idaho, had an experience this week that would have proven disastrous had there been a lack of funds with which to pay depositors.

Owing to the entirely silly and senseless actions of a young man from Boise who came down to draw a deposit of $1000, and further false rumors which became circulated that this bank was connected with the Halley bank (reported in the papers to be in trouble) and would likely become involved with it, depositors took a fright, more readily on account of the either well remembered failure, and began to rush in and draw their deposits. Before night $18,000 had been drawn out. When the train came in the next day $15,000 more in cash was dumped out of the express car and taken over to Cashier Seelye, who smilingly ranged himself at the window and waited for them to come on. By this time depositors began to take a tumble and the run checked up and a little later they began to walk in and re-deposit. Mr Selwyn told them they might step inside and examine the bank's condition. A committee locked over the books and found it to be in the best possible shape with $28,000 on deposit in its correspondent banks which it could draw on when the coin on hand should be exhausted; securities on hand sufficient to more than cover every liability.

Obituary.

Died, at the residence of her parents, B M and M P Richardson, at Lewistown, Ore, June 29, at 6 p m, Miss Richardson. She was born February 27, 1853. She has been afflicted ever since she was about seven years old, but has borne her suffering with heroic Christian patience; always a smile and a kind word for all, a dutiful daughter, an affectionate sister and a true friend. She was a member of the Baptist church and a true follower of the Gentle Nazarene, who said, "Come unto me all ye who labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest."

A FRIEND.

THE MISCHIEVOUS CROW.—It is said that crows are one of the worst enemies that China pheasants, and other birds that nest in the open fields, have. The crow will rob every nest he can find of all the eggs it contains and in this manner destroys hundreds of small birds. After procuring the eggs he will convey them, one at a time, to some convenient place where he favours them. A student who resides near this city states that the crows in his neighborhood have a feasting place on his premises and that at this point there is an accumulation of thousands of egg shells which, have been carried there by his crowship. In Linn county the crows have been destructive upon the eggs of China pheasants (that an Albany firm has offered a reward of 10 cents for every crow presented, dead or alive, at their place of business.

JAMES DIXON INDICTED.—ROSEBURG, Ore., June 23.—The grand jury today brought in an indictment of willful and malicious murder against James Dixon, who shot and killed Charles Rice, June 14, at a ball game near Blakesley's. Dixon's trial will begin Thursday.

WILL MOVE.—F C Potts, the cigar maker, will move his fixtures and stock of goods from the Conser building into C Hodges' saloon about the first of July. Mr Potts has rented a portion of the Hodges room and will carry on both a wholesale and retail business in his new quarters. The building is now undergoing the necessary changes.

BORN.—To the wife of Green Richardson at Lancaster a daughter, Mrs R has been in bad health some time and remains in a critical condition. Dr Ariman is the attending physician and there are hopes of her recovery.
