

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ANCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Castoria cures Colds, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Flatulence, Killa Worms, gives sleep, and promotes the growth, Without injurious medication.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach."

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

DAILY REGISTER SUSPENDS.

The Daily Register this morning announced its suspension. The paper first started January 1, 1895, and has been a fair local paper and worked faithfully for the upbuilding of Eugene and Lane county. However, the field was too limited for the support of two daily papers, and the REGISTER having been established for a number of years and completely filling the field, it naturally compelled the younger paper to retire.

This paper will continue to give all the city and county news on the day of its occurrence, and will use every endeavor for the best interests of the city and county.

The circulation of the DAILY REGISTER has increased steadily from the day of its first issue, June 8, 1891, and therefore has become valuable to our business men as an advertising medium. It is only by constant, careful and hard work that a daily paper can be made to exist in a city of this size. It does not pay a fair return for the money invested in the business and remuneration for the labor employed. The weekly edition of the REGISTER is where our profit is made.

Minister Ransome, who is home from Mexico on leave, says American capital is building up Mexican prosperity. Of President Diaz he says: "A wiser and better chief magistrate never guided the destinies of a nation."

Helena Independent: It was Pat Collins who was addressing a Boston audience on the virtues of the gold standard. He rose in a pompous way and began: "My hearers, I hold in my right hand a silver dollar, and in my left a gold dollar, and the one represents 53 cents' worth of silver and is good only in our own country. The other is a tiny thing, but it is worth $1 anywhere in the world. Now, which, my fellow citizens, will you take?" An old Irishman got up and said: "I'll take ayther." The Milesian had voiced the sentiment of the vast majority of workers in the United States.

Oregon people are all interested in the work of Homer Davenport, the now celebrated artist of the New York Journal. The Cleveland Record says: "Since Nast lost his cunning and Keppler died, we have had no leader in political caricature until Davenport, the principal cartoonist of the New York Journal, appeared in this field of useful work. He is rapidly proving his right to a higher place than either Nast or Keppler earned. To a style of drawing peculiarly his own, and great facility in giving to familiar faces characteristic expressions, Davenport unites the faculty of clear insight into political situations and limitless ingenuity in inventing significant designs to illustrate them in caricature. We predict for him national recognition before the campaign is over, as the greatest of our political caricaturists."

There is a suit pending in the circuit court at St. Louis, Mo., which is of considerable historic interest. It is for the recovery of $10,000 damages by the heirs of the celebrated Confederate leader, Forrest, from the Adams express company, for the loss of a pair of silver spurs, which were presented to Forrest during the war by the ladies of Mississippi. The spurs were shipped through the express company to St. Louis several years ago and were delivered to the wrong man, who melted them and sold the bullion. The origin of the spurs is what makes the sentimental value of them so great. It appears that in casting about for a fitting testimonial to the dashing cavalry leader the ladies found themselves too poor to present him with gold spurs, as was the intention, but they had thimbles, all of them. Therefore the cherished silver thimbles were sent to the melting pot and the spurs were the result, not particularly valuable intrinsically; but as relics invaluable.

Daily Guard, July 5.
FAREWELL RECEPTION.—A farewell reception was tendered by Rev. H. L. Boardman and family at the Baptist church last evening. It was an informal affair, no programme having been prepared for the occasion. Members of the church, pastors of the city and others were present and extended farewell greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Boardman, who will leave for their new home at McMinnville in a few days.

FLORENCE CELEBRATION.—The Florence celebration was largely attended. One of the most exciting features of the day was a match game of base ball between the Elk, Prairie and Florence nines, the former winning. The score stood: Elk, Prairie 24, Florence 10.

BORN.—In this city July 6, 1896, to the wife of S. A. Hulin, a 10 pound son. Mother and child are doing nicely.

The Oregon Mazamas, who have arranged for a climb to Crater lake in August, have in view a visit to the wonderful Josephine caves, which are among the unexplored curiosities of Oregon. Little is known of them. They are high up on old Graystack, and about 80 miles from Grants Pass, and they are reached either by way of Kirby or Williams valley. The executive committee of the Mazamas has been corresponding with Mr. Sibley, of that city, with reference to conveying the party of mountain-climbers to the Josephine caves. The Ashland Crater Club has been completing all the details for the trip up to Crater lake, and the prospects are that it will be a very delightful trip.
