

WEEKLY EUGENE GUARD. CAMPBELL, PUBLISHER. J. L. LUCKEY, DEALER IN Watches, Chains, Jewelry, Etc. W. BROWN, M. D. O. LAKE. C. WOODCOCK, Attorney-at-Law. National Bank. County Bank. L. PAGE, DEALER IN GROCERIES. J. F. FORD.

MONDAY, AUGUST 3.

Roads muddy again. Watermelons are in the market. Fires are quite comfortable these days. U. O. sessions begin six weeks from today. Council meets one week from tonight. The Woodmen have one assessment for August. Geo. W. Rinehart, of Coudu in the city. Samuel Taylor was over from Clatsop today. Attorney J. M. Williams is at Cottage Grove. Mrs. I. D. Driver, Jr., returned to Salem today. Chas. Vandenberg is again able to be on our streets. Clem Hodas left for Foley Springs this morning. L. N. Honey went to Cottage Grove this afternoon. The McAllister party has returned from the Mohawk. The street car line was fairly well patronized today. Considerable rain today. It has stopped the threshers. P. Conroy is serving delinquent tax warrants in the country. The foundation of Henry Ankeny's new residence is completed. The Roseburg local took a carload of cattle through this morning. During his recent trip to Foley Springs, Wm. Roushaw lost a valuable lock. Sells Bros and Forepaugh's circus, jumps from Salem, Oregon, to Redding, Cal. Mayor Olesby came up from Junction this afternoon. Miss Ella Matteson of Fall Creek, is visiting in the city. J. F. Start went to Cottage Grove this afternoon to do some roofing. Dr. Lowe and Geo. Keegan were passengers to Foley Springs today. C. H. Hale visited over Sunday with his family at his cabin on Fall creek. Mrs. Dr. G. W. Biddle and children returned today from a visit at Albany. Mr. Hempe and wife will go to Blue River tomorrow on a camping out trip. Darwin Yorn left for the upper McKenzie on his wheel yesterday afternoon. Prior Blair is now running a night elevator in the Imperial hotel in Portland. Assessor D. P. Burton brought his family down from Cottage Grove yesterday. The Misses Myra and Lulu Norris returned this afternoon from a short visit at Junction. John McCallister, of Drain passed through Eugene today on his wheel, enroute to Drain. Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Lion are spending a few days at Cedar Flat in search of wild blackberries. Miss Mattie Smith arrived here this afternoon, after a pleasant visit with friends in Portland. Luther Rowland today moved into a house which he has purchased on East Eighth street. Quite a number from this city spent the day at Abram's mill on the McKenzie yesterday. Gray and Son have a new ad today and quote low prices. Don't miss it or you will be sorry. A traveling photograph outfit is in town and has pitched a tent on a vacant lot near the depot. Ellen Wickham, a widow of Leaburg, Lane county, Oregon, has been granted an original widow's pension. Little boy—The preacher says there is no martyr in Heaven. Little girl—Of course not. There wouldn't be enough men to go around. Hopgrowers, representing about 1000 acres, met in Independence Saturday and agreed upon 25 cents per box as the picking price this year. George Sides, of Thurston, arrived here today from a visit to Dunniagan, Yolo county, California. Seth McAllister and Frank Knapp rode out yesterday going to Waterloo and returning. Misses Alice Dorris and Emma Chase have returned from a visit to Mrs. Boliver Cogswell, of Linn county. H. H. Stiekney, who has been conducting a bowling alley at Corvallis arrived home on the afternoon local. Mr. and Mrs. R. Ziegler and Mrs. W. O. Ziegler and children left this morning on a camping trip to Foley Springs. They will be absent about a month. Ed Hamson and sister, Ada, returned this morning from a short visit at Cottage Grove, with their sister, Mrs. J. S. Medley, who has been quite sick with lung trouble. Rev. Dr. Lovelidge, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church of this city, will leave on a visit to his old home in New York state, tomorrow. He expects to be absent several weeks. Quite a number of people from this city attended the Free Methodist camp meeting at Ping Yang on the Mohawk yesterday. Several persons were conversed. "You are the first girl I ever loved," he said. "Well, never mind," she replied. "I don't care about that. The point with me is, am I the last girl you are going to love?" A young man had been talking to a bored editor for a quarter of an hour, and observed: "There are some things in this world that go without saying." "Yes," said the editor, "and are still more things in the world who say a good deal without going." George L. Baker, who married Miss Bertha Blair of this city, has been elected superintendent of the Portland Exposition. The Oregonian says the selection of Mr. Baker was a surprise to a great many people, as there were several candidates for the place. Miss Emma Vanduy and Miss Henrietta Owen left on the 11:20 today for their new home at The Dalles, where they expect to engage in the book and stationery business. The book and stationery business is one which joins with their many friends in this city in wishing them the best of success. Albany Herald: Hon. M. A. Miller of Lebanon has purchased the residence property of O. C. McFarland in this city and will remove to Albany to reside.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 4.

Mr. Miller it is said will study law. He is young man of ability and would undoubtedly make a success as a lawyer. New corn is in the market. The county jail has one occupant. Very little travel by rail at present. California prunes are in the market. New potatoes are selling at 50 cents per bushel. The man who has a thrifty potato patch this year is in luck. California cantaloupes have made their appearance in the market again. The steamer Gypsy expects to run between Salem and Corvallis all summer. The steamers Albany and Hoag, of O & E R R, have been laid up until the fall rains. Black Alder has been taken to Vancouver, B. C. where he will race August 7 and 8. A marriage license was granted today to Joseph W. Knebel, aged 27, and Lizzie Boren, aged 21. A squad from Company C practiced target shooting on the range in Fairmount this afternoon. It is learned that the order of Elks will likely postpone their excursion to Yukon until September. Gilbert Murray, formerly of this city, now of Salem, is married the other day to Miss Ina Weston, of that city. County Judge E. O. Potter this afternoon moved his law library and his office fixtures to his office in the court house. The eastern market reports peach plums as commanding a high price. Too bad that the crop in this section is a failure. Alabama held an election yesterday. It went democratic by a larger majority than ever before. The legislature is also democratic. At least 500 will join the Mazamas' excursion to Crater Lake on the 16th inst.; many people are coming from the Eastern states for the event. Attorney Dorris is now around explaining his recent runaway. He claims that the old gray was not to blame, as a yellow jacket was responsible for the affair. James Nibley, aged 60, cut his throat and jumped into the Grand Ronde river at La Grande yesterday. He was manager of the Oregon Lumber Company's store and had gone crazy. Martin Quinn, the populist candidate for congressman in the second district has been appointed superintendent of the streets of Portland by Mayor Penney; the salary is $100 per month. The without stage was held up in Clackamas county yesterday. About twenty shots were fired, and two stage horses were killed. The passengers and driver were uninjured. Only a small amount of money was gotten. There was a California in Los Gatos 25 years ago who died and left the income of $900 to buy candy for the school children. The fund is still faithfully administered, and in Los Gatos that man is bigger than Washington. It is stated that the threshers were not compelled to quit work near Corvallis as only a few drops of rain fell. Gentlemen from the western portion of the county also tell us that the rain only extended four or five miles west of Eugene. It is rumored that John Swartz, the German resident of the Looking Glass neighborhood, who was supposed to have wandered away from home in a demented condition, reached Walla Walla a raving maniac, and has been sent to the asylum as an incurable subject, but the rumor lacks confirmation. James Hicks met with a painful accident Saturday morning near Pullman. He was driving a wagon for Ed Kitzmiller, at the latter's ranch, when one of the horses fell down, getting entangled in the harness. In endeavoring to free the horse to enable it to get up, the animal kicked Mr. Hicks in the face. It is reported that the hay crop in Clatsop county will this season be a very short one. In the month of June there was no rain whatever, an unprecedented fact in the history of that county in a number of years. The hay was burned before it ripened, and it is probable that not enough hay has been produced for home consumption. The Welcome tells the following story at the expense of Albany: An Albany young woman while swimming in the ditch the other night, cried out that she was drowning. Mill hands rescued her and under lady friends rescued her clothing. When she gave vent to the yell that startled the town she was standing in only thirteen inches of water. The Democrat is informed that an agent has been around taking orders for pictures and receiving $1 on the same in advance. The person is very foolish who pays a stranger a cent in advance for anything. These are times when it pays to do business in a business way. Besides we have good buyers artists. Why not stand in with Albany establishments. According to the statement of the Welcome, W. F. Butler, the well-known democratic politician of Baker county, will institute proceedings against the San Francisco Examiner because of the claim made by the Examiner made a statement to the effect that Mr. Butler was arrested in Chicago for disorderlies. Daily Guard, August 4. AN ACCIDENT.—The city editor of the GUARD yesterday morning mounded his slight steed and left town to spend the day at Abram's old mill site, on the McKenzie—not to argue for the festive tour but to commune with nature. When about three miles north of Eugene one of the tires exploded and he was compelled to foot it back to Eugene. It seems that the best place for the average newspaper man, any way, is inside the corporate limits. MR. HAMMOND'S PROJECTS.—Yacquia News: Mr. Hammond of the O & E and Astoria-Goble railroads, with General Manager Stone expects to pay Salem a visit during August. The visit will be made with a view to looking the ground over preparatory to making estimates for the contemplated extension of the Yaquina road to Salem from the most accessible point.

BARKLEY FOR SILVER.

Reproaches the Republican Money Plank. Salem Journal of August 4: Hon H. L. Barkley, of Woodburn, was in this city today for the first time since his return from Ohio. Asked as to his views that he would take the stump for McKinley, he said: "I am opposed absolutely to the money plank of the republican platform and am more firmly in favor of free coinage of silver than ever before. I have made no speeches for McKinley nor do I intend to unless he comes out for bimetalism and repudiates the St. Louis money plank of the republican platform. I am a republican in the sense of the past history of the party. That history does not teach me the gold standard. I told the republicans when I was nominated that I would never support the gold standard and I meant what I said. I told them if the republicans in their national convention made a republican platform I would stand upon it. I do not consider that it is a republican platform, and I cannot stand upon it. "A Woodburn banker stated the other day that I should take the stump for McKinley or resign as a member of the legislature. My answer to that proposition was, call another election and I will make the canvass on free silver straight and will abide by the result. It was my judgment that the party should have made the canvass for independent bimetalism as it voted down the gold standard in the state convention. "I expect to hold meetings in Oregon, California and Washington and in this campaign do all in my power for the cause of independent American bimetalism." Hon H. L. Barkley was an anti-Dolph member of the last general assembly and was re-elected to the legislature from Marion county last June. He is still a republican. SAVED THE COSTS.—A good joke is told on one of Sheriff Johnson's deputies who is serving delinquent tax warrants in the eastern part of the county. The deputy called on a farmer to serve a warrant, but the farmer never got his warrants mixed and served the wrong one on the man. The delinquent taxpayer soon discovered the mistake but said nothing; he acted instead. As soon as the deputy had left he hurriedly hitched up his horse and drove hastily to the county seat. Going to the tax collector's office he paid his taxes, leaving the warrant which had been served upon him by mistake with the collector. The deputy, having discovered his mistake, called on the farmer the following day to serve the proper warrant, but was informed by the gentleman that he had already paid the receipt. The result was the deputy had all his trouble for nothing, and the farmer saved $2 costs by getting the best of the deputy. DAILY GUARD, AUGUST 4. HYDRAULIC ELEVATOR.—P. Frank will put a hydraulic elevator in his new brick building on Ninth street. The piping for the elevator is now being turned out at Geo. N. Frazer's foundry. The elevator will have a capacity of several tons and will operate between the first and second floors. Two pipes are necessary to raise the water. One of them is about six inches in diameter and about fifteen and a half feet in length, about one and a half feet greater than the distance between the ceiling and the floor. The other pipe is a little smaller and is made to work in the side of the first. The first one is sunk full length into the ground below the floor or base upon which the elevator will rest. The water is admitted to it from the bottom and its pressure raises the inside pipe gradually to the surface. The elevator, which rests on the inner pipe, is raised by it. This is the first elevator of any kind to be placed in operation in this city. ASSUMING ACTIVE PROPORTIONS.—Freight traffic by team in this vicinity is assuming active proportions. E. H. Lugham's grocery establishment is steamer of all which was freighted from Corvallis here. The same firm also sent a ton to Cottage Grove by team about the same time. This only serves as an illustration of what the teams are doing. Other firms are beginning to haul their goods by rail. Freight shipments by rail are light. Two trains were recently ordered off because there was not sufficient freight to pay to run them. ON A VACATION.—Salem Journal: "Conductor S. Veitch, of the U. S. local, accompanied by his family has gone to the mountains for a week's outing. In the meantime J. Hansborough will act as conductor on the canonball. A great many of the employees of the road are now enjoying their usual annual vacation. There was one man who employed a five days' vacation each year, during which time their names are kept on the company's pay rolls." A MASHED MASHED.—Portland Welcome: A smart young man had his ears well boxed on the Yaquina Bay train a few days ago. He had been trying to attract the attention of two Corvallis girls, and falling, said to them: "Ah, there, girls but you're awfully slow." "But I'm not," said the big brother of one of the girls, who was sitting near, as he landed three telling blows on the masher's face. One blow knocked the would-be masher's hat out of the car window and the other two were good for black eyes. A SURE THING.—Medford Mail: One reason why people never pay any attention to signs and advertisements is that they are so numerous that they do not know whether they are reading the advertisements of some firm that is still in business or one that has been dead for years. On a ten mile drive into the country the other day, seventeen signs were counted of firms who are now out of business. When people read advertisements in a newspaper that is up to date they know the advertiser is alive and doing business. A MARION COUNTY BOY.—Says the Albany Democrat: "A gentleman in this city who knows Homer Davenport, the now celebrated cartoonist, well, says he is very popular, and is as much of a wit and entertainer personally as he is an entertainer with his pencil in the columns of the newspaper. He has an off-hand way that is taking; but when he comes to put it on paper instead of doing it naturally, his ideas by trying to embellish his own, thus taking away the features that characterize his conversation." FOR THE EAST.—Bishop J. S. Mills and daughter, Alice, will leave for the East on the 17th inst. The bishop will go to Africa this fall to fill his appointment as bishop of that district of the United Brethren church. Miss Mills will spend the winter visiting in the East. She will be accompanied by Miss Anna Harrison, of Toledo, Iowa, who has been visiting with the family during the summer. WILL GO.—About 25 men from Company C, of this city, will go to Newport for the joint encampment on the 14th inst. The boys will leave here on the evening of the 13th and will drive to Corvallis, from which point they will go by rail on the O & E and which furnish them with free transportation.

DECISION REVERSED.

The Heirs of Wm. Barger Get the Indian Depredation Money Awarded to the Jos. Bailey Estate. The public is well acquainted with the facts of the Indian depredation claims which were allowed by the government about a year ago. These cases have been pending for many years and before they were allowed of the estate of Jos. Bailey which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above named tribes. Joseph Bailey and Evans were both killed and all their cattle were killed or confiscated by the Indians, who were supposed at that time to be innocent. Joseph Bailey left no children, and his wife after his death married Wm. B. Barger. The amount of the claim allowed was $13,680 after the attorney's fees had been deducted. The money was paid to John Bailey, administrator of the estate, which had sued for $1500 damages through its administrator, John Bailey, have died. The claims were made on depredations committed by Piute, Klamath and Modoc Indians of Southern Oregon. Joseph and Isaac Bailey and Samuel D. Evans were traveling through that section in 1862 with a large band of stock, when they were attacked by the above