Thanks to Hon John Barrett, U. S. minister to Siam, for several copies of the Siam Observer, Mr Barrett will be remembered by a number of our citizens who delivered an address or two in this city a couple of years since.

Editor Geo Alexander entered suit against one of his delinquent subscribers last week, for back subscription. The dear subscriber "dug up" if more publishers would follow Mr Alexander's example there would not be so many "dead heads" on our lists.

There are some people in this world who are liberal with their cash and gathered wealth. There are also others who squeeze a dollar so hard that the goddess of liberty gets blue in the face, who die poor. It is all right to be saving, but it isn't pay to be blamed stingy.

Seattle, if it cannot reform the social evil, intends to attempt to control it. Chief of Police Reed and his force are busy now notifying all women and repudiate that after October 5, they will not be permitted north of Yesler way. They will then be forced to remain in the south end of the city.

Seo Press: We are in receipt of a notification from County Clerk Montague that bids will be received for the printing of 19,200 white and 12,200 colored ballots, to be used at the coming election. We believe that this is the first instance in the history of Lane county wherein the printing of election tickets has been let to the lowest responsible bidder.

Junction City Times: We learn that Miss Dorellus, one of the teachers employed to teach in the first intermediate department of our school, is confined to her bed in Eugene with cholera pneumonia and it may be several weeks before she will be able to assume her duties. In the mean time Miss Anna Crain has charge of her department and is giving excellent service.

While a poker game was in progress in one of the saloons of Burns, Harney county, one day last week, an onlooker by the name of Anderson, abstracted from the pile of gold and silver coin lying on the table, a $20 gold piece, which was gone before the players realized what had been done. He was pursued and captured before going very far by Deputy Sheriff A. W. Gowan and George Sizemore, and brought back to town, where he is held for trial.

MONDAY, SEPT. 28.

Fine weather. State Fair next week. Junction City has three steam wood saws.

Still the attendance at the U of O is increasing. Most of the decorations have been taken down.

Willamette street received a cleaning this morning.

The Corvallis agricultural college opened with 251 students.

Bryan silver clubs have been organized at Junction City and Long Tom.

The Bryan club of Florence now has a membership of 189; the McKinley club 117.

The A O U W will have no assessment to pay during the month of October.

J. W. Clark took a picnic party to Deadwood's ferry on the McKenzie yesterday.

Street Commissioner Doyle is building a new platform and sidewalk in front of the city hall.

About four-fifths of the property sold at sheriff's sale this afternoon was bid in by the city.

The East Oregon presbytery will convene in Enterprise on October 2, and continue till the 6th.

The time required by a procession Saturday evening to travel its length was just eight minutes.

The Florence Bryan and McKinley clubs will have a debate on free silver October 17th at 2 p. m. in that city.

The Ankeny residence is being painted. It is expected to be ready for occupancy in about two weeks.

The Northwest Miners' Association meets at Spokane October 6, 7 and 8. The Spokane fruit fair opens there October 6.

A wagon loaded heavily with supplies left for the Lucky Boy mine this morning. Quite a lot of shovels was a portion of the load.

The Oregonian says republican sneezes is assured in Lane county. That statement will even make many republican sneeze here.

An addition will be built on the rear end of the creamery building and a chopper placed therein for crushing and chopping grain.

An old gentleman fell from a wagon at Eleventh and High streets yesterday afternoon. He was knocked senseless, but soon recovered.

The proprietors of the steam ferry go round have gathered up their belongings and will depart for Junction City on this evening's freight train.

Harvey Summerville has taken a 10-thousand gallon tank to his farm below Colburg. The tank will be used in connection with his water system.

The business houses report having done an excellent business last Saturday. Many of them took in more money than on the Fourth of July.

Dealer (dubious)—"Yes—! This handkerchief will hold two, but it will be awfully close work. Maiden (quickly)—"Oh take it, please.—"Puck.

Truth: "Why do you laugh at his state jokes?" "If I did not laugh he would think I did not understand the jokes, and would try to explain them."

The auction sale of property to satisfy the claims of the county for taxes was held at the court house door today by Sheriff Johnson and Deputy Scott. Very few buyers were present.

Al Higginbotham, a relative of Prof Condon's who at one time visited with the family in this city has been elected president of the Indiana state league of republican clubs.

"Isn't that a very slow horse of yours?" "Well, he isn't much for speed, but he's easily frightened and runs away a good deal, so he gets there just the same."—Detroit Free Press.

"Mosquitoes are hateful, aren't they?" "Yes; I don't mind their eating me if they didn't keep such an everlasting complaint about the way I taste."—Chicago Record.

At this time after due deliberation the court rejected all bids made for preparing ownership books for Lane county.

In the matter of the county road on Southworth lane. At this time the matter was considered on the petition of W C Washburne and one hundred other petitioners of Junction City and vicinity for an appropriation of $500 00 by the county for the improvement of said road. It is therefore ordered by the court that said petition be granted to the amount of $250 00 on the express condition that the citizens shall subscribe an additional sum of $100 00 in money or labor to be expended under the direction and personal supervision of G C Millitt.

At this time the court ordered by the court that $500 00 will be appropriated by the county toward the repair of county road between the Curran bridge on Row River and Frank Brass ford on same river on express condition that the citizens of that vicinity subscribe an additional sum of $100 00 to be expended under the direction and personal supervision of P J Jennings.

At this time it appearing to the court that the assessor has not been able to complete tax roll for 1896, it is therefore ordered that the time for completion be extended until the 10th 1896.

At this time the clerk was ordered to advertise for bids for keeping the paupers for one year including clothes and all burial expenses of any who may die. Bids to be opened at October term of court and right reserved to reject any and all bids.

Important Injunction Suit.

Albany Democrat: "The Southern Pacific R R Company have brought suit for their attorneys, Weatherford & Co., asking for an injunction restraining the city of Albany from improving Ninth street on their property where the railroad track crosses that street, just northeast of the depot asking for an order declaring a lien of $51 45 in all on the property of the road, consisting of several specified lots, and in the event of non-compliance by the city, the property has never been dedicated to public use except for right of way and for depot grounds, and that it is private property. One defense is that the city falsely and wrongfully took possession of the property of the plaintiff recited that due notice had been given, and the assessments against the plaintiff was with out law. The complaint covers about twenty type written pages. The suit means a big expense to the city."

Daily Guard, September 28.
To THE PORTLAND FAIR.—The special excursion train to the Portland exposition reached this city at 2:10 this afternoon. The train carried eight passenger coaches, all of which were filled with people when the train reached here. There was a contingent of about 30 people to get aboard the train. Among those who went from here were the following: N E Markley, F L Chambers, T G Hendricks, A E Wheeler, George Barger, and wife, Edna Mack, and wife, E D Pool and wife, Drew Griffin and wife, Miss Lotta Johnston, Miss E Saltzman, Miss Stella Rowland, B Garrison and wife, W E Loughmiller, John McClure, S M Garrison, Geo Long and family, A G Hovey, Dr O Billington, W C Yoran.

NOTES OF THE HOP.—Salem Statesman: N Christensen's hop house six miles south east of Gervais, on Howell prairie, was destroyed by fire Sunday night. The house and contents were totally consumed, the loss being over $1000. The last kiln was on having been put in Friday evening, and was an unusually large one and slow in drying, which probably accounts for the origin of the fire. The total output was 1,200 tons, where last year it was 1,500. However, the hops are a better quality this season. The heavy frost of last Saturday affected the crop all over Marion county to a considerable extent, much of the hops being ruined thereby.

STES FOR DIVORCE.—J A Rioks has brought suit in the circuit court to obtain a divorce from his wife, M A Rioks. The couple were married in Lane county June 3, 1877, and their marriage has not been fruitful of children. The complaint alleges that for years he resided together and defendant made life burdensome for plaintiff. She cursed and swore at him and made life unbearable for him. On Jan 24th defendant without cause or provocation carried and abused at plaintiff, calling him a liar and other vile terms and finally left his home and has not resided with him since.

THE SALEM LOCAL.—Salem Journal: More rumors are afloat concerning the removal of the Salem local from its regular run between this city and the northwest metropolis, mention of which was made in the Journal several weeks since. It is now reported that on the 1st of October the local will be discontinued, although it is possible the train will be operated until after fair to accommodate the crowds.

Bill Sykes at Foley.

FOLEY HOT SPRINGS, Sept 23, '96
ALBANY DEMOCRAT: If you will allow me a brief space in your paper I will try to give you a few items from our camp at Foley Springs:

There are at present 48 camps composed of 128 tents. This includes boarders at the Foley Hotel.

We have five states represented, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Ohio and Minnesota, also 8 nationalities, American, Dutch, English, Scotch, Irish, Jew, Swede and Chinese.

The camps are arranged in streets, making a very beautiful appearance. The camp grounds are the finest to be found in the Cascade mountains, they are very dry being cleaned every morning by the management of the springs.

There is a second Niagara Falls situated about three miles south, called Horse Creek falls. The water pours over a precipice about 80 feet in height.

From one point about 11 miles north you can see from Mt Shasta to Mt Hood, on a clear day, making one of the finest sights to be seen.

There is an abundance of game, such as deer, bear, grouse and fish. To give you an idea of the amount of game killed in one day, on last Tuesday there were 6 deer, 728 trout, 9 grouse and several pigeons killed, the writer catching 176 of the trout, which is the largest catch of the season. One person, Rev Frank Goodell of Rieckels, caught 127 trout and killed 2 deer in one day. On last Saturday Judge Wm Clark, of Portland, while strolling back of camp came suddenly upon a bear and two cubs, which he dispatched in a few moments. Harry Gray, of Albany, when he left home brought two hair bags, but now neither will fit. The cause is that on the first fishing trip of his life he captured 106 of the speckled beauties.

One of the most laughable events of the trip occurred on last Monday, which was a fishing contest, won by James Nairn, of Boston. He devoted his account to the camp, but he has not been anything since.

Mr Nathan Burch, of Rieckels, arrived here two weeks ago last Thursday. He was so crippled with rheumatism that he had to be carried from the stage. After taking the course of 21 baths he has entirely recovered and has now taken the contract to supply all the widows about the camp with fish, which he has succeeded in doing so far.

The evenings are passed away in concerts, dancing and taffy pulling, the day is spent in hunting, fishing and mountain excursion. It all is the most pleasant outing ever spent by the writer. Bidding you good night, I remain respectfully,
BILL SYKES.

Daily Guard, September 28.
CLASS BUSINESS MEETING.—The class of '97, U of O, held its first meeting this evening at the home of Miss Ada Hendricks last night, and transacted its first business. Permanent officers have not been elected yet. Miss Kelley was chosen temporary president and Mr Vandoyne temporary vice president. At the meeting last night it was decided to hold a class reunion in the near future. A class flag was decided on, the colors to be yellow and purple. The class also arranged to give a picnic to Cold Spring next Saturday. The following are the members of the class: Misses Belle Brown, Carrie Matlock, Ada Hendricks, Barbra Lauer, Laura Miller, Kate Kelley, Lottie Johnston, Margaret Underwood, Vera Cooper, Gertrude Widmer, Edith Woodzie, Stella Robinson, Ida Noffspring, Kate Patterson, Ida Roe, and Messrs Owen Vandoyne, Rex Travis, Clinton Woodson, Fred Fisk, Homer Keener, Leslie Huggins, Stunt, Hanna Julian McFadden, Lincoln Farrington, Earl Church, Fred Templeton.

DAILY GUARD, SEPT. 28.
SHOT A DOG.—One Chas Roberts who resides in Southern Oregon was given a trial before Justice Drury of Coburg precinct, Saturday on the charge of shooting from the public highway. The jury found defendant guilty and he was sentenced to three months in the county jail. When the prisoner was brought to this city, petition for habeas corpus was issued by his attorney, J M Williams, on the grounds of irregular proceedings. The petition for a habeas corpus was granted by Judge Potter and the defendant was permitted to continue on his way. The prosecution was brought on the account of defendant shooting a dog in the public road. The animal had run out from a house as they were passing by and attacked a dog belonging to defendant.

NEARLY COMPLETED.—Oakland item in Roseburg Review: The road leading to the Bohemia mines is fast nearing completion. John Evans the teamster engaged in hauling supplies to the men engaged in its construction says that several of the mines can be plainly seen on the opposite side of the canyon from the present camp. There are just seven miles to be built and then we will have wagon road connection with Bohemia City and the rich deposit of precious metals that are found in that district.

CHANGE OF PASTORATE.—The Roseburg conference has appointed Rev M C Wire of this city to the pastorate of the M E church at Albany and he and his family will remove to that city. During the time that Dr Wire has been at the M E church in this city he and his estimable family have found a warm place in the hearts of all who know them. While Eugene regrets to lose Dr Wire, she congratulates Albany on getting one for a pastor and resident who is so thoroughly capable and insured.

DAILY GUARD, SEPTEMBER 28.
BIMONTHLY MEETING.—The bimonthly meeting of the city Endeavor union was held in the U B church last evening, being largely attended. The address, a very earnest and practical talk for endeavorers, was delivered by Rev Rose of the Chicago church.

FIXED NOW.—Harry Watkins' papers as a candidate for presidential elector of this state in behalf of the "free republicans" were filed yesterday with State Secretary Kincaid. The statutory petition in the case had 250 names upon its face.

FARMERS READ THIS.

The Oregonian of Tuesday published this libel on the farmers of Oregon:

"It is said that farmers of the Willamette valley are for Bryan and populism 'to a man.' The political opinions of this class are revealed in sagging gates, dilapidated worm fences, careening doorsteps, orchards bearing an abundant crop of moss, barnyards in which sorry looking cows and ewe-necked horses stand up to their knees in liquid manure during the rainy season, poultry roosting in trees, harness mended with buckstrung thongs or rope-yarn, and wagons that creak and groan from lack of axle grease. Having utterly failed to do anything for themselves, they pose as abused and neglected citizens of a republic that has utterly disregarded its duty toward them, and are strong in the determination to force the government to recognize and provide for their wants. Without doubt farmers of this type will 'to a man' vote for Bryan. It remains to be seen whether they are numerous enough to carry the rural precincts of the several counties of the Willamette valley for free silver and populism, in accordance with the exultant expectations of such disinterested patriots as Pennoyer, Bourne, Shreffler et al."

The farmers of Oregon, year after year have been growing poorer, while the Wall streets plutocrats have been enriched by these men, are now called every despicable name known by just such organs as the Oregonian. Harvey W Scott, while he sits in his magnificent million dollar building located on Sixth street in the city of Portland, finished in marble and the choicest of woods, little knows or cares for the patient toil and hardships endured by the farmers of the Willamette valley and the foothills—many of them forced to live on the plainest of food and clothed in a raiment that barely covers their bodies. Still if he would reflect for just one moment he must know that they are the people who made it possible for the Oregonian to occupy and own the grandest newspaper edifice west of New York City. In days gone by, when such men as Dwyer and Hill were its editors, it was the friends of the common people. A change has occurred. It is now the organ of the capitalists and corporate interests of America, and lends whatever little influence it has left to further crush the yeomanry of our country.

Every man who tills the soil should carefully read the extract quoted from the plutocratic organ. It will make their blood boil with indignation and if they have spark of manhood left in their bodies, they will carefully consider why they are thus insulted. Gentlemen, you make it possible for the rest of the people of our grand country to exist. When you stop tilling the soil every business enterprise must cease. Did you ever consider this? For years you have permitted the aggregated capital of Europe and America to frame every law, under which you have year after year grown poorer.

Now because a man has dared to advocate your interests, William J. Bryan, the young commoner, and you are about to cast your ballot for him and thereby save your homes for yourself and children, you are insulted and traduced by every plutocratic organ in the land.

If you permit these men to control your votes you are deserving of eternal enslavement.

DAILY GUARD, SEPTEMBER 28.
U OF O BRYAN CLUB ORGANIZED.—A first voters U of O Bryan club was organized in Villard Hall this afternoon with 32 charter members. It is expected that the total membership of first voters in the club will number fifty. Officers elected: L M Travis, president; Fred Fisk, vice president; J N McFadden, secretary; M H Day, treasurer. The club will meet Monday nights. The organization accepted a challenge from the U of O McKinley club for a debate, which will be arranged for in the near future.

$644 10 ALLOWED.—The W A Williamson loss on the barns and their contents has been adjusted and Mr Williamson allowed $644 10 by the Continental Company. The barns were insured for $600 and the GUARD was in error when it stated that the full amount had been allowed by the company, having been wrongfully informed.

BEAR KILLED.—Arch Terrell killed a large black bear, near his residence, six miles southwest of this city yesterday. Mr Terrell is the boss hunter on Spencer Creek.
