BISMARCK.

Oregon State Journal: There is no mistaking the meaning of the distinguished German chancellor. He believes that independent action by the United States did lead dress the citizens of Lane county on the way for European nations to the dates given; follow suit in the demonetization of silver, only to be followed hastily by Germany, by France and the Latin Union, and that so soon as the great and powerful American republic determines to undertake nations will again follow her and scramble over each other in the mad race to establish bimetalism. The great chancellor knows that if France would again open her mints to silver, that the United States finding she had a powerful ally, would instantly follow. He knows that should the more powerful American nation lead the way, France would be quick to follow.

He reasons, because the United States was followed by Europe when she led the way in the demonetization of silver, she will again be followed by Europe when she leads the way in the remonetization of silver. He sees no hope for international agreement until the proud republic in the west says with Old Hickory, that "by the eternal" bimetalism shall be established, and in answer to a request he expresses clearly his opinion on the subject.

All Europe, all the world, respects the opinion of Bismarck. In the utterance he is without motive for deceit, without party to serve, without hope of reward. His declaration is the honest statement of a statesman, a financier and a framer of nations. His indorsement give to the silver cause a distinction that commands attention. If Bismarck declares that if independent action by this country would have a good effect, what other German would care to dispute

Not less startling is the declara-tion sent by the European congress of farmers. The business of the European farmers, like the business of the American farmer, is prostrated by low price, and like for a five dollar gold piece, having American farmers, in Europe the believed his father's statement that cause is attributed to the destruction of silver.

The political fight is now fully on in Oregon. It is probably no money will be sent here from the East, but Oregon is regarded as a doubtful state in the east. In June the total silver vote on congressman was two to one for silver. On Bean, republican, 40,450; Burnett, democrat, 18,623; Gaston, people's party, 26,136; total opposition 44, 757; opposition majority 4,307. But judge Bean ran ahead of his ticket and Mr Gaston ran behind; so that there is a combined vote of so that there is a combined vote of about 10,000 over the republican vote. It is thought the gold dem ocrats will cast 3000 votes. This would leave a margin of 7000 for Bryan, and will be increased by the silver republicans. The fight will be close with chances in favor C H Baker and G A Dorris. of Bryan.
