A slick fraud is traveling around the country selling the owners of pianos a powder to keep the moths out of the pianos. The powder is nothing but salt, but the people buy it as if it really was a meritorious article.

Medford Mail: W R Johnson, of Florence, Oregon, an old friend of one the Mail publishers, and a cracking good ship carpenter and bridge builder, was in the city this week shying his optics in the direction of the Applegate mines.

McMinnville Reporter: President Boardman arrived home from Colfax, Wash., yesterday morning. He was detained four days in a snow blockade after starting. We are glad to learn that Mr Boardman, who remains with his parents at Colfax, shows signs of improving health.

Journalism in Kentucky has its vicissitudes as well as its rewards. Thus the London, Ky., Echo which had the audacity to support the honest money democracy during the recent campaign, receives this peppery letter from one of its subscribers: "As I do not wish to have anything around to interfere with my desire to live a Christian life, and especially anything that may provoke profanity, so you will please stop sending your paper to me. If you wish, you may send it until subscription expires to Simon Bolivar Buckner or Grover Cleveland, and oblige Thoms Kirby."

Sunday Thought.

"If you have any regard for that invitation and command which nature and creation are uttering day by day, and night by night, cultivate a spirit of cheerfulness."

Arthur Conneys, who has been acting as station agent for the S P company at Woodburn for the past 10 days, arrived home this afternoon.

Puck: She—You should speak to papa first. You don't expect him to make the advances, do you? He—Well if he doesn't how can we get married?

Miss Ada Milligan has just closed a very successful term of school near Junction and is visiting with friends in this city. She will leave for home at Waltherville tomorrow.

Dr C W Lowe and wife will leave on December 17th on a visit to the doctor's parents at Asheville, North Carolina. We wish them a pleasant visit and a safe return to Oregon.

Pendleton Tribune: The "cutest" thing seen in the slough line yesterday was Mrs. Joe Tallman's baby buggy. Runners had been substituted for wheels and every friend Mrs. Tallman met wanted to help "push it along."

Yesterday's Woodburn Independent: R H Miller, senior editor of this paper, who is temporarily absent in Eugene on business, made a flying visit home Tuesday afternoon returning to Eugene the same evening. He will return home in about two weeks.

President Chapman was one of the passengers imprisoned in the snow on one of the O R & N Co's trains west of Bonneville. He reports that the passengers suffered some from shortness of food supply. The snow varied from 8 to 40 feet in depth.

McMinnville Register: "President Boardman was expected home on Monday night last but has not yet arrived. His last letter stated that Mrs. Boardman was much improved in health and indications were that the improvement would be permanent."

Chicken raisers are encouraged. There is a brisk demand for "wish bones" for ornamental work, and the price runs so high as to boom the chicken market. A large canning factory in Kansas had a large order for "wish bones" all the way from Rhode Island.

Medford Miner: Henry Kubli exhibited his superior skill on Thursday last by riding into the Applegate river just below his house and successfully lassoing a large buck and loading him. He tied the deer down and took him to his home where he will be kept until a park can be built for safe keeping.

Coos Bay News: Ed Tower captured an Arctic owl alive, one day lately, and brought it home with the intention of keeping it as a pet; but the voracious appetite developed by his captivity will probably have a tendency to lessen his days on this mundane sphere. This peculiar specimen of the nocturnal, accipitine order of birds would bankrupt a butcher shop.

A good roads convention is being agitated for December 16, in Portland. This is a movement that all the people interested in the development of the country should take hold of and push along. Legislation of some nature ought to be secured at the next session of the legislature which would place road construction upon a substantial and similar basis in all parts of the state. The gospel of good roads has been preached by every newspaper in the state and it does seem that the people ought to have some interest in the matter now.

FRIGID.—At Hampton in this city, has received a letter from his brother Frank, at Prineville in which he states that the temperature was down to 23 degrees below zero on the 29th of November.

He Warns the Public to Look Out for Various Changes.

The last bulletin of Prof Foster gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from 25th to December 21 and the next he says will reach the Pacific coast about December 23 across the west of the Rockies county by close of 4th, the great central valleys 5th to 7th, Eastern states 8th.

The warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about December 3d, great central valleys 5th, Eastern states 7th. The cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about December 6th, great central valleys 8th, Eastern states 10th.

This disturbance comes in the high temperature storm period and if it were not that a reversal is one about that time very high temperature would be expected.

Should the regular order of temperature changes occur a warm wave will pass eastward from 21st to 28th of December and a cold wave with a blizzard from 6th to 10th.

But if the reversal comes during the first week in December the cold wave and warm wave will exactly change places. The cause of these reversals is known and while a reversal is sure to come during December he will not now undertake to say exactly when. He will give the weather for September in its natural order, warning the reader that it will be month of reversals, extremes and surprises.

The second disturbance of December will reach the Pacific coast about 9th, cross the west of the Rockies county by close of 20th, the great central valleys 11th to 12th, Eastern states 14th.

The warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 9th, great central valleys 11th, Eastern states 13th. The cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 12th, great central valleys 14th, Eastern states 16th.

GENERAL DECEMBER WEATHER. The direct or regular order for December, 1896, weather calls for warm weather with a little rain or snow during the first week followed by heavy rains and snow, a cold wave and blizzard during the first part of the second week. Milder weather about 12th and a great fall in temperature, accompanied by heavy rains and snow near the middle of the month, followed by cold weather.

Some time during the month a reversal will occur and for at least two weeks thereafter the weather will be exactly the reverse of what is stated above. The reader can profit by this. There is no uncertainty after the reversal sets in. The difficulty is to know when the reversal will begin. He expects the reversal to begin very near December 6th and that it will continue to near the 24th.

Temperature of the week ending December 3d will average high and rain and snow will be light.

Laurean Notes.

DAIRY SOCIETY, December 5. The Laurean society met to regular session last night and after the regular order of business Mr Johnson delivered an address on the "Sweating System of New York," and Mr Widmer on "The Early History of the U O."

The debate on the "Impeachment of Andrew Johnson" was one of the best of the year, having been well prepared and both sides showed a determination to win. The main points at issue were the violation of the "Tenure of office act," the violation of the "constitution," and causes that led up to the trouble between the president and congress. The question was decided in favor of the affirmative.

The society is in a most prosperous condition having received a large number of new members who show a determination to profit by their advantages. The improvement of the older members in the past year and a half is something remarkable.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Pres, O M Van Duzen; vice president, E D Boone; sec, A A Cleveland; sec 2, M C Harris; treasurer, B B Blechard; censor, Mr Barber; sergeant at arms, F L Wilkins.

A cordial invitation is extended to all our friends to visit us at any and all times and see the work that we are doing.

DEAD.—Junction City Times: By an oversight we failed to mention the death of "Hobo" Brown which occurred on the 21st ult. Although he has been a resident of this place for some eight years, very little if anything is known concerning him. He just came and it is not known even whether his name is Brown or not.

He was perhaps 50 years of age and of late had been stopping with Al Johnson. He was sick some two or three weeks but refused the aid of medical skill and he yielded up his life to Him who gave it, and divulged nothing whatever concerning his mysterious past. He was a good, inoffensive old man, declined the right of citizenship by refusing at any and all elections, and during his life here he was never known to be guilty of a dishonorable deed. He died penniless, but he was given a decent burial at public expense. The Odd Fellows gave him a lot to their cemetery. Father Houston presided his funeral services. While his grave will remain unmarked by stone, and while the flight of time may obliterate his final resting place, there is many a monument that marks the grave of a less deserving character.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.—At a special meeting of Rescue Hose Co last evening the challenge of the Cyclone Hose team for a game of football was accepted on these conditions: 1st that the winning team receive 80 per cent of the gate receipts after the expenses of the game are played. 2nd that all players must be members of the Eugene Fire Department 30 days before this acceptance. Fred Herold was elected as manager of the team.

WOODMEN RESCUE EXPENSES.—At the regular meeting last night of Eugene Camp No 115, Woodmen of the World, the rescue expenses for the week ending December 3d were reduced from $45 to $34 per annum. Comp dues were reduced from $3 to $4 per annum.

Some of His Characteristics Brought Out by a Murderer's Confession.

A writer in the East Oregonian recalls to mind characteristics of the dead Hank Vaughn, one of the most noted men of his class in the Pacific Northwest, and one who committed his first crime in 80 years in the penitentiary for murder when only about 16 years of age.

The publication in the San Francisco Examiner recently of the confession of William Roe, the murderer of Mrs Greenwood, at Nampa, California, has caused renewed discussion of the traits of character of Hank Vaughn, Vaughn having been mentioned in Roe's confession. I notice that there are varying opinions as to Vaughn's "nerve."

Some persons assert that he was not what could be called a nery man, except when he was filled with liquor. Probably no one will dispute that, when Hank was "full," he was not afraid of the "Devil and all his works," and would fight with gun or fists at the drop of the hat.

Billy Bryant a young man who was quite a close friend of Vaughn for several years and who now is in town, heard someone speak disparagingly of his old friend, and use language which he thought was uncalled for. Billy presents this and says:

"I don't like to hear Hank spoken of in that manner. It riles me to hear it, and I'll bet a dollar that no one would have said what I just heard said, to Hank's face. Hank was no angel, so we all knew, and had lots of bad traits, but he was an awful good friend and was always outspoken. He never spoke behind any man's back, but said what he had to say openly, so everyone could know what he thought."

Speaking of Vaughn, Roe undoubtedly told the truth when he said he and Vaughn robbed a stage up in Idaho many years ago and this calls to mind the report, which has found general credence in Leadville, that Vaughn and the McCarlys once planned to rob the First National Bank of Leadville during the day time, after the James and Younger style followed at Northfield, Minnesota. Something prevented the execution of the scheme, but many believe the plan was laid, and that if the attempt had been made, there would have been bloodshed, for the bank is probably as well prepared for repelling such an invasion as any bank in Oregon.

There is behind the counters a regular arsenal, and any intending bank robbers may have bullets of lead shot from numerous weapons which he handy in the officer's reach.

Baker City Democrat: The Democrat has its doubts about Vaughn robbing a stage in Idaho. Many years before he died he was known only as a "sucker" for the gambling fraternity and was eternally getting "stuck" at a faro game. His squaw wife furnished him with considerable money and he spent it like a king. Nothing in the robbing line was charge to him and he was considered fairly honest in this particular.

WHEAT SCARC.—The shortage of the oat crop the last season and the sudden rise in wheat has seriously affected the supply of feed-stuffs. Oats in this valley is one of the main articles of feed, and during the past few seasons while the price of wheat has been so low it too has been used to a great extent for feed. But the present high price of wheat has made it unprofitable to feed it and with the shortage of oats has created a feed famine, which is general throughout the valley. The mills in this city and at Springfield are grinding day and night but cannot store up the local demand. Feed stores men of which there are a number in this city are unable to get bran and shorts. Orders sent to Albany and Salem for feed stuffs could not be filled as the mills of those cities cannot supply the local demand. The mill in this city has received orders from Cottage Grove and Roseburg, which they are unable to fill. The prices of mill stuffs have been gradually advancing and now range as follows: Bran, $15 per ton; bran and shorts mixed, $16; shorts, $17. Flour, too, has been steadily advancing and now sells at $4 per barrel. It is believed that it will reach $5 per barrel before spring.

A PLEASANT RECEPTION.—A most pleasant reception was given yesterday, Dec. 4th, from 3 to 5 o'clock, by Miss Holt, in honor of Mrs Chas Underwood, of Colfax, Wash. The parlors were prettily decorated in dark green foliage and with the lamp light gave a very cozy and pleasing effect. Misses Wilkins and Hanna assisted Miss Holt in serving the guests to dainty refreshments. Those present or sending cards: Mesdames Chas Underwood, McMurphy, Young, Ingham, McAlister, Snodgrass, F Linn, G Linn and Roney; Misses Holt, Wilkins, Hanna, Underwood, Kinsey, Hendrick, Johnston, Cooper, Friend, Hoffman, McClung, Page, McClain, Murray, Scott, Brown, Smith, McCormack, Lacey, Akenry, Hoff, Yoran, Benetta Dorris, Cecile Dorris, Kate Hanna, Julia Veazie, Edith Veazie, Emma Chase and Nettie Chase.

Death in Ashland of General Eliza L. Applegate.

ASHLAND, Or., Dec. 2.—General Eliza L. Applegate, the elder son of the late Lindsay Applegate and one of Oregon's earliest and most prominent pioneers, died at his home in Ashland last evening, aged nearly 65 years. He had been in poor health for some months, although his death was unexpected by his townsmen.

He was sitting in a chair at his home, and had been conversing with the members of the family as usual but complained of an inability to breathe easily, and requested that the door be opened to admit fresh air, when he suddenly and almost without warning dropped his head and was dead.

He left a widow and several children. The children are all married. Two daughters, Mrs Butler Helman and Mrs Grant Helman, live in Ashland.

General Applegate was one of the most widely known of Oregon's pioneers, having figured very prominently in the state's history for half a century. He was one of the committee of three that called the first republican convention in Oregon in 1858, and was the nominee for territorial treasurer, receiving also votes at that time for the nomination of governor and secretary of state, although he was then less than 25 years of age. For many years afterwards he was prominent in the public councils of the state, serving eight years as surveyor-general. He came within one vote at one time of being elected United States senator from Oregon, and was under Harrison presidential elector. Under Harrison he was appointed Indian agent at Klamath, which position he held only a short time, owing to a disagreement with the department officials. Since that time he has not acted with the republican party, but has been more or less in the councils of the people's party, although his health and other causes during the last few years resulted in his taking a less active part in politics.

He went to the polls last election day to vote, but with this exception had seldom of late been seen on Ashland's streets, where he was once such a familiar figure.

The funeral has not been definitely arranged for yet, but it will probably take place Friday.

FOR HAVING DEER HIDES.—Search warrants were yesterday issued at the instigation of Deputy Fish and Game Warden M O Wipky for W Sanders and W C Newburn, shirt maker, who were suspected of carrying on illegitimate traffic in deer hides. A search of Mr Sanders, failed to reveal any hides. Mr Newburn's place on Eighth street was searched this morning and three hides found, no effort having been made to conceal them. The crime consists in buying or offering to buy or in selling or offering to sell the hides, and the penalty is from $25 to $100 fine, or proportionate imprisonment. Mr Newburn claims he has not violated the law inasmuch as he procured the hides to tan for rugs. Owing to the absence of Deputy Attorney Harris, who is at Cottage Grove, the matter will not be investigated before tonight or Monday.

A SECOND SUCCESS.—Mrs Neumayer's operetta, "Triumph of Love," was repeated at the opera house last night and as before was witnessed by a crowded house. The performers all accredited themselves with honor again, and the calcium light views of the imps and devils of the infernal regions and then again of the beautiful fairies of fairyland were simply grand. Mrs Neumayer is to be congratulated upon her ability for handling so many amateur performers (there being over 100 in the opera) in so thorough a manner, and St Mary's Guild under whose auspices the performance was given was fortunate in securing her services. She will return in a few days to California, the state of her home, where she will spend the rest of the winter.

DIED.—Woodburn Independent: Rev C P Davis, of this city yesterday morning received a telegram announcing the sad news of the death of his niece, Mrs Minnie DeMoss-Cochran, at Wheeland, California, on Tuesday. At the body, accompanied by her husband, brothers and sister, passed through here this morning, on their way to their home at DeMoss Springs, Wasco county, Oregon. The sudden death of this lady is a sad blow indeed to her relatives, as the DeMoss family had a bright future before them in the musical world, and had already become noted through some of their musical compositions. The family were now on a tour of the states giving concerts and had but recently returned from Europe. They were in this city about a month ago.

Convention of the County Judges and Commissioners Recommended.

The following is the copy of a letter addressed to Lane's county judge and commissioners:

PORTLAND, Nov 17, 1896. "After consultation and correspondence, the legislative committee of the county judges' convention of 1896, deem it for the best interests of all concerned to call a convention of the county judges and commissioners of the state, for the purpose of considering what recommendations are necessary to present to the coming legislature for amendments to existing laws."

"We therefore recommend that such a convention be held in the city of Portland, Multnomah county, commencing with Thursday, December 17, 1896, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at the county court room in the court house."

"Having for your presence and advice, and trusting that it may be convenient for you to attend, we remain, Respectfully yours,

J H D GRAY, Chairman, A F STEARNS, Secretary."

Fortmiller-Lee Wedding.

Daily Guard, December 5.

A social event of much interest occurred in Junction City yesterday. At 10 o'clock a. m. at the residence of the bride's father, Dr Norman Lee, Mr Fred Fortmiller of Portland, and Miss Anna L Lee, of Junction, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev E J Thompson, D D, of Corvallis, and was carried out in an impressive manner. The bride, looking beautiful in an elegant changeable broadtail, and the groom conventionally dressed, were ushered into the parlor by Mendocino's wedding march, performed by President Lee of Albany. They took their places under a handsome silver bell, where the twin were made one. Then came Lehengren's wedding march, delightfully performed by Prof Lee, warm congratulations and a delicious wedding breakfast. A large display of valuable presents were greatly admired. The happy couple accompanied by Albany friends, left at 11:50 for their home in Portland, where they were given a reception last night in the residence all furnished and equipped for their housekeeping. Those present were: Dr Lee and wife, Dr Thompson, E U Lee, C D Lee, Wright and Claive Lee, Clara Gard, Dr Chesdie, Pres Lee and wife, Anna Fortmiller, William Fortmiller, Mr and Mrs Fulson, Nellie Fulson, Frank Williams, Julia Opaland Jno Williams, Frankie Parsons, Anna Craig, Mrs Beebe, Ida Beebe, Ora Reid, Mr and Mrs S L Moorehead, Mr and Mrs Frank Moorehead, Osa Starr, Minnie Houston, Nellie Cakwell, Mr and Mrs A R Nartin, Currie Sternberg, Bertha Washburn, Iinta Arelhart, Ida Shurley, Hazel Sofft, Belle Hall, Myrtle Bushnell, Idna Cook, Della Tibbitts, Clara McKee. Congratulatory dispatches were received from Mr and Mrs Kellum and Mr Handsaker, of Des Moines, Iowa.

WINTER.—The Dalles T-M of Monday says: "Yesterday morning the Columbia presented a scene at this place that no grandeur would be difficult to surpass. The river was frozen over, solid glare of ice reaching from one bank to the other, and about 10 o'clock the ice began breaking up. Slowly the current carried the mass of broken ice down the river, and it assumed a manner of shapes. At times it would pile up like a mountain, then suddenly sink down to a level, all the time moving on down stream. This continued for about half and hour, when the ice became gorged at the bend below town and then formed solid bridge across the river."

THE HOP MARKET.—Today's Salem Statesman: Hops are being shipped from Salem early every day. The 3 o'clock freight train this morning took out a carload for Eastern points. Wednesday night two cars went away full to the top and more will go tonight. The amount of baled product on storage at the S P warehouse does not appear to be decreased however. The price in Salem for hops of a strictly choice quality is about 10 cents. The latest news from the New York market indicates that good brewing hops bring 10, 11 and 12 cents; shippes run up to 15. In one instance 17 cents were paid.
