> ANOTHER LAW FIRM. - Cottage Grove Leader: Attorney J E Young. who has located for a number of years at Eugene, has formed a partnership with L Bilyeu, the well known lawyer, for the practice of their profession in Lane county. Mr Young will be permanently located in Cottage Grove and is having a near little office building put up just above the bridge on the west side. His connection with Mr Bilyeu will enable him to transact any business at the county seat with-out unnecessary expense or delay. We wish the new firm success and are satisfied they will get a liberal portion of the business in their line of Cottage Grove and vicinity.

Hully gee, but ain't we some what of a liar.

The courts have at last determined that the late Samuel J. Tilden did not know how to write a will. The decision is no reflection upon the wisdom of the Sage of Grammercy Park, nor upon his legal acumen. No lawyer knows how to write a will. Neither does anybody else, for that matter. The precedents in probate cases for a hundred years demonstrate this truth.

Salem Daily Satesman: Hon. Lark Bilyeu, the good-natured democratic caucus nominee for speaker of the house, will direct his attention, should the house ever organize, toward securing the passage of a bill re enacting the mortgage tax law, Mr Bilyeu has a careful prepared bill on this subject. It is the old law recast and strengthened so as to preclude eximptions on account of fictitious indebtedness. Mr Bilyeu has another bill which will receive his best efforts. It provides for deductions for purpose of assessment of bona fide indebtedness, which shall be ascertained by the county assessors.
