AN EVENTFUL SESSION.

Three Distinct Sens@ions Sprung in the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 25.-The session f the senate today developed three disinct sensations. The most important these was the presentation by Shernan of a letter from Minister Roderiguez, the representative of the Greater Republic of Central America (including Nicaragua), in effect protesting against the execution of the Nicaragua canal project by the United States under the concessions granted in 1887 to the Nicaragua Canal Company. As the bill for this purpose was about to be voted on by the senate, the presentation of the letter created consternation among its friends. Morgan, its hief supporter, at once declared the letter was inspired by Great Britain, who sought to drive the United States from the isthmus by using the Central Americans as a catspaw. He asserted get the stranded Glenmorag off from that Minister Roderiguez had come here to execute such a plan, and that it was an open threat against American control of the canal. The debate was Glenmorag will be abandoned to the very earnest, and the letter made a profound impression on the senators. Senator Vilas declared it struck the death-blow to the canal project as proposed by the pending bill.

Earlier in the day the senate unexpectedly found itself discussing the new Anglo-American treaty. While the treaty itself has been released, all disussion of it is restricted to executive ession. Notwithstanding this rule, the expressions were free and full them Sherman, Gray, Cullom, Lodge, Hoar and others. The statements of these senators were uniformly favorable to the high principle of the treaty, the only qualification being that it should receive mature and dispassionate con-

Shortly after the session began, Turpie caused a preliminary flurry by critiising the reported agreement between Olney and Sherman, by which no action was to be taken as to Cuba before March 4. Sherman emphatically denied that any such agreement had been made, and added that he had not had a word with Olney in that direction.

End of His Three Days' Speech Against

Washington, Jan. 23.-The senate was on the verge of a destlisch raday. and for a time-there were prospects of a protracted test of endurance, extending the session late into the night. Morgan, in charge of the Nicaragua canal bill, was determined to secure a time for a final vote. This was resisted, however, by Turple and Vilas. Thereupon, Morgan announced he would ask the senate to "sit out" the bill, remaining in continuous session until a vote was forced. This evoked sharp criticism. Vilas finally made a dilatory motion, which, on roll-call, disclosed the absence of a quorum, and Morgan was obliged to give up his plan, for today, although he expects to execute it, if an agreement for a vote is not reached.

Turple concluded his speech against the Nicarauga canal bill, the third day being a continuation of the former bitter invective directed against the meas-

Washington, Jan. 23.-After a two days' debate, in the course of which considerable partisan passion was aroused and an ineffectual attempt made to filibuster for the purpose of gaining time, the house today decided the contested election case of Yost vs. Tucker, from the tenth Virginia district, by denying the seat to Mr. Yost and confirming Mr. Tucker's title thereto. The Republikans were badly divided, fifty-four of them joining with the Democrats and supporting the claims of the Democratic contestee. When the supporters of Yost's contention found they were defeated by a narrow margin of eight votes (the vote being 119 to 127 against him), they inangurated a filibuster in the hope of gaining time, and for two hours there was a succession of roll-calls, but they were finally overpowered and the resolutions confirming Tucker's title to his seat were adopted. Yost is a memberelect of the next house, and Tucker, who is a son of Randolph Tucker, has been a member of the last four congresses. He declined a renomination on the money question.

The county agent is helpless to save these famine stricken men, women and babies. He has relief on hand, but no way to distribute it, because the commissioners have tied his hands, and are deaf to the cries of the hungry.

A warning has been given that the deserving poor are becoming dangerous and that hunger is likely to drive them to deeds in which their cry will be "bread." Men who gave this warning know whereof they speak. They see gaunt hunger at its worst, the glassy eye of a strong man who hears the cry of his wife and babies for bread and warmth and is powerless to give it to them. The men tell an appalling story, but nobody on earth can tell of the misery as it exists in Chicago today.

Vanderbiit Syndicate Will Bid Amount Equal to Original Bond,

New York, Jan. 25. - The announcement is made by the Union Pacific reorganization committee that it has me to an agreement with the government, in accordance with which the latter has begun proceedings to foreclose its lies upon the Union Pacific lines, inclusive of the Kansas Pacific line. The reorganization committee guarantees a minimum bid of something over $45,000,000 for the government's claim upon the railroad, and for the government Union Pacific sinking fund, and has deposited $4,500,000 as earnest money. Knim, Loch & Co., bankers, for the reorganization committee, have assured the committee of funds required to carry its agreement with the government into effect. People well informed on the Union Pacific situation intimate that, in order to limit the present issue of first mortgage bonds of $75,000,000, which, it appears, is the intention, some junior issues of bonds will have to receive less than it was at first intended to give them. It is understood that Kansas Pacific consols and the sinking fund of the Rocky mountains. bonds will be modified as to terms before the plan becomes operative.

The Attorney-General's Statement. Washington, Jan. 25. - Attorney-General Harmon today gave out the following statement of an agreement with the reorganization committee of the Union Pacific railway: "Upon the defeat of the funding bill in the house, the president directed the attorney-general to commence foreclosure proceedings against the Union Pacific Railway Company, first making the best arrangements obbtainable for the protection of the government's interest, following the lines indicated in his last report. The attorney-general began negotiations with the reorganization committee. Thursday, an agreement was made which will result in immediate steps toward foreclosure. The chief subject of the negotiations was the protection of the government because he did not agree with his party against the risk of sacrifice of its claim by sale at a price which would leave nothing substantial after paying the prior liens. This protection is now assured by a guarantee that the government shall receive for its lien on the aided portions of the Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific lines, including the sinking fund, not less than $45,754,-000. The sale will be public, so the government will receive the benefit of any higher bids up to the full amount of its claim, principal and interest. The sum of $4,500,000 cash was on Thursday deposited with the United States Trust Company, of New York, by General Lewis Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee, as security, according to the terms of the agreement. ATTACKS THE TREATY.

Pettigrew Airs His Opinions on the Venezuela Question.

Washington, Jan. 22 -The senate weby preceeded with the consideration of the Nicaragua canal bill. Turple continning his speech in opposition. He has not yet concluded, and tomorrow will be the third day of his speech. His remarks today were bitterly antagonistic to the Nicaragua Canal Company, the senator characterizing its methods as those of Peter Funk. Morgan will ask to have a time fixed for a final vote as soon as Turpis closes.

The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, carriying approximately $23,000,000, was passed oring the day. Pettigrew severely criticised the leg-

lative authorities for concluding the Venezuela boundary agreement, which ne said, was a complete surrender of Venezuela to Great Britain. His resolution calling on the secretary of state for information was referred to the foreign relations committee. Much interest was manifested in the case, owing to the fact that the Republicans on the committee which reported the case were divided, four siding with Henry St. George Tucker, the Democrat, and sitting member, and but two, Walker of Indiana and Thomas of Michigan, with the Republican contestant, Yost, The latter is a member-elect of the next house, and Tucker is one of the most prominent and popular Democrats on the floor. Tucker had 892 plurality on the face of the returns, but several imperfect ballots were rejected under the then existing Walton law of Virginia, which, the contestant claimed, if counted, would have reversed the result. Yost himself was accorded the privilege of addressing the house in his own behalf. He was very sarcastic in his reference to the Democratic election officials of the Old Dominion state, characterizing them as "chivalrous Virginians, who assaulted the mentally weak and unarmed and robbed them of their rights."

He concluded with an eloquent appeal to the house for justice. "The stigma of foul elections," said South for years; its deadly influence paralyzed the public conscience; but now, thank God, in Virginia, at least, the shock of this ballot broke the stupor. The fear of the negro rule disappeared. But, hished by the scourge of public opinion, the guilty tricksters still dare to bring infamy to the doors of congress. If you accept their machinasinking fund, if it is desired to sell it tions, you approve their methods and give them fresh license."

The chief stoker was so badly injured that he died a few hours afterward and four other firemen died the next day as a result of their burns. The passengers had just assembled in the saloon for dinner, when there was a and report, like that of a cannon. Tower showed great presence of mind, and ordered his companions to tie a bandage above the wound to stop the flow of blood, and then they started to pull to town. When they reached Marshfield Tower was very weak from loss of blood, but he was very gritty. On examination, it was found necessary to amputate the arm several inches above the elbow.
