An elephant wears more creases to his trousers than any other animal. His trousers are so full of a knit fabric with a bias...

CORBETT GOES DOWN.

Fugillon's World-Championship Is Again Passed On.

Carson, Nev., March 18.—Under a cloudless sky, and in a valley 5,000 feet above the sea, circled by snow-capped mountains, which glistened in the bright sunlight, making a picture such as was never seen before on an occasion of the kind, James J. Corbett went down to defeat yesterday before Robert Fitzsimmons, who became champion heavy-weight pugilist of the world.

The victory was not gained without a struggle. In fact, victory did not seem possible for Fitzsimmons until the last moment of the fight, when the Australian, who was giving indications of slowly going to pieces, delivered a blow in a vital part, and followed it with two others, which sent the Californian to the floor with the agony of pain and despair, imprinted on his face, and unable to rise within the limit which would save him.

When the defeated champion finally arose, with the assistance of his attendants, and regained sufficiently from his dazed condition to realize the calamity that had befallen him, he broke out with all the fury of an enraged animal, and, discarding all rules which govern the art of which he is a disciple, rushed at his victorious opponent and made a vain struggle to get at him over the ropes, only desisting when his own friends forced him away.

The fight which lasted for fourteen rounds, was fiercely contested throughout, and is generally conceded to have been won on its merits.

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER

Downing, Hopkins & Company's Review of Trade.

The dominating factor in regulating wheat values during the week has been the weakness and indifference of foreign markets. Advances still indicate Europe must rely entirely on America and Russia for supplies.

Corn has been cheaply won through the week. The feature was the large buying by Bartlett-Frazier, that firm taking at least a million bushels.

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG!

The Foremost Athletic Trainer in America Recommends Paine's Celery Compound.

John Graham is the foremost man in American athletics. It was he who managed the successful team from this country that attracted world-wide attention in the recent Olympic games at Athens.

Formerly trainer for Columbia college, then for Princeton and finally for Harvard university, Mr. Graham had much to do with raising the standard of collegiate sports.

Three of his proteges, White, Brewer and McCarthy, have just won the New England championship at the mile, quarter-mile and five-mile run. He has trained Weeks of Brown university, one of the best college sprinters in the country.

It was the ablest professor of medicine and surgery in any college that giant among men, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, who after years of patient investigation and study, assisted by all that was best in the progress of medical science at home and abroad, first discovered the wonderful formula of Paine's celery compound.

There was no doubt of the interest that would be awakened at once by the announcement of any discovery by Prof. Phelps. The formula from the first was furnished to the best physicians, and forthwith this remarkable Paine's celery compound was personally used and professionally prescribed by them.

In untold number of cases where every other remedy has been tried and failed, Paine's celery compound has attained the wished-for results, making the weak strong, purifying the blood, rebuilding the worn-out nervous tissue, curing chronic sickness, proving a never-failing and permanent relief for rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney disease and disorders of the liver, all due to the impairment of the person's nervous system, the consequent impoverishment of the blood and the breaking down in consequence of some particular organ. When Mr. Graham, writing January 18, 1897, said: "I have used Paine's celery compound to my benefit, and I have no doubt that any person undergoing great physical and mental strain would find it of great service. For students especially it ought to be of great value."

There is no doubt that Paine's celery compound cleans the blood of eczema, salt rheum and such humors, not only in the spring, that is so favorable a time, but at any time during the year, so thoroughly that nothing further is ever heard of them.

Paine's celery compound has been tested, tried, scrutinized and heartily approved by so many impartial physicians and men and women whose word in any matter would not be questioned for a moment, that one must be stubborn-minded indeed who prefers to hope around half sick instead of verifying these positive, straightforward statements.
