THE HOME STIRRED UP.-Roseburg Review: The recent order of the board of trustees of the soldiers' home allowlog members but $4 a month of their pension money, the remainder to go to the support of their dependent relatives, or if they have none, to be used in the maintenance of the home, is causing much dissatisfaction there, and several old soldiers have left as a consequence. It seems that this is a general rule in all state homes except that of Idaho. Before a member is admitted to the home he must make affidavit that his pension is insufficient for his support, and once admitted all his wants as far as food, clothes, medical attention etc., are concerned are supplied. One old veteran, who had been imbibing rather freely in stimulants, remarked on the street "that he got $6 a month from the gov ernment and he would be d-d if the state of Oregon would get $2 of it to help support the --- Indian war veteraps."
