PARTY BED FELLOWS.

Ex-president Cleveland's late gold manifesto puts him entirely outside the pale of the demecratic party. Grover may have no use for the party, but it is absolutely certain the party has no use for him. No former president of the United States had so little standing with the party that elected him as has Cleveland t day. His bugle cry will rally no party adherents. The gold democrats are already, either in secret or open alliance. with the money powers that dominate the republican party. The alignment is distinct. Mr Cleve land's pronunciaments will deceive no one.

The republicans must take Grover into full fellowship. Imagine Brother Harvey Scott of the Oregonian connubiating, drawn to gether as it were, by a bond of love for the shining yellow metal Harvey is Grover's and Grover is Harvey's.

OUR SENIOR SENATOR.

Some people cannot appreciate talent. The Albany Democrat has been keeping tab on our senior senator and pays its respects to him in the following versatile manner:

"Senator McBride continues to be alive to the interests of Oregon He is proving continually his great capacity as a statesman. Besidelaboring with his sleeves up for an appropriation for a public building at Salem he has put forth his best efforts-leaving nothing undonefor securing the permission of the proper officers for the war vessel Oregon to go up the uncertain channel of the Columbia and the Willamette, to Portland, to receive that $4,000 punch (and lemonade) silver service. Great is Senator McBride! By the way also a very nice gentleman personally."

"Cyclone" Davis, the middle-of the-road populist leader of Texas condition. who supported McKinley and got snowed under as a candidate for congress, is out with a long letter demanding a platform of "sound employes have been fully alive to money and protection." It is the risk they incurred in the perstrongly suspected Cyclone got the formance of their onerous duties, former for his treachery to the Long working hours, coupled with rain as many have plowing yet to do.
