MONDAY, JUNE 28.

Father Daly returned today from Monroe. J W Sturmate, of Waterville, was in the city today. H J Day of Cottage Grove, spent Sunday in Eugene.

Secretary of State H R Kniss returned to Salem today. As usual, E H Laner, of Portland, spent Sunday in Eugene. Z M Brown and Wm Cobb, of Prineville, were in Eugene last night.

David Houston, a S P R R conductor, spent last night in Eugene. J W Kays went to Junction today to conduct the funeral of the late Mrs. Frank Wilkinson.

Besides those mentioned attending the Elk's club bake, were T D Linton and Julius Goldsmith. This week and next a number of Eugene people will leave for mountains, springs and other resorts.

Miss Pearl Lakin is confined to her room at the family home on Ferry street, with sciatic rheumatism. The loss of 60 men, mostly business men and clerks, now away on the O N G excursion, is quite noticeable.

Dr Laveridge returned today from Portland, where he had been attending the exercises of Queen Victoria's jubilee. Miss Belle Milligan returned today from Eugene, having finished a very successful term of school in Long Tom precinct.

Owen Van Dusen, Herbert Murch and James E Evans left today for an extended hunting and fishing trip on the Umpqua. Dean and Mrs E C Sanderson came up today from the Christian church state convention at Turner, which closed yesterday.

PERMITS TO WED.

Two Licenses Out to Marry the Same Woman—Who Will Win? Clerk Jennings today issued a permit to wed to B J Casterline and Sarah Eastman, D J Grover certifying to their being above the ages of 28 and 27 respectively.

In regard to an article that appeared in the DAILY GUARD of Saturday, signed "A Cyclist," in which he writes to know where the officers are that an action has been taken in the case of Mr. Vogt, who was run down by two bicyclists, I wish to state that I would not agree to give him two bottles of Jacobs oil with which to soothe his bruises.

People come to me with complaints of violations of the bicycle ordinance, and when asked to make a complaint so I can enforce the law, they positively refuse to do so and thereby tie my hands from taking action. Do you can see I could bring cases such as these every day and the city would lose the case and be compelled to pay my costs, which would be an injustice and burden to the taxpayers.

DEATH—June 22, 1897, of spinal meningitis, Mrs Annie A Slaytors, wife of Paris H Slaytors, at the residence of A P Slaytors near Blackley, aged 18 years 8 months and 15 days. She was born in Germany; came to this country when a child. She was united in marriage March 26, 1886, to Paris H Slaytor near Blackley where she lived until death called her from among us.

WHEAT APHIS.—The wheat aphid has made its annual appearance on the wheat. Some farmers claim it does considerable damage.

A REPLY.

THE BOLD BANDITS.

Another Attempt to Rob Roney's Store at Goshen Frustrated. Evidently emboldened by their success of two nights previous, a Pleasant Hill, an attempt was made on Saturday night to rob the store of A I Roney at Goshen, presumably by the men who "marched" the Pleasant Hill store, and who no doubt made one former robbery at Goshen.

A young man, named Eby, has been sleeping in Mr Roney's store for a time, and for a reason which the citizens are scarce in that vicinity, at least after the Pleasant Hill robbery. Eby let one of the men who was trailing the robbers take his revolver, thereby being entirely unarmed. There were two men in sight.

The men effected an entrance by prying open the front door, and had gotten inside before awakening the sleeping occupant. Realizing his position, and not knowing what else to do, Eby emitted a shrill whistle in the hope of arousing Mr Roney, who lived but a short distance away. The robbers, not knowing just what was up, made their exit with more haste than dignity, mounted their horses and at a break neck pace started down the Pleasant Hill road that leads past Uncle Jack Keecey's farm, and this was the last seen of them.

It is to be regretted that young Eby was not able to "wing" at least one of them, as this would have ended the pilfering of these night marauders.

"Chapman Must be Removed."

The Oregonian suggests that the State University be removed from Eugene. This is about as sensible as to ask that Eugene should be moved away from the university. They will probably both remain where they are long after the Oregonian man is forgotten.

The fact is the Oregonian has no love for the higher institutions of learning and would gloat over the prospect of the State University becoming a failure. This is the reason it scores the people of Eugene for being dissatisfied with President Chapman. The Oregonian knows that Mr Chapman's usefulness is gone and that for him to longer remain at the head of that institution will in no way be a benefit but a detriment to it.

For that reason, together with contrariness on general principles, the Oregonian would like to see Chapman remain. The majority of the citizens at Eugene also see what is becoming patent to all who have the welfare of the U of O at heart, that if any progress is made by the foremost educational institution in the state, Mr Chapman must be removed and a better man put in his place. If the board of regents are wise they will heed the request of the citizens of Eugene.

Eastern Oysters at Yaquina. YAQUINA, Or, June 27.—Professor Washburn, of Eugene, and Mr King, of this place have today examined the Eastern oysters planted here last fall, and have found fully 95 per cent alive and flourishing. In some instances the growth has been phenomenal.
