FELL FROM A WINDOW.

Three-Year-old Frances White Falls Fifteen Feet.

Last evening about 9 o'clock little Frances White, three years old, while being prepared for bed at the home of her grandparents, W W Davis, corner of Washington and Clark streets, fell through a window and to the ground, a distance of about 15 feet. Dr Brown was called, and found no serious damage done, though the little one aigheted on her head and shoulders. Her spine and head is slightly injured but she will soon recover.

While in the room and waiting for bed-time preparations to be completed, little Frances crossed over to the window to lean against it, the night being warm. The window was raised however, and she leaned against a cloth netting which broke and precipitated her to the ground. It was a very lucky fall.

THE HOP VERMIN.

Marion County badly Infected With the Pest.

We take the following from yesterday's Salem Statesman:

"The hop louse is becoming more numerous each day and if he continues to show up at as high a rate as has been the case for the past week, two thirds of the yards in this section of the Willamette valley will go un-picked. The vines in the north north portion of the county are infected to a greater extent than elsewhere, although it is said that most of the Lane county yards are beyond control of their owners, who are using the sprayer at a vigorous rate."

This is not correct as regards Lane county yards. About half the yards in Lane county are being sprayed to good effect, and with ordinary weather will be saved. When spraying is done intelligently the yards are reported about free from the terrible pest.

From interviews with growers, we learn that this county may harvest 50 per cent of a crop, but it may go down to 40 per cent.

SAW MILL ACCIDENT.

Phil Crawford, Aged 10 Years, Loses Two Fingers.

LATER. The boy's name was Phil and his thumb and forefinger were cut off and the next one badly torn and lacerated. The saw was used in making boxes and was about eight inches in diameter.

Daily Guard, August 5. LYONS OUTFIT.—Today's Salem Statesman: "Gov W P Lord yesterday exercised executive clemency in the case of E E Lyons, sent to the penitentiary from Lane county on March 14, 1897, for a one year term, having been convicted of larceny. The governor's pardon was issued upon the recommendation of a large number of prominent citizens of Lane county. Lyons was at one time deputy sheriff of that county and he was charged with the larceny of $10 while acting as an officer. His conviction was had, it is said, upon the evidence of a drunken man, and a grave doubt exists as to his guilt. His previous reputation and standing in the community was excellent, and the pardon was the result of the efforts of his friends, who believe thoroughly in the young man's innocence."

UNUSUAL CHURCH SERVICE.—A church service rather out of the ordinary was held at McKenzie Bridge last Sunday afternoon. Rev M C Wire, pastor of the M E church of Albany, and Winfield D Matthew, D D, editor of the California Christian Advocate, of San Francisco, are recreating at that place, and they announced church services for Sunday. About thirty persons gathered in the parlor of Frissell's log cabin hotel, a choir was gathered from the guests and campers, furnishing suitable music. Dr Matthew preached a very able and interesting sermon, the surroundings furnishing inspiration for his remarks.

Clear the Way. For the escape from the system of its waste and debris, which, if retained, would vitiate the bodily fluids and overthrow health. That important channel of exit, the bowels, may be kept perfectly free from obstructions by using the non-gripping, gently acting and agreeable cathartic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only liberates impurities, but invigorates the lining of the intestinal tract, it has a weak and feeble action by the use of violent purgatives. The stomach, liver and bowels are cleansed, the system is purified and a healthy action by this beneficent tonic and cathartic, and every organ, fiber, muscle and nerve performs a share of its vitalizing influence. Unquestionable, therefore, a most potent and wholesome medicinal stimulant, and owing its efficacy to its active ingredients, it is the remedy best adapted to household use, on account of its safety, wide range, and speedy action.

WILL PREACH SUNDAY.—Dr W B Farr, of Stockton, California, arrived in Eugene on this morning's overland train on a visit. He will preach next Sunday, morning and evening, at the Cumberland Presbyterian church. Everybody invited. Dr Farr may locate in Eugene.

A SHADE OF THE NIGHT.

An Experience Short in Duration But Exciting Before the Termination.

On Tuesday night Mr and Mrs Geo T Hall, Jr., had an experience that is accorded but few people, and it was as weird in its nature as to make it decidedly uncanny.

Leaving Eugene at out 8 o'clock that evening they drove to Springfield to get some flowers of a florist residing at this end of the bridge. Starting back about 9:30 the trip was a very pleasant one until they reached the place where the road runs around Judkins point. It skirts the river at this place, and on the other side has a steep embankment, overgrown with small brush. As they rounded a curve in the road the horse evinced signs of fear and a black object was noticed in the road about 60 feet ahead. George had just come to the conclusion that it was a dog lying there, when it arose and rapidly came toward them about half the distance intervening and jumped into the brush. It was then seen to be a man dressed in woman's clothes, with the dress rather short, which flapped around the boots he wore. Up to this time they thought nothing of the occurrence, although thinking it peculiar. On reaching the point where the man disappeared, he jumped down like a flash and to the horse's head. With a muttered exclamation George cut the pony across the hips, it gave a lurch and with a frightened snort pitched forward and the uncanny night prowler was passed. Their dog, which had been following some distance behind, arrived just as this occurred and could have lent assistance, if called upon.

Not a word was spoke and the man's actions bear a very mysterious stamp. Measures too harsh cannot be dealt upon a miscreant, whose actions are so suspicious.

New York Hop News.

Osage Republican: The growing vine is in blossom. There is not so much complaint of lice, and prospects—which may yet be blasted—are for a light crop with good quality. The large yards of James F Clark never looked better than now, but his are exceptional.

A letter from Oneida, N Y, states that they have the genuine black English fly.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that New York will raise about one-half the quantity of last year.

Cobblesville Times: There is no change to note in market prices on old hops, neither is there anything of importance to say of the growing crop, further than that reports of growers go to show that lice have mostly left the yards, and there are no further fears from them at present.

Waterville Times: It is generally admitted that the vine is practically free from vermin in this locality and is now doing well. Estimates of the crop as compared with last year are being made all the way from 50 to 80 per cent.

The Odd Fellows and Woodmen lodges paid their last respects to their departed brother by attending the remains to the cemetery.

CONSOLIDATION.—Oregon City Press "A commission consisting of several prominent officials of the Methodist church arranged to meet at the Methodist church in this city Tuesday, to consider the advisability of making the Willamette University at Salem and the Portland University one institution, but because the railroad trestle burned down, several members of the commission were unable to be present, and it was decided to consider the matter today in Portland. Bishop Cranston, Rev Star, of Forest Grove, and Prof Vansey, of Portland, were present and the ladies of the church entertained them royally."

Daily Guard, August 5. ARM BROOKERS.—Last evening a team ran away with John Thornbury, who is operating 20 acres of Dr Patterson's hops, and dragged him quite a distance. Both horses in his left arm were broken just above the wrist, and the skin was torn from the hand. Dr Brown was called at 10 o'clock p m at night and set the broken member, and he left him feeling as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.—Miss Vaughan of Corvallis, had Roy Avery arrested for assault. According to her testimony Avery, who was not acquainted with her, tried to become so, and followed her, taking hold of her arm, when she struck him several times. He was found guilty. Julian McFadden, in his maiden effort, handled the defense.

DIED.—In Spencer precinct, Lane county, Oregon, July 31, 1897, John Steel Porter, aged eighty three years, five months and six days.
