Dr. I. D. Driver Performed at Junction.

BUT THERE WERE OTHERS

The Opposition Camped on His Trail to His Regret.

The Story by Rounds

It is over. The first gun of the Lane county controversy was fired at Junction City last night, and after the smoke cleared away it was revealed that the barrel was split, both hammers broken, and that as a effective weapon the gun is valueless.

Announcement was made that Rev Dr Driver, D D would speak in that city last night on this question, and that he would be willing to divide time with the "opposition," if any of them dared to make any statements in open meeting contrary to his views. Driver came, he saw, he — well, he got into his buggy and rode home, quiet as a church mouse.

Win K Scarborough, a torney and abstractor, who has been largely interested in keeping up a legal boiler over this "perfect title affair," accompanied the Doctor D D and acted as first lieutenant and envoy extraordinary in the case. He opened the meeting and stated that there was a cloud over title which should be settled, read one or two deeds issued in reference to the matter, and informed the assembled multitude, about 25 in number, that the object of the meeting was to raise funds to pay Judge George H Williams to act as attorney in the case. Stated also that Mr Williams first asked $500 as a fee, but had kindly reduced his price to $200. Said he would give away to Dr Driver who would "tell them about it."

With the stride of a Spanish bull entering an arena to dispose of a few toradors and picadores the "the senator from Lane," stepped toward the table on which rested his silk tie, placed his thumbs in the armholes of his vest and—the play was on. He led out, caught 'em on the jaw with an exhaustive review of his work in the Methodist ministry; landed twice in quick succession on the chest and behind the ear with his record as state senator, gave them another punch over the heart with his loyal care for the common people, and had them dazed before they knew they had been counted out. During the latter part of his ramblings he mentioned that he was exhorting for a little money to pay Judge Williams, and asked the entire crowd up to the "mourner's bench." Did they come? Nit. Not one.

Others in attendance from Eugene were County Judge E O Potter, Deputy District Attorney L T Harris, City Attorney E R Skipworth, Attorneys Geo A Dorris and A E Wheeler, ex-Mayor J D Matlock, City Treasurer G W Griffin and a GUARD representative.

During the reverend senator's remarks he made some statements reflecting on Judge Potter that it would be unjust to let go unanswered, and Mr Skipworth asked that Mr Potter be allowed to speak. The doctor said he was not debating, but granted the request.

Judge Potter then made a statement of the matter in hand. Said the county board would not build if the title was in jeopardy. Read from the records the first Skinner deed, which was rejected because it required the court house to remain in the center of square; the second, which was accepted because it didn't contain this clause, Mrs Skinner's deed quit-claiming forever all right, title and interest in the square, the entries on the commissioners court journal at the time confirming this, and other matters incidental thereto. He spoke in very gentlemanly way, and as a business man and lawyer, and set himself and the county board before them in a fair light.

Of course the next speaker was Dr Driver; it couldn't be otherwise. Said he didn't care one iota himself, but "you common people are always grumbling," and therefore he wanted a law suit. That so long as he was above ground he wouldn't let the court house be built without it. He evidently thinks that is a necessary adjunct to a public building. He registered among other many fine points that the farmers didn't have a nice grassy award to eat their lunch on when they came to town, but didn't say anything about the inconvenience of his desire to remove the hitching racks which his "restoration" might involve.

From this point on the doctor was out of the frying pan and in the fire, and the expression on his usually placid face impressed one with the idea that he was sorry he spoke. Mr Dorris asked him some pointed questions about deeds and their value, which he evaded with extreme nicety and Mr Wheeler, who has a complete abstract of the county, also asked a number of questions which went without answering. And between them, a running controversy was carried on which caused Dr Oglesby, who was styled moderator after the open session commenced, to keep continually reminding the senator that his time to speak was when no one else had the floor. Attorney Skipworth put the finishing touches upon the meeting by a short and sharp statement that in itself meant much. Mr Matlock then made a few telling remarks.

To sum the meeting up the reverend senator must be rather sorry he took this philanthropic duty upon himself. However he is billed for Cottage Grove on tomorrow night. It is presumed a cordial invitation to all is extended to attend and help make the meeting interesting.

THE BLUE RIVER MINES.—Albany Democrat: Mr G A Dyson, of Brownsville, was in the city Saturday. FROM LANE COUNTY.

Bob Hendricks of Salem, Names a Postmaster up There.

We take the following from yesterday's Salem Journal:

COTTAGE GROVE, Oct 4.—The long looked for "big thing" has come off, the appointment of postmaster at this place. Perry Sherwood is the lucky man. There are always some political debts to pay and in this case the successful man is a nephew of R J Hendricks, of Salem. The way the vote of Marion county was handled made it necessary for tonguey Tom Tongue to in some way reward the manager of "things mysterious" in said county, hence the appointment. W S Chrisman, late republican candidate for sheriff of Lane county got badly left. As to A P Churchill, another applicant, he just folded his blankets and left for the mines as soon as the appointment was announced.

We are looking for quite a boom in the Bohemia mines this season. Many new prospects are being found and men of capital and experience are now turning their attention to this mineral; but that is our only hope for good times.

School opened Monday under the management of Pof Powell and assistants. We boast of the best school of its size in Oregon.

R M Veatch of the Roseburg land office, is building a fine residence here and making preparations to soon walk the plank and retire from office. One thing can be said for Bob and that is, he has made a number one register and his return here will be appreciated by his many friends. Such an officer is an honor to himself and his party.

BRAKEMAN'S STRIKE.—Monday's Ashland Tidings: "The Southern Pacific freight trains between here and Roseburg are at a standstill caused by an incipient strike of the brakemen. Train 31 was ordered out last night north with two brakemen, instead of three as usual and the brakemen refused to go. And train 32 from Roseburg was in the same condition. The brakeman allege that the railroad company is overworking them and that it is trying to run the train by extra men paying them time rates instead of regular salary rates. Some of them say they have had to work for 24 to 36 hours at a time without rest. It is expected that the trains will move this afternoon with brakemen from the Shasta division."
