ANOTHER ACCIDENT

Henry McCrady Fell From the Roof of the Dormitory.

Extent of Injuries Not Known.

Daily Guard, October 18.

Another serious if not fatal accident has befallen a Eugene man.

This morning while painting on the roof of the dormitory at the University of Oregon Henry McCrady, fell to the ground, a distance of nearly 45 feet.

The accident happened so quickly that other workmen employed with him on the roof are hardly able to give a lucid account of the affair.

A GUARD reporter talked with a number of the men employed with Mr McCrady, and the facts appear about as follows: Mr McCrady was working on the sloping part of the roof on the east side of the building, and completing the work there picked up his paint bucket and brush in one hand and one of the roof jacks he was using, in the other, started to walk up to the level tin roof above him. Ralph Brumley says: "I noticed him start up, and paid no more attention to him until I heard a yell, and turning around saw him sliding face downward down the roof and disappear over the edge. It happened so quickly that one can hardly give an accurate account. To me it appears that he must have walked back down the roof for the other roof jack, and became overbalanced." The other workmen tell a very similar story regarding the unfortunate affair.

Mrs Watkins, matron of the dormitory, said that while in a room on the first floor of the dormitory, she saw the roof jack fall to the ground and was horrified to see a man following, alighting on a lead of loose gravel that had been hauled into the yard.

If he is fortunate enough to survive the terrible bruising, it can be laid to the loose gravel breaking the shock of the fall.

T. N. Jenkins, one of the contractors, was the first to reach his side, and turned the body of the unconscious man over. A telephone call for physicians was sent down, and Drs Kuykendall and I. W. Harris were soon on the field.

A mattress was placed on a wagon and he was removed to his home, in the western part of the city. At this time it is impossible to tell the extent of his injuries as an examination cannot be made until a re-tion sets in, and it will probably be morning before the physicians can do anything besides temporarily relieve his suffering. It is apparent however that he is injured internally, and it appears also that his shoulder is broken.

This afternoon the injured man is only partially conscious, and the blood flowing from the inside shows that his internal injuries are quite serious.

LATER.

Dr Kuykendall made a visit to the injured man at 4 o'clock and reports his case more hopeful than at noon. The only bones broken appear to be a small one at the right shoulder and one at the right wrist. It is hoped his condition will be such tomorrow morning that a thorough examination can be made.

A CHILD KILLED.

A Burning Stump Falls on Him While He Was Running Past It.

Florence West: Last Sunday afternoon about half past two o'clock a singular accident happened at Mercer Lake by which Rex, the little son of J. A. Leverage was instantly killed.

Mr Leverage had been burning some brush piles and a stump about six feet in height and eighteen inches in diameter had been set on fire. The stump stood on a side hill and there was a road leading past it on the lower side. When it was nearly burned down Mr Leverage's two little boys ran along the road past it, the elder being a few feet in advance. Just as the younger came opposite the stump it fell, striking him on the head. The back part of the skull and neck were broken and the boy was instantly killed. Mr Leverage who was two rods or so distant, hastened to the child and picked him up but the little life was ended.

The funeral services were held Monday and the remains of the unfortunate child were interred in the Odd Fellows cemetery at Glendale. The boy would have been four years old November 29th. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of the community in their affliction.

MINE SOLD.—Cottage Grove Leader: The sale of the Black Butte cinnabar mine has been consummated. Mr Jacob Behrman of Port Townsend, Wash, and other capitalists are the purchasers. The money for the first payment is advanced and extensive operations will begin immediately. The development and working of these mines will bring thousands of dollars into our city.

Joseph S. Woodruff, a Clerical Appearing Individual, the Absconder.

Creditors Caught Him at Roseburg.

Joseph S. Woodruff spent a couple of weeks in Eugene a short time since, representing himself as a Chicago capitalist, looking for mining interests. He went to the Bohemia district and the following dispatch tells the rest:

"COTTAGE GROVE, Oct. 18.—Joseph S. Woodruff, of Chicago, who leased the Champion mine some months ago, left Saturday night for Chicago, leaving bill amounting to several hundred dollars unpaid. He got as far south as Roseburg, and was overtaken by several parties who managed to secure a brick of gold, containing about $900. This will be divided pro rata among five or six of his creditors.

"Woodruff, it is alleged, issued a number of checks on the Eugene Loan & Savings bank, some of which have been protested and others made payable October 25."

Mr Woodruff was in Eugene for some time after his arrival here, and is known by a number of our citizens. It was not known here regarding his sudden leaving. He has been reported here as a purchaser of the Champion instead of lessee and he has done a good deal of business through the Eugene Loan & Savings bank of this city. Some checks so far presented have not been paid by the bank, but nothing regarding his actions is known here.

Fine Bridges.

The new bridges now in course of construction over Row river, by the Lyons Bros contractors, will prove a vast benefit to that section.

Ben Lyons, who is in town taking medical treatment for a number of bruises sustained by a fall, said that the first bridge which is about 22 miles from Cottage Grove, will have a 90 foot span; the second which is 25 miles from that city an 80 foot span, and the third, which is 11 miles farther on a 75 foot span. They will be of the full truss pattern open bridges, and prove to be substantial structures.

Mr Lyons expects to return Monday if his injuries will permit by that time.

Married.

The GUARD is in receipt of the following wedding card:

"Mrs Josephine Harvey announces the marriage of her daughter, Ella Leonora Keltou, to Mr H. John Marston, on Saturday, October second, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven. "San Francisco, California."

COULD NOT SURVIVE.

The Terrible Fall of Henry McCrady Yesterday Proved Fatal.

Died at 3 o'clock a m Today.

Daily Guard October 19.

The fall from the dormitory roof at the University of Oregon yesterday by Henry McCrady proved fatal and at 3 o'clock this morning life left the bruised and mangled body to which it had clung tenaciously for about 18 hours. The transition from a state of perfect health to that of a soul fluttering for its release from a bruised and broken body came so quickly that its import was scarcely grasped until the life had flown. The blow falls with awful suddenness upon a beloved wife and daughter, father, mother, sister and brother, and kind friends are doing what is in their power to soothe or comfort.

The body was bruised and broken much more than was at first supposed, although his condition was so critical from the first that no examination could be made. Four ribs on the left side and the sternum were broken, and the internal injuries of themselves would have proven fatal.

He was a member of Eugene camp No 115, Woodmen of the World, and carried a policy for $1000 in that order. He was also a member of Rescue Hose company of the Eugene Fire Department.

Henry Alfred McCrady, was at the time of his death, aged 30 years, 2 months and 6 days. With his parents he moved to Eugene about 14 years ago and had since resided here, where he had grown to manhood, respected alike for his ability and kindly nature. He was united in marriage about eight years since to Miss Anna Bonnett, who, with their daughter, Una, aged 6 years, survive him. He united with the Christian church in this city several years since and had since been an active member.

The various organizations of which he was a member are making arrangements to attend the funeral.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at the First Christian church, the interment taking place at the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Friends are respectfully invited to call at his late residence from 11 to 12 o'clock tomorrow morning, as the casket will not be opened at the church.

Big Talk.

A son of Rev Robert McLean, of Grant's Pass, who runs a paper there, published the following item:

"A big, fat, brazen faced saloon keeper, promanaging the main streets in the full light of day, with a little brazen-faced woman of the town, is a daily spectacle in Grant's Pass. In some places the mail brute would be given a coat of tar and feathers, for his outrage on public decency. It would be a good thing to give here."

Geo Walters, a 230 pound saloon keeper there took it to himself, and publicly whipped Rev McLean, a medium sized man, charging him with being the author of it. The Ashland Record man says the paper statement was true, and heads its item "Robert McLean an intellectual giant beaten by a mean hound."

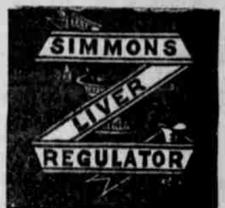

A. W. C. T. U. DELEGATE.—Mrs M. A. Ramp, a prominent W. C. T. U. worker, left Monday morning for Toronto, Canada, where she goes to attend the international W. C. T. U. convention as a delegate from the Salem Union, says the Salem Journal. At the conclusion of the Toronto convention, Mrs Ramp goes to Buffalo, New York, to attend the National W. C. T. U. convention. New York City will next be visited, after which Mrs Ramp goes to points in Illinois to spend several weeks with old acquaintances, having resided there prior to coming to Oregon. Mrs Ramp will be absent from home about three months, returning home about January 1.

WILL GO TO WASHINGTON.—The following personal is taken from the Sunday Oregonian: Edmond Giltner, of Salem, receiver for the State Insurance Company, returned from St Helena yesterday, and will leave for home today. He will go to Washington D. C. next month, to accept the position of clerk of the senate committee on coast defenses.

Daily Guard October 19.

JUSTICE COURT.—Two women, Mrs Pearson and Bettie Miller, who resided on Sixth street, and were ordered out of town by the marshal, were today brought before Justice Wheeler on the charge of keeping a bawdy house in Fairmount. The case is still on as we go to press.

DIED.—Oct 18, 1897, at her home seven miles south of Eugene, Mrs J. C. Lombard, aged about 35 years, of heart failure.

THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE

Is SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR—don't forget to take it. The Liver gets sluggish during the Winter, just like all nature, and the system becomes choked up by the accumulated waste, which brings on Malaria, Fever and Ague and Rheumatism. You want to wake up your Liver now, but be sure you take SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR to do it. It also regulates the Liver—keeps it properly at work, when your system will be free from poison and the whole body invigorated.

You get THE BEST BLOOD when your system is in A1 condition, and that will only be when the Liver is kept active. Try a Liver Remedy once and note the difference. But take only SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR—it is SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR which makes the difference. Take it in powder or in liquid already prepared, or make a tea of the powder; but take SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR. You'll find the RED Z on every package. Look for it.

Shipping Fruit.

The following from the Salem Journal shows that Western fruit growers must find out just what is wanted in the Eastern market before they can successfully cater to the needs of their patrons:

"J. A. Van Eaton, formerly a merchant of this city, and a man who has always had a deep practical interest in fruit growing and the fruit business, a short time since returned from a three months' stay in Chicago in the interest of the Oregon Fruit and Produce Co. of this city. He has had unusual opportunities to observe the fruit market, in a way that has great value to the Oregon fruit grower. Mr Van Eaton says the experiment of shipping green fruit East is unsatisfactory and may have to be abandoned. Of our other green fruits New York and other eastern cities are going to be very large buyers. They will also take all the dried fruit of the larger varieties that we can put up. For export no fruit can be used that is not cured on wooden trays. The German government has passed a law to condemn and confiscate all such at the port of entry. Mr Van Eaton takes a very hopeful view of the fruit business.

Another Pioneer Goes.

Mr Dan Stanton, one of the early pioneers of Oregon, died of dropsy of the heart, at the Good Samaritan Hospital, of Portland, Oct. 12, 1897. He had been at Portland about three weeks. It was thought he was much better, when he suddenly had an attack of heart failure, lingered a few hours and expired. His adopted son, of Creswell, was telegraphed for, but arrived too late. Mr Stanton was an old resident of Creswell. He was known for miles around as an exceedingly good neighbor and a kind husband. The deceased leaves a wife, an adopted son, a daughter-in-law, and a grand-daughter of whom he was very fond.

A precious one from us has gone. A voice we loved is stilled; A place is vacant in a home, Which never can be filled.

God in his wisdom hath revealed, The boon his love had given; And though the body moulders there The soul is safe in heaven
