Verdict Applauded.

Daily Guard, November 3. The jury in the case of Miss Jennie Smitson vs The Southern Pacific, in which the young lady sued the company for $50,515 for an accident at Springfield on July 29, 1897, in which she suffered the amputation of both legs, one above the knee and the other just below, came in at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon with the following verdict: In the circuit court of the state of Oregon for Lane county.

Jennie Smitson, plaintiff, vs The Southern Pacific Company, defendant.

We the jury duly empanelled to try the issue in the above entitled action find a verdict for the plaintiff and assess her damages at the sum of $10,-000.

D M McCRADY,

The audience present liberally ap plauded the jury for their verdict. The jury was taken on the case Saturday forenoon, and went out to consider the case yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This is the largest judgment ever obtained in the Lane county circuit court in a case of damages. The attorneys for the plaintiff, Messrs Thompson & Hardy and H D Norton, were warmly congratulated over their victory.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL. The attorneys of the Southern Pacific Co filed the following grounds for a new trial this afternoon:

First-Excessive damages, appear ing to have been given under the influence of passion and prejudice. Second-Insufficiency of evidence to ustify the verdict.

Third-Because the said verdict is against the law. Fourth-Error in law occurring at the trial and excepted to by the defendant at the time. Fifth-Error in law occurring at the trial and committed by the court in nstructing the jury. Sixth-Error in law occurring at the trial and committed by the court in giving the jury additional instructions after they had retired to deliber-Seventh-Error of the court in overruling defendants objections to the introduction of certain testimony offered by plaintiff and the admission of said estimony. Eighth-Error of the court occurring at the trial excepted to in overruling the motion made by the defendant for a non suit. Ninth-Error of the court occurring at the trial excepted to in overruling than any other cartridge made. the motion made by the defendant at the conclusion of the taking of all evidence to grant a non suit. ARGUMENT CONTINUED. Judge Fullerton made the following order on the above this afternoon: A motion to set aside the verdict and to grant a new trial herein having been filed by the defendant and the court not baving time to hear or determine said motion during the present term, the consideration thereof is hereby continued for the term, and until any adjourned term thereof, and it is further ordered that said detendant may, prior to the hearing of said motion, amend the same. J C FULLERTON, Judge.

TRAGEDY RECALLED By the Arrest of J W McCormack in Portland.

Portland Telegram, Nov 3: "The name of J W McCormack, as a 'simple drunk, appeared on the police arrest docket this morning, but in connection with that name is a bloody tragedy, of which McCormack is the survivor. On the 26th day of October, 1892, he was convicted of the murder of Reynold Smith, at Mitchell, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. But prior to Governor Pennoyor vacating the gubernatorial office, be commuted the sentence of McCormack to expire on the let inst, upon the recommendation of the judge and district attorney who were instrumental in his conviction. The pardoned 'lifer' came here yesterday and took a few drinks. After five years' abstinence a small quantity of liquor easily benumbed his brain, and he was taken in as an inoffensive drunk, to be out of harm's way."
