MR ADAIR STILL HANDED

Is Charmed With California Winter Weather—Eating Eggs Now.

Dec 3, 1897.

We were awakened this morning by the melodious voice of one of Africa's dusky sons:

"Betah git up Boss; we soon be to de Oakland mole." Upon opening our optics we beheld the east all aglow with the radiant beams of old Sol.

The weather in Oakland and San Francisco is simply semi-tropic.

I am convinced that Oregon people make a great mistake in spending more money at seaside resorts than it would cost them to come to California and spend the winter in such a lovely climate.

In Oakland and surrounding places the roads are dusty and everything possesses a real tropical appearance.

All aboard for Los Angeles, and we start on a swing around the bay, dotted here and there by lazily flapping sails. Involuntarily the song "Italia" comes into my mind while gazing on such skies and such superb weather.

Whole fields of choice flowers, blooming gardens growing, gardeners planting, farmers sowing, everything showing life and energy.

The train is now whirling along through the San Joaquin valley. As far as the eye can reach you can see busy farmers sowing their grain. This valley is simply a wonder and must be seen to be appreciated.

I have heard much about the Sunset Route. I find it a veritable sunshine route, and am surprised that travelers, especially in the winter season, do not avail themselves of this unexcelled line East. I have never met more courteous railway men. They seem to think you are on board the train to be cared for, and they do it.

It is hard for one to think that this is the month of December, it being as equally delightful as June in our state.

Oregon summers are unexcelled and California winters have no parallel, unless it be in Italy.

On leaving Oregon I was only able to get around, suffering from indigestion caused by constant application to business, and not enough outdoor exercise. Now I can't satisfy my appetite, and can digest a populist platform if it was slightly salted and peppered with the Klondike nuggets I saw on board the Oregon express yesterday.

Captain Boyle, the leader of the Klondike party, ordered 18 eggs, but I am content to take 9.

We are now beyond Merced and find the country no less attractive nor the sun less bright. We have watched with much interest the six to ten mule teams ten and twelve of them following each other across the immense fields being sown in wheat.

Spend your winters in California. What I have seen of the winters here is much like the summers in Webfoot.

By all means when going East in the winter, don't fail to go over the Sunset, which I emphatically call the Sunshine Route. I. G. ADAIR.

NEW CIRCUIT COURT CASES.

E. L. Smith vs N. B. Tallafiero et al; plaintiff asked for an injunction to prevent defendants from illegally entering his premises. E. O. Potter, county judge, granted the injunction until further orders, on Dec 4, 1897.

Geo. Midgley vs Geo. W. Riggs; action to recover money; judgment is asked for $85.02.

Wm. Renshaw vs the City of Eugene; petition for writ of review. Bond filed and Judge Fullerton granted the petition and the matter will be heard at the next term of circuit court. This is the case wherein Wm. Renshaw was fined $50 and $10.80 costs for selling beer to students attending the University of Oregon at Eugene, June 7, 1897. The plaintiff claims that the above allegation does not constitute a crime under the laws of the state of Oregon.

THE SAWDUST CASE.—The case against J. B. Hopkins, charged with violation of the game laws by dumping sawdust in the Willamette river, is being tried before Recorder Dorris and a jury composed of Geo. O. Yorran, Thos. Brown, J. M. Martin, J. H. Goodman, J. B. Kronebusch and Albert Hendricks. At the time of going to press two witnesses had been examined. It is understood subpoenas are out for about 20. Deputy District Attorney Harris appears for the state and Geo. B. Dorris for defendant. The charge is brought by Chas. M. Kinsinger, deputy game warden.

DIED.—Mrs. Thomas Tabor died Dec 6, 1897, at the family residence, two miles west of Eugene, of inflammation of the stomach, aged 57 years. She had been ill but a few days and her demise was entirely unexpected. Deceased was born in Indiana in 1840. The funeral will occur tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at the residence, the interment taking place in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. Rev. M. L. Rose will conduct the services.

FORMERLY OF EUGENE.—Hillsboro Argus: "John Diebhorn, an attorney of Portland, will be tried for unprofessional conduct, at some future date during the current term of court. Judge Burnett will very likely hear the case, as McBride was present at the time the alleged breach is supposed to have occurred."

COMMENCED MOVING.—F. L. Chambers commenced moving his large stock of goods into his new quarters one door north this afternoon. It will be quite a job as his stock is a large one. His new room has a frontage of 57 feet on Willamette street, the largest of any business house in the city.

TUESDAY DECEMBER 7.

Chas. Friendly was in Eugene last night.

O. P. Hoff returned to Irving this morning.

W. W. Chessman, of Springfield, was in Eugene today.

J. F. Wetherbee was down from his Creswell farm today.

Mrs. Grace Osburn came up from Salem on today's 2:04 local.

The condition of Mrs. Rev. Alley remains practically unchanged.

W. L. Bristol returned to his home at Pleasant Hill this afternoon.

Robt. Clow and R. V. Howard came up from Junction city this afternoon.

J. P. Jones, traveling passenger agent of the S. P. R. R. was in Eugene today.

Mrs. W. W. Haines arrived home this morning from a visit in Douglas county.

Some evil minded person "lifted" Hon. S. M. Yorran's umbrella from the porch of his residence Sunday evening.

Judge R. S. Bean came up from Salem this afternoon to attend the funeral of his sister-in-law, Miss Fannie C. Condon.

Mrs. B. F. Bond of Irving, and Mrs. Al Greene of Moscow, Idaho, are in the city, the guests of Mrs. Bond's brother, Judge E. O. Potter and family.

W. L. Dyalinger came down from Roseburg this morning in response to a telegram announcing the death of his mother Mrs. Tabor, which occurred yesterday.

A prominent capitalist who was recently offered for $75,000 an interest in a Klondike scheme warranted to pay $100,000 a month from the start, responded with this message: "Pay for it out of the first month's earnings. Send the surplus at once." The negotiation failed to go through.

Dave Houston, the genial S. P. conductor has lost his mustache, and his face is now as smooth as that of a blushing school girl. He accounts for the loss by saying the heavy winds of the past few days made the hirsute adornment too cumbersome to carry around.

INDEPENDENCE WEST SIDE: The hop crop is beginning to move, several sales being reported this week, one of 240 bales at 12 1/2 cents a pound, another of 70 bales, and another of 80 bales at the same price, and 50 bales at less than 12 cents a pound. As a consequence hop buyers are quite numerous and correspondingly active.

Your Vitality?

The essence of life is force. Every breath you breathe, every heart beat, every motion of your hand, takes force. The measure of force we call vitality. If this is lacking, there is loss of flesh, lack of relative power, a tendency to catch disease easily, especially a tendency to Consumption. For low vitality nothing is better than Scott's Emulsion. It supplies force by furnishing the nourishing, strengthening elements of food in an easily digested form; enriches the blood, and builds up the system. When ordinary food is of no avail, Scott's Emulsion will supply the body with all the vital elements of life.

Two sizes, 50 cts. and $1.00. All druggists.

If you will ask for it we will send you a book telling you all about Scott's Emulsion. Free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, New York.

DOGS KILL SHEEP.—J. W. Washburne, whose farm adjoins Junction on the west, has lost a number of sheep by dogs. The Times says he had five more sheep killed by dogs Friday night of last week and a number of others wounded. Nearly all of the sheep that have been killed recently were on farms near town and farmers are of the opinion that the hundreds of dogs within Junction's corporate limits are responsible, and if something is not done the sheep industry will have to be abolished.

WALL STREET TRIUMPHANT.

This administration has something of a Wall street flavor about its financial views and is all the time walking on Wall street eggs and trying very hard not to break any of them. For Wall street it would burn up the greenbacks to make room for bank notes. For Wall street it would make gold only a legal tender in the payment of debts. For Wall street it would flood the country with irredeemable bank notes. It looks only to the Wall street interests for approbation of policy.

Whatever will make for the interests of Wall street will be done, or at least attempted. And why should anything else be expected? The administration was pawned to Wall street in advance for a campaign fund. Mammon, and not the president, presides over the nation. "Mammon, at least erected spirit that fell from heaven."

The bank party presides in the treasury department through its servant, Mr. Gage. He is committed to every scheme of that party for making the public interests subordinate to the interests of the money changers. But government by Wall street limps for the want of the senate. It dares to hope that it may secure by bribery the few votes in that body necessary to make it as subservient as is the house of representatives or the White House.

NATURE'S RESTORATION.

The tendency of all soil is to produce vegetation. If the seeds of forest trees are scattered upon soil congenial, they will grow, and as the leaves fall and are left upon the surface, they mulch the land, keeping it moist, and each succeeding year will give fertility to such soil not only from the decay of leaves but the mulching keeps the soil moist, and thus enables the soil to take up the ammonia from the decaying leaves. Hence the importance of preventing the forest fires from running and burning the leaves, thus leaving the land bare, and destroying the capability of the soil to hold moisture in storage for the dry season.

The citizens of Seattle are taking hold of the dairy industry with a will. At the next meeting of the State Dairy Association to be held in that city December 28, 29 and 30 there will be a large list of both cash and special premiums given to exhibitors of dairy products. It is this kind of enterprise that is drawing trade to Seattle and will help greatly to improve that little city. There is nothing that will build up a city like getting the good will and sympathy of the country people surrounding it and no way can this sympathy and good will be obtained as easily as by taking an active interest in enterprises that are calculated to help these people.

A COMMON PLATFORM.

Headquarters for Silver and Reform Forces Established in Postland.

The headquarters for the union of the silver and reform forces have been established at rooms 421-422, Hotel Perkins, Portland, and J. C. Cooper, of McMinnville, chairman of the union state committee, will be on hand to talk over the situation with all that may call, and answer letters of those that write. Mr. Cooper says:

"The object of the union organization is to unite populists, democrats and silver republicans on a common platform with a common ticket. Union primary and county conventions and a union state convention will be held for that purpose. The union movement is nonpartisan, as near as may be, and the populist, democratic and silver republican state and county committees will be consulted and invited to co-operate in uniting these elements. The populist and democratic organizations are to be maintained, so that the standing of the men who take part in the union of forces will not be impaired with these national organizations. The conditions in some counties may be such that a union of the primaries will not be made. In such case the people of those counties will use their own judgment. "The convention will make its own platform, which will probably be similar to that adopted by the silver republicans at Salem, October 5, demanding American control of our monetary system and without the intervention of national banks, direct legislation and a thorough renovation of our state affairs. The labor question will no doubt be a prominent plank in the platform.

"The union movement has committees at work in 29 counties, and speakers will be put into the field very soon to advocate the organization throughout the state. The union state committee will meet before or very soon after the holidays and call a state convention. Delegates to this convention will be based on the vote cast for Bryan and Watson. Charles A. Towne, chairman of the silver republican national committee, will be in Portland soon and will make some speeches before leaving the state. "Oregon chooses the first congressmen to be selected to the congress, and the unionists propose to do the choosing of these congressmen, as well as the entire state ticket. I am confident that the state can be carried on the lines proposed by the union forces. There is 90 per cent of the rank and file of the silver forces ready for such a union, and with the remaining 10 per cent it is only a question of method as to how this union is to be brought about. When these factional differences are adjusted the jealousies and suspicions will not be a disturbing factor."

The Speaker of the National House of Representatives is a good deal of an enigma. Mr. Reed came out of the contest for the Presidential nomination last year mortified and humiliated at the poor showing he made in the St. Louis convention. But unless Yankee tenacity has been greatly overestimated he will be heard from in 1900, when Marcus Alonzo may find him more difficult to dispose of than in 1896.
