A STRAW FROM THE WEST.

A no small straw to show which way the political wind blows in the banquet of the National Associa Silver club in Spencer precinct. President McKinley delivered a Although a small precinct 32 sign- gold standard address, as "a $15,ed the roll at the first meeting and 060 dinner given in a $10,000,000 our informant states that not less hotel," and adds that "the 966 than 75 names will be numbered in diners at the table were mostly the club. The memoers are from millionaires." all parties and favor a union ticket with tree silver and direct legislation for a platform.

It should and will win, Cleveland and McKinley and the gold contractionists to the contrary. The people are no longer willing to be fooled by palpable political trauds that promise everything in platforms only to disregard their promises after election. The trouble is the parties have been nominating men they knew were not honest in their professions. The Bryan nomination was the only clean one said county. made for years, and that was in direct opposition to the powerful gold forces that hoped to secure a have fought their political fights while the government beneficiaries would have stood back in confidence that their cause was saved the opening of said bids. #### A POSSIBLE OREGONIAN GRUDGE

What sort of a grudge has the Oregonian got against Lane county? In yesterday's issue there is a picture of the scene in the meeting room of the Republican League convention with the "Lane" county banner, about the only one distinguishable, in the foreground.

Ranged under it are a lot of pictures of villainous looking men, such as no discreet man with money in his pocket would trust himselt with on a dark night, or in a lonely place. Nearly every one of them holds a tough looking cigar limit of $100 was too low. Sam agreed, between his teeth.

It is not the delegation that left Eugene the other day. That was of it composed of as 'air and proud a phalanx of patriots as ever faced an enemy or a bar. Can it be that those wicked Simonites and Oragonianites inveigled the Lane county men into some secluded spot, for which Portland is famous, then filled their places with the tough and wicked denizens of the North end?
