FLOWER MISSION SERVICE.

The W C T U will Pay Loving Tribute to the Memory of Jennie Cassidy in a special Flower Service.

No name could be more fittingly linked with Francis Willard's than that of Jennie Cassidy, who through long years of illness conducted the work of Flower Mission, making glad many lonely hearts by sending flowers and words of holy comfort to those shut in by illness or age.

Died Suddenly.

Daily Guard, Jun 6

The steamer Oregon, which arrived at Portland from Astoria this Monday morning, at 1 o'clock, brought the news of the death of her commanding officer, Captain C M Stephens, who dropped dead supposedly from heart disease on the second day out.

The Oregon left San Francisco Thursday morning, about 10 o'clock, and everything went well. Friday morning the captain and the first mate, Charles Gielow, were in the pilot house, about 11 o'clock. Suddenly the captain put his hand to his head, and exclaiming "I feel dizzy" would have fallen to the floor had not the mate caught him in time.

IN OLD TIMES.

The State of Oregon in War Days.

To show how things were done in 1861, when troops were called for from the various states, and the attitude of Oregon officials in those days a Statesman reporter yesterday copied an order received by the then governor of Oregon, John Whiteaker.

Gov. of Oregon, Oregon City: The returns of many of the states being found imperfect, and some changes having been made since the last returns, will you please send to this department a full and accurate statement of all the troops from your state which are now in the service of the general government, together with a separate list of all not numbered into the service as d all used as home guards, etc.

On April 23, 1861, another telegram was sent by the secretary of war asking for the same information, but it was not until May 28, 1862, that Governor Whiteaker wrote his reply to the war department, to the effect that the state had no home guards; that no troops, raised by this state were in the service of the general government, and that no figure or scratch of a pen could be found in the executive office showing that any troops had ever been raised by this state for the general government.

COLLEGE VICTORS.

The U. of O. Still Holds Athletic Supremacy.

Kuykendall and Trine the Heroes

The intercollegiate field meet of 1898, will be long remembered by the U of O, for the fine work of her team marks an epoch in the athletic history of the university.

W O Trine is a trainer of exceptional ability, and the credit for the fine showing made by the U of O team is due to his careful work.

The home coming was very pleasant and the reception given the team very cordial and demonstrative.

Last week, Hon J T Bridges was appointed and confirmed as register and J H Booth as receiver of the United States land office at Roseburg, says the Plaindealer.

A Patriotic Hen.

Over in Union county an ambitious hen has produced a war egg which lays every other one so far reported in the shade, says the Sumpter News.

EDITOR'S ESCAPE.—

The Fossil Journal has the following interesting item: Further particulars to hand concerning the Moro fire go to show that J B Hosford, a former editor of the Fossil Journal, came very near being cremated before death instead of at the regular time prescribed for editors, after the judgment day.

OUR STAR MAN.

In its write up of the field meet the Salem Sentinel says: On the summit of the hill, where it will be plainly visible from Salem, the Catholic order of Benedictines has begun the erection of a mammoth college of solid stone masonry which when completed, will be five stories, 700 feet long in its longest dimensions and proportionately wide the general outline to be in the form of a cross.

A BIG COLLEGE.—

The Salem Sentinel says: On the summit of the hill, where it will be plainly visible from Salem, the Catholic order of Benedictines has begun the erection of a mammoth college of solid stone masonry which when completed, will be five stories, 700 feet long in its longest dimensions and proportionately wide the general outline to be in the form of a cross.

COTTAGE GROVE PERSONALS.

Leader June 4.

John Schmutz and wife, of Creswell, were up Saturday, to hear "Cyclone" Davis. They will leave for Eastern Oregon, next Monday week.

Y C Porter and family will leave for the Palouse country in about two weeks where they expect to make their future home.

J M Williams was up from Eugene, the first of the week, after volunteers for the army. He succeeded in getting about 20 names here.

Mr McQueen who is teaching at the Shields school house has sent in his name for enlistment on the second call for soldiers, will give up his school this week. Miss Cynthia Neat, of Eugene, has been engaged to finish the school.

The two Cottage Grove precincts elected J W Vaughan for justice of the peace and Warren McFarland constable—both republicans.

WOODMEN MEMORIAL.

This Annual Event of The Order Observed.

WAS LARGELY ATTENDED.

The Woodmen of the World memorial exercises held yesterday afternoon and last night were attended by a large crowd.

Dr D A Paine superintendent of the Oregon asylum for the insane, at Salem made an address masterly in its conception of the protection of fraternal Woodmanship to the families of members, and paid a tribute of high worth to the order, its power, and humanitarianism.

The evening services were held at the First Christian church, Dr D E Loveridge delivering the address. The audience numbered about 1200 people and many were turned away. Woodmen memorial day is fast growing to be a principal observance owing to the rapid growth of the order.

Hop Prospects.

Marion county is the center of the hop growing industry of the Willamette valley. The Salem Journal says it is not convinced that there will be a short hop crop. As the matter now stands the outlook is excellent for about two-thirds of a full crop, but all of standard grade hops—that is, a larger crops of firsts than usual.

THE WHEAT MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, June 7.—Cargoes on passage; Liverpool dull. NEW YORK, June 7.—Market dull, closing at 92c per bushel for July. CHICAGO, June 7.—Closed at 80c per bushel. SAN FRANCISCO.—Closed at $1.35 per cental.

Our Flag.

Of all the flags that float aloft O'er Neptune's gallant tars, Or wave on high in victory Above the sons of Mars, Give me our flag—Columbia's flag— The emblem of the free, And fling it out 'mid song and shout: The Banner of the Sea!

VACANCY FILLED.—

At the regular meeting of the Board of Fire Delegates Saturday night M S Hubbs was selected to succeed Horace Barnett, as assistant chief of the fire department, the latter now being numbered among Oregon's volunteers.

AT LORANE.—

Memorial day was observed at Lorane with an appropriate program, and an appropriate sermon by Rev Brink. The three cemeteries were visited and the graves beautifully decorated with flowers.
