UNION & SUCCESS.

The gold-standard newspapers, for evident reasons, argue that the result of the late election shows that there can be no successful union of reform forces; but they ignore facts which prove the contrary, says the Jacksonville Times. Had there not been a union the victory of the Republican party would have been even more complete, owing to unforeseen circumstances that were greatly in its favor. The issues ment of volunteers will include all tirely lost sight of during the last nition to shoot home people when CK Hale 6 00 weeks of the campaign. It is quite probable that had there been no war the Union cause would have triumphed on June 6th. As it was, a number of members of the legislature and many county officials were elected through "fusion" alone. Union will yet be successful. The experimental stage has been passed.
