

AN OPEN LETTER TO MOTHERS.

WE ARE ASSERTING IN THE COURTS OUR RIGHT TO THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF THE WORD "CASTORIA," AND "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," AS OUR TRADE MARK.

I, DR. SAMUEL PITCHER, of Hyannis, Massachusetts, was the originator of "CASTORIA," the same that has borne and does now bear the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on every the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher wrapper. This is the original "CASTORIA" which has been used in the homes of the Mothers of America for over thirty years.

LOOK CAREFULLY at the wrapper and see that it is the kind you have always bought Chas. H. Fletcher on the and has the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher wrapper. No one has authority from me to use my name except The Centaur Company, of which Chas. H. Fletcher is President. March 24, 1898.

IT WAS A MIGHTY FEAST.

Hospitality of Honolulu to Three Thousand Boys in Blue.

Evening Bulletin, Honolulu: "The luncheon given to the soldier boys yesterday will live long in their memories if what they say is to be believed. Never in the history of this city has such a display of good feeling been shown as the reception tendered the boys in blue.

The ladies who had charge of the feast have everything to be proud of in the way it was conducted, and had it not been for them the dinner would have been a sorry affair indeed. The help they expected did not materialize and the ladies themselves had to clear off the tables and wash the dishes.

The day began when the soldiers arrived at the grounds about 11:30, from when the feast was in progress and kept up till 5:30. During the whole time there was music either by the Government band or the California band. Special mention must be made of the songs by the Kamehameha boys which were eagerly listened to and loudly applauded by the visitors.

The boys by their orderly behavior and gentlemanly bearing have made a name for themselves in the town, and the Islands have 3000 missionaries who will work for them with the object of annexation.

All day long the rooms of the House of Representatives and the Senate in the Executive building were crowded with men writing letters home. Those who could not find room at the desks and table were stretched out on the floor of the lanai writing.

Many of the men after a ride to Waikiki came back to the grounds to eat again. Nearly every one of them could be seen carrying either a coconut, a pineapple or some other fruit on their way back to the ships. On their arrival at the boats they were ordered to throw away whatever fruit they had. They did so but threw it all on the docks of the vessels, where it was snatched up by companions and secreted.

So ended the day. The committee of ladies were tired but gratified.

NEW YORK NEWSPAPER AMENITIES.

The New York Times of a recent date relates this charming incident: "The Journal has long suspected that news published in its evening edition was utilized by the World as a foundation for home-made 'specials.' In order to settle this matter a plot, really delightful as plots go, was laid and carried out. Taking the four words, 'We pierce the news,' the Journal turned two of them end for end and ran the other two together, making 'Redeem W. Thenuz,' and wrote and printed that this creature of the imagination was an Austrian artillerist of European renown, who had been mortally wounded at Aguadores. Marvelous to relate, the World yesterday morning published a 'Special Cable Dispatch,' dated "On Board the World's Dispatch Boat Three Friends, off Santiago de Cuba, via Port Antonio, Jamaica," which stated: "Col R. W. Thenuz, an Austrian artillerist, well known throughout Europe, who, with Col Ordenz, was defending the land batteries of Aguadores, and the artillery on the road from the latter place to Santiago, was so badly wounded that he has since died."

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY.

Rev. Maron W. Reed of Denver preached a sermon in that city a few Sundays ago and severely criticized the administration, particularly its action in the appointment of army officers and among other things he said: "For some years I have been inclined to apologize for having been born in Vermont—I apologize no longer. Admiral Dewey was born in my neighborhood. I suppose he cut the cable to get rid of the 'committee on strategy' that sits in Washington, composed of a bankrupt mayor, a convicted coward and a proclaimed deserter, and an unknown quantity by the name of Long.

"There are grey headed lieutenants in the regular army, men who have fought Confederates and Indians. Here are little squirts, sons of good men and good presidents promoted over them. This young Logan, who has received an appointment, is the creature who appeared in St. Petersburg with all the medals of his father pinned on his coat. What is the use of talking about equal opportunities in this country."

ADVERTISING ADVICE.

It is an unwise policy for a merchant to abstain from spending fifty dollars for advertising simply because he cannot afford to spend a thousand. It should be remembered that seed will grow just as well when bought in small packages as when bought in bushels, and although the crop will necessarily be much smaller, it will be just as luxuriant. Furthermore, it is far better to have a small crop than none at all.

A new Nicaragua canal bill has been introduced in congress, with a fair prospect, in consequence of the war and the necessity therefore it has developed, of early passage. This is one of the great works which the United States government should undertake at once and steadily prosecute to completion. It would be worth tens of millions annually to the Pacific coast, and would be generally and greatly beneficial to the whole nation.

Since the election the wheat is called a Lieter slump. Before the election, when the wheat gamblers of Chicago were boosting wheat, of which there was none to sell, except on paper, the Oregonian took much political credit for the same. Now it hardly mentions the sad collapse that took the millions of the daring Chicago speculator for partition among his fellow gamblers.

Iowa's liquor law has been declared unconstitutional, which leads the Portland Welcome to remark that it will be a good thing for the state, but this unconstitutional business is overdone; it overthrows the very best of legislation—sometimes, the inheritance tax and income-tax laws, for example. About the only thing that is safe against the legal expounder of the constitution is a trust. That seems to be the most constitutional invention of the age.

There is a penalty attached to greatness. The most trivial circumstances are noticed. The Salem Journal says: "Harvey Scott don't want to be senator. He has taken to wearing a silk hat."

MEXICO.

Impressions by the Way—by Wanderer.

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, June 19, '98. EDITOR GUARD:—I am not going to inflict any guide-booker notes upon you, but will simply tell you of different people I meet, the customs of the country and the odd things that impress me. The trip from California to Mexico was a combination of dust and desert, and when I discovered that I was delayed for four and twenty hours at a little town called Irapuato, I was fairly in despair, speaking no word of Spanish and most anxious to reach my destination and friends. The Pullman conductor was most polite and assured me I would have no trouble and could spend the day eating strawberries, for which the little town is famous. I didn't want strawberries—nothing could console me for having missed connection with the train that should have taken me to Guadalajara. However, when we finally reached Irapuato, I was put in charge of a tall handsome blonde of the opposite sex; in the most cavalier way I was handed over to him like a bunco with the remark "Here, Dick, look after this lady." Dick did not look rejoiced; he loomed up in his shirt sleeves, with wide sombrero, while under his arms was tucked a bundle of towels. He apologized for his get up and said he was going to the baths—gave my hand luggage to a cargadero, a sort of messenger boy, and then stalked silently ahead of me to a quaint looking little inn, directly opposite the railway station. I clung to that young man with fervor; I exerted my best fascinations, for was he not the only thing American in sight? He arranged for my habitation, then telling me that the restaurant was next to the depot he left me to my fate in the person of an Indian woman that he told me was "La Cretura," and I was to ask her for anything I wanted, and the only Spanish I knew was "My own darling I adore you." I felt tempted to call this sentence out to the vanishing form of the aforesaid "Dick," but forbore. Now "Cretura" sounds insulting; imagine our lady help enduring to be called creature.

I spent a long hot Sunday very stupidly in Irapuato; my chief diversion being the trains going by and watching the frantic vendors of fruits, milk and dulces or candies, each vying with the other to get a purchaser, calling out their wares in every tone possible, running whole oxtaves in their excitement, and in their quaint costumes, making a picture of brilliant coloring. Every woman had a rebozo or head covering—it is a narrow shawl of about three yards in length, and one in width, worn over the head, and no matter what the temperature is, the poor woman, a black wool rebozo is the sum total of her happiness. Few attain it in Mexico and content themselves with cotton ones of all shades. The men wear the very tightest trousers imaginable to the human brain, of a peculiar cut, flaring at the heel, and the inevitable sombrero. It quite made me homesick for Eugene to see these high peaked hats with wide brims reminding me forcibly of two of your prominent men that affect that style of head gear in summer time.

Late in the afternoon my blonde giant appeared again to ask if he could be of any service to me, and during the course of a short conversation he discovered I had a corner in Oregon that I call my own and then he was my friend for life. Curiously enough this gentleman was from Cottage Grove and his name is Richard Wilcox. He was desperately glad to see some one from home and he spoke of returning in the spring. He has been most successful in Mexico, speaks Spanish like a native and thinks this is a great country. I am much indebted to him for kind courtesies and I felt when parting from him to proceed farther on my journey that I was leaving another Oregonian—conservative but civil and never intrusive.

The experiences I've had in Guadalajara I will detail in another letter, if you care to hear again from THE WANDERER.

A BORN PRINTER.—From The Dalles Times-Mountaineer: "At 9 o'clock last night, Wm H. Mansfield, foreman in the Times-Mountaineer office, was presented with a bouncing little boy by his better half. The young man is a born printer, and his first call on earth was for copy." Mrs. Mansfield was formerly Miss Etta Owen.

RARE BARLEY.—Farmer Woodcock exhibits some six-rowed barley from his farm, asserting it is a rare growth in barleydom.

AN OUTRAGE.

Eugene Volunteers Examination Postponed to July 13.

When Lieut. Williams received the announcement this morning that Captain Kendall, mustering officer, would not be in Eugene until July 13, he was justly indignant, and his feelings were only intensified by the 50 brave boys who responded to the call for 25 additional men. When Lieut. Williams received the appointment as recruiting officer he immediately went to work and in an incredibly short space of time had his list made up and notified the adjutant that he was ready for the mustering officer. It was expected that examinations would be made and the men mustered in at once, and more than one fellow threw up a good job, and came to Eugene wanting to go to the front. Now after a ten days wait they began to get discouraged, but after this unexplainable news coming today they have just cause to be mad, and a new list may have to be made up by July 13. The boys will have to look around for something to do to exist, as quite a number have practically no money. Citizens of Eugene should see to it that the boys are allowed to suffer for nothing, and it is suggested that a meeting be called for that purpose.

MONDAY, JUNE 27.

WAS EXCITING.—About noon today the business section of the city was thrown into a state of excitement by a runaway. A large bay horse attached to a light buggy came frantically down the street, and seated in the vehicle was a lady tugging at the lines in a vain effort to stop the scared horse. Bicyclists immediately started out to catch them, and Archie Livermore and Joe Matlock succeeded in being first to catch the horse by the bit and controlling him, overtaking him on Fifth street, near Charnell. The occupant of the rig proved to be Mrs. S. J. Pheneger, of Fairmount, who said that a bundle of clothes in a wagon drawn by a Chinaman was the cause of the animal's fright. Mrs. Pheneger was very plucky and when she found it was impossible to check the horse, simply made an effort to keep him going straight and let him run.

FOR SILVER LAKE.—This morning the large sarcophagus monument made by W. W. Martin of this city, to be placed over the common grave of the victims of the Silver Lake holocaust, left Eugene for that place today, going via the military road. The job of hauling the heavy pieces of granite that form the monument is under charge of Chas. Williams, of Silver Lake, a freighter of experience, and it is safe to say he will carry out his part well. Mr. Martin goes over with the monument, and will make the foundation for the monument from stone to be found near Silver Lake. In the due course of time appropriate ceremonies of unveiling will be held.

DIED.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon, Calvin Hanna, aged 22, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin S. Hanna, of this city, died from the result of a severe hemorrhage of the lungs. The young man had been afflicted with tuberculosis for some time and had been gradually declining in health. He had been feeling as well as usual today, but had an unusually severe attack, which he was unable to overcome, and passed away in about three minutes. Arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

TO BE ENLARGED.—The elevator of the Eugene flouring mill is to be increased in capacity to the amount of 10,000 bushels at once. This will give the mill capacity for 100,000 bushels storage.

BRIDGE KNOCKED OUT.—The small gravel bridge across the river, used by teamsters, back of the Eugene flouring mill was struck by a saw log yesterday and knocked out in the first round.

CIRCUIT COURT CASE.—J. D. Matlock has instituted suit in the Lane county circuit court against E. Smith and R. L. McIntire. Judgment is asked for $300.21.

WHEAT SOLD.—David Eby sold his wheat today to the Springfield mill for 51 cents. Quite a fall from 65 cents just before election.

Honolulu Commercial Advertiser, of June 7th: Memorial Day was observed on board the steamships Peking and Australia. Chaplain Gilbert, of Eugene, Oregon, led the services on the Australia.

EUGENE BOY SUCCESSFUL.

Wayne Osburn Wins the Naval Cadetship.

Wayne was born in Eugene and will be sixteen years of age on the 7th of next month. He graduated in the public school and has attended the University for a couple of years. He will leave for Annapolis, Maryland, in a few days to enter the preparatory school at that place, where he will study until the regular examination, the first of September. We predict that Wayne will pass the examinations required, which are very critical, and in future years will do honor to Oregon and himself in the naval department of his country.

HAPPY REUNION.

Rev. G. A. Blair Returns to the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Oregonian June 26. Rev. G. A. Blair, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church on East Twelfth and East Taylor, was present yesterday morning and evening in his pulpit, the first time in five months. At the services there was a large attendance to welcome the pastor back to his work, and make him feel that his congregation had not forgotten him. At the morning service Mr. Blair took occasion to state that he was highly delighted to be present and able to stand again in his pulpit, after an absence of five months from the church. He announced that both himself and his wife had returned to the Portland work in the enjoyment of excellent health, glad to greet their old friends once more. Mr. Blair showed that he had lost none of his vigor, and delivered his morning sermon with great force. The subject of the discourse "Guided by an Unseen Hand," was very appropriate to the occasion, and the congregation felt its force in the closing remarks of the pastor and from the fact that pastor and people had again been reunited after a long separation, after it had appeared that the happy occasion was a long way off.

A DESERVED HONOR.—Rev. Robert Leslie, pastor of the First Baptist church, of this city, has received notice that Temple College, of Pennsylvania, has conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. Temple College is an old educational institution and this year had over three hundred students in attendance.

LOGS ARRIVING.—The run of 1,250,000 logs for the Eugene saw mill are now arriving in the boom at this city. They are the finest lot of logs they ever contracted for.

Modern Treatment of Consumption

The latest work on the treatment of diseases, written by forty eminent American physicians, says: "Cod-liver oil has done more for the consumptive than all other remedies put together." It also says: "The hypophosphites of lime and soda are regarded by many English observers as specific for consumption."

Scott's Emulsion

contains the best cod-liver oil in a partially digested form, combined with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. This remedy, a standard for a quarter of a century, is in exact accord with the latest views of the medical profession. Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion.

JUNCTION FIRE
Joe Sternberg Loses a House—Insurance $400.
Daily Guard, June 26.

About 4 o'clock this morning a residence belonging to Joe Sternberg of Junction caught fire and was totally destroyed. The fire department and citizens turned out but aside from witnessing the pyrotechnic display were unable to do anything.

The generally accredited story of the cause of the blaze is that it was caused by tramps as the residence had been unoccupied for three weeks. Mr. Sternberg carried insurance on the building to the amount of $400 in the Hartford Insurance Co., Wm. Pitney, agent.

The house was the pioneer dwelling of Junction, being moved there from Luncheon when the city was first born. Mr. Sternberg had been leasing the building, but it had been without an occupant for three weeks.

MILK CRUST

When our baby boy was three months old, he had the milk crust very badly on his head, so that all the hair came out, and itched so bad, he made it bleed by scratching it. I got a cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and a box of CUTICURA (ointment). I applied the CUTICURA and put a thin cap on his head, and before I had used half a dozen I had a speedy cure in the milk crust coming to grow out nicely.

Wrecked

Florence West of Friday: Report comes to us that the little sloop Addie, Capt. Lyell, attempted to sail over the bar last Saturday and was blown on the sand spit. Having no anchor and being unable to get a tug to tow her off she was driven farther ashore when the tide raised, and is now a total wreck. No lives were lost. When the crew got to shore they started south on the beach for Rogue river.
