California's First Native Son Gleat Not Upon His Wealth

G E Stowe, the Capital sweep, who has been in the city for some time past is a man with a history that is of interest. Mr Stowe claims to be, and no doubt is, the first white man born in California. His parents came around the Horn with General John Sutter in 1838, arriving in San Francisco bay July, 1838, and went with the general to the present site of Sacramento, where he built a fort.

Mr Stowe was born at the fort in 1840, 50 years ago. According to Mr Stowe's account of his life, his father died in 1873, leaving a fortune of $400 .-600 to three children and the mother The present chimney sweep was somewhat reckless, and soon went through his portion of the estate by riotous living. When his money had vanished, he learned to clean chimneys, and by officers. this calling has accumulated a competency amounting to $19,000 in cash and $20,000 in real estate.

The Native Sons of California looked up Mr Stowe's antecedence, and recently granted him a pension of $50 a month, which he says he receives in quarterly installments. This Mr Stowe is putting away for the future, and he expects to retire to a life of case and comfort this fall.

HOUSE BURNED

Insurance $2,000-

ALBANY, July 7-About 5 o'clock this morning flames were discovered issning from north of the rear of the overa house. They were seen from the depot when the freight arrived, so much start had they gotten, and the whistle of the engine was blown shrilly. It attracted attention down street, and W B Gilson, who lives near the fire bell, and who had arisen rushed response was a prompt one. The whole end of the opera house, Ludwig's tin shop, Beam's grocery store Third-That nothing has been filed and the adjoining warehouse building on the alley, seemed to be in flames at once. Everything was as dry as tinder and burned fast, the fire spreading quickly and it looked as if the citytwas in it for a big conflagration. A stream or two from the hydrant soon began o check the flames and both engines. in a few moments, which seemed much longer had streams playing on the buildings. Good work was then done and after an hour's work only the charred remains of the several frame structures were left of Albany's only opera house, of Beam's grocery store and the little warehouse sheds on the alley were entirely destroyed, also Ludwig's tinshop and the warehouse on the alley in which F E Allen & Co had twenty or thirty stoves and other hings belonging to their business stored, and which were all destroyed.

Our citizens did spiendid work in removing goods and the entire stock of goods of O A Beam was saved in good condition.
