CUSTOM HOUSE Will Be Established at Santiago.

Port Will Be Opened For Commerce Tomorrow.

UNCLE SAM AFTER REVENUE

Artillery Leaves For Porto Rico. Special to the Guard.

WASHINGTON, July 18th, 1:20 p m—The announcement is made today that an office of collector of customs will be established at the port of Santiago tomorrow. The port then will be regularly opened to commerce on the same basis as the ports on the American coast. Financially this move will be of considerable benefit, as this will be the only city on the Cuban coast open to the commerce of the world.

Advices from Shafter state that two regiments of artillery left Santiago this morning. They will begin active work, aided by the navy, in bombarding cities where it is expected to land the army.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18—It has been definitely decided that three transports will leave this week for Manila.

A Close Call.

The Florence West of July 15 says: "While working in V Gurney's logging camp on North Fork Wednesday Joe Whisman Jr, met with an accident that came near resulting seriously.

"He and Mr Gurney had cut a tree which fell up hill striking another in such a way as to cause it to swing around then slide end foremost, down the hill. Whisman was struck by the end as it slid and pushed about ten feet, then pinned between it and another log. Fortunately the log stopped without crushing him, though it took Gurney and George Glover about half an hour to get him out. One foot was bruised considerably, the shoe being torn all to pieces. He will be able to be around again in a few days."

The Bushnell Damage Case.

Portland Telegram, Saturday: "The case of C A Bushnell against Sheriff Rhy and A K Jones, of Union county, is on trial today before Judge Bellinger. Bushnell was in debt to Jones, and claims the latter, to get him to Oregon, caused a warrant for larceny to be issued against the plaintiff. On being presented before a court of justice Bushnell was acquitted, and now demands $20,000 damages for false imprisonment and the injury to his reputation. The case commenced yesterday, has continued all day and will probably not be decided before Monday."

From LaGrande notes in Sunday Oregonian: "Miss Anna Sovereign, who spent the past three months here, has returned to her home at Eugene."

TALKS FOR OREGON.

T D Rowland Tells Texans of Our Country.

The following extract from a letter received by H W Rowland, of the GUARD, from his brother T D Rowland, now president of the National Commercial and Normal College at Wolfe City, Texas, shows that native Oregonians never forget their state nor tire in sounding its praises:

"I appreciate your kindness in sending me the GUARD. It is read by several people who contemplate moving to Oregon. I am questioned often about the west and if the emigration board would place in my hands some Oregon wheat and other specimens an confident in my travels in this country in the interest of my school I could send some people that would make you good citizens. There is a man here in Wolfe City going to Oregon this fall to locate who is well-to-do. I have talked Lane county to him and he expects to go direct to Eugene."

Justice's Court.

Merton Boddy Fined $25 for Petit Larceny.

The trial of Merton Boddy held Saturday afternoon and evening in Justice Wintermeier's court resulted in the young man being fined $25, and in default of payment will spend twelve and one-half days in jail. Youth Boddy was convicted of the theft of a bicycle on July 4. The jury recommended the offender to the mercy of the court, and the fine given was the lowest allowed by the statutes for such an offense.

Deputy Attorney Harris conducted the case on behalf of the state and Attorneys Kissinger and Williams for the defendant. The jury was composed of E Whattam, T M Renshaw, J M Martin, F P Close, B Beeler and A W Blanton.

Melted His Nuggets.

The Salt Lake Herald of Tuesday last says:
"The Heppner, the owner and discoverer of the Great Northern mine in Grant county, Oregon, who was a delegate to the mining congress last week, and who had a magnificent display of native gold at the mineral exhibition will return home this morning. The quartz exhibited at the display has been reduced and the metal melted, and Mr Guker realized therefrom about $3000."

Great Northern Mine.

The Heppner Times says the Great Northern nugget gold mine was discovered by Isaac Guker Sept 24, 1896. The first gold taken out to speak of was during the month of May, 1897, when $300 was taken out of a pocket; during October, 1897, $1,700 was taken out of another pocket on the same vein; in February, 1898, about $5,000 in nuggets was taken from the same seam; in March the same year, $3,000 more was extracted, and in May $2,000 more came out, in which was one nugget weighing over four pounds and valued at $946.43; many pieces running from $5 to $200 came out. In all over $14,000 has been taken from the claim to date.

STERLING MINE CLOSED DOWN
Oregon Mining Journal: The Sterling mine, on Sterling Creek, Jackson County, closed down June 30. The fine water supply of this company enabled them to run some time after all other hydraulic mines in that section were closed. Henry Ankeny who is in charge of the mine, is getting things ready for the clean-up and Vin Cook will go out to assist in a few weeks. It will take about 20 men some six or eight weeks to clean up, as there are three or four acres of bedrock to go over carefully besides the sluices, in order that all the gold may be secured.

EUROPEAN HOSPITAL.—Mrs Dr Billington, of the Eugene hospital, reports that three patients from Albany and McMinnville will arrive next week, and be quartered at the hospital while receiving treatment from Eugene physicians. The institution has great possibilities ahead of it and citizens should give it every encouragement.

The State Teachers' Association will be held at Newport, commencing July 27th.

SANTIAGO IS OURS. The Stars and Stripes Hoisted Over the Town.

Spaniards Sacked the Town. A Representative Suits Eugene.

Daily Guard, July 19
Last week the GUARD copied an article from the Gazette of Corvallis, stating that a proposition was on foot to build an electric line from that city to Eugene.

Yesterday Fred Blumhart, of Corvallis, representing the capitalists who suggested the feasibility of the road, came up to Eugene to look over the field and confer with our business men. Without exception he found that all appreciate the possibilities of a line of transportation through this territory, and that they stand ready to further the project.

Mr Blumhart visited Springfield this morning for the purpose of inspecting the water power at that place and was more than satisfied with the result of his visit.

He found that at least 200 horse power could be secured there, and more if necessary, giving assurance of the "juice" force needed to operate the road. In addition to this water power can be secured at Eugene and Monroe.

Mr Blumhart is not yet fully advised as to the intention of the capitalists who have the investment in view. He is simply feeling the pulse of the business communities interested and will report the result of his interviews to them together with statistics such as he is able to gather. A return letter from them will more fully advise him of their intentions and he can then act with better knowledge of their desires.

The capitalists viewing the matter are from Philadelphia, one of them being a brother-in-law of Mr Blumhart, and in 1893, considered the matter at present in hand, but the death of one of their number, and the stagnating effects of the "hard times" forced the proposition from their further consideration. The prospects of a revival of business on the Pacific coast, now give them an impetus to again urge the matter forward.

As Mr Blumhart understands the intentions of the men, it is to run a line from Corvallis to Monroe, and from there to either Smithfield or Elmira, thence direct to Eugene, and probably Springfield. In the line for extension would be a branch from Elmira to Lorne, Eugene to Coburg, and a local line in Eugene, going as far as Meriau's park or to Irving.

President F M Wilkins of the Eugene board of trade, has the matter in hand, and will call a meeting some time this week to secure a general opinion from business men and shippers. The importance of the road should so impress itself upon the community that a large attendance will result.

It is predicted that when the company is in position to talk business they will find Eugene and her people ready to lend every assistance to the enterprise.

SHATTER'S OFFICIAL REPORT.

BRYAN'S REGIMENT.

Started From Omaha Last Night For the War.
OMAHA, July 19.—It was long after 7 o'clock tonight when the last train bearing Col. W J Bryan and his regiment, the Third Nebraska volunteers, pulled away from the switch near Fort Omaha. The cars were not provided on time, and there was still further delay in getting the supplies and equipments on board. It had been widely advertised that the soldiers would start at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and when that hour arrived a crowd had gathered in the vicinity of the fort. The wait in the hot sun proved too much for all but a few of the most enthusiastic, however, and when the troop train finally got away tonight, there were, but a few persons to bid them God-speed. Though Colonel Bryan was sorely tried by the unexpected delay, he went away to war quietly and orderly, and very much as if he had been fighting all his life.
