Notice to Patrons.

Having lately joined the Oregon & Washington Department Store Cash Buyers Union, which meets in Portland twice a year to receive propositions for furnishing thirty-two (32) stores (mine, by the way, is one of the smallest) in this district. The combined amount of goods bought at our last meeting was over $1,000,000. The terms being as the title of the above association indicates, SPOT CASH.

You may well judge that the manufacturers, not only of the United States, but the world as well, did some lively scrambling to sell this amount of goods for cash.

After interchanging the experiences and views of all the members of the union, 32 in number, some of whom have been in business for many years, we feel sure that, combined as we are, we can buy goods from 10 to 25 per cent cheaper than the ordinary country store could possibly buy them, which places each and every one of our members on an equal footing with the largest DEPARTMENT STORES in the country, none of whom buy as much as our combined Union does.

We have been running NEARLY A Cash Store, but in the future we intend to make it positively so. Not 5 cents worth of goods will leave the store without the Cash, under any circumstances. There will positively be only ONE PRICE AND ONE CONDITION on which goods will be sold from this store hereafter, and any employee who varies from the above will lay himself liable to discharge.

We, and no doubt you, formerly thought we were selling goods cheap (and we were), but from this on we will surprise you in all lines of goods, as we will give you the benefit of the 10 to 25 per cent discount for which we can now buy goods. We will sell for cash only, and on a very small margin, but PLEASE do not ask for credit. We will in the future issue no due bills, but pay you the cash for what we buy of you. If your produce is not worth the cash we don't want it.

We have entered a large and well selected line of HOSIERY, GENTS' CLOTHING, OVERSHIRTS, HATS, CHILDREN'S and MEN'S CLOTHING, MACINTOSHES, UMBRELLAS, besides a large and complete stock of SHOES, GLASSWARE, GRANITEWARE, TINWARE, GROCERIES, TOBACCOS, QUEENSWARE, Wooden and Willow ware and NOVELTIES.

Trusting that our new mode of doing business will meet with your approval and that you will call and investigate for yourselves, which will convince you that our PRICES are BY FAR THE LOWEST and our GOODS THE BEST SELECTED in the valley.

I remain yours most obediently,

ANOTHER GUN ACCIDENT

Barney Paine Gets a 22 Calibre Bullet in His Hip.

Barney Paine, 32, of the Oregon Artillery, was shot in the hip by a 22 calibre bullet while practicing with a target rifle, 22 calibre, while Mr. Paine was behind the target, supposing he had stepped aside. The bullet entered the fleshy portion of Mr. Paine's right hip. He had Dr. Kuykendall probe for the bullet but he did not find it, although the probe entered the wound about two and one half inches. It is a flesh wound and will probably not give Mr. Paine any trouble.

Of course the accident was unavoidable and Mr. Donaldson is quite sorry.

Prof McAlister Writes Concerning Mount St. Helens.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Aug. 15, 1898. Mr. M. W. Gorman, Secretary Mazamas, Portland, Oregon.—Dear Sir: I herewith transmit to you a report upon my observations relative to the altitude of Mount St. Helens. I also made observations at several points in the vicinity of the mountain, and the computed altitudes will be found below, the instrumental outfit having been furnished by the Govt. Weather Bureau. I expect to make a further report to the proper officials, discussing various theoretical and technical questions which have arisen during the process of reducing the observations, but the present report includes all the facts of general interest.

Very respectfully,
E. H. McALISTER.
REPORT.

PARTY AND OUTFIT.

Owing to delays encountered by the Mazamas on the way to the mountain, I found it necessary to proceed in advance of the main party, in order to make the observations at the time agreed upon beforehand with the base stations. My immediate party consisted of Mr. H. C. Ansley, Mr. Charles R. Frazier, Mr. C. C. Shafford and myself.

The instrumental outfit comprised two standard mercurial barometers, mountain pattern, manufactured by Green, and a pair of wet and dry bulb thermometers, all furnished by the Govt. Weather Bureau. The barometers were compared with Mr. Paine's standard at Portland both before leaving and after returning, and were found not to have suffered injury during the trip.

THE OBSERVATIONS.

The hypsometric party arrived at the summit of St. Helens about 3 p.m., July 19th, Pacific standard time. The instruments were immediately set up and allowed to stand until 4 o'clock, when readings were made. At 4:30 readings were again taken, and owing to the condition in which we found the instruments, it was not thought advisable to remain longer on the summit. A moderate wind blew steadily from a little south of west during the entire stay on the summit, so that the temperature obtained (31° F. for the dry bulb, and 28° F. for the wet bulb), were doubtless those of the free air, not much altered by contact with the mountain—a very important consideration in barometric work. The mean of the four barometer readings, two for each instrument, gave a pressure of 29.975 inches. Corresponding observations were made hourly during the entire day by the U. S. Weather Bureau observers at Portland, Seattle, Fort Canby, Spokane, Walla Walla and Baker City. A glance at the map will show that these six stations completely surround the mountain, so that the vitiating effects of barometric and temperature gradients are almost wholly eliminated. The barometer fell continuously all day at each of the base stations, and a slight fall was noted at the summit during the interval between observations, so that there probably was no abnormal disturbance of the atmosphere anywhere within the region, and the results should be correspondingly reliable. The observations at the base stations, reduced to sea level, gave a mean barometer pressure of 29.933 inches, and a mean temperature of 66° 7 F. This temperature combined with that at the summit, gave for the mean temperature of the whole atmospheric column from base to summit, 48° 8 F.

LIST OF ALTITUDES.

The following list gives the designation of all points at which observations were made, with the computed altitude of each above sea level:

Summit of St. Helens.....9,739

Level Plateau.....4533

Timber line.....4365

Green Buttes Camp.....4092

Echo Lake, water level.....1476

The level plateau mentioned above is on the western side of the mountain; the trail leading up from Green Buttes Camp skirts along the southern edge of the plateau. The timber line is of course not a specific point, but an average of the highest trees on the south and west sides of the mountain was taken. The three buttes to the west of the plateau have an altitude very near that of the timber line. Echo Lake is known locally as Trout Lake.

PREVIOUS ESTIMATES.

The estimate of the altitude of St. Helens accepted by the government and published in Gannett's Dictionary of altitudes, is 9,750 feet, which slightly exceeds my estimate. I am informed that Col. Elliott, formerly stationed at Vancouver barracks, has estimated the altitude at 8,000 feet. It is quite impossible to reconcile the pressure and temperature given above with such an estimate. It is beyond question more than a thousand feet too low.

THE OREGON TROOPS.

The Incident of the Officers Who Overstayed Their Leave.

100 MEN SICK.

Martin J. Egan, the correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle, who is at Manila, in the interest of his paper, sends the following, dated Cavite, July 14 which came via Victoria, and appeared in the "Chronicle" of the 13th inst:

The brigade of General Anderson, honored with the selection as the first American troops to invade the Philippine Islands. It has been hard work to house, feed and discipline 2500 men, the majority of whom are untrained in the serious phases of war and it has not been accomplished without friction.

The Oregon volunteers have been the greatest transgressors, and their actions have called for the strongest criticism. In the original assignment of quarters the staff of the Second Oregon was directed to take possession of a small building just outside of the gate of the arsenal and in front of the general group of buildings to which the men of the regiment were apportioned. A board of officers of the regiment declared that the quarters were not in a sanitary condition. Colonel Summers approved the report and the staff proceeded at once to occupy dryer and more comfortable quarters inside of Fort St. Philip.

All this was done without reference to brigade headquarters, and when news of it got there considerable surprise and some indignation at the failure of the Oregon officers to obey orders were expressed. The Oregonians had erred thoughtlessly, and when warned that there might be trouble they moved back to the old quarters. General explanation followed, the plan to have an official inquiry was abandoned and later the Oregon officers were given better quarters in St. Philip fort.

The incident was still under discussion when four Oregon officers, Captain H. L. Heath, A. F. Prescott and H. L. Wells and Lieutenant G. G. Teller, were given permission to visit the rebel lines, and over stayed their leave. They managed to go as far as the Pasig river, at a point perhaps ten miles to the rear of Manila, and where very likely saved from further humiliation than two days' confinement in their quarters by the fact that they gained much valuable information.

The party left Cavite on Sunday, July 10th under the guidance of Colonel Arevalo of General Aguinaldo's staff. Their failure to return that night was generally remarked, but when Company M of the Second Oregon turned out the following morning without a single commissioned officer, their absence was generally noted. By Monday night it was concluded that they had been either shot or captured.

The party finally appeared on Tuesday morning. They were asked for an explanation for their prolonged absence and declared that they had been deceived as to the distance, and that when they started to return on Monday night were driven back to Parangue by a gale. They were ordered to their quarters by Colonel Summers and kept there until late the following day. They brought back valuable information, and that no doubt was deemed as extenuating to General Anderson, who was inclined to make light of the whole affair. The number of sick is rapidly diminishing, the use of local fruit and swimming having been stopped. There are practically none sick in the First California and less than 100 among the Oregon men.

STREAMBOATS NEEDED.

A Farmer, Jasper Wilkins, Talks to Our Citizens.

HE MEANS BUSINESS.

CONRO, Aug. 15, 1898.

TO THE BUSINESS MEN OF EUGENE AND SURROUNDING COUNTRY:—

There has been and is yet, a clamor for cheaper transportation to and from Portland. There has been talk for years of building a steamboat to navigate the Willamette. But what was everybody's business was nobody's. And again, the Southern Pacific, with the influence of some of its heavy shippers, have discouraged the idea of building a steamboat to run on account of the shallow water on the riffles, even with the assistance of a tug boat and an appropriation from Congress to put in wing dams. But it has been demonstrated to a certainty that steamboat navigation can be made a success. Today, while crossing the river at Eugene, I saw the skeleton of a boat well under way, something like 125 feet long by 25 or 30 feet wide. This is the effort of a few enterprising citizens, who have the interests of Eugene and Lane county at heart, with Captain Gray as the prime mover and the largest stockholder. The shares are fixed at $5 each, so that everyone can take a few shares and assist in this enterprise.

Now what is wanted, is at least two boats of this kind, to carry or assist in carrying the large amount of tonnage we have to send from this county and the large amount of groceries, hardware, machinery, etc., we have to bring to this section and which are used and consumed here.

There is not one-half subscribed to do what is wanting to be done. I have nothing to ship, but will take 20 shares for $100. However, I want to see some of the business men of Eugene, sign more liberally; new names added to the list, and some that have signed can well afford to double their number of shares.

If the boats are built, owned and controlled in Lane county, we will have cheaper freights. Something must be done. We have been asking Congress for the past ten years to work on the river. The government has needed. Now let the people move in the matter of building boats and show our Congressmen and Senators that we appreciate what has already been done.

You all remember the war with Spain was retarded for want of more vessels of the right kind. Why not profit by the experience of the nation and get our boats ready for a war in freight rates. That is sure if we do or not.

NEW RATES.

Southern Pacific to Put in Special Rates on Saturday.

The Southern Pacific passenger department is at work on new rates. These rates will become effective by Saturday. They will be one and one-fifth fares for the round trip for all points within a radius of from 100 to 150 miles of Portland, and within a return limit fixed for Monday. These will enable residents of outside towns to remain in Portland over Sunday.

The object of making a one and one-fifth fare rate—or rather the adding of the fraction, is to protect tickets, so far as possible, from the scalpers.

BIG FIRE AT LAFAYETTE

Flouring Mill, Elevator and Considerable Grain Destroyed.

Lafayette, Or., Aug. 16.—The flouring mill at this place was destroyed by fire this morning at 2 o'clock with 100 barrels of flour and several tons of feed. The fire started in the second story of the mill and was well under way when discovered. The flames soon spread to the elevator and destroyed it. The elevator contained 5000 bushels of this year's crop of wheat. The total loss is about $30,000, with only $5000 insurance on the mill.

GOOD NEWS.

Walter Shelley Tel-ographs His Eyes Are Much Better.

SEVERAL CASES BACK.

We find the following dispatch in today's Oregonian:

"San Francisco, Aug. 17.—The Australia brought back the following soldiers, who were discharged for sickness: G. P. Brown, Company G, Second Oregon volunteers, Portland, heart trouble; Sergeant C. A. Bort, Company K, Second Oregon volunteers, Salem, deafness; William Wann, Company B, Second Oregon volunteers, consumption; William Dye, Company K, Second Oregon, epilepsy; W. J. Shelley, Company C, Second Oregon, Eugene, partial blindness."

J. M. Shelley received a dispatch from his son, this morning. It announced his arrival in San Francisco on the steamship Australia and stated that his eyes were considerably improved and that he hoped to receive his discharge soon and return to Eugene.

Every citizen of Eugene and Lane county will hail with gladness this piece of news, as it probably means the young man's entire recovery.

I Am Here.

All the time carrying a fairly good assortment of musical instruments upon which I pay taxes. I will sell you such pianos as the Steinway, Kimball, Weber, Haines Bros, Emerson, Whitney, Hinz, Smith & Barnes-Schubert, Kingsbury, etc., and such organs as the Kimball, Bently, Putnam, Miller and Chicago Cottage. Surely any one could be satisfied in such a line as that, and prices, well say! I can and will undersell any outside competitor. This is no idle boast. I can give you as good terms as any body and if any outsider that has high rents and traveling expenses, hotel and whiskey bills to pay makes a sale in this town he will have to do it without any profit if you will only come and see me before he "ropes you in." I buy my bread and butter here from you all the time. A Spaniard might patronize these traveling fakirs, but a white man with his own interests at stake, surely never.
