SPRINGFIELD FIRE

Two Buildings Burned and Others Narrowly Escaped.

Hard Fight to Save Property.

Daily Guard Sept 7
About 4 o'clock this morning, fire was discovered in a billiard hall and barber shop at Springfield, conducted by G. S. Keck, and before the flames were controlled considerable damage was done.

The fire department of Springfield, and most of the citizens promptly turned out and with the assistance of one hand engine did what they could to save property.

Keck's property was a total loss and the building in which it was located, as well as the one adjacent, both owned by Washburn & Sons, were destroyed. The other building, formerly occupied by Chessman & Beatty was being used by Washburn & Sons as a storage house for sacks, etc, but the contents were saved.

Directly east and across the street is located W. W. Chessman's store with the postoffice and but for prompt measures taken they would have gone up in the flames. As it was the walls were badly scorched and at one time during the progress of the fire Postmaster Chessman commenced moving the postoffice from the building.

Adjacent to the burnt buildings was the residence of Ira Young, owned by B. C. Dunm of this city, and like the postoffice and store was saved only by the merest good luck, coupled with hard work of the people.

The fire started in the billiard hall, and was caused by a lighted cigarette igniting the sawdust in a spitbox. It is not known whether there was any insurance on the destroyed buildings. The billiard hall and barber shop were owned by Jack Craig and G. S. Keck. The loss is complete and there is supposed to be no insurance.

NOTES
A hack and 30 bales of sacks belonging to Washburn & Sons were saved from one of the buildings.

Keck's stock consisted of candies, nuts and cigars.

Craig lost the entire outfit of his barber shop. Supplies chair, etc.

Grain Crop Burned
A Junction dispatch of yesterday says: The Lirwell brothers, farmers near here, lost about 700 bushels of threshed grain by fire this afternoon. They were burning a slash in the field where the grain was stacked and the fire spread on the stubble.

THE MANILA BATTLE.

A Personal Experience Graphically Related by Creed Hammond.

A STORY WELL TOLD.

The following letter was written by Creed Hammond, a sergeant in Company I, First Nebraska Infantry, to his mother, Mrs. F. A. Rankin, in this city. It is the first personal experience of the Manila battle yet received and is of interest in showing how the boys behaved under fire.

Sergeant Hammond can be pardoned for "blowing his own horn" as the letter would indicate, for this narrative shows that his comrades honor him, and he takes a pardonable pride in conveying this pleasing information to his mother in a private letter:

CAMP DEWEY, MANILA, Philippines, Aug. 6, 1898.
MY DEAR MOTHER:—I just came in from the trenches around Manila, and we are told that we can mail a letter in one hour, so you see we have lots of time to write.

Saturday morning, July 30, my regiment went in the intrenchments before the Spanish army. We had not been in fifty minutes, when the bloody Spaniards opened fire on the intrenchments on our right. My company was stationed in the rear to cut off stragglers and as a reserve.

Two cross fires swept my company, and we could not see anything for the bamboo hedges. My company had two outposts between us and the firing line about three hundred yards apart, and I was in charge of the outposts and had started to visit them when the battle began. When the first shot whistled past me I dodged and hardly knew what to think. The bullets and shell came so thick, that it literally rained. I went into the first outpost and gave them their orders, and when I came out I passed a detachment of a Colorado company and one of them was shot through the left arm just as I passed. I then went on towards the last outpost. I was carrying my rifle in my right hand, and a bullet struck the top of the stock and scratched the barrel. I gained the farthest outpost without further mishap; the outposts were belted strong barricades and almost artillery proof. The men were as white as sheets when I came in; they thought that I would surely be struck, marching 500 yards through a very heavy fire. I do not see myself how I escaped. All I hear in the company is Hammond's bravery.

The Captain and 1st Sergeant were completely unstrung when the firing commenced; they broke away and ran behind some trees. I had to manage the company, make the details and all reconnoitering patrols.

Sunday morning, July 31, 2 batteries 34 U. S. Artillery and the 10th Penn., (eight companies) relieved us from the trenches, being on at 24 hours.

About fifteen minutes before twelve p. m., July 31st, the Spaniards made a bold attack on the right wing of the Pennsylvania line.—The under brush is very thick and in most places there are dense growths of bamboo and other trees.

The firing was terrific; the Spaniards estimated at 3000 or more attacked first with shot and shell, then an infantry movement. It was only two miles from our camp to the firing line. The noise of rifle firing was very heavy, and we had a call to arms blown. A courier came in for reinforcements and the 1st California was sent to them. Their first company lost their 1st sergeant killed, as did one of their lieutenants and a piece of his skull knocked out and is not expected to live, and they had eight others wounded.

There are two light batteries of Utah artillery here, and they had two of their guns, (3, 2 in., R fire) along our line; the Spaniards advanced on them three times, and were driven back. The Utah men fired their cannon nine times in one minute, using shrapnel explosive.

At one time the Spaniards were so close that they cut the fuse to explode at 75 yards. If it had not been for the McKeanie, twenty five acres good ground, fine modern house elegant view, very healthy, church and sea cool near by. IN Green box 477 or Hoffman House.

A SMALL BLAZE.

J. M. Shelley's Barn Destroyed by Fire.
Daily Guard, Sept 7
J. M. Shelley's barn burned this afternoon at 4:10 o'clock. Loss about $75. It is unknown how it caught, but several children were playing about it today. Only a few tons of hay were in the barn.

The shingles on the barn residence caught fire but it was extinguished. The fire department did good work.

Manila Notes.

From letters received today: Charles Griffin has been elected a corporal. He drills the eight tallest men.

All the officers and privates are eager to return to the United States. However they expect to stay until next July.

The health of the boys is excellent. The letters nearly all speak kindly of Captain Moon.

The Surprise of All.

Mr James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with a gripe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Co. den and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from the first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at Wilkins & Linn's drug store.

THE EXTRA SESSION

The Proclamation of Governor Lord In Full.

SECRETARY KINCAID BUSY.

The following is the proclamation: STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, September 6, 1898. WHEREAS, matters of vital importance to the people of the State of Oregon seem to require the convening of the legislative assembly in special session.

Now, therefore, I, Wm. P. Lord, by virtue of the authority in me vested as Governor of the State of Oregon, do hereby direct the convening of the two houses of the legislative assembly of the State of Oregon, in special session, at the State Capitol, in Salem, on Monday, September 26, 1898, at 10 o'clock a. m., of which all who shall, at that time, be entitled to act as members of said body, are hereby required to take notice.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Oregon, this 6th day of September, A. D. 1898. WM. P. LORD, Governor.

Attest: H. R. KINCAID, Sec. of State. Salem Journal: "When asked concerning the specific objects of the extra session, and the work expected to be done by it, Governor Lord would make no statement, but said that his official message to the assembled legislators would be the only message he had to give out. His Excellency's mind had for some time been made up to call an extra session, and it is the general belief that the main objects of the same will be to elect a United States senator and make appropriations to take up the interest bearing warrants.

"Secretary Kincaid was seen, and was overwhelmed with work preparing for the coming event. It will require much work to get everything in readiness and provide the necessary supplies. Considerable of the stationery and supplies bought for the last regular session is still unused, and enough will be bought to complete the list. Matters will be lively from now on, and great things are expected. The extra session can last but twenty days."

To Dig the Nicaraguan Canal.
The war with Spain has demonstrated the importance of a short route between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. By digging a canal a few miles long at the Isthmus of Panama, thousands of miles of travel can be saved. At the present time ships must go around South America. A short route is always an advantage. It saves time and money. The journey from sickness to health can be quickly made at moderate cost by taking Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. While its action in disorders like constipation, biliousness, indigestion, fever and ague and general weakness is quick, still it does not force a cure. It gives that assistance in carrying off the waste matter that nature occasionally needs. It makes the stomach well.

Die.
Thomas Sutherland died at Thurston on Sunday evening, Sept 4 1898. He was a private patient under the care of Dr B. F. Russell. When brought there he was suffering from erysipelas in both legs and dropsy. He was improving nicely, and was expecting soon to return to his parents home at Glentena. While sitting at table Saturday noon he was suddenly struck with paralysis of the left side, and soon was speechless. At 9 p m Saturday evening he passed into a stupor which continued until Sunday evening, when death took place. He was 36 years of age; unmarried. His mother and sister arrived from Glentena Tuesday evening. He was buried at Mount Vernon Cemetery on Wednesday. Rev. M. L. Rose preached the funeral sermon, assisted by Rev. M. Green of Washington. S. B.

THE JUNCTION ACCIDENT.
The Corvallis Times Has a Full Account.

Wednesday's Corvallis Times: "At his home in Lane county, located about four miles west of Junction, Elmer Samuels, formerly of Corvallis, lies dangerously injured, hanging by a mere thread between life and death. Gathered at his bedside are his wife and his children, his mother, hastily summoned by telegraph from Portland, and other relatives, all prepared for the worst, hoping—against hope that it may not come, but expectant and prepared for every emergency.

"Mr Samuels is the victim of a threshing accident. It happened about noon Sunday, and from that time up to yesterday morning the injured man had been constantly unconscious. The threshing outfit with which Mr Samuels had been working lacked but a little of concluding the season's run and was engaged Sunday morning in threshing out the last little field of grain. The straw was being cleared away from the machine in the old fashioned way with horse and straw buck. Mr Samuels was working near the end of the rail, both ends of which were attached by ropes to the tugs of the harness worn by the straw horse. The horse started away from the machine and suddenly the rope slipped from one end of the straw rail. The end of the latter flew back with great force, and struck Mr Samuels a terrible blow on the head. The force of the blow threw Mr Samuels backward several feet, and he fell limp and apparently lifeless. He was picked up and though restoratives were applied he failed to regain the use of his mental faculties. A physician was summoned, and so soon as the desperate character of the case was discovered another was sent for and the two are now in attendance. All near relatives were notified by wire, and his mother went up from Portland on Sunday evening's overland train. The character of the injuries sustained was not learned. Though hoping for the best, all familiar with the circumstances are filled with alarm over the question of what the outcome will be."
