It was held in the college and the large assembly hall was completely filled every hour of the session by an intelli-gent audience of ladies and gentlemen fir logs delivered at the saw mill at and marketing of Oregon fruis. The animated discussion brought out much that was of value to all fruit growers. There were valuable papers rend shedding light on the topics of discussion. Mr and Mrs J H Montieth, as members, were in attendance, Mr Montieth being called upon to lead in the discussion of fruit evaporation and marketing-on which he had a paper containing many valuable facts and suggestions that were appreciated and well received.

Samples of evaporated fruit were placed on exhibition by Mr Monteith that were considered very fine having been evaporated without lye dip, or other adulteration. Mrs Monteith pro-duced a number of boxes of crystallized fruit of different varieties that attract ed much at en ion and were highly appreciated by the members, especially so by the lastics present.
