HELPLESS CHINESE

PEKING, March 8.—The Italian minister reports an insult the manner in which the Chinese foreign office has treated Italy's demand for a cooling station at San Man bay, and a rupture of diplomatic relations between Italy and China is probable.

RUSSIA WANTS MORE.
It is believed Russia has reiterated her protest against the British railroad loan, in order to make the contract ground for complaint against the Chinese and thus seek compensation, territorial or otherwise.

GREAT BRITAIN'S IRON HAND.
PEKING, March 8.—Sir Claude McDonald, the British minister, has informed the Chinese foreign office that any attempt to repudiate the railway contract will be regarded as a breach of faith meriting retributive measures. [At the same time the minister recalled Lord Salisbury's assurance of support for China if any other power attempted to force her to repudiate her contract.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. Sons of Laborers Who Want to Become Students Cannot Secure Landing.

San Francisco Evening Post, March 8.
An important Chinese decision was rendered this morning by the United States circuit court of Appeals which will have considerable weight in preventing the illegal landing of Chinese into the United States. The decision, which was written by Judge Morrow and concurred in by the other judges, was in the case of the United States as plaintiff in error versus Chu Chee and Chu How, defendants in error.

The two Chinese are under age and arrived at Port Townsend in May, 1896. Their father was a laundryman in Eugene, Oregon, at that time and when the boys arrived they presented a certificate from the American consul at Hong Kong stating that they were born in China, but that their father was bringing them to America for the purpose of having them educated in the English schools.

The boys did not present any other certificates entitling them to land. The collector of the port allowed them to land, and the boys were put into the state schools of Oregon.
On April 20, 1898, two years after they landed, the boys were arrested and charged with being illegally in the country.

The United States district court for the district of Oregon heard the case and decided that the boys were students and belonged to the exempt class, and denied the application that they be deported. The government thereupon appealed the case to the United States circuit court of appeals.

Judge Morrow, in an elaborate review of the case, defines the various intentions of the Chinese exclusion laws. He holds that at the time the boys were allowed to land they presented a certificate of a consul which had no value in the eyes of the law. The boys did not produce a certificate under Section 6 of the act of 1892, which is required in order to show that the bearer and applicant for landing belongs to the exempt class.

"The landing of the defendants was unlawful and they cannot purge themselves of their offense by assuming the occupation of members of the privileged classes, and establish their right to remain by proof of that character."

"But not only did the defendants fail to show that their entry into and residence in the United States was lawful and under a certificate showing that they belonged to a privileged class, but it appears affirmatively that they were at that time the minor children of a Chinese laborer, and that they are still minors. The status of the defendants, under the laws, was that of the father. The policy of the exclusion acts is to prohibit the entry into the United States of the entire class of Chinese laborers as a class.

"The defendants belonged to that class upon their arrival in this country, and they so continued up to the time of their arrest; and, not having the certificate as required by Section 6 of the act of May 6, 1892, as amended by the act of November 3, 1893, they were not entitled to remain in the United States and should have been deported."

The judgment of the district court is reversed and a mandate will issue that the defendants be deported.

A number of attorneys who are considered authorities on the Chinese exclusion laws stated today that it will be possible for the two boys to return to this country and secure landing without any difficulty by securing from the Chinese government and the American consul at Hong Kong "Section 9" certificates that they are students and prove the same by the fact that they have attended the schools in this country.

SKIPPED OUT.
The two Chinese lads, who have been in this city, quietly skipped out last night and no trace of them was found during the day. Their attorneys in the effort to prove a right to remain are Thayer, St Rainer, and Schaubel, of Portland, and Geo W Kinsey, of Eugene.

Wide Tire Law.

The clause in the new law to encourage the use of wide tires on Oregon highways is as follows:
"That from and after the first day of January, A D 1900, the county court or county board of each county within the state is hereby authorized to make a rebate each year, for four years, on the road tax of each person within its county who shall own and have in habitual use on the highways of state, wagons or other vehicles for the transportation of freight and other heavy articles, the tires of which are not less than three inches in width, of $1 for each wheel of such vehicle; and, provided further, that the owner of each vehicle having tires of not less than four inches in width, upon which there is a difference of at least eight inches in the length of the front and rear axle, so constructed that the front and rear wheels will not come in contact with the same road surface while the vehicle is moving in a straight line, shall receive, in addition to the aforesaid rebate, for four years in his or her road tax as aforesaid, of $2 for each vehicle of this class for each and every year during said period that said vehicle is habitually used upon the highways of this state."

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at Wilkins & Linn's Drug Store.

Improved Train Service.
Effective Feb. 12th, the Northern Pacific will inaugurate double train service between Portland and all points East. Trains will leave Portland at 11:30 a m and 11 p m, daily. These trains will both be first class and fully equipped in every respect, heated by steam, vestibuled, standard Pullman and tourist sleeping, dining cars and colonist sleepers, which renders the service now offered by the Northern Pacific unequalled by any other transcontinental line. The only line to the Buffalo Hump territory. See that your tickets read via the Northern Pacific to all points East and South. Hugh Thompson Dead.
Wednesday's Salem Journal: "A telegram was received this afternoon from J L Thompson at San Mateo, Cal., that his son Dr Hugh Thompson had died, Tuesday, at 3 p m. Dr Thompson was practicing medicine at that city and was taken down with scarlet fever. The remains will be buried there."
Dr Thompson was 33 years, 5 months and 7 days of age at the time of his demise.
"The Daily Statesman of today said: Dr Thompson was a general favorite in Salem, counting friends by the hundreds. He was affable, courteous and obliging, and of him it might be truly said that he had no enemies."
