DEAD AND WOUNDED

Four Oregon Boys Killed and Thirty-Eight Wounded.

Eugene Men Wounded—None Dead.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The following list of casualties has just been given out at the war department:

Manila, March 26.—Adjutant-General, Washington: Casualties March 24, 25 and 26:

Killed in Second Oregon—Company B, Private H. B. Adams; D. William W. Cook; L. Charles Herbert, Guy Millard.

Special to the Guard.

Junction City, Or., March 27.—William M. Cook of this city whose death is reported in the late battle at Manila is the first Lane county boy to fall in battle in the Philippine war. He was born in Benton county and is 22 years of age. His parents reside in this city and he was among the first to respond to the call for volunteers, enlisting as private in Co. D, from Corvallis. Mr. Cook was raised in this vicinity and his many friends regret to learn of his untimely death.

ANOTHER BATTLE.

Two Oregon Boys Killed, Eleven Wounded.

NO PARTICULARS.

Special to the Guard.

Portland, March 27, 4 p. m.—Another hard battle was fought today. The Oregon regiment was engaged and list of casualties reports two Oregon boys killed and eleven wounded, but does not give names.

The Americans have captured Manila. The next move scheduled is to capture Malolos, the stronghold of Aguinaldo, where it is reported he has 15,000 soldiers. This will be the final fight of the contest, and settle American supremacy.

LATER.

Portland, Or., March 27.—Advices by cable report the two Oregon boys killed, Privates Strandeman and Hayes B. Taylor of company L. The latter is a son of S. R. Taylor of Jacksonville.

Among the wounded today are mentioned Dan Bowman of Pendleton and Leo Grace of Lafayette.

HOW IS YOUR WIFE?

Has she lost her beauty? If so, constipation, indigestion, sick headache are the principal causes. Karl's Clover Root Tea has cured these ills for half a century. Price 25 cts and 50 cts. Money refunded if results are not satisfactory. For sale at Wilkins and Linn Druggists.

FROM MANILA

Rebels Are Receiving Reinforcements.

HEAT AFFECTS AMERICANS.

Special to the Guard.

Portland, March 28—4 p. m.—A cable just received from Manila states that the rebels are receiving reinforcements, presumably from the reserve force held by Aguinaldo.

The American soldiers now having been in conflict for 72 hours continuously are reported to be suffering from excessive heat. For this reason the fighting will be rapidly forced.

Rapid preparations are being made to attack Bulacan, pushing forward to Malolos, Aguinaldo, his capital and army will be captured, or the army will retreat to the hills.

A Traitor's Fate.

An Oregon volunteer, writing to a friend in Ashland, tells the following:

"The ex-corporal, a member of the California regiment, who married a Filipino woman last October and then deserted the ranks two days later to join the insurgents, where he received a commission as lieutenant, is now lying dead, shot by the Kansas boys. They had him spotted, and if he should show himself, he was to receive a cold reception. A deserter and traitor deserves no better fate. The way he came to his death was in this manner: The insurgents were pretty hard pressed, and seeing that he was in a bad position, he made for the American lines, yelling for them not to shoot. They did not shoot—his body had only something like 30 holes in it. He was buried with the rest of the insurgents that fell. No stone or slab will mark where he fell. Such is the fate of a deserter and traitor."

Life Timers.

Statesmen: With the arrival of Cunningham the number of life-timers in the penitentiary was increased to thirty-one, the others being given below with the date of their arrival at the prison. All of these were convicted of murder in the second degree, except where stated otherwise:

Henry Brown, June 8, 1888; W. W. Bailey, September 20, 1892; J. A. Bailey, September 20, 1892; Wm Beckman, March 30, 1895; Wm Barre, October 23, 1893; E. H. Carver, December 4, 1892; John Camba, September 25, 1891; John Campbell, October 29, 1896; Wm Fry, May 20, 1896; Lee Gil, December 8, 1895; Wong Gee, October 30, 1898; Courtland Green, October 10, 1898; A. Henderson, May 8, 1893; Jung Hunong, February 10, 1894; Emma G. Hanna, November 30, 1895; Martin Hill (rape), December 17, 1895; F. S. Ingam, March 22, 1892; C. Judy, December 15, 1893; Joseph (Bunco) Kelly, January 12, 1895; T. C. Luebeck, March 21, 1895; George Morey, June 20, 1891; John McMahon, May 20, 1897; J. N. Russell, October 21, 1897; A. R. Straghton, April 15, 1892; Charles Sagle, September 4, 1893; Lon Swarts, June 22, 1895; J. R. Todd, United States mail robber, November 14, 1883; George Upton, May 16, 1893; H. Wintzenrode, April 4, 1881; James Weaver, October 15, 1898.

RETURNED TO THE STAGE

Maud Miller, formerly of Eugene Again Playing.

San Francisco Bulletin: Maud Miller, daughter of Joseph Miller, has returned to the stage again. She made quite a reputation for herself some years ago, but for some reason or other she left the profession. About a year ago she returned to Oregon and spent a few months visiting friends. The next heard of her was when she went to her father and was received by him.

The old poet had not spoken to Maud or referred to her for years on account of family troubles, and though Maud still had a love for him she kept away from him until within a few months ago, and through the mediation of friends she was permitted to enter the old gentleman's hermitage and the two became reconciled. Maud has signed a contract with a manager in San Francisco for this and next season to take the leading role in a spectacular drama entitled Tripoli. Her repertoire will include several society dramas and a couple of new plays. Miss Miller will probably play the principal coast cities before going to New York.

Miss Maud for a couple of years lived in Lane county with relatives.

The silk lace handkerchief drawn at the Banquet Saturday evening, was won by Mrs. Dora Gray. Lucky number, 15.

GAME LAWS

Many Changes Made By the Legislature.

TROUT FISHING.

At the recent session of the legislature many changes were made in the game and fish laws of the state, and the sportsmen of the state would be well to study the laws well, before starting on their annual pleasure excursions in the mountains and forests of the state. Following is a brief summary of the laws as now in force:

GAME LAWS.

Deer, moose and mountain sheep, protected from November 1st to July 15th and the killing for market of such game animals prohibited entirely.

Spotted fawn not to be killed at all. Beaver, killing of, prohibited for 20 years. Silver gray squirrel, protected from January 1st to October 1st.

Grouse, prairie chickens, pheasants, Mongolian pheasants, quail and partridges protected in Western Oregon between December 1st and October 1st.

English partridges and wild turkeys protected until February 1st, 1904.

Jacksnipe protected from February 1st to September 1st.

Deer hunting prohibited between one hour after sunset and half an hour before sunrise.

Deer hunting, prohibited with dogs. Market hunting of Mongolian pheasants prohibited for a period of three years.

Market hunting of grouse, pheasants, quail, silver pheasants, golden pheasants, copper pheasants and green or Japanese pheasants prohibited from November 15th to October 15th.

Trap, net or snare hunting of upland birds, except for breeding or exhibition purposes, prohibited.

Taking of eggs or destruction of the nests of any game bird, whether aquatic or upland, prohibited.

Market hunting of wild ducks, geese or swan prohibited; also the shipment of such fowls out of the state.

Market hunting of jacksnipe prohibited.

Possession of deer, spotted fawn, moose or mountain sheep, except the same be kept as a household pet, or possession of any upland or aquatic bird within the prescribed season, unless kept for breeding purposes, shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of the law.

Shooting upon or from any public highway prohibited.

Hunting upon farms of growing or standing grain without the permission of the owners prohibited.

Number of upland birds that may be killed a day within the limits of the open season, restricted to fifteen.

Shipment of upland birds for other than breeding purposes, by railway, steamboat or express companies prohibited.

ad—game law

County courts given the power to shorten the close season for upland birds whenever they may deem it necessary or expedient.

A violation of any of the provisions of the law, except that relating to the killing of deer, moose and mountain sheep, is made punishable by a fine of from $15 to $200 or imprisonment for a term ranging from seven to 100 days, or both. The penalty for violating the section protecting deer, moose and mountain sheep ranges from a fine of from $100 to $500, or imprisonment, or both a fine and imprisonment.

THE FISH LAW.

The taking of trout during the months of November, December, January, February and March is prohibited.

It is unlawful at all times to take trout, eel or salmon less than five inches in length.

Taking of Eastern brook trout and Loch Leven trout at any time is prohibited.

Nature makes the cures after all.

Now and then she gets into a tight place and needs helping out.

Things get started in the wrong direction.

Something is needed to check disease and start the system in the right direction toward health.

GOOD ROADS

The Bicyclists Propose to Aid in Building Highways.

E. R. DAVIS WILL ARRANGE FINANCES.

The bicyclists of Eugene have decided to do all that is possible to better the condition of Lane county roads, in lieu of bicycle paths. As discussed at present the idea is to get a voluntary subscription from the wheelmen and employ a good man to remove large rocks, fill up soft holes and make a good, continuous bicycling road in a number of directions from the city.

It is estimated that there are 800 bicyclists in the county, and a very small amount from each would create quite a fund, which would make material improvement in the roads.

The matter of soliciting the funds has been placed in the hands of E. R. Davis, who will shortly begin work. If his efforts meet with the success anticipated a good man will be employed and as soon as the roads dry up the work will be commenced.

The first roads to attract attention will be those leading from Eugene to Coburg, Springfield, Irving and Junction. With the large boulders removed in places, some fill ups made, and other work done, local wheelmen will not feel the need of paths for some time.

This action is very much to be commended, and should be encouraged to a material way. Mr. Davis is an enthusiastic cyclist, and well qualified for the duties he has assumed. Working with other riders, many of whom have made the question a study, he will be able to do much to make road riding a pleasure.

A Suggestion.

EDITOR GUARD:—I wish to state that there is going to be a reunion of Old Soldiers, of the late rebellion, at Eugene about the middle of June next, when you will see hundreds of our people here from all parts of the country, and perhaps from different parts of the state. We expect to have a sham battle; therefore J. W. Geary Post, and Co. C, O. N. G., Captain Williams, have taken steps to procure a small cannon, from Manila, if possible, which we are satisfied the U. S. government will give to us without charge, but we will have to pay the freight. In case we cannot get one from Manila, we are very certain we can get a Spanish gun from Cuba. The freight would reach up to nearly one hundred dollars, I am told; therefore, the surplus on the flag subscription could not be used for any better purpose. This cannon would be for the use of the city of Eugene, to fire salutes on all public occasions, both political and social without distinction. It will be manned by experienced gunners duly elected by the Post and Co. C.

E. F. CHAPMAN, Post Commander.

LAST HOPE VANISHED

Claude Branton Denied a Rehearing Before Supreme Court.

Decision Handed Down Yesterday.

Daily Guard March 28.

Supreme court decision: State of Oregon, respondent, vs. Claude Branton, appellant. Petition for rehearing denied.

The routine of technicalities is now completed. The last effort of Branton's attorneys, the last delay of law has been made. The case has passed through all the courts having jurisdiction over it, and from this last edict there is no appeal. It is absolute and final.

An adjourned term of the Lane county court will begin April 5, and some time during the term the sentence of death will be pronounced by Judge Hamilton upon the murderer of John A. Linn. Execution cannot be made until 30 days after the sentence is given. It will be some time in May therefore before Sheriff Withers will perform the unpleasant duty required by law and in the name of justice.

Supreme Court Decision.

The following decision was handed down yesterday: Claude R. David, respondent, vs. L. T. Anderson, appellant, from Lane county, J. C. Fullerton, judge; reversed and suit dismissed. Opinion by Moore, J.

This is a suit to enforce a specific performance of a contract. In consideration of certain payments and the delivery of 500 feet of flooring, and the building of a bridge and fence, it was agreed that the Anderson heirs were to deed to David one acre of their land. David complied with all the conditions except the building of a bridge and the delivery of the lumber, and notifying Anderson that the flooring was ready for delivery, and requested him to take it away, and demanding of him a deed to the land, which Anderson refused to execute. The main question presented was as to the place of delivery of the lumber, plaintiff maintaining that it was at a mill he was operating in Lane county, while defendant insists that it was the one he intended to erect on the land which he agreed to purchase. The opinion says:

"In view of the irreconcilable conflict on the testimony, and of the necessity of invoking presumptions and deductions to interpret a written contract which should have been specific in its terms, we think plaintiff has not established his right to a specific performance thereof, and that he should, as a condition precedent to such right, have tendered a defendant the flooring at the site of the new mill, and such being the case it follows that the decree is reversed and the suit dismissed."

ORDERS MADE.

Ota Sharp, respondent, vs. A. J. Johnson, appellant. Ordered on motion that appellant have until May 2, 1899, to serve and file the abstract.

E. J. Frazier, respondent vs. New Zealand Insurance Company appellant. Ordered on stipulation that appellants time to serve and file its brief be extended to June 1st.

Pruning Shears from 8 inches to ten feet long, full stock at F. L. Chambers.
