Admiral Dewey and his gallant tars received the glorious, thunderous welcome of the steel-walled men-of-war. Never, perhaps, did a triumphant warrior returning from a victorious campaign receive a more impressive welcome. Although thousands upon thousands witnessed it from shore, balcony, window or housetop, and the man-ofwar anchorage at Tomkinsville, where the fleet lay, fairly swamped with tags, yachts and steamers and every sort of harbor craft, all jet black with wild, cheering, exulting people, and the towering white walls of the city beyond were brave with a million welcoming flags, today's greeting to Dewey was the greeting of his comrades of the navy, and it was eminently fitting that his comrades in arms should have the first chance at him whom the millions are waiting to honor. Pass of Laing's Nek.

WRECK OF THE SCOTSMAN

Fifteen Women Passengers Drowned-

Ship Looted by Crew. Montreal, Oct. 2.-Two hundred and fifty scantily clad, baggage-bereft men, women and children were on board of an inter-colonial special which steamed into Bonaventura depot tonight. They composed the greater number of those who sailed from Liverpool September 14 on the steamship Scotsman, bound for Montreal, which was wrecked on the shores of the Straits of Belle Isle at 2:30 o'clock the morning of the 21st. It was not only a tale of shipwreck that they had to tell, but one of death, of suffering and pillage, for fifteen, at least, of the Scotsman's passengers perished, all suffered cruelty from cold and privation and almost the worst horror of all, the men who were supposed to succor and assist those committed to their care in the hour of need, turned on the helpless passengers and with loaded guns and revolvers compelled them to part with the few valuables they had saved. Captain Skrimshire and his officers were exceptions. For the honor of the British merchant marine, the crime may nor be ascribed to the men engaged in it but to a gang of wharf rats and hangers-on, picked up on the docks at Liverpool to replace the usual crew of the Scotsman, which joined the seamen's strike on the other side.

The list of those who perished is as follows: First-class passengers-Miss Street, Montreal; Mrs. Childs, wife of the stage manager of the "Sign of the Cross' company; Mrs. Robertson and infant; Mrs. Scott; Mrs. Robinson, wife of the manager of the Sunlight Soap Company, of Toronto; Mrs. Robinson; Mrs. Dickinson, wife of a former editor of the Toronto Globe. Secondclass passengers-Mrs. M. M. Scott, Watson, Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. Tuthill, Mrs. Skelton Mrs. Eliza Watkins, Miss B. Weavers.

It will be noticed that all who perished were women. This is accounted for by the fact that they were occupants of the first boat which left the steamer after she struck and which was swamped before it could get clear of the ship.

GIGANTIC SWINDLING.

Cause of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange's Suspension of Business.

New Orleans, Oct. 2.-Intense excitement prevails on the cotton exchange here, and the directors of the exchange have met and suspended business. The New York market is closed today, send a vessel under the Spanish flag and the only quotations this morning to guide local investors were from Liverpool. The market had scarcely opened when the operators had become paralyzed by advices clicked from over the ocean. It showed futures jumping in leaps and bounds. In half an hour reports showed that the Liverpool market had jumped nearly a cent. The whole exchange went wild, and the exthe building.

THE AMERICAN LOSS WAS SLIGHT

Several Miles of Country Cleard of In surgents-The Movement Was a Strategical Success.

Manila, Sept. 30.-General MacArthur entered Porac after half an hour's fighting. The American loss was slight; the insurgents loss is not known. The enemy fled nortward and when the Americans entered the town they found it practically deserted.

The attacking party moved on Porac in two columns. The Ninth infantry with two guns from Santa Rita was commanded by General Wheeler, and the Thirty-sixth infantry under Colonel Bell, with one gun, accompanied General MacArthur from San Antonio. Both columns struck the town at 9 o'clock and opened a brisk fire, which was replied to by the enemy for half an hour. Then the insurgents fled, and the Americans marched over their trenches and took possession of the Just before the fight Smith's com-

AN IMPORTANT FOOD LAW.

Heavy Penalties for Selling Articles Food Containing Unhealthy Ingredients. The following law was passed at the last session of the Missouri Legislature, taking effect August 20, 1899: Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person or corporation doing business in this State to manufacture, sell or offer to sell any article, compound or prepara-tion for the purpose of being used or which is intended to be used in the preparation of food, in which article, compound or preparation there is any arsenic, calomel, bismuth, ammonia or alum.

SEC. 2. Any person or corporation violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than one hundred dollars, which shall be paid into and become a part of the road fund of the county in which such fine is collected.

The operation of this law will be mainly against alum baking powders. But the manufacture or sale of any article of food or article intended to be used in food which contains any of the substances classed by the law as unhealthful-from Arsenic to Alum-is absolutely prohibited.

Fight Between Man and Pig. An interesting fight between a man and a pig entranced a crowd of Norristown people the other morning on the main street. The man, a young farmer, was driving a big, uncovered wagon. He sat on some boards that were snatched from the wagon's two sides, and under the boards was the hog, which his weight held down. Suddenly, in front of the Montgomery house, the man flew high in the air, the boards clattered down on top of him, and the porker began to climb out of the wagon. "You'll buck me, will you?" said the man, getting up, and he grabbed the animal by the throat and began to pinch it in the nose. The pig, erect and shreking like mad, struck at him with its forepaws and tried to trip him with its hind ones. The intelligent horses stopped so as to let the crowd view the fight in comfort. The man and the hog lought all over the wagon until they both panted for as if the American peptus. The animal's nose was bleed-pleased with Sir Theas ing, and the man's clothes and skin were torn here and there. The duelists him a hearty welcome were revolving in a tight embrace in the middle of the wagon, like a couple waltzing, when a spectator reached up and knocked the hog down with a club.
