Portland Telegram.

The late Cornelius Vanderpilt was reported by most of those who knew him to have been a fair, just, liberal man, for one of his class, and trained as he was. But that in some respects he was a narrow, obstinate, mean man was shown by eldest son, merely because he married contrary to the wishes of Vanderbilt, pere. The wife young Vanderbilt chose was not a bad woman. was not unworthy of him, and the young man showed commendable grit, if it was badly mixed with folly, in marrying the "one woman of all the world to him," regar iless of his father's opposition. He didn't deserve such shabby treatment on the part of the dead man, and his younger brother and chief heir only does the fair thing by making him a present of some $6,000,000.

ANGLO-AMERICAN SYPATHIFS

Great Britain appreciates the sympathy she receives from the United States in her South African troubles. All Europe is jealous of British supremacy, and would welcome her discomfiture. A London dispatch to the New York, Tribune shows how small a circumstance elates the English public, though it like Boers. is fully aware that nothing but SO RUNS THE WORLD AWAY. convergement can be gained

"England is so eager for America's moral support that the announcement that Admiral Schley would take a strong squadron to the Cape is interpreted as a sign of sympathy, and good feeling is also read between the lines of the utterances coming from the state department on the subjects of non-intervention and neutrality."

This is the way the Oregonian, the leading administration organ of the coast, talks about the Dutch Boers, comparing them with the Filipinos: "There are some who 'sympathize' with the Filipinos and with the Boers, but who is it that does not know that real liberty and progressive civilization march with the banners of the United States and England, not with those of the semi-sayage Tagals or medieval Boers?"

Chicago Express: Mules for the British army in South Africa have been shipped from New Orleans to the number of 2029, on board the Montezuma, one of the largest vessels afloat. If this cargo should meet with the fate that overtook a similar consignment sent out lately to the Philippines the sharks of the South Atlantic can exchange opinions with their brethren of the Pacific as to the quality of American food products.

Oregon Mist-"It is something to be the largest retail merchant in the world; it is much to have an income of $7 per minute; but it is magnificent to have every man, woman and child that you meet raise their voice in praise of your many qualities. Forgetting for a moment the merits of the Shamrock and the Columbia, or the wealth of the Iselins and the knighthood of Lipton, it is but a just tribute to the Scotch-Irish challenger to say that a better allaround gentleman never crossed the water. And you cannot be that sort of a man unless you have lived it all your life."

President Schurman of the Philippine peace commission says we should take the Sulu islands as Sweet butter can't be made in a ehurn. The stomach is a churn. A foul stomach fouls the food put into it. When the food is fouled the blood made from it is fouled also. Foul blood means disit is fouled also. Foul blood means disease. Cleanse the churn and you have sweet butter. Cleanse the stomach and you have pure blood. The far reaching action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is due to its effect on the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases that begin in the stomach are cured through the stomach.

"Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has proved a great blessing to me," writes Mrs. Ellen E. Bacon, of Shulesbury, Franklin Co. Mass. "Prior to September, 1897, I had doctored for my stomach trouble for several years, going through a course of treatment without any real benefit. In September, 1896, I had very sick spells and grew worse; could eat but little. I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's medicine and in a short time I could eat and work. I have gained twenty pounds in two months."

they are, and eradicate polygamy the practical disinheritance of his and slavery by educational methods. That style of suppressing evils has not been a shining success in this country. Slavery was killed only by a bloody war, and Mormon polygamy is secretly practiced in spite of our laws and courts.

> A highwayman held up several people at Pendleton the other evening. Very naturally one of the victims describes him as being about seven feet tall. Probably he looked seventeen feet tall, but the victim was aware that the public would not accept such a measurement, so he cut his estimate to the lowest notch his conscience would admit of.

> The loss of several brigades of troops by the British at Ladysmith is directly attributed to the army mules stampeding with light artillery and the reserve of small arm ammunition. History repeats itself. Geese once saved Rome from capture, and mules have proved most effective allies of the war-

Some one evidently took the electric ights as a danger signal, and reported that diphtheria was prevalent here. The report has no foundation. We haven't the diphtheria, smallpox, scarlet fever, or anything e'se, except a sawmill, and neighboring towns need not boycott us on account of it, as it is not contagious.

The Coburg boys are all right this year, and only brought out one ghost on Hailowe'es, and it was captured by Mrs Fulkerson, who had seen Jack-o'lanterns before.

rruit Tree Loss.

Western Oregon orchardists have not forgotten the warm, spring-like February of this year-that started the sap in the trees—and the killing freeze that followed in the latter days of the month. For a time it was thought that young orchards were generally killed, but as time rolled on it was seen that the loss of trees would be comparatively light, although many French prunes that pulled through had part of their limbs killed. The almost entire failure of the prune crop this year was due to the damage inflicted on the trees at that time. All the vitality the trees possessed was re quired to save their lives.

The work of taking out the dead town, owned by the proprietors of the GUARD, was attended to this week. Out of 2100 prune trees 178 were dug up, and out of 500 cherries 64 were found worthless. The orchard was seven years old this spring.

REFTON, New Zealad, Nov. 23, 1896 I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlains medicines the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place a bottle beyond the reach of the children. E. J. SCANTLEBURY.
