SAN FRANCISCO MARKET.

There has been a slight improvement in the general market during the week under review—interior merchants having commenced purchasing stock for winter trade.

Many descriptions of goods are unusually low, especially those in the dry goods and clothing lines, almost everything, except in provisions, favoring the buyer.

Money is still very scarce and not to be obtained with the ease that was predicted at the beginning of the month.

It could not well be otherwise, with the constant and increasing drain upon our hard money resources, to which the State has been subjected this year.

The treasure exports from this city by overland route and by sea, since January 1st by date, amount to about $3,500,000, or about one-third more than during the same period last year.

Since July 1st, 1875, we have dispatched 22 ships to the United Kingdom, loaded with 2,960,000 cents worth and four having a value in round numbers of $5,840,000.

The disengaged tonnage in our harbor at date amounts to about 20,000 tons, with a large number of ships now about due—sufficient at least to transport all the surplus grain we have to spare this season.

Rates of charter have continued to improve during the week, the present rate for first-class grain carriers to a port direct being $2 1/2 per ton, and for the Liverpool market shows some improvement in prices, with a firm tone and fair demand at our quotations.

The market here is unchanged, though giving evidence of a hardening tendency. Receipts have been quite light, with moderate transactions. Flour is in better demand both for export and for home consumption.

The market for barley is rather quiet and sales light. Oats are in good demand, especially for choice parcels, which command high prices. Receipts of hay have been short of daily requirements, and prices have advanced materially, especially for good wheat.

Receipts of wool have been heavy and transactions brisk. Prices are in better demand to meet the market rates which are quite low—the bulk of the fall clip is, however, quiet and inferior in all respects to the quality of the yearling clip. Potatoes maintain good prices, and the demand is large and it is feared the crop will prove short. Onions, on the contrary, are plentiful, and prices are extremely low.

Hay produce of all descriptions is in good demand, and unusually high prices have been obtainable during the week. The market for wheat and fair export demand Liverpool market is high.

The bulk of the crop is of medium quality while choice parcels are held in expectation of some obtaining higher rates than those now ruling. Our present market quotations are as follows: Fair to good shipping grades, $2 00 to 2 05; choice milling, $2 05 to 2 10 per cental.

WHEAT—The demand has been steadily improving. Prices, however, have changed but slightly. Large sales for export have lately been made, and most of the crop is now in the hands of the buyers. We quote country brands of superior as selling in the range of $1 20 to $1 25; standard brands, $1 40 to $1 45; extra quality, $1 50 to $1 55. Extra family jobbing, at 60 to 65 c.

BARLEY—Receipts during the week have been very large and the market is quiet and dull; prices are weak. Coast feed is quotable within the range of $1 30 to $1 35; New England, $1 40 to $1 45; Cavalier choice, $1 60 to $1 65 per cental.

OATS—Feed is in moderate demand at $1 20 to $1 25; choice, $1 30 to $1 35. Potatoes—Receipts are moderate, while the demand is light and prices rule low. The range of prices for the week have been $1 50 to $1 55; the latter an extreme rate for extra choice quality, and most of the crop is now in the hands of the buyers. Onions, on the contrary, are plentiful, and prices are extremely low.

HAY—Receipts have fallen off largely of late and prices have advanced. Choice wheat is now selling at $20 00 to $22 00 per ton. The range of prices for other kinds is from $10 00 to $12 00 per ton.

STRAW—A good article is saleable at 40 to 50¢ per bale.

BEANS—The new crop is coming forward freely. Lots from what are quotable as follows: Bayos, $2 00 to $2 05; White, $2 05 to $2 10; Black, $2 10 to $2 15; small do., $2 00 to $2 05. Castor beans are in request. The mills here are paying 4¢ for all clean beans.

SEEDS—There is a good demand for Mustard and Flax seed at low figures. We quote: Flax, $7 00 to $7 05; Mustard, $3 00 to $3 05; Alfalfa, $1 00 to $1 05.

The range of prices for the week have been $1 50 to $1 55; the latter an extreme rate for extra choice quality, and most of the crop is now in the hands of the buyers.
