THE INDEPENDEN Advertising Rates

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

BUSINESS ADVERTISEMENTS (coin.)

month ... 8 2 30 5 4 00 8 5 00 6 6 00 8 7 00 812 20 820 00

5 (0) 7 (0) 9 (0) 11 (0) 15 (0) 22 50 85 (0)

. 10 00 15 00 20 00 25 00 00 00 50 00 10 00

Every Thursday Evening.

H. B. LUCE, Office, - - - Old Court House.

HILLSBORO, OREGON.

Terms of Subscription coin rates.

Single copy per year

Single copy six months.

Single number.

Washington Independent.

VOL. 3.

marked:

1 50

HILLSBORO, WASHINGTON COUNTY, OREGON, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1875.

NO. 34.

Mamma's Flower-Girl. When skies are fresh and pearly, Forth goes our little maid. Up in the morning early,

In garden-trim arrayed. She flits among the bowers, No bird more blithe or gay, And culls the choicest flowers

For dear mamma's boquet. Her basket soon discloses Such lilies, pansies -- see!

And dewy Damask roses With spice from Araby. Yet she herself is brighter Than any or the whole,

The lilies are not whiter Than darling Minnie's soul! - Peterson's Magazine.

Sam's Near-sighted Sister.

hear me making a touching appeal to a leaving her to provide for herself. figure, very naturally, paid no attention day.

I started. He never had spoken to me to my question, I supposed he was hard

It would not do to risk you again on so plainly of it before. It had been car-On an unlucky evening in summer, want- next time." lessly seized the hand of a man who was low. passing, and proceeded to pump it. The "What is to be done about Delia?" stranger stood for a moment, regarding asked Mrs. White, directly. the situation, and supposing that I took "She has taken care of herself long ago." litely and remarked: "I beg your pardon, us with whom she is not acquainted. So we want you for another game of croquet,"

Now, I was on my way to visit a schoolmate, who resided on a farm, and Sam de- ogize. clared that if a white-faced cow should meet me at the station, I would probably I said, "owing to my being near-sighted." embrace it, supposing it to be my friend. "I do not think your being near-sighted so gracefully hung, and the grounds look When the train stopped, however, Susic had anything with your not seeing in the exceedingly pretty and inviting. I am Laneton was there, punctually, to meet dark," said Mr. Denman, bowing courte- sure every one seems to be enjoying the seen my brother. I want you to be due time returned with the information you?"

"A lady is going to deliver a Temperance | ton's. hand-bill at the depot. What do you all Delia White. say to going?"

the church, proceeded to put his horse family; and as they were old friends of ing around. under a shed, where the other horses were | the Lancton's, we young people exchanged | resting. The small house was crowded to visits frequently. The speaker was calm and ear- Delia was disposed to be quite sociable:

sound, I stepped out into the misty every opportunity to throw us into each this point. gloom, and was quickly assisted into the other's society.

ment to help you."

you, for I could not see at all."

shall have to trust to the instinct of the then it did not seem to me that she was "I thought," said I, "that you were to horse to take us home, for I cannot dis- exactly suited to Paul Denman.

he continued.

exhortation is the forte of some, writing over, had promised that if I would spend bridemaid. Then we all took our way ner and supper were laid out every day of others. We each have a gift, and should half the autumn with her, she would re- to the city; the newly wedded pair on at the accustomed hours, under the old good of our fellow-creatures." I felt rebuked. I had lived to the age September had come, October was at make her promised visit. of nineteen without once considering what hand. views of life, a nobler character than I had sighted." supposed at first.

kind; and I could just discern the out- early summer. lines of a house through the mist.

The sitting-room had a most unfamiliar Now I sauntered off by myself. I was to do better." look. All the furniture was changed, tired of hearing voices, tired of the laughing the past two weeks, were not there! be alone. I was not happy. Sudden!y I gazed into the strange faces by which heard a step. I looked up. Mr. Denman I was surrounded, and found that all eyes, was approaching, fanning himself with up for only a little while. You must with a puzzled, curious look, were closely his large straw hat. scrutinizing me. The room seemed to be "Miss Bessie!" he exclaimed, throwswimming around with me. I turned ing himself down on the grass beside me, toward the door, exclaiming: "Ben, Ben! Where's Ben?" forgetting, ing your golden hair as with jewels."

But no "Ben" was visible. Instead, very pleasant to have all of one's commands and we will all go together on our wedthere stood at the door a young man, who obeyed." now advanced, and bowing to me, re-

"I must ask your pardon, miss, for I have made a blunder, which has caused all this confusion; but the darkness, and us arp the authority of another sovereign." the fact of my being a stranger in the place, must be my apology. I find that I went on in the same strain of playful took one young lady to church and have compliment. "There you are, all right, now; you can't brought another one back. As my acmake a mistake. Had you been left to quaintance with Miss Delia is so very especially from him. I thought he might slight, and the darkness absolutely pre- much better be saying pretty things to ness caused me to make, had long been a White, who had that day returned home she looks to-day. There is nothing like subject of mirth in our household. I had from a visit. As the gentleman had had happiness to add beauty to any face.' once, while threading the mazes of the no previous acquaintance with the young "You think, then," I asked, "that she city, lost my way; and brother Sam, who lady, in the darkness everything had be- is so supremely happy?" was always appearing at the most incon- come mixed; consequently I had gone "Certainly," he replied. "Are not most venient of seasons, came up in time to home with Mr. Denman, unconsciously young ladies happy when they are on the which stood outside of a store. As the insisting upon keeping me until the next ing?

more ridiculous mistake diverted him, you would make so good a choice the asked, took the pitcher, and running out, reck- rescue with a compliment, and bowing stay to the wedding."

me attentively; then, not comprehending "Nothing at all," replied her husband. that?

disappearance of their young visitor." "I am forever making some mistake,"

"Ben is coming home soon," my friend as I. The fault was mine if any one's." occasion."

"You certainly did as well occasion."

"Yes," said he, absently, "it is a suc that Delia had gone home with Bea, A few days after Ben made his appear- when it was discovered that both had "I did not know, I had not thought much ance, while we were sitting at the tea- been jilted. She sent word that she had about it." decided to spend the night at Mr. Lane-remarked Ben, after awhile. "I saw the and my friend Susie drove over with ask you to be one of the bridesmaids." "So, Bessie," said she, "you jilted it?" I inquired.

"You and Bessie might go," replied brother Ben at the first opportunity. The any one, I shall tie you together."

A drive of three miles brought us to This little episode served to make me nest, and a goodly harvest of pledges was and when she came to visit us, Mr. Den- I stammered. reaped. Then the crowd surged out. man was sure to be the one to drive her "Excuse me a moment, while I untic over. "Brother Ben" was always my es- whistle. the horse and bring him around," said cort when Sue and I went to Mr. White's. "Well, you are more near-sighted than Ben. He disappeared in the darkness, for Sometimes we would all go in the large I supposed," he said, and then he added, it had set in to rain; it was a thick, driz- family carryall; sometimes Ben and I significantly, "I think Mr. Denman has zling mist, and you could not see a foot would go in the buggy, while Susie rode other views for himself. Why did you before you. "Very well," said I, and he on horseback; and sometimes Ben and I suppose I was so constantly running over left me on the porch, with other ladies. | would have the horses, while Susic and to Mr. White's? Did you suppose it was Presently I heard a sound of wheels, some other member of the family would for the pleasure of conversing with the and, straining my eyes, I faintly distin- go in the buggy. It was very plain to see old gentleman, or to make love to the old ally. guished the outlines of a horse and buggy, what was Susie's idea. She had told me lady?" "All ready!" said a voice. significantly that she wished me to like My cheeks burned, and I did not care "Yes," I replied; and, guided by the her brother Ben, and now she was taking to reveal what had been my thoughts on

But I did not fancy Ben, at least for a game of croquet must be over now, and "This is rather a rough night for you," lover. He was a pleasant, lively com- it is nearly supper-time." ing him with Mr. Denman, and not to exchanged partners.

ment to help you."
"Oh!" I replied. "I am not easily annoyed, and it is rather fun to be out in the dark and rain. Had it not be full of guests, dying, left each of his dark and rain. Had it not be full of guests, dying, left each of his congratulations," said Mr. Denman, after children a plantation. To the eldest son, dark and rain. Had it not been for your ality Mr. Denman found in Delia. She awhile. "I don't know but I was rather however, he gave the home estate, worth voice, I should not have been able to find was what might be called "a very nice premature in my remarks; but I thought three or four times as much as any of the girl." I liked her. There was something you knew all about it. What did you other plantations, and with it he gave the "No," said my companion. "And we so true and unsuspicious about her. But think?"

tinguish the road. They are rather prim- The season wore on, and Mr. Denman "I!" exclaimed Mr. Denman. "Why, itive in this little out of the way village," and myseif both lingered. He had come Bessie, have you so entirely misunderto regain his health, which close applica- stood me? I had hoped to be your bride-"Do you consider public speaking a tion to study had injured; but though he groom." woman's vocation?" I asked, after a little seemed quite strong and well now, he was | Some little time after this, we heard woman's vocation?" I asked, after a little while.

"A woman has a right to any vocation which she can discharge well. All women cannot speak in public, but neither can all men; and such had better turn can all men; and such had such the such can all men; and such can all me their attention to something else. Private particular to call me home. Susie, more- wedding. He was groomsman, and I was and polished as of old. Breakfast, din-seek to cultivate it, and use it for the turn with me, and winter in the city.

gift I had received which could be culti- "Let us have a grand pienie. It is just guest at our house. I r. ner dreaded vated for the benefit of those around me. the weather for it," said Susie. "We will Sam's teasing propensities, and at first I The novelty of hearing a woman speak in public had brought me out this evening.

The weather for it," said Susie. "We will sam steasing propersites, and it is a dinner, tea or to spend the night, many a found him somewhat inconvenient; but he soon subsided and left us undisturbed. Sons, who lived where, or with some I had no higher motive. I felt ashamed seen yet, Bessie. But you must promise," I knew this cessation of hostilities was relation of the family, or alone, as the case

I felt my cheeks burn. Somehow they that I was neglecting her; but when I themselves always welcome, but whether a muffin, and bake quickly. "Home again!" said my companion, always did, now, when any allusion was after much more conversation of this made to my ridiculous adventure in the bly, and begged me not to worry, "as she suffered no change. The destruction of Lights appeared at the door. A boy The white dresses of the ladies gleamed melted away, and I continued as before. will did not require him to rebuild. But came forward, saying, "I will take care of through the trees, and the bright ribbons the horse," and I followed Ben into the light breeze. Everything came. Then Susie began to talk of going will did not require min to reduce. But the winter sped on rapidly. Spring while it stood its master's large inherit-came. Then Susie began to talk of going ance was of very small worth to him.—

Was I dreaming, or had one of those I had been playing croquet. So had magic changes described in the Arabian Mr. Denman and Delia White. They had "I should miss you dreadfully. I know Onio has 1,205 Granges in operation.

Nights taken place during my absence? been partners and had come off victorious. I have been rather selfish, but I am going "You have not been selfish, one bit," re

My friends, whom I had been visiting dur- ter and mirth around me. I wanted to plied Susie. "But they insist on having me at home, now, and I must go." "Well, then," said I, "I will give you come back some time before my wedding. You know you are to be my bridemaid." "I declare, Bess," broke in Sam, "you are getting more and more near-sighted! "you look like a queen; the sun is crownin my bewildered state, to use the formal "I should like to play queen for a little while," I replied. "I think it must be

> "Command me!" said my companion, rising upon one knee. "You shall see what a willing subject you have."

I laughed and replied, "I dare not He seemed not to understand me, but I did not like this style of conversation, eve of their marriage, at least if they have cigar holder in the form of an Indian, My new friends were very hospitable, entered into the bond with the right feel-of hearing, and I elevated my voice accordingly. Sam reported this at home, with additions and variations, and never with additions and variations, and never fancy for running off with strange young to make the sticky conglomeration of flour, water, and the sticky conglomeration of flour water that the sticky conglomeration of flour water that the sticky conglomeration of the sticky conglomeration of flour water that the sticky conglomeration of the stic

This was cool conceit indeed! To tell me that they were so pleased about it!

"Did you not know it? I thought they Why did he not leave it to others to say Delia had discovered us now, and she him for an acquaintance, he bowed po- There is not a family within ten miles of ran up, exclaiming, "come, Mr. Denman, > grass. After conversing awhile on ordi-Mortified and ashamed, I tried to apol- nary topics, he said, suddenly, "Bessie, are you not going to congratulate me?" "Certainly," I replied, "I think you have succeeded admirably. The flags are remarked next day. "You never have A messenger was dispatched, and in cess. You will stay to the wedding, won't This was very abrupt, and I replied that

"But you must stay," he urged. "It is to come off next month, and we cannot Lecture, over in Paradise, this evening," The next morning was bright and clear, get along without you. Delia is going to "Why are you so deeply interested in

"If a fellow can't be interested in his Mrs. Laneton, "in the buggy." And so it next time I send you forth with him, or own wedding, who in the world should be?" he exclaimed.

"Your own wedding!" I echoed, while Paradise. Ben, after helping me out, at feel pretty well acquainted with the White the trees seemed to be dancing and whirl-"Yes," said he, "whose did you suppose it was?" "I-I thought it was Mr. Denman's,"

"But come," said he. "I think their said my escort, "and my horse is so rest- panion. I could laugh and talk with We met Mr. Denman and Delia, who ive that I dared not leave him for a mo- him; but somehow, I was always compar- were coming to look for us, and now we be Delia's bridegroom.

their bridal trip; Paul and I to our re- butler's supervision, and as the viands The sultry days of summer had passed, spective homes; Susie going with me to grew cold his silent subordinates waited, and contrived so kindly to keep him out of our way. After swhile I began to fear that I was neglecting her; but when I apologized about it, she smiled so amiably, and begged me not to worry, "as she could take care of herself," to use her could take care of herself, to use her could take care of herself, to use her could be compared to make the pastestiff enough milk to make the pastestiff enough the could make the pastestiff enough to make it the size and thickness of the houses on the quays. The platform to roll; make it the size and thickness of the houses on the quays. The platform to roll; make it the size and thickness of the houses on the quays. The platform of the bridge will be 220 feet above the suffered no change. The destruction of the house by fire finally lifted this bur-

Atlantic.

longs to a woman .- Danbury News.

Old Virginian Hospitality.

THE FIRESIDE.

Home Conversational Training.

There is no nation more fluent in conversation than the American. The French are more voluble, perhaps, their language permitting greater rapidity of pronunciation than the English. Our best conver-Susie is not going to be your bridemaid, all the talking; therefore Americans are for she will be acting a conspicuous part not good listeners. But mere talking is recorded and must so go before the and Charles O'Conor, representing Mrs. in a little drama at home, about that time; not conversation. In almost all home public. He was rather above the medium Isabella Singer, the widow named in the in a little drama at home, about that time; and we will all go together on our wedding trip."

I blushed at my own stupidity, then kissed the bride elect, and, finally, burst into tears, because everything had turned out just as I wished, although I had not reserve the most brilliant conversable the home group. Many a father comes home tired; he has worked hard and out just as I wished, although I had not limited the size of his coat were evidently into the sleeves of his coat were evidently into tended for a person of smaller stature. His boots were just to the contrary, and the limbs of his pants and the limbs of his pants and the sleeves of his coat were evidently into tended for a person of smaller stature. His boots were just to the contrary, and the limbs of his pants and the limbs of his pants and the sleeves of his coat were evidently into tended for a person of smaller stature. His boots were just to the contrary, and the limbs of his pants and the sleeves of his coat were evidently into tended for a person of smaller stature. His boots were just to the contrary, and the limbs of his pants and the limbs of his pants and the sleeves of his coat were evidently into tended for a person of smaller stature. His boots were just to the contrary, and the limbs of his pants and the sleeves of his coat were evidently into tended for a person of smaller stature. His boots were just to the contrary, and the limbs of his pants and l planned it.

One evening in June, Paul Denman and I were pronounced man and wife. Brother come home to rest. He takes out his for a time, and gazed about him with follows: To his wife, Isabella Engenta, Sam remained to my wedding, as he said paper and is soon oblivious to everything manifest wonderment. The great foun-he wished to be sure that I did not run around him. Wife would like to tell him tain was playing, and while his eyes were mer, six portions; to his daughter, Winaway with the wrong man. But the next many of the little harassing afflictions fixed intent upon the topmost spray, his maretta Eugenia, five portions; to his son, hands were gracefully folded under his Washington Merritt, six portions; to his

Ferguson took it into his head in his Such a home, whether the abode of wife's absence the other day that he wealth or otherwise, cannot be a healthy wanted a plate of nice warm biscuits for or happy one. As a parallax, draw around tea. There being no mother-in-law, or the evening lamp of another home circle. any other female about the premises, Fer- The father tells the anecdotes from the guson also made up his mind that he would be for once entirely independent laughs her sweet, low laugh, and the when Johnny, his youngest hopeful poked his head into the door and yelled: "Dad, the chimney's on fire!" Ferguson didn't stop to consider that he had a knowledge concerning the making of salt-pint of dough hanging on each fist, but rising bread, which I hope may be as ben-how that thing could be making such named in the will, objected to the adgrabbed a pail and rushed out to the eficial to others as it has been to me. sounds without any visible operating mission of the contestant's claim, and pump, filled it with water, climbed to The morning before the bread is to be force. Acquaintance, however, begot contended that her alleged marriage should the top of the house, and, after nearly made take one tablespoonful of fresh corn familiarity in him, and familiarity, bold-first be proven. Mr. Van Pelt offered to suffocating to death from the smoke, meal and one teaspoonful of new milk; on ness; so he pushed his head through the submit affidavit establishing her position miss, I think you have made a mistake."

Of course, Sam was at the front window, and saw it all, and did not fail to rehearse the scene for months afterwards.

we want you for another game of croquet, and one texpoontal of new link; on the smoke, the same and one texpoontal of new link; on miss, I think you have made a mistake."

So the parameter of the smoke, and save it is in no danger of suffering for a shell-this mixture stand until the next the little apparatus, that was constantly in the sum of the smoke, and dark from the smoke, the six in no danger of suffering for a shell-this mixture stand until the next the little apparatus, that was constantly in the little apparatus dough on the floor, door-knob, pump, of warm water and flour together, and where the registersits on the counter, and understood that all the other legatees understood the other legatees understo ney. He then returned to the kneading-board, but while in the act of rolling the meal fresh the risings will be up or his full height—his countenance assumthe dough into biscuits, and tucking running over in an hour or in two hours ing an expression that indicated a deter-them in at the sides, as he had seen his and a half at the longest. When light mination to comprehend this mystery wife do, he was startled by an unearthly and ready to sponge have ready sifted he drew close to the side of the counter, yell from the pantry. In his haste to ascertain what could be the matter in that direction, he knocked his tin of biscuit (bottom side up, of course,) on the floor. With an imprecation he rushed to the pantry and there beheld Johnny stand-pantry and there are a stand pantry and there are a stand pantry and there are a stand pantry and the standard pantry and the drew close to the side of the standard pantry and the drew close to the side of the country. Admiral Farragut and his family were and resting his elbows thereon, reached the drew close to the side of the standard pantry and the standar ing on tip-toe on a stool, and holding into loaves. I much prefer water to milk quaked, his features were awfully con- lution I formed when I was ten years of over his head an inverted pan, which for wetting the flour, and to housekeepers torted, and his arms wrenched most fearhe had just tipped up in the eager ex- who have their milk to try this way seems fully, but still he kept a fast hold of that Orleans, with the little navy we then had, pectancy of filling his stomach and best. pockets with some of those delicious ginger-snaps, which he had silently ob- OATMEAL BREAKFAST CAKE.—For a you darned spirits that keep up that in- qualities that I thought made a man of served his mother bake that very morning. But, alas! instead of the much covinches), take one-half pint of "B" oatmeal continued his hold. Great drops of mening. But, alas! instead of the much coveted cookies, he pulled down upon his devoted head a pan full of—milk! and stood screaming lustily, while the skimmed extract of cow streamed down his frightened countenance, mingled with his tears and running down his neck and legs.

To add to his discomfiture his stern parent, who was not even provoked to the cover close and bake fifteen minutes. It to the pan (oiled), stake one-half pint of "B" oatmeal continued his hold. Great drops of mental agony stood boldly out upon his fore-head, and every muscle in his brawny frame seemed snarled and kept up a cease-heak from twenty to thirty minutes, or until browned both at top and bottom; with his tears and running down his neck and legs.

To add to his discomfiture his stern parent, who was not even provoked to the cover close and bake fifteen minutes. It the cover of the cover close and bake fifteen minutes. It the cover of the parent, who was not even provoked to laugh at the ridiculous object before him, grasped him by the coat collar, and placing him across his knee, gently administered to a well callenged region a second to make the direction of the reporter who had now emerged from his seclusion. "Captain," poor, miserable, drunken sailor before says he, "I'll never be able to tell my young'uns what I see at the Fair," and the mast, kicked and cuffed about the world, and die in some fever hospital in a foreign clime.' 'No,' I said, 'I'll be necessary to make it.

the muss, and set things to right gener-Ferguson now says that it is easy enough for him to make biscuits, but currants, but when the ground is kept was his exit at the door; and the last heard free from weeds by hoeing, and a good of him, he was aboard the train, bound kicked and cuffed about the world, he considers it beneath his dignity as a man to fool with work that properly bedressing of manure applied about the for the home of Mary Jones and the nots in autumn, the fruit is so much en-young uns.

for the home of Mary Jones and the my fate, is it? I'll change my life, and larged as often to be taken for a new and improved variety. Old bushes are almost I remember a case in which a neighworthless to transplant, and are soon outbor of my own, a very wealthy gentleman stripped by those raised from thrifty cuttings, which commence to bear a little the young man also a large sum of money. But he charged him with the duty of keep-ing open house there at all times, and directed that the household affairs should be conducted always precisely as they had been during his own life-time; and glass, and mix the two together; place them in a water bath (glue kettle) with the charge well nigh outweighed the inheritance. The new master of the place

CORN BREAD .- Sour milk, a quart; two or possibly even on the west coast. eggs; soda, two teaspoonfuls; molasses, four teaspoonfuls; salt; meal. Into the milk mix the meal and molasses to a thin batter, beat the eggs, distrays in hand, at the back of the empty or myself, and I began to think more she added, slyly, "not to run away with highly of Ben. He evidently had loftier any of them, under pretense of being neararly summer.

The day was bright, and even warm.

The white dresses of the ladies glessed and L continued as before the war and L continued as before

An Episode at the Mechanics' Fair.

The following amusing description of initiated in the mysteries of the telegraph contested in the Surrogate's Court of is from the Mechanics' Fair Daily, and Westchester County by his second wife, will be appreciated by those versed in Mrs. Mary Ann Singer, known as Mary Ann electrical phenomena:

sationalists are not rapid talkers. One might have been avoided. And had it Tuesday, Reuben W. Van Pelt, of Yontrouble with us is, each one likes to do been avoided, our reporter would have kers, appeared for the contestant. The wour own devices, I suppose you would have seated yourself in a coal-bin, instead of a car," said brother Sam, laughingly, as he gave me a hurried kiss, and then jumped from the train, while "all aboard!" sounded in our ears.

The mystery was soon explained. My now head that day returned from the closest scrutiny. The all-based in the company with Miss Delia in the closest scrutiny. The all-based in the company with Miss Delia in the company with Miss Delia in the closest scrutiny. The all-based in the closest scrutiny is sumpled from the train, whole all that day returned home.

The mystery was soon explained. My is generated by our seried the day after, and then from there he saying pretty things to pleia. Looking up just then, I caught a glimpse of her and Ben through the trees. Washington Merritt, six portions; to his daughter, and then from there he saying pretty things to pleia. Looking up just then, I caught a glimpse of her and Ben through the trees. Washington Merritt, six portions; to his daughter, and then from there he saying pretty things to pleia. Looking up just then, I caught a glimpse of her and Ben through the close struction, and started on his were gracefully folded under his slight, and the darkness absolutely precided was a solutely precided the day, and would like to hear some cluded my seeing variety things to his daughter, and then from there he all the day after, and then from there he saying pretty things to his daughter, and then from there he all the day after, and then from there he all the day after, and then from there he all the day after, and then from there he all the day after, and then from there he all the day after, and then from there he all the day after, and then from there he all the day after, and then from there he all the day after, and the day after, a vers suspicious glances in the direction of that amphibious animal. But when he reached the telegraph stand of Heald's who was given a situation and an interest of woman's invaluable assistance and make the biscuits himself. So he built up a rousing fire, roiled up his sleeves, the answers and patient explanation of the state of the tied on one of his wife's aprons, and stove tions, the wonderment, interest and thought reporter, he said that he had "chance left to his last wife. Two other legacies etc. He was just meditating to himself money; and one beautiful recompense in sounder went click-click, and he stood that Mr. Singer was married three what an easy job it was, to be sure, what life is that in making others happy we turned round with a start, held his hands times, and it is stated was divorced from ing some fresh water from the pump, which stood just outside of our door, I took the pitcher and remains took the pitcher and remains the pitcher and remains the pump, the first two wives, but the second wife, about it. They will certainly wish you to poked his herd into the door and welled. SALT-RISING BREAD .- I have a little click, click, click, it was evident that his dower in the estate. Mr. Carter for the iittle railing. "Gosh! Booh!" he shouted, to look after the treason of Burr. I acistered to a well calloused region a series of energetic slaps. At this stage of affairs, Ferguson's better-half appeared on the scene, drove the two from the house with the broomstick, cleared up the must and set things to right gener. CURRANTS AND THEIR USES .- No fruit the floor. He had hold of the poles of a man.' My father left me and went on yields more bountifully when well culti- the galvanic battery-simply this and deck. I was stunned by the rebuke and vated, or will endure more neglect than nothing more. Recovery was sudden; so ovewhelmed with mortification. 'A poor, > the New York Herald and the London toxicating liquor, I will never gamble.' Daily Telegraph in the middle of unex-plored Africa, has been heard from at those three vows to this hour. Shortly ast. Six months ago he was on the banks after I became a Christian. That act setif the buds (three or four) are removed from that portion of the cutting set beneath the soil, that they will not sucker. It is said of the Great Victoria Nyanza Lake, which he had explored thoroughly before meeting one of the Khedive's officers bound in one of the Khedive's officers bound in the latter I became a Christian. That act settled my temporal as it settled my temporal on the same errand at the northern end any suggestions with regard to the uses of so common a fruit as the currant.

>
> of the lake. The letters which are published in the Herald of Monday were sent idea of working in the garden, I consider by a native carrier through near a thou- it one of the most wholesome means of To make pocket mucilage, boil one pound of the best white glue and strain very clear; boil also four ounces of isinwhich this indefatigable explorer has en- and an interesting one in taking this excountered and overcome. A large pro- ercise—the growth of flowers and plants. portion of his little band of followers,

Another Extraordinary Bridge. - you, give you rosy cheeks, and may add years to your life. There is not a spring about to be undertaken in France, at Ly-Paul Denman, of course, was a frequent guest at our house. I r. aer dreaded for each meal. I have stopped there for sam's teasing propensities, and at first I found him somewhat inconvenient; but the soon subsided and left us undisturbed. I knew this cessation of hostilities was owing to Susie. She had so much tact, and contrived so kindly to keep him out trays in hand, at the back of the empty chairs during the full time appointed for each of the full time appointed solve the soda in water, add a little solve the soda i

In a majority of cases, the resenting of ing for the night. an insult directs men's attention to what Veal Sausages.—Chop equal quantities of lean veal and fat pork, a handful of sage, a little sult; beat all in a mortar and roll out like doughnuts and fry them.

Insult directs men's attention to what they would otherwise hardly notice, teaches the malicious where to strike, furnishes sport for the thoughtless, and degrades a man to the level of his assailtable to defraud the government, they give him the freedom of the city!

Singer's Wealth.

The will of Isaac M. Singer, the invisit to the Mechanics' Fair of one un- ventor of the Singer sewing machine, is Foster. At the preliminary hearing be-Had the consequence been foreseen, it fore Surrogate Coffin, at White Plains, on chin was seen to drop and his eyes distend city, two portions; to seven of his chilas though he anticipated an immediate dren born of Mary Foster (the contestant), attack; and when he had got several ten portions He does not leave any of yards away, he was observed casting di-There was no one in the office at the time, and as he listened to the monotonous ful widow, and entitled to her right of Farragut at Ten.

I preached one Sunday in the parlors Admiral Farragut and his family were and yet he did not loose his hold. "Oh, companied him as cabin-boy. I had some screw, and the stricken man rolled upon whole course of life if you ever become change it at once. I will never utter an STANLEY, the joint representative of oath, I'll never drink another drop of in-

> WOMEN IN THE GARDEN.-However Before commencing work in the garden, will hurt you, even if you become very