IT is now definitely settled that Moody and Sankey will open a series of revival meetings in Chicago, continuing them day and evening for a month or two. A large hall is being erected in the central part of the city especially for the purpose.

GEN. CUSTER'S widow has arrived at her home in Monroe, Michigan. A number of friends were at the depot to receive her, on seeing whom she gave way to her emotions and fainted. Several of the wives of those who were slain in the Sioux massacre accompanied her.

WILD BILL was buried in a full suit of broadcloth with his rifle beside him. At the head of his grave, on the mountain near Deadwood, is a large stump, on which this inscription is deeply cut: "A brave man; the victim of an assassin—J. B. Hickock (Wild Bill), aged forty-eight years; murdered by Jack McCall, August 2, 1876."

IT is understood that Commodore Vanderbilt has made arrangements for the execution of a great scheme of charity, intended to benefit workingmen. It is reported that he intends to have built a village of dwelling houses on Staten Island which are to be rented at the lowest rates possible to deserving workingmen. A cheap ferry will give rapid and economical transit to the new village.

INFORMATION has been received that the Rev. E. P. Smith, President of the Howard University and late Commissioner of Indian Affairs, died at Accrea, on the West coast of Africa, during the latter part of June. Rev. Mr. Smith filled the position of Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and his name was entangled in the controversies that arose out of the investigations made into the conduct of that Bureau. After his resignation of the office of Indian Commissioner, he devoted himself to missionary labors in Africa, where he ended his life.

Dress and Oratory.

David Paul Brown was many years the favorite orator of the Philadelphia bar. He was an exquisite in dress, believing, with Buffon, the eminent French naturalist, who wrote in full dress, that "the style is the man." When Mr. Brown appeared in his favorite dress, he wore a blue coat with brass buttons, buff vest and light pantaloons, closely-fitting gloves, neat boots, and a glossy hat rakishly set on his head. When criticised for his too great fondness for dress, he defended himself by saying "that he had never known a man to speak well in clumsy boots, nor to have a clear mind with dirty hands and face; that he had known many a fop that was not a fool, and many a sloven that was not a Solomon."

There is good sense in the following words, wherein he gives a philosophy of dress, and defends his peculiarity. "A becoming decency of exterior," he says, "may not be necessary for ourselves, but it is agreeable to others; and while it may render a fool more contemptible, it serves to embellish inherent worth. It is like the polish of the diamond, taking something, perhaps, from its weight, but adding much to its brilliancy and attraction."

But Mr. Brown was not a mere fop. He was a graceful orator, a successful lawyer, and a hard student of literature. Some of his suggestions are worthy of the attention of young men, especially those working in a profession.

"How is it possible you can do so much business?" asked a friend.

"Because," was the reply of the busy lawyer, "I have got so much to do."

"But," persisted the friend, "how can you indulge in poetry and general literature?"

Mr. Brown's answer contains the pith of a volume on self-education and the art of keeping one's mind fresh.

"Because," he replied, "it enables me to return to my more rugged pursuits with great alacrity and renewed strength. The mind takes its direction from habit. If you wish to strengthen it, you must direct it for a time into other channels, and thereby refresh and improve it. A mere lawyer is a mere jackass, and has never the power to unload himself; whereas I consider the advocate—the thoroughly accomplished advocate—the highest style of a man. He is always ready to learn and always ready to teach. Hortensius was a lawyer, Cicero an orator. The one is forgotten, the other is immortal."

The Judge Silenced.

The yield of milk of Northern dairy cows is incredible to people in the South, where cattle are raised mostly for beef and hides.

Judge Grant was in Little Rock, Ark., in attendance at the United States court. One morning he saw a farmer with a slouch hat and a genuine butternut suit, trying to sell a cow in the market there. It was a large, long-horned animal, and the planter was informing a man that the cow would give four quarts a day, if fed well.

Up stepped the judge. "What do you ask for the cow?"

"About thirty dollars. She'll give five quarts of milk if you feed her well," replied the planter, and he proceeded to describe her good qualities.

Said the judge, "I have cows on my farm, not more than half as big as your cow, which give twenty to twenty-five quarts of milk a day."

The planter eyed the judge sharply for a moment as if trying to remember whether he had ever seen him before or not, and then asked:

"Stranger, whar do you live?"

"My home is in Iowa."

"Yes, stranger, I don't dispute it. There was heaps of sogers from Iowa down here during the war, and stranger, they was the all-firedest liars in the whole Yankee army. Mabbe you mought be an officer in some of them regiments?"

The judge slid for the court-house.

HUMOR AND SARCASM.—It is not every one that knows where to joke or how. Whoever is ignorant of these conditions had better not joke at all. A gentleman never attempts to be humorous at the expense of any people with whom he is but slightly acquainted. In fact it is neither a good nor a wise policy to joke at anybody's expense; that is to say, to make anybody uncomfortable merely to raise a laugh. Old Æsop, who was doubtless the subject of many jibes on account of his humped back, tells the frogs, "What was fun to the boys was the death of the croakers."

A jest may cut deeper than a curse. Some men are so constituted that they cannot take a friendly joke in the same light coin, and will requite it with contumely and insult. Never banter one of this class, or he will brood over your badinage long after you have forgotten it, and it is not prudent to incur any one's enmity for the sake of uttering a smart double entendre or a tart repartee. Ridicule, at best, is a terrible weapon. Satire, however, when levelled at social foibles and political evils, has shamed down more abuses than were ever abolished by force or logic.

NOT A GENTLEMAN.—About a year ago, while on my way to a city in Tennessee, I was seated in a first-class car, and directly in front of me sat a rough-looking individual, reading a newspaper and smoking a cigar, seemingly unaware that smoking was prohibited in that car. The conductor, passing through, saw him and said:

"Gentlemen are not allowed to smoke in this car, sir!"

The man, coolly taking the cigar out of his mouth, said:

"I ain't no gentleman, never was one, and I never expect to be!" and then continued smoking, perfectly at ease. This cool answer seemed to petrify the conductor's tongue, for after contemplating the smoker in silent amazement for a few moments, he walked off, and bothered him no more about the rule against smoking.

A STRIKING ANECDOTE.—Charles XII., King of Sweden, drank sometimes to excess, so as even to disturb his reason. In one of his drunken bouts he lost the respect which was due to the Queen, his mother. She retired to her chamber, overwhelmed with grief, and remained there on the following day. As she did not make her appearance, the King inquired the cause. This being told, he took a glass of wine in his hand, and went to the Queen's room. "Madam," said he to her, "I have learned that yesterday, in my cups, I forgot myself towards you. I come to ask your pardon; and to prevent a recurrence of such a fault I drink this glass to your health; it shall be my last during my life." He kept his word, and from that day he never tasted wine.

A WIFE'S bosom should be the tomb of her husband's failings, and his character far more valuable in her estimation than his life.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKET.

[Quotations, unless otherwise specified, represent receivers' prices in lots, marketed on wharf or from store.]

FLOUR.—Oregon continues to send us light supplies; from Marysville, Stockton, etc., the receipts are large. Shipments by sea have been liberal; demand continues good. We quote superfine at $4 00@$4 25; standard brands, $4 50@$4 75; extra superfine, $5 00; extra family, $5 25@$5 75.

WHEAT.—Cablegrams from Liverpool of August 26 quoted that market 9s 1d@9s 4d for average California, and 9s 5d@10s for Club, against a comparison of prices as follows: 1875—9s 2d@9s 4d; 1874—10s 9d@11s; Exports for the week under review, value, etc., are as follows:

Destination.	Vessel.	Ctls.	Value.
Queenstown	Saphire	37,481	$61,000
Liverpool	Howden	33,374	50,896
Queenstown	Wallace	21,307	34,091
Queenstown	Delta	15,694	24,325
Cork	Whittier	39,971	68,291
Liverpool	Pactolus	34,731	58,000
Liverpool	Barbara Preve	23,036	34,500
Cork	Johan Irgens	26,299	40,764
Total for the week		231,868	$366,867

The deliveries are in excess of that of the previous week, though all coming forward suitable for milling or shipping purposes finds ready sale at prices quoted. So far exporters have experienced no difficulty in obtaining all Wheat required to load vessels on berth. It is currently reported that they buy freely in the far interior, at prices equivalent to $1 50@$1 55, delivered alongside ship. We quote new milling, choice, at $1 55@$1 57½; extra superfine, $1 45@$1 50; superfine, $1 35@$1 42½, according to quality; choice shipping, $1 50@$1 52½; fair to good shipping, $1 40@$1 47½; mixed wheat, $1 30@$1 37½, as to condition.

BARLEY.—The arrivals from coast ports have been exceedingly large, and prices in consequence ease off for all feed grains. A notable transaction of the week has been the purchase by a St. Louis firm of some 500 tons choice new brewing; old brewing has been quiet with very light supplies. We quote Bay Feed at 90@92½c; Coast Feed, 85@90c; Old Brewing, $1 15@$1 30.

OATS.—The receipts have equaled the demand. At the close, with free offering of Barley and the pressure to sell, the market for Oats in consequence rules easier. We quote milling at $1 65@$1 85; good to choice feed, $1 50@$1 70; ordinary feed, $1 30@$1 40.

CORN.—The arrivals earlier in the week were light; market steady. Latter receipts more liberal; prices drooping. Large white finds the most favor. Large yellow and white are quotable at $1 20@$1 25; small round, $1 27½@$1 30 ₩ ctl.

RYE.—The market has been very quiet, with few offerings. We quote: $1 40@$1 50, with large supplies.

WOOL.—Business shows a good general movement. The stock of spring clip is now about gone; the few parcels yet remaining are choice Humboldt County Wool, and firmly held. Fall begins to come forward quite freely and meets with ready sales at the following prices: Oregon—Valley, is quotable from 1@3c ₩ lb; higher Eastern finds buyers at fully 1c ₩ lb higher than our last report. The tone of the market for all kinds is strong, and trade very satisfactory. We quote: Oregon—Valley, 20@23c; Eastern, 15@16c; intermediate, 16½@18c; California Humboldt, good to extra long staple, 21@23c; California fall, free, good to fine staple, 11@13c; fall lamb, free, 12@13½c; lamb, burry, 9@10c.

BAGS AND BAGGING.—An important movement has taken place, resulting in the concentration of stocks; prices largely nominal. We quote: Barley Bags, 23x40, at 13c; Barley Bags, 24x40, 14½c; Barley Bags, 28x36, 16½c; Machine-sewed, 22x36, 11½c; Hand-sewed, 22x36, 11¾@12c; Flour Sacks, halves, 9@11c; Flour Sacks, quarters, 6@7c; Standard Gunnies, 11¾@12c; Wool Sacks, 4 lbs, 52½c; Wool Sacks, 3½ lbs, 47½c; Burlaps, 45 in., 9c; Burlaps, 40 in., 8c; Burlaps, 60 in., 12@12½c.

BEANS.—The market is dull. Pea, of the New York crop, sold at $1 75@$1 80. Lots from wharf are quotable as follows: Bayo, 4½c; small White, $1 60@$1 75; Pea, $1 75@$1 85; Pink, 2½@4c; Red, 2¼@2½c; large Butter, 2@2¼c; small do, 1½c ₩ lb. Castor beans are in request. The mills here are paying 4c for all clean lots.

DAIRY PRODUCE. Butter—The demand was again brisk, and a steady and firm feeling was developed for strictly prime roll, and prices have advanced from 1@2c; fair to common roll is unchanged in price and demand; pickled roll has had rather more calls; Eastern butter is now coming in quite freely. Eggs—after ruling dull and heavy all the week, seem to be in rather better demand, at quotations unchanged. We quote as follows: Choice fresh roll California Butter, 35@37½c; fair to good roll, 27½@32½c; pickled roll, 30@32½c ₩ lb; Cheese—California, 11@14c; Eastern Cheese, 10@14c ₩ lb; California Eggs 35@37½c; Oregon Eggs, 30@32½c; Eastern Eggs, 20@30c ₩ doz.

FRUITS.—Peaches have been less abundant, though fully equaling the demand, and prices have ruled low. Pears are very plentiful; a few Sickles have been received, and sold at 75c@$1 00 ₩ box, and from 30@40c ₩ basket. It is a great mistake to send Pears to market in baskets. Plums, Grapes and Apples are very plentiful. We quote Peaches, ₩ basket, 25@50c; Pears—Bartletts, ₩ basket, $1 00@$1 25; Pears, ordinary to good, ₩ box, 40c@$1 00; Plums, ₩ lb, 1½@4c; Grapes, 20@75c ₩ box; Blackberries, $3 00@$4 00; Strawberries, $6 00@$8 00 ₩ chest of 80 lbs; Bananas, $2 50@$4 00 ₩ bunch; Pineapples, $6 00@$6 50 ₩ doz; Limes, $12 50@$15 00 ₩ M; Sicily Lemons, $6 00@$7 00 ₩ 100; Cantaloupes, 30c@$1 00 ₩ doz; Watermelons, $6 00@$9 00 ₩ 100.

FRUITS, DRIED.—There is a good demand. We quote Apples, quartered, at 6½@7c ₩ lb; Apples, sliced, 7@8c; Apricots, 11@12½c; Peaches, 6@8c; Plums, pitted, 13@15c.

NUTS.—Almonds, 10c for hard and 18@20c for soft shell; Brazil, 12½@14c; Filberts, 16@20c; Hickory, 10@11c; Pecan, 12½@14c; Chile Walnuts, 10@11c; California Walnuts 12@14c; California Peanuts, 8@9c ₩ lb; Cocoanuts, $7 00@$8 00 ₩ hundred.

POTATOES.—The supply has about equaled the demand; prices steady. Sweets are more plentiful and cheaper. We quote: Choice, 90c@$1 00; fair to good, 70@80c ₩ 100 lbs; Sweets, $1 00@$1 25 ₩ 100 lbs.

ONIONS.—Onions are steady. Red are quotable at 40@50c ₩ ctl; yellow, 60@70c.

PROVISIONS.—Jobbing rates are for California Smoked Bacon and Eastern Sides, in jobbing lots, 15@17c for heavy to light; California plain Hams, 15c; Eastern Hams, 18@19½c; California Lard, 14½@16½c; Eastern do, 15@17½ for all styles of package; California Smoked Beef, 9@10c ₩ lb; Beef Tongues, $20 00; Pigs' Feet, $24 00; Mess Beef, $9 50@$11 00 for bbls, and $6 50@$8 00 for hf bbls; Pork, $19 00 for Prime, $22 50 for Prime Mess, $24 00 for Mess and $27 00@$28 00 for Clear and Extra Clear.

MEATS AND LIVE STOCK.—Beef in good supply; Mutton lower and in large supply; Pork, dressed, firm; Hogs scarce. The following are the wholesale rates: Beef, 4@7c, according to quality; Calves, 4@8c; Mutton, 3@4c; Lamb, spring, 5½@6c; Pork (Gross), 6@7¼c; do dressed, 10@10½c.

POULTRY.—We quote: Hens, $7 00@$8 00; Roosters, $4 00@$5 00 ₩ doz; Broilers, $3 00@$4 00 ₩ doz; Geese, tame, $2 00@$2 25 ₩ pair; Ducks, do, $5 00@$7 00 ₩ doz; Turkeys, live, 18@20c.

HIDES.—The market rates are steady for all kinds. Following are cash prices paid in this market: Dry, 10@12½c, for usual selections; Wet Salted are quotable at 5@7c. The New York price at date given at 16c, gold, for dry.

TALLOW.—Market abundantly supplied at 5@6c for good to choice.

CORNMEAL.—Fine kinds for the table, 2½@3c ₩ lb; coarse kinds for feed, $27 50@$29 00 ₩ ton.

BUCKWHEAT.—New crop is in demand for seed.

BRAN AND MIDDLINGS.—The mill prices of Bran is reduced to $16 00@$17 00, and $24 00 ₩ ton for middlings.

HAY.—There is quite a range in prices; stocks heavy for medium grades; say $7 00@$13 00, according to quality.

STRAW.—A good article is salable at 55@60c ₩ bale.

SEEDS.—There is a good demand for brown Mustard Seed, chiefly for milling purposes. We quote: Flax, ₩ lb, 3@3½c; Mustard, 2@3c; California Canary, 10@15c; Alfalfa, 11@12c.

HOPS.—California crop of 1875 is nominal at 10@13c ₩ lb.

HONEY.—Choice new white in frames, 12½@14c, in small lots; fair white, 10@12c; dark, 6@8c; strained, 5@10c.

BEESWAX.—Receipts are light with a fair demand; quotable at 25@27½c.

Mechanical Achievements.

THE NEW AMERICAN SEWING MACHINE IN CALIFORNIA.

Whether it was Tom Hood's pathetic "Song of the Shirt," or the subsequent wail that went up from the exhausted female seamstresses all over the world, that precipitated the invention of the sewing machine, is not known; but it certainly is a fact that the improvements constantly being made in sewing machinery are truly marvelous. The principle of sewing by machinery has been in practical operation for over a quarter of a century, and its proper application has been a subject which has engrossed the attention of many a master mechanical mind. It is not a matter for wonder, therefore, that the improvements thus far made have well-nigh reached perfection. That such is the case cannot be denied when we witness the crowning points of mechanical genius as developed in the New American Sewing Machine, a few of which are supplied with self-threading shuttles, the first and only one the world has ever seen. The self-threading shuttle not only saves time and vexation to the operator, but it is a great source of relief to those persons whose eyesight is impaired. Its simplicity of action, a natural result of having but few working parts, is another inestimable advantage—the machine being always ready for work. The self-threading shuttle requires no attention to little holes common to other machines, and is complete as soon as the bobbin is placed in it, a desideratum that can only be appreciated by a person who has been annoyed with the use of the ordinary machines. Although comparatively new to California the New American Sewing Machine has been in the Eastern States for the past ten years, where it has met with the most flattering success in sales, and the most fulsome praise from everybody. The machine has been introduced here by E. H. Harrington, who has established a branch office of the company at No. 124 Fifth street, San Francisco, to supply a want long felt in the city and State. In the East the machine has withstood the test of the severest criticisms, and in each case has come out of the battle victorious. The ease and lightness with which they run, their unparalleled simplicity and their many valuable and important improvements are all qualities which at once commend them to the serious attention of all who make use of a sewing machine. The New American Sewing Machine is superior in all its parts, is manufactured from the best material that the country can produce, and possesses so many peculiar advantages over all other pieces of like mechanism that it cannot fail to secure a large patronage from the public. Parties who contemplate purchasing a sewing machine, and who desire one that the smallest child can successfully manipulate and comprehend, will do well to call upon Mr. Harrington, at No. 124 Fifth street, and examine into this unparalleled invention. We can commend the New American Sewing Machine to the public on the volumes of testimonials it has received in the Eastern States.* —S. F. Chronicle.

Extract from Boston Daily Advertiser.

JULY 16TH.

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Jas. S. Smith, 109 Stockton street, San Francisco, who is agent for the celebrated Guild Pianos—grand, square and upright—also for the Jubilee Organ. He also has a large stock of Sheet Music and Musical Merchandise. We clip the following from the Boston Daily Advertiser:

"A MAGNIFICENT PIANO.—Messrs. Guild, Church & Co. have just completed, upon order from California—where it is to be publicly exhibited—an upright piano, which is pronounced by those who have examined it to be in all respects a most remarkable instrument. Aside from the unusual beauty of the case and workmanship generally, its striking feature is the wonderful brilliancy and evenness of tone throughout the entire scale, its peculiar resonant and "singing" quality, and the perfect "action" which renders every key responsive to the demands of the performer, whenever much delicacy or power may be desired. The firm have not been engaged in the manufacture of uprights until recently, but they have already acquired a reputation as famous as their square pianos, and are behind orders." James S. Smith, General Agent for Guild Pianos, 109 Stockton street, San Francisco.

Interesting to Printers.

Messrs. Shattuck & Fletcher exhibit Printing Inks and Rollers and specimens of all kinds of printing, from a "dodger" or whisky label to a daily newspaper or theatrical poster. The Acme press on which the Fair Daily is printed is theirs also, and has proved itself a most useful machine, printing 1,500 impressions an hour so noiselessly that you cannot hear it a few feet off. It is cheap and does beautiful work.

Printers should not fail to see what Shattuck & Fletcher have on exhibition, as it is of interest for them to see what they are making in our midst. We use their Ink and Rollers and so do all the papers in San Francisco.

At the Fair.

No person visiting the Mechanics' Institute Fair, now being held in San Francisco, will fail to notice the splendid display of the justly celebrated Yerba Buena Bitters. Messrs. Williams & Co. still adhere to the plan of giving away their medicine to every comer, relying upon their good effects to bring back a customer. The fact that they have not been able to manufacture fast enough to fill their orders, is good evidence that the Yerba Buena Bitters is just what the people want.

Overland.

We desire to call attention to the advertisement of the Herring Overland Freight and Baggage Transfer Co., to be found in another column. Messrs. Nourse & Cooper are gentlemen of energy and business capacity, and we feel sure that any business entrusted to them will be punctually and faithfully attended to.

An Extraordinary Offer.

MRS. H. A. MOORE, THE GREAT SCIENTIFIC HAIR PRODUCER.
914 Market St., San Francisco.
Mrs. H. A. Moore would announce to ladies and gentlemen who desire the personal adornment of a fine suit of hair, that she has opened parlors for its express treatment. They are emphatically assured she possesses the skill to produce a full flowing crop of hair on all stages of baldness. A few treatments will convince the most skeptical; this is no exaggeration. No mineral or damaging substances used. I have in my parlors photographs of well-known citizens, exhibiting the contrast before and after treatment, which can be seen by those desiring it. No better evidence can be furnished. When they are seen, doubt vanishes. Preparations sent to all parts of the country.

WHAT THE WORLD WANTS
A NEW INVENTION, WHICH SPECIALLY supplies the wants of the Pacific States, has just been perfected and shaped into a regular WELL BORING AND PROSPECTING AUGER. It is constructed on purely scientific principles, and its perfect simplicity of formation well adapts it to all kinds of well boring and mining purposes. By its use the expense of obtaining water throughout the dry portions of the country, in surface or artesian wells, will be greatly reduced, and for prospecting for minerals it will necessarily supersede all other machines now in use.
This simple and practical machine can now be seen at work and thoroughly examined at Oakland Point Planing Mills. State and County Rights for sale.
The following testimonial from Professor Welwood Murray, of the University Enenburg, and of other prominent colleges at the East, speaks for itself:
No. 120 SUTTER STREET, SAN FRANCISCO, April 20, 1876.
MESSRS. PRICE & MORGAN—Dear Sirs: Having at your request examined and practically tested your machine, I take great pleasure in bearing testimony to its value for well-boring. Such a result could only be obtained from mature experience of the desiderata requisite, coupled with mechanical skill, to devise such appliances so novel as the extension bit and cored auger, worked by a powerful screw, by which the entire system of well-boring is changed, facilitated and cheapened, and by the soil or debris being brought directly to the surface without uncoupling, or any disturbance of the screwing or boxing shaft. The operation is made so certain as to leave no question of the great benefits which will speedily accrue to this State from its introduction.
Trusting for you a rich pecuniary success, I remain, gentlemen, yours truly,
WELWOOD MURRAY.
