

THE DEMOCRATIC TIMES.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 7, 1871.

THOMAS BOYCE, No. 30 (Second door,) Merchant's Exchange, California Street, below Montgomery, is our duly authorized agent for San Francisco.

HUDSON & MENET, are our duly authorized Agents in the Atlantic States. Office, 41 Park Row, "Times" Building, New York.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

FINE STOCK.—A few days ago we saw at the stable of Messrs. Reams & Wilson the full bred Percheron or Norman Stallion, White Prince, and one full blood Norman mare; also two three-fourths Norman mares. The stallion was imported from France, in July last, by the "Darby Plains Importing Company" of Union county, Ohio. These animals are now owned by our enterprising fellow citizen, W. C. Myer, who makes fine horses his speciality. Mr. Myer has but recently returned from the East, after an absence of two years, during which he visited the principal horse raisers in the United States. "The White Prince" will weigh 1,800 lbs. in good condition. The merits of the Percheron or Norman stock is their square, compact form; large bone; well muscled, with a fine disposition, and better travelers than any other large stock of horses. The stock has been bred in Normandy, France for centuries, and kept pure. This is the first full blood Norman stock that has been brought to this coast. We think that such an addition to our stock of horses is invaluable. Farmers never lack an opportunity to sell a large draft horse, in fact, every year men come to this county to buy large horses—such as they use for drays, and other heavy purposes. We advise persons engaged in horse raising to go and see the "White Prince."

CHRISTMAS BALL.—Our kind, well known proprietor Mr. L. Home of the United States Hotel of this place, ever having the enjoyment of the young folks at heart, gave a general entertainment on Christmas evening. The attendance was large; and all the incidents to a festive occasion were cordially supplied in a manner, highly complimentary to the worthy proprietor and lady. And the social exercises of the "graceful fantastic toe," were indulged in to the entire satisfaction of all parties. Also, on New Years evening another social entertainment was given at the same place, in the interest of the old folks. They, however, gave mighty strong symptoms of juvenile feelings from the lively manner in which they tipped the alternate toe, in the mazy dance. And, what was more, their youthful propensities gave no signs of "let up," till the flying hours of the merry dancing in the east. Jacksonville's old folks and a going to grow old for tell, you bet.

THE WEATHER.—The unusual clear and cold weather that has for the past two weeks locked our streams with ice, and encrusted the earth's surface has at length relaxed its grasp, and has given way to soft balmy sunshine re-animating life to the delicate green-weds, and hope to the honest plough man. A day it is now to be hoped that alternate rain and sunshine will be the future order of the season; which will not only give returning beauty to our valley and graceful slopes; but life and energy to every department of business.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—At a meeting of the Directors of the O. B. P. R. Co. of Jacksonville held at the office of the company in this town on the 5th inst., the resignation of Hon. Jesse Applegate, President, was received and accepted, and James T. Glenn was thereupon elected to fill the vacancy. Messrs. J. C. Tolman, J. N. T. Miller and J. D. Fay were appointed a committee to draft by-laws.

FISHER & BROTHER.—This firm is one of the oldest established business houses in Jackson County. They are thankful for past favors, and are determined to sell there large and well selected stock of goods at prices to suit the times. Drop in and see their goods, and compare the prices before buying elsewhere.

JERRY NUNAN keeps a full assortment of harness, saddles, and saddery; he is a practical workman himself, and knows what business is. Jerry has done more to bring prices down to living rates than any other man in his line. Patronize him.

G. KARWICKI has refitted the Brick Store, formerly occupied by Muller & Baum, and has the establishment filled to overflowing with goods of every description, which he offers to exchange for produce and cash cheaper than the cheapest.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement of J. T. Glenn in another column. The Maj keeps constantly on hand a general assortment of merchandise, which he offers, to the trade at reduced prices. Give him a call.

SACHS BROTHERS—TEMPLE OF FASHION—This enterprising firm still keep a full variety of fancy and staple goods, which can be had at the very lowest rates. Go and see them.

JOHN NEUBER.—If you want to get the correct time, the latest style of genuine jewelry, good tobacco, fine havanas, go to Neuber's.

PLYMALE & MANNING.—The Excelsior Stable, as the name indicates, will not be out done in strict attention to business. Try them.

UNION STABLE.—This old and favorite stable has undergone many repairs lately, and is now prepared for any rush of business.

COUNTY COURT, T. H. B. SHIPLEY, JUDGE—In Probate.—In the matter of the Estate of Ann Sophia Love, dec'd. Wm. Hoffman, Administrator, "De bonis Non," filed final account. Ordered that Monday, Feb. 6th, 1871 be set apart for hearing objections to the same. In the matter of the Estate of Stephen Hallock, dec'd. Citation issued, requiring Wm. Mathis, Adm'r, to make report, showing condition of the same. In the matter of the Estate of Josiah Newland, dec'd. Citation issued—same as above. In the matter of the Estate of E. B. Rhinehart, dec'd. B. F. Myer, Administrator. Citation issued—same as above. In the matter of the Estate of J. M. Anderson, dec'd. Citation issued—same as above.

ISYANTICIDE.—On the 30th Dec. Coroner Gannong held an inquest on the body of a newly born infant found in a shallow pool of water a short distance from Mr. Mezerle's house, on Evans creek. From the evidence adduced, it appears that the mother of the child is a young woman, who attended the Christmas ball at Rock Point, and danced all night, and was stopping to rest at Mr. Mezerle's on her way home. The whole case presents most revolting features. We shall withhold comment until a legal investigation is had.

BURGLARY.—On the night of Wednesday last an attempt was made to enter Sachs Bros. store. The brick wall was broken in three places at the rear of the store, and an attempt was also made at an entry from the rear of Bilger's store. This is the fourth attempt at burglary in this place within the past three months. The burglars being evidently frightened off before the robbery was completed. Some means should be adapted to prevent a repetition of the offence.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Gold Hill Mining Company, held at their office in Jacksonville, Dec. 31st, 1870, the following gentlemen were elected for the ensuing year, to-wit: President, H. Klippel; Trustees, John E. Ross, Thos. Chavner, W. H. S. Hyde and N. C. Dean; Treasurer and Secretary, Ike Sachs.

The Franco-American Restaurant kept by Madame Guilfoyle, treats the local and wayfarer to as good accommodations as the most fastidious could wish. The Madame's kind and assiduous attention to her guests' tenders them the invitation to call as they pass, and refresh, as she is ready at all hours to do so again.

DISTRICT SCHOOL.—Prof. Robb and lady commenced their quarter with 22 scholars. This speaks well for their management of the school.

BORN.

MARTIN.—In Jacksonville, Jan. 2nd, 1871, to the wife of A. J. Martin, a son.

MILLER.—In Jacksonville, Jan. 2d, 1871, to the wife of J. N. T. Miller, a son.

DIED.

MERRIMAN.—On Bear Creek, Dec. 20th, 1870, P. Merriman, daughter of W. H. and A. Merriman, in the 3rd year of her age.

[The little one went to his final home while the old year was chiming its last bells; which seemed in sad appropriateness to fill the little one to its last sleep; but fell in softened tones upon these fond parents, whose hope and joy the little had had just begun to envision. Weep not, heart-stricken ones; for you have Heaven's assurance that it is now transmitted to Helen's bosom; and there, with the other sister-blossoms that have been taken, will form a lovely parterre of eternal bloom to greet you after crossing the dreared River—Com.]

A hundred diseases may proceed from one source, a diseased or debilitated stomach. No human being can be healthy when digestion is disordered. Tons the stomach and liver and regulate the bowels with Dr. WALKER'S VEGETABLE VINI-COLA BIRAZZ, and the work of assimilation and excretion will go heavily on. This vital elixir conquers the causes of all physical irregularities. By insuring perfect digestion and a proper flow of bile, it insures pure blood, a vigorous circulation, and the prompt discharge of all waste matter from the system.

A Gradual Decay.

That the work of disintegration is going on in the Radical party must appear to the most superficial observer of the daily record of current political events. Formed at the outset heterogeneous elements, it has been held together, not by the cohesive power of a union upon, and steadfast adherence to a sound principle, but by a sort of offensive and defensive alliance, for the maintenance of power and gain among its leaders, who being well skilled in political engineering, have, by an ample distribution of the spoils and an arbitrary system of dragooning, managed for a long time to keep their organization together.

The present condition of the Republican party calls to mind an old political maxim, and, to paraphrase, we may suggest that it fares the party to hastening death a pray, where ambition rules and honesty of purpose decays.

The recent elections in Pennsylvania, and in the city of Boston where a Democrat has just been elected to the Mayoralty by over three thousand plurality, are some of the "straws that show which way the current is running, and may be they are the thorns in the flesh of the immaculate Mr. Sumner that goaded him to his recent display of spleen in the Senate Chamber. If one accord to Mr. Sumner the credit of an ordinary strict observance of the rules of parliamentary decorum and personal propriety, of which he claims to be the most scrupulous exemplar, we must, to do the honorable gentleman justice, concede that no ordinary influence could prompt him to wander so far from the bounds of propriety. Whatever his errors may be, he is not an idiot; and, like the monarch of old, he sees the hand-writing on the wall, warning him that the day of usefulness of the party of which he has been both figure head and oracle, has passed. The voice from the tomb of the old Bay State has disturbed his equanimity. The vote of the Senate was a rebuke to him that must have cut him to the heart's core, and may teach him that even he is not yet too old to learn the meaning of the signs of the times, nor too wise to gain wisdom therefrom.

The evidences of the lack of harmony in the Radical councils are becoming more numerous every day, and it is a matter for congratulation to all conservative men that the Democracy of both the Empire and the Bay State have so effectively taken advantage of the Radical discord, and are now presenting a solid front to the enemy. It was supposed by the Radicals in Massachusetts that the Democracy could not unite in harmonious action in the late municipal contest; but to their astonishment, all minor matters were laid aside, and the conservatives, turning out to a man, achieved a signal victory.

These good omens may be accepted by the Democracy as prophetic of the same good fortune to the national contest now so near at hand. All that is needed to rescue the ark of our liberties from the hands of the spoilers is judicious and harmonious action. The golden opportunity is now presented. It is for us to avail ourselves of the offering. —Weekly Examiner.

A Pretty Fancy for the New Year Come.

There is a Persian legend which tells us that far up among the stars in the regions of viewless space there stands a gigantic clock, wrought by no mortal hands, unseen by mortal eyes. Its frame is carved from the wood of that tree of life which grows on the banks of the celestial river; its pendulum is of that pure transcendent gold which paves the streets of the Celestial City; its dial blazes with those heavenly gems which glitter among the walls and gates of Paradise; its foundation stone is hewn from that temple "whose builder and maker is God." This is the Clock of Ages, whose allotted task it is to mark the flight of time until time itself shall be no more, and merges in the unending cycles of eternity. An innumerable company of angels, cherubim and seraphim, whose garments have never touched the soil of earth; whose souls were never stained with sin or stung by sorrow, surround and guard this clock forever and ever. Day after day—"For there is no night there"—month after month, century after century, that pendulum swings its ceaseless beat to the sound of those mysterious harmonies which the ancients called "the music of the spheres." No whisper from the waiting throng, no echo from out the vast void breaks the awful calm which broods like a silent prayer beneath that boundless dome. But as the last moments of the dying year are drawing to a close, as the index finger upon the dial nears the midnight hour of twelve, the host of winged sentinels fall on bended knee and chant a solemn requiem to the departing spirit—a requiem so sad and yet so sweet that it seems as if grief in Heaven were almost possible. And the clock tolls out a funeral dirge, mingling its silvery clangor with the strain, and the blended chorus goes up in vocal incense of exaltation before "the great White Throne and Him that sitteth thereon." Suddenly the dirge and requiem cease; the clock rings forth a peal of joyous melody, angel and arch, angel, cherubim and seraphim arise, a triumphant anthem bursts from every lip, "The morning stars sing together and all the sons of God shout for joy." For the Old Year is dead and the New Year is born.

BEST INTENTIONS. An exchange says: General Sheridan witnessed the battle of Sedan from King William's headquarters. He watched the progress of event for some time, and burst into tears. The crowd thought he was tender-hearted, until he went up to his mark, and pointing to a barn on the right, with a lot of women and children looking out of the loft, he said: "Please send a squad of soldiers to burn that barn, and let me lead them. It would seem so homelike." The request was not granted.—Examiner.
