

OFFICIAL DIRECTORY.

JACKSON COUNTY. FIRST JUDICIAL DISTRICT--Circuit Judge, P. P. Prim; Prosecuting Attorney, H. K. Hanna. JACKSON COUNTY--Circuit Court, Second Monday in February and November. County Court, first Monday in each month.

JACKSONVILLE LODGE No. 10

HOLDS ITS REGULAR MEETINGS ON every Saturday evening at the Odd Fellows' Hall. Brothers in good standing are invited to attend.

REGULAR ROBEKAH Degree meeting, last Monday night of each month, at 7 o'clock p. m. May 1st, 1869.

OREGONIAN, PUBLISHED WEEKLY. No. 1, Improved Order of Red Men.

HOLD their stated councils at Odd Fellows' Hall, the third sun in each seven days, at the 8th run. A cordial invitation to all brothers in good standing.

Business Cards.

DR. L. T. DAVIS, Office--On Pine Street. Opposite the Old ARKANSAS LIVERY STABLE.

DR. W. JACKSON, DENTIST. Dental Rooms in building formerly occupied by Dr. E. H. Greenman, corner California and Fifth Streets.

KAHLER & WATSON, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law, JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

WILL practice in the Supreme Court, District, and other Courts of this State.

OFFICE--In building formerly occupied by O. Jacobs--opposite Court House square.

FAY & REA, Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law, OFFICE--In Court House, up stairs.

Particular attention paid to the collection of Claims against the Federal and State Governments, the Entry of Lands under the Pre-emption and Homestead Laws, and to the Entry of Mineral Lands under the recent Act of Congress.

LAND NOTICE.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING BEEN APPOINTED Local Agent of the Board of School Land Commissioners, is now prepared to receive applications to purchase School, University and State lands.

Office in Court House--up stairs. T. H. B. SHIPLEY, Local Agent for Jackson County, Jacksonville, March 18 1871.

RAILROAD SALOON! ENGINEER, MAX. BRENTANO.

CHOICE LIQUORS AND CIGARS constantly on hand. THROUGH TICKETS, 12 1-2 Cents.

BELLA-UNION SALOON! THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING FULLY refitted this old and favorite place of resort, now offers the very best of liquors and cigars at 12 1-2 CENTS.

The Saloon is commodious, the billiard tables are of the latest and most improved pattern, and the wants of guests promptly supplied.

Those knowing themselves indebted to me will do well to call without delay and settle, as I must have money, and that soon.

Democratic Times.

COSMOPOLITAN HOTEL, (KEPT ON THE EUROPEAN PLAN,) Corner of Stark and Front Streets, PORTLAND, - - - OREGON. ZIEBER & HOLTON, PROPRIETORS.

Call at J. Neuber's JEWELRY STORE, AND SEE HIS FINE STOCK OF NEW Goods direct from the manufacturers.

A New Lot of AMERICAN LEVER WATCHES Just from the Factory.

He is agent for the best Rifles and Pistols made, among which is the HENRY RIFLE.

All kinds of Watch and Clock Cleaning and Repairing done to order at half price.

EAGLE SAMPLE ROOMS.

THE Pioneer Bit House,

Cor. Third & Cal. sts., (opposite the U. S. Hotel), JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

JOHN NOLAN, PROP'R.

L IQUORS by the glass, bottle, demijohn, or keg. The proprietor of this old stand was the first to bring liquors down to a bit a drink nine years ago in Jacksonville.

MILLINERY.

THE UNDERSIGNED WOULD RESPECT- fully inform the Ladies of Jacksonville and vicinity, that they have just arrived from San Francisco with a well assorted stock of Millinery and Straw Goods.

MISSES A. F. and L. A. KENT, JACKSONVILLE, March 25th, 1870.

NEW MEAT MARKET! THLO GASMAN TAKES THIS METHOD of informing his friends, and the public generally, that he has opened a Meat Market on California Street, opposite the United States Hotel.

BEEF, (Fresh & Corned) MUTTON, PORK, SAUSAGES, &c., &c.

ARKANSAS LIVERY STABLE! Oregon street, opposite Overbeck's Hospital, JACKSONVILLE, OGN.

PEARSON & McINTYRE, PROPRIETORS.

THIS favorite stable has been reopened and THOROUGHLY REFITTED.

SPRING WAGONS -AND- SADDLE HORSES For hire on reasonable terms.

The largest corral in the town is attached to the stable. Teamsters will find ample accommodation for their animals at all times.

PEARSON & McINTYRE.

SACRIFICE IMPETRO.

[As C. H. (Joachim) Miller is receiving considerable attention from the American and European press, just now, we re-publish the following poem, written by his wife and published June 16, 1870, in reply to a poem addressed to her entitled "Myrr," and written after their separation.--ED. TIMES.]

Why did I dream of thee, darling, In the sweet wild hours of the night; Why did thy spirit come near me, Moving in mystical light.

Once there was a garden Daintly scented with clover-- Stream with poppies asleep, And corn leaves fluttering o'er;

You brought your flute, and played me The sweetest of all love tunes; "In the day of my heart--of all days--"

But down in the town below, The fair woods never fall; And a car rolls to and fro, And over the hearts of all.

What good have we done, my darling? You sleep in death's eclipse, With no touch of mine on your forehead, No kiss of mine on your lips.

And he, through books and bays, Believeth for pretty words, To weave in his languid lays, Of women, and streams, and birds.

Decked with my love, for a time; But the day of the hour came, When he pushed the face he loved in the dust, And stepped to his niche of flame.

God and the angels may tell us, What beautiful grave they have made him, Where the tropical downiness floats, Where a bird in the plumage of Eros

Wearily of all this year That beareth the bitter fruit; Wearily of everything now I weep at the sound of a flute.

To the splendid grave they have made him, Where the tropical downiness floats, Where a bird in the plumage of Eros

Another Telling Blow. Hon. Alexander Delmar to a Southern Friend Upon the New Department Heresy, and the Party of Great Moral Ideas.

MEMPHIS, TENN., July 18, 1871. Hon. Alex. Delmar, New York: DEAR SIR--The Appeal reproduces with unqualified commendation your letter in Pomeroy's Democrat.

Your Friend and Ob't Servant, L. J. DU PRE, Editor Memphis Appeal.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1, 1871. Colonel Louis J. Du Pre, Memphis Tenn.: DEAR SIR--Your esteemed favor of 18th ult. to hand. It affords me great pleasure to know that my late letter on the New Departure meets with commendation from so prominent a citizen of the South as yourself.

The Ohio platform, if it means anything, means that the revolutionary amendments shall be regarded as a final settlement of the constitutional issues between the two great parties.

When it is seen with what corn field ammunition the Democracy has now thrice been put to flight, there would seem to be nothing left worth laughing at in regard to the attitude of the two great Northern parties.

Step we now into the camp of Great Moral Ideas, and what do we find to occasion all this bewilderment and fear in the minds of the Democracy?

reject a certain New Constitution, to wit: one which without changing the numerous complex and nicely-balanced provisions of the Old Constitution, completely reverses the State Sovereignty theory upon which it was constructed.

Although native here "and to the manner born," I cannot resist an expression of regret that the leadership of our party has fallen into the hands of Northern politicians.

The Republican party owes its continued ascendancy much to its shrewd assumption, that the civil war was waged solely to uphold slavery.

THE LOCAL JOURNAL. The local paper of to-day, supplanted as it has been in general and political news by the greater papers of the city, is nevertheless, neither insignificant in its influence, nor without a certain responsibility for the manner in which it is conducted.

Just such an organ of influence as this is the Times to our patrons. It tells you of your own local events, of your daily life, of your joys and sorrows, of your dearest friends, of your private life.

No one who remembers the acrimonious debates on the States Rights and Protection questions which agitated our Congresses previous to the war can doubt that, setting slavery entirely aside, these differences alone might easily have led the country into a war.

The Northern Democracy, instead of upsetting this stigma upon the South, as it might very easily have done, has been content to let it pass unchallenged; and now, crowning act of weakness and folly, proposes to accept the Radical revolutionary amendments, on condition that this baseless and impudent assertion shall be used no longer against them by their victorious adversaries.

To test a horse's eyes, look at the eye carefully, when the horse is in rather a dark stable. Note the size and shape of the pupil, carry this carefully in your mind while you turn the horse about to a strong light.

To be angry is to avenge the faults of others upon ourselves.

and hedged with inalienable divinity? What are the inviolable measures we see them relying upon in all the self-complacency that originality and boldness could confer?

I have not been in the South, Colonel, for fourteen years. I never favored slavery so long as it was recognized and held up by the laws, I did not oppose it. When in 1863 it was projected to abolish it, I favored such abolition.

Yours very truly, ALEX. DELMAR.

THE LOCAL JOURNAL. The local paper of to-day, supplanted as it has been in general and political news by the greater papers of the city, is nevertheless, neither insignificant in its influence, nor without a certain responsibility for the manner in which it is conducted.

Just such an organ of influence as this is the Times to our patrons. It tells you of your own local events, of your daily life, of your joys and sorrows, of your dearest friends, of your private life.

No one who remembers the acrimonious debates on the States Rights and Protection questions which agitated our Congresses previous to the war can doubt that, setting slavery entirely aside, these differences alone might easily have led the country into a war.

The Northern Democracy, instead of upsetting this stigma upon the South, as it might very easily have done, has been content to let it pass unchallenged; and now, crowning act of weakness and folly, proposes to accept the Radical revolutionary amendments, on condition that this baseless and impudent assertion shall be used no longer against them by their victorious adversaries.

To test a horse's eyes, look at the eye carefully, when the horse is in rather a dark stable. Note the size and shape of the pupil, carry this carefully in your mind while you turn the horse about to a strong light.

To be angry is to avenge the faults of others upon ourselves.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

In THE DEMOCRATIC TIMES will be charged at the following rates: First insertion, (ten lines or less).....$1 00 For each week thereafter.....$1 00 A liberal deduction from the above rates will be made on quarterly and yearly advertisements.

JOB PRINTING.

Every variety of Job Work executed with neatness and dispatch, at reasonable rates. LEGAL TENDERS taken at par for subscription.

A RURAL WEDDING.

An Inmate Bridegroom--One of the Liveliest Scenes Ever Witnessed.

[From the Peoria Republican, July 24th.]

Cole, the artist, has just returned from a trip down the Peoria, Pekin and Jacksonville Railroad, and while stopping at Forest City he witnessed a rural wedding, which quite throws in the shade anything of the kind we have ever heard of. While at the hotel, in the evening, a party drove up, and assembling in the parlor sent for the landlord. They had come from the prairie, and were in search of an official to tie the knot that should make them one and inseparable forevermore.

"You and each of you do solemnly swear that in the cause now upon hearing you will tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, and that you will love, honor, cherish and obey each other during the term of your natural lives, so help you God."

Both answered, solemnly, "I will," and then the Justice charged them a dollar each and pronounced them man and wife. One of the friends then produced a jug of whisky from their wagon and proceeded to compound a punch, of which the whole crowd drank freely, and had a dance. As they could find no music, their efforts were principally confined to jigs and breakdowns.

The girls of the party took her off to her chamber and soon disrobed her, and announced to the young men that everything was ready. All repaired to a noose-bridal chamber, where the face of the new-made bride was sweetly reposing on the pillow. After a romp and the perpetration of the customary jokes, the young fellows intimated to the bridegroom that they proposed to divest him of his wearing apparel and put him by the side of his wife. He demurred, and then a scuffle ensued. The bridegroom was as strong as an ox, and getting angry, he blackened one fellow's eye and tore another one's coat off his back.

They hid the ladder and went off. The happy man, finding the coast clear, walked quietly to his room and attempted to enter. He couldn't get in, and he frantically shouted, "Jenny, open the door." Jenny informed him that it was nailed up. He tried to kick it open, when the landlord interfered and said he was not going to have the furniture of the house ruined in that way.

AN Indian called at a tavern, in the fall of the year, for a dram. The landlord asked him two coppers for it. The next spring, happening at the same hour, he called for another, and had to pay three coppers for it.

It is confessed by California papers that the price of improved lands in that State is lower than it was two or three years ago. This is the result of the failure in crops which has been so disastrous to many this year.

AN Oregon toast over a glass of the ardent: "Here's what makes us wear old clothes."