OFFICIAL PAPER FOR JACKSON COUNTY.

OUR CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT,

GEO. H. PENDLETON, OF OHIO;

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, EX-SEN. BUCKALEW, OF PENNSYLVANIA,

ON A BROAD DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

THEREV. MR. BEEKMAN'S CONVERT

When we were compelled to expose Billy Alequacheek Turner's rascality on the Klamath, he had repented and was disposed to do right; that so saint-like had he become that he could be turned loose unmuzzled and unhandcuffed in a whole warehouse-full of hand-saw-files, and he would not appropriate a file; that if he had a ton of alequacheek and a wagon-load of wood-pecker-heads, and were placed in the midst of a digger reservation with forty decks of marked cards, he would feel no temptation to gamble with the diggers; that if he had a chance to swindle the Government out of thousands of dollars by simply swearing to a false account, he would not swear worth a cent; and that he was in all respects as truthful and honest a man as the weather would permit.

Up to that time we had the highest veneration for the Rev. Mr. Beekman's moral sagacity, but we could not see Billy Alequacheek's moral reformation with the spees we possessed, and when we thought of that suit of clothes he took for appraising the school lands, we lost our grip entirely, and were not surprised much when he committed forgery in that letter business. His penitence had come too late, and proved a pet theory of ours that repentances made so late in life are seldom efficacious, unless the penitent dies pretty soon afterwards. We have always held the opinion that when the legs of the penitent thief on the cross were broken and he gave up the ghost, it was the very best thing that could happen him; it saved him the perils of temptation. Now, if Billy had been gathered to his fathers soon after his conversion under the ministrations of the Rev. Mr. Beekman, it is true he would have lost the suit of clothes and would not now hold the somewhat anomalous position of Chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, and at the same time edit the Deputy Sentinel and be the special eulogist of a Democratic Governor; but we honestly think his chances for a celestial crown would have been much better than they appear to be at present.

Whether the Governor will be spiritually or politically benefitted by his association with Billy, remains to be seen. Judging from the moral and political debasement which has befallen his associates here, we may be permitted to entertain grave doubts. Fortunately for the Governor, he lives so far away from Billy that the latter cannot tempt him to commit forgery as he did Linn, nor to lie as he has others of his conferees, unless he uses the telegraph for that purpose; wherefore we take the liberty of warning the friends of the Executive against the wiles of the Rev. Mr. Beekman's convert.

POLITICS MAKES STRANGE BED-FELLOWS.—Verily the truth of the above is apparent, when the eulogy on the Democratic Governor of Oregon, penned by Billy Alequacheek, the Chairman of the Republican Central Committee of this county, is read in the columns of the Deputy Sentinel. While the political brethren of Billy are industriously engaged all over the State in dusting His Excellency's jacket, and making things generally exceedingly sultry for him, the magnanimous Billy pens a glowing eulogy on the Governor! To say that this proceeding excites astonishment, does not begin to express it. What has Grover done that the Chairman of the Republican organization should fall in love with him? Can it be possible that among the followers of Grover in this county there is not one competent to become his eulogist, and hence the aid of the Republican Chairman and file-thief had to be invoked? "How are the mighty fallen," if this be true. How must the Governor feel when reading this panegyric from the hands of a Republican? It may be that, as eulogies on the Governor have been so few and far between, he is glad to have one from any source, even from Billy Alequacheek, of Klamath fame. But what must the Republican party of this county think, when the Chairman of their organization takes to writing eulogies on a Democratic Governor? What is the cause of "such conduct as dose?" Has Billy thrown off on the Republican party, or is he simply hypocritically extolling the Governor that he may gull Democrats?

STATE ITEMS.

Geo. H. Williams, alias Flaxbrake, has left for Washington.

The Oregon Penitentiary has nearly one hundred inmates.

A man in Eastern Oregon is a millionaire in Confederate money.

John G. Saxe, Jr., a son of the celebrated poet and wit, is in Oregon.

Portland, Salem and other cities north are reveling in ripe strawberries.

Two Japanese youths are being educated at the Forest Grove University.

Portland is making arrangements to celebrate the Fourth in grand style.

The increase in the vote in this State in the past two years has been about 3,000.

The Grand Lodge of Masons of Oregon meets at Salem next Monday, June 24th.

The spotted trout fever prevails in Salem, and is more than usually fatal to the trout.

The rivers and creeks in Eastern Oregon are higher than they have been for the past two years.

Ochoo Valley, Wasco county, has two towns named respectively "Bummerville" and "Doggy."

The 26th anniversary of the elevation of Pope Pius IX. to the Pontificate, was duly celebrated throughout Oregon.

The Salem Good Templars are still looking for John B. Gough, so as to obtain his services for the 4th of July.

Miss Anna Mehlig, the celebrated pianiste, has been giving entertainments in Portland, Salem and other towns.

A new bug has made its appearance on the fruit trees since the Radicals carried the State. It's an onery looking little cuss.

Ralph Geer, of Marion county, has two cows of short-horn stock, which yield half a barrel of milk daily. He has refused $200 apiece for them.

A person by the name of Joseph Stinson was shot and killed by Chas. Grant, a sporting character, at Portland last Tuesday. Cause, whisky.

The school at the Grand Ronde Indian Agency has 27 Indian pupils. Mr. Donnelly, the teacher, says he could have a hundred if he had room for them.

The "great" Radical jubilee over the Oregon election and ratification of the nominations of Grant and Wilson, at Portland, was a contemptible fizzle.

Ira Miller, of Benton county, has a three-legged calf. The calf is now about nine weeks old, is large and healthy, and can travel almost as rapidly as if it had four legs.

Four patients were added to the Insane Asylum last week. The number of patients now confined in the Asylum is one hundred and eighteen males and forty-five females.

A move is on foot in Corvallis to get a fire engine for that place. Jacksonville would do well to likewise follow suit, before it is warned by a destructive conflagration, as Corvallis has been warned.

M. S. Hart, contractor, who absconded some time ago, but was subsequently arrested and brought back to Portland, has been convicted of fraud and sentenced to six months' imprisonment by Judge Deady, of the U. S. District Court.

An election for Councilmen was held in Portland last Tuesday, and resulted in the choice of two Republicans and one Independent. Holladay's railroad hands were not on hand, and there was a great falling off in the vote polled at the election held June 3d.

This is the way the Radicals managed to elect part of their ticket in Clackamas county: The Radical Judges of Election refused over sixty voters, who were working on the Locks, while not only were the illegal votes of many railroad hands received, but a boss and twenty men went over the county in a locomotive and voted the Republican ticket in three or four different precincts. These same tricks were practiced in a number of other counties, and this is one of the principal reasons why Oregon was carried so largely by the Republicans.

STOPPED THEIR PAPERS.—In obedience to orders, issued by Billy Alequacheek, editor of the late lamented Deputy Sentinel and Chairman of the Republican Central Committee of this county, Bill Owen and Granville Naylor have discontinued their subscription to the Times. We are happy to state that both paid for their papers up to the last number, and the hearts of our printers are thereby made glad. By the withdrawal of these subscribers the Times has incurred a heavy loss, for the income of the office has been diminished to the enormous extent of 11 cents a week. We ask the sympathy of the public in our affliction. Our soul is oppressed with dread for the future, and the blue devils are holding high carnival on the editorial table as we write. Oh, Billy Owen! Billy Owen! How could you do it? Have you no bowels of compassion at all, Billy? Do you want to ruin us entirely, cruel man? But we know that all appeals for mercy are made in vain to this stony-hearted creature. No doubt he and Naylor are astonished to see the Times in existence yet. They cannot conceive how the paper could live when those two powerful men had withdrawn their subscription. But she still lives, Billy, and notwithstanding the woful deficiency of our finances made by the stoppage of your subscription, we expect to do as well as the county did in 1868, when that deficit occurred in the accounts of the Sheriff's office, that you wot of.
