

Presidential Electors, N. H. GATES, L. F. LANE, G. R. HELM.

HE WHINES.

His Excellency, Gov. Grover, writes under the deserved castigation we inflicted a couple of weeks ago, and his chief dirt-slinger who runs the Executive smut machine at Salem is correspondingly exercised.

Since the absence of the edictress of the New Northwest from the State, he has had a return of his old complaint, the "big-head," and now gives himself airs while venting his billingsgate and slime; but he must not expect to be noticed therefore, as he does not rise to the level of contempt.

PHARISEISM.—The pious youth of the Sentinel inflicted a sermon on his readers last week. Among other compliments he informs the people of this valley there is a great deal of wickedness amongst them.

OREGON STATE FAIR.—We have received from Mr. E. M. Waite, Secretary of the Oregon State Agricultural Society, a copy of a neat little pamphlet containing a list of premiums for the Oregon State Fair, to be held in October, 1872.

The report of the Treasurer shows the expenditures of last year to have been $14,644; and the balance on hand January 10, 1872, $44 15.

The Premium List seems to have been arranged on a liberal scale, and with better discrimination than has heretofore ruled, in favor of such exhibits as are of general and material interests to the people at large.

The Annual State Fair will begin Monday, September 30, and continue six days. The time was fixed to accommodate the county fairs in Washington and Linn.

JOAQUIN MILLER has just sold to the Overland Monthly a poem entitled "The Isles of the Amazon," for $2,000, which is said to be the largest price ever given by an American publisher to an American poet.

THE RAILROAD.

We find the following in the Yreka Journal of last week:

"We learn from J. M. Smith, who reached town on Monday with his team, that the railroad company is taking away all the hands for the Southern road by Visalia, and it is reported that the California and Oregon railroad will not be built further north than Redding for the next three years.

There is not the slightest doubt but that work on both ends of the railroad will cease for an indefinite time as soon as Roseburg, in Oregon, and Redding, in California, are reached. It is noticeable that so long as the Democratic party remained in the ascendancy in Oregon, the railroad progressed steadily southward toward Rogue River Valley, but that on the day after the Republicans achieved their victory, the greater number of the railroad employes were shipped to Washington Territory and discharged.

So long as Oregon was Democratic, there was no way to avoid the route through this valley, for that party had fully committed itself to the route through Southern Oregon in 1870 by the Caucus Resolution and pledge, signed by Senator Kelly previous to his nomination, and by Senate Joint Resolution No. 7, it had placed itself squarely on the record, both in and out of caucus, as in favor of the railroad interests of this valley, and could not retract.

Now, however, there is a new order of things. It is well known that what is known as the Pengra Company has been contending for years to either obtain a grant of lands for a road to Eugene City from some point on the Central Pacific, near Gravelly Ford, Na., or to obtain from Congress an amendment to the existing law, floating the land grant to the Pengra or "Sage Brush Road."

There is one consolation the people of this county can lay to their hearts, however, and that is this: The loss of the railroad—the only means whereby this valley can ever be made prosperous, populous and wealthy—is the work of their own hands.

The above expresses our sentiment. We are opposed to all of Ben Holladay's political manipulations in this State, and always shall be, but we do not oppose any of the enterprises he has set on foot here for the purpose of promoting the prosperity of Oregon.

FAST TIME.—Goldsmith Maid made the best time on record in a race at Boston last week against Lucy, trotting the second heat in 2:16.

spite and personal malice of such political scum as Linn, Owen, Ralls, Jackson and Ross might be gratified. They declared to the world that the action of their Senator, in voting for their railroad right during the last session of the Legislature, was not endorsed by them.

INJURIOUS TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE.

During the past week, and, in fact, ever since the late election, the Herald has pursued a very strange course concerning the railroad interests of the State; one that can have no good result for the people.

These declarations can have but certain results, and they are the injury of the enterprises in question; the depreciation of the value of real estate; the dampening of all ardent movements for the promotion of the public welfare; and the ruin of the merchant, mechanic and laborer.

The Herald virtually declares Oregon not to be a suitable place for the investment of capital when it attempts to show that the railroad owned and controlled by Ben Holladay are not self-supporting, and the end it will attain, will be the ruin of the credit of the State abroad; and when we consider the matter from a stand-point nearer home, we find that there is everything to lose by the continuance of this shameful warfare against what are undoubtedly the best interests of the people.

A fire occurred in Portland last week, in Capt. Ankeny's building, occupied by Janion & Rhodes and Williams & Myers, doing damage to the amount of $10,000—mostly incidental. Incendiary work.

A number of gentlemen at McMinnville, Yamhill county, a few days ago, announced their beads and faces with carbolic acid, to keep off the small-pox. They won't do so any more—at least not until their faces get well.

The following officers were elected by the Grand Lodge of Good Templars, which met at Salem week before last: Jacob Conser, G. W. C. T.; A. A. Boony, G. W. Conn.; Miss Henrietta Miller, G. W. V. T.; J. W. Smith, G. W. Secretary; J. B. McClane, G. W. Treasurer.

H. H. Burton, of Yamhill county, has purchased 1,400 head of cattle in Texas, and is driving them the "plains across." We learn that the drove cost $8 each for cows with calves, $5 for steers three years old or upwards, and $3.50 for two years old or dry cows.

STATE ITEMS.

The burnt district of Corvallis is being rebuilt. In Portland vaccination is indulged in as an amusement.

Albany millers are offering 80 cents per bushel for wheat. Charles Vivian, the famous singer, is delighting the Portlanders.

A telegraphic line will soon be constructed from Roseburg to Coos Bay. An extensive bed of coal has been discovered twenty miles east of Roseburg.

Two boys named Warren killed two panthers in Yamhill county last week. The Multnomah Grand Jury, in a session of seven days, found 12 indictments.

A citizen of Wasco county recently found 34 rattlesnakes under one pile of stones. John Emerick, tried at the Dalles for the murder of John Mount, has been acquitted.

Mr. Kellar has arrived in Oregon with twenty bucks of the Lincolnshire breed, from New Zealand direct. A sturgeon weighing 150 pounds was recently caught in the Columbia river, a short distance above St. Helens.

A Portland lady, who fell into the Willamette river last week, was rescued from drowning by a Newfoundland dog. The Oregon State Agricultural Society owns 140 acres of land near Salem.

The improvements on it are valued at $10,000. A farmer in Union county killed 2,000 ground squirrels during May last. May wasn't a good month for ground squirrels either.

Chas. J. Graham, a negro, got 242 votes for Councilman at the late municipal election in Portland—within 59 of an election. Hazeltine, Democrat, is elected a Representative from Grant county, instead of Johnson, Republican, as announced in last week's Times.

The railroad has been completed to Oakland, Douglas county, and regular trains will commence running to that place next Monday. John B. Felton, of Oakland, California, one of the most brilliant orators on the Coast, is to deliver the Fourth of July oration at Portland.

A waterfall three hundred feet high has been discovered in the mountains above Eugene City. That beats the water-fall of any Dolly Varden in the land. Physicians have reported a bad case of small-pox in Eugene; and the city authorities have passed an ordinance to prevent the spread of the disease.

The Democrat says a Linn county Democratic mother has named her latest baby Horace Greeley, "subject to the decision of the Baltimore Convention." Portland was thrown in a state of great consternation last week by the appearance of a man with the small-pox on the streets. He was taken to the pest house.

There are several horses in training for the 4th of July races at Albany. Among them are the fast nags "Trifle" and "Hiram," owned by Geo. Ross, of Jackson. The running time on the Portland and Tehama mail route has been reduced to three days, between April 1st and November 30th, and five days for the balance of the time.

C. P. Burkhardt, of Linn county, has just received an order from a Pennsylvania farmer for 150 bushels of his mammoth white winter wheat. He received $3 per bushel for it.

S. C. Hunt, an attaché of the N. Y. Times, arrived at Portland by last steamer. He will make a tour of the State, and will write a number of articles for the Times, as he travels.

A fire occurred in Portland last week, in Capt. Ankeny's building, occupied by Janion & Rhodes and Williams & Myers, doing damage to the amount of $10,000—mostly incidental. Incendiary work.

Rev. A. C. McDougall, the somewhat noted temperance lecturer, is in Portland. The Reverend is one of that sort of "zealous" lecturers who preach temperance publicly, and get outside of much benzine on the sly.

In Salem the summer temperature is measured by the daily consumption of paper collars. Thus, a three-collar temperature would correspond with about 80° of Fahrenheit; 85°, four collars; 90°, five collars, and so on.

A number of gentlemen at McMinnville, Yamhill county, a few days ago, announced their beads and faces with carbolic acid, to keep off the small-pox. They won't do so any more—at least not until their faces get well.

The following officers were elected by the Grand Lodge of Good Templars, which met at Salem week before last: Jacob Conser, G. W. C. T.; A. A. Boony, G. W. Conn.; Miss Henrietta Miller, G. W. V. T.; J. W. Smith, G. W. Secretary; J. B. McClane, G. W. Treasurer.

We learn that Senator Corbett introduced an amendment to the General Appropriation Bill in Congress with a view to the introduction of shad into the waters of Oregon. There is no good reason why this branch of the fishing interest should not be made profitable to our State.

H. H. Burton, of Yamhill county, has purchased 1,400 head of cattle in Texas, and is driving them the "plains across." We learn that the drove cost $8 each for cows with calves, $5 for steers three years old or upwards, and $3.50 for two years old or dry cows.

Plantation Bitters!

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics.

As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates—tropical, temperate or frigid—it acts as a specific in every species of disorders which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirit.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT,

For Man and Beast.

Probably few articles have ever had so extensive a sale, while none have been more universally beneficial than the celebrated MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. Children, Adults, Horses, and Domestic Animals, are always liable to accident, and it is safe to say that no family can pass a single season without some kind of an emollient being necessary. It becomes a matter of importance then to secure the best.

Over three hundred livery stables in the city of New York alone are using the Mexican Mustang Liniment, in all of which it gives unusual satisfaction.

Caution.—The genuine is wrapped in a fine Steel Plate engraving with "G. W. Westbrook, Chemist," and "Trade Mark, AMERICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT," engraved across the wrapper. The whole bears the proprietor's private United States Revenue Stamp, and not a common stamp, as used by druggists. LYON MANUFACTURING CO., 53 Park Place, N. Y.
