

RANDOM RHYMES.

BY "OUR" POET.

Billy had a little dog, With hair as black as jet, And every place that Billy went, The pup went too, you bet!

He followed him to school one day, That happened to be near; But when the teacher booted him, He walked off on his ear.

Returning home he met a cow, And at the cow did fly; She tossed him up five hundred feet— Now how is that for high?

The poor beast ne'er came down again, And Bill was left a mourner; For the pup lodged in the steeple-top Of the little church around the corner.

When Billy heard his darling's fate, A word he scarcely said, But toddled home and weeping cried, Not put me in my little bed.

SCISSORINKTUMS.

A water-spout—A teetotal speech. The best front-piece—An honest face. A leading article—A blind man's pup. The champion reaper—advertising.

Cool proceeding—An ice man eloping with a nice girl. Miss-construction—Whalebone, wadding, powder and paint.

A safety match—Ten thousand per annum settled on the wife. An Irishman calls his sweetheart honey because she is bee-loved.

A bed contains 2 sheets; a quire 24. It takes 12 beds to make a quire. "Victims of misplaced benzine," is what they call drunkards in Nevada.

It is estimated that there are over 30,000 canary birds brought to this country every year. Marriage—An altar on which a man lays his pocket-book, and a woman her love letters.

A Connecticut girl died in consequence of being told that Monday was an "April fool" that her lover was dead. A man named Jones attempted to cowhide an Illinois editor and was persuaded to give it up at the muzzle of a revolver.

Mice harm the cheese, but girls charm the he's. The same is true of the mice eating the cheese and girls cheating the he's.

They put women on the chain-gang in Little Rock, Arkansas. Let the women take courage. They will soon obtain their full "rights."

A lady was asked the other day why she chose to live a single life, and gravely replied: "Because I am not able to support a husband!" Good reason.

It is stated, but with what truth we do not pretend to say, that all the ladies who sweep the streets with their long dresses, have big feet and thick ankles.

When a Tennessee girl is slyly kissed, she puts on a frown and says: "Put that article right back, sir, where you stole it from."

A set of paper wheels used on a Pullman car, have run over 100,000 miles of track, and have worn out entirely one set of steel tires.

A club of Boston ladies are hard at work endeavoring to obtain the passage of a city ordinance providing that all tobacco chewers shall be muzzled when on the street.

A newly married woman of genteel appearance, went into a furniture shop a few days since, and inquired for a family fruitbasket. She was shown a large cradle, which was just what she wanted.

A youth entered a bookstore and asked, "What kind of pens do you sell here, mister?" "All kinds, you young rascal," answered one of the clerks. "Do you?" said the little chap; "then give me ten cents' worth of pig-pens."

The surest way to prevent a young couple from marrying is to oppose them. Tell them "you would sooner see them in their grave," and twelve months afterwards their baby will pass you twice a day in a willow wagon.

"Miss, will you take my arm?" asked an old bachelor. "La! yes, and you too," said the young lady. "Can only spare the arm, Miss," hastily replied the bachelor. "Then," said Miss, "I can't take it, as my motto is to take the whole hog or none at all."

Two good-natured Irishmen on a certain occasion occupied the same bed. In the morning one of them inquired of the other, "Dennis, did you hear the thunder last night?" "No, Pat; did it rattle thunder?" "Yes, it thundered as if heaven and earth would come together."

"Why, the devil, didn't ye wake me, for ye know I can't sleep when it thunders." A man who had been troubled with jumping cattle, and who had tried every plan imaginable with the worst cases of jumping cattle, found nothing would succeed in keeping them in their place but to put a board over their face.

Take an inch board, about fourteen or fifteen inches square, or large enough to cover their eyes, and let it come down within four inches of the end of the nose; tie this to their horns by boring two holes to correspond with the width of the horns, and they will not jump.
