

THE ELECTION.

ALAS, POOR YORICK!

TOO MUCH GREELEY!

The Presidential election, held last Tuesday, November 5th, resulted in the defeat of Horace Greeley and B. Gratz Brown, the Liberal Republican candidates for President and Vice-President, by an overwhelming majority, who carried less States and electoral votes than Seymour and Blair did in 1868.

- Massachusetts, 73,217 majority. Illinois, 50,000 majority. Michigan, 50,000 majority. Iowa, 50,000 majority. New York, 45,000 majority. Maine, 30,000 majority. Indiana, 23,000 majority. Minnesota, 20,000 majority. Vermont, 17,000 majority. Wisconsin, 15,000 majority. South Carolina, 15,000 majority. New Jersey, 12,000 majority. North Carolina, 10,000 majority. Rhode Island, 8,400 majority. California, 7,000 majority. Florida, doubtful. Mississippi, 3,000 majority. New Hampshire, 5,000 majority. West Virginia, 5,000 majority. Connecticut, 3,400 majority. Kansas, 3,000 majority. Delaware, 1,500 majority. Oregon, 1,000 majority. Nevada, 2,000 majority. Nebraska, 1,000 majority. Virginia, Louisiana and Alabama are claimed for Grant.

STATE DEBTS.—The debts of the several States range from $37,879,350 to $300,000, New York having the largest and Iowa the smallest. Louisiana ranks next to New York, $30,244,752. The debt of Massachusetts is but a trifle less than that of North Carolina, $29,560,664, and about $3,000 more than that of Pennsylvania, which is $28,666,876. Alabama is credited with a debt of $25,181,997; Missouri, $20,869,000; Georgia, South Carolina, Maryland and Arkansas range from $18,267,500 to $11,200,000. The debt of Ohio is $500,000 more than that of Maine, $7,212,000; and Florida's debt is $461,435 less than Connecticut's which is $5,769,800. Indiana, Texas, and California are between three and four millions each; in debt; New Jersey and Rhode Island about the same, $2,500,000. The debt of New Hampshire is $1,968,000; Nevada, $760,000; Vermont, $412,000; Oregon, $300,177.

THE END OF IT.—The Legislature, says the Albany Democrat, after being in session forty-four days, and having appropriated all the money in the Treasury, bankrupted all the landlords, and enriched all the saloon keepers at the capital—on Wednesday night of last week had the riot act read, and dispersed sine die; and the sooner its history sinks into oblivion the better for the morals of the world. It accomplished but little good, and its acts of evil were only limited by a Democratic balance in the Senate, and an honest patriot in the Executive chair.

The Jackson County Fair was a "fizzle."—Paindealer. Were the writer of the above article not prompted by petty malice, we would certainly think him drunk or crazy, for surely the Fair was a great success, and was spoken of as such by all papers, excepting the Paindealer.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.—The General Appropriation Bill passed by the Legislature appropriates the sum of $620,000 for the expenses of the State during the next two years, besides a number of bills which were passed that carried their own appropriations, in the aggregate amounting to about as much more.

Some slight fears are entertained that Greeley is beaten!

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY.

The following are the bills passed at the late session of the last Oregon Legislature. We will endeavor to lay before our readers next week a complete summary of the above bills that have been signed or vetoed by the Governor:

To authorize the sale of lands granted by Congress for the erection of Capitol buildings. To authorize the County Court of Lane county to appropriate funds to aid in the erection of the State University buildings.

OREGON.

Wheat at Albany is only fifty cents a bushel.

A mine of cinnabar has been discovered in Linn county. The Portland Custom House is rapidly approaching completion.

Street cars are to commence running in Portland December 1st. The Legislature passed seventy-nine bills and then passed out.

Oregon voted last Tuesday by ballot for the first time—in many years. Polk county has three young men whose aggregated height is 19 feet, 9 inches.

There are about sixty-five deaf mutes in this State, five of whom are Indians. The severest rain storm known for years visited the Umpqua valley last week.

The Insane Asylum at East Portland contains 167 patients; 119 males, and 48 females. The Rustic says there are no vacant houses in Empire City and immigrants have to camp out.

The Grand Encampment of the Champions of the Red Cross was organized in Portland Tuesday. John G. Baker of Yamhill county sheared $1,500 worth of wool off 250 head of sheep last Spring.

On account of the fearful condition of the roads, the stages are unable to make the connection at Oakland. The track of the Oregon Central Railroad is laid to St. Joseph, the new terminus on the Yamhill river.

The Willamette river is reported as rising. The watermark at the falls at Oregon City shows this rise plainly. Grains and hay are quite plentiful in Eastern Oregon, and prices are generally lower than in the Willamette valley.

It is stated that it cost Mr. Holladay more money to defeat the Lock Bill than it did to carry the election last Spring. Hons. J. G. Wilson and J. K. Kelly left for Washington last Friday. Senator Corbett will leave by next steamer.

Edith O'Gorman, the escaped nun, opens her lecturing campaign in Oregon, Thursday evening, Nov. 7th, at Portland. The Legislature repealed the law enacted two years ago which cut down the fees of clerks and sheriffs of the counties.

The Legislative Clerks have finally finished up their journals and they will soon be placed in the hands of the printer. Roseburg already boasts of three "drunks and disorderlies," since the incorporation act went into effect. All in five days.

The new Oakland, in Douglas county, is said to be flourishing at the expense of the older town near by of the same name. The Republican says the advertising men of Dallas are doing a good business; the others are closing out. Just so everywhere.

A couple of boys residing near Eugene recently killed nineteen geese at three shots, and sold them all at fifty cents apiece. Thirteen Norwegian immigrants arriving in Portland by the last steamer have found homes in Benton and other counties.

Dog poisoning in Albany has been brought to a stand-still for want of material—the stock on hand being entirely exhausted. Thos. Moore, the poet, and James O'Meara, the flunky, were up in the Portland police court last Saturday for drunkenness.

The people of Roseburg celebrated the arrival of the first passenger train in that town by a grand ball, which took place last week. There arrived at Roseburg on last Saturday, the first freight train passing over the railroad to that place. It consisted of six cars—all loaded.

At the November terms of the Circuit Courts for the First, Third and Fourth Judicial Districts in this State, the divorce suits number forty-one. The new Court House at Salem, it is expected, will be finished by the first of June next. When completed, it will be the finest building in Oregon.

Emigrants are daily passing through Roseburg for the Coquille country—Coos county. This section is said to offer superior inducements for settlers. A car load of eggs, intended for Portland, stayed over in Salem last Tuesday night, and the people couldn't sleep for the cry of the motherless chickens.

The wife of Jack Grant, late Representative from Polk county, has shot and trapped 358 squirrels the last year. What lady can discount that score? On account of sickness Hon. N. H. Cranor resigned the office of Mayor of Albany, and Mart Brown, of the Democrat, was elected to fill the vacancy.

This bit of valuable information comes from Salem: "Look for a cold winter, as the prophets have found that geese walk sideways and cows' tails are full of burrs." An Eastern Oregon farmer a few days since jumped from a load of hay with a loaded gun in his hand, and the scattering result of 20 or 30 shot went in the neck of a Chinaman.

Hon. J. B. Onstien, of Baker county, the Cicero of the late Legislature, "drawn" his mileage and per diem and absquatulated for San Francisco. Should he go to the Legislature again "may we be there to see."

A Marion county girl, of eight summers, has indicated the right of young females to a niche in the red temple besides other fools of both sexes by shooting her two-year old niece in the mouth. For the month of October, the disbursements on account of the construction of the Custom House and Postoffice at Portland, amounted to: Currency, $6,833 61; coin, $8,100 00. Total, $14,933 61.

Changes in the schedule time on the east and west side roads are expected to take place in a few days. The regular trains on the east side are to run through to Roseburg, and on the west side to St. Joe, on the Yamhill river.

Major Francis, an old and noted citizen of Portland, formerly editor of the Oregonian and lately Paymaster in the United States army, died on Friday, October 26th. His remains were taken to Fort Vancouver for burial.

The State Journal reports a shock of earthquake in Mohawk valley last week, and calls on Gen. Applegate for an explanation of this most wonderful and unaccountable display of the unusual and extraordinary forces of nature.

Mrs. Hulings Miller returned to her home in Lane county a few days since from a visit to her son "Jojoquin," the "poet of the Sierras," and other friends in the Atlantic States, having been absent a little over two months.

Says the La Grande, Union county paper: "Mount Emily, the proudest and highest headed of all our magnificent mountains, has of late presented a fiery front to the inhabitants of the valley. No damage is likely to occur."

T. Egerton Hogg, proprietor of several road companies representing over two million acres of land in Oregon, has been appointed by Governor Grover as one of the Commissioners to attend the International Exposition at Vienna, in May, 1873.

The Legislature allowed the chief clerks of each house $8 per day and gave them ten days after the session closed to finish up their work; assistant clerks $6 per day; committee and other clerks $6 per day; Sergeant-at-Arms and doorkeepers, $6 per day, and pages $3.

The following business was transacted at the Land office at Roseburg, during the month of October: Cash sales, 2,960 acres; Pre-emption filings, 4,000; A. C. S. locations, 1,280 acres; Land Warrants, 120 acres; Homestead applications, 4,499 acres; Final homestead entries, 2,627 acres.

The Commercial writer for the Bulletin, in its issue of Nov. 5th, estimates the wheat of Oregon for export this year at 27,500 tons in excess of last year's exports. To ship all this will require the services of sixty-five vessels of the average tonnage of those that have already loaded with wheat at Portland.

The La Grande Sentinel says: W. B. Campbell returned last week from Kelton, in charge of a party of Tennesseeans, who came to this country to find homes. The party is made up of nine persons, four of whom have families. They made a quick trip, having left their homes in Green county, Tennessee, on the 18th ult.

The Enterprise says: "The work on the Locks at this place is progressing very rapidly to completion. There is not the slightest doubt now entertained but that they will be completed by the 1st of January. It will be a most magnificent piece of work when completed, and is pronounced equal if not superior to any similar work in the Union."

Three men at Dallas became badly frightened last week because they heard a burglar, as they thought, drilling a hole through the roof of the building in which they were sleeping. So they got up, and hastily arming themselves with bowie knives, shotguns and pistols, sallied forth to slay the thief, when they found it was the gentle rain pattering on the tin roof. No one was hurt.

The fool-killer could find employment if he were to visit Salem. One or two of the citizens of that enterprising city recently invested in what is known as the "sawdust" swindle—paying near $100 an ounce for that valuable commodity. Mr. — was duly informed by a sharp New Yorker that the Government had made an over issue of greenbacks, and did not know what to do with the surplus. Therefore, in order to confer substantial pecuniary benefit upon Mr. — he is willing to forward a large sum in genuine greenbacks for a mere nominal amount. Therefore the amount is duly forwarded, and in return Mr. — receives an elegant package of—sawdust! The Salem man is mad, the Gothamite is glad, and the fools are not all dead yet.

The following is from the Salem Statesman: "The divorce business is like the horse disease—it is spreading. Every Court calendar we hear of has quite a proportion of suits of this kind; and it is no uncommon thing to read in the papers, in connection with Court sittings, 'only ten applications for divorce,' or 'only six, etc. Apropos of this, we hear of a case in a neighboring county where a 'happy husband' went home drunk, and being refused supper by his wife, proceeded to break things while she sat calmly singing 'Home, Sweet Home.' She did this until he upset the cradle, when she arose, drew a map of—county upon his noble brow, borrowed a lock of hair as a tender remembrance, and sent him out of the house. Now he wants a divorce."

VETO OF THE BILL TO REPEAL THE LITIGANT ACT.

Following is the Governor's veto message to the bill passed by the recent Legislature to repeal the Act to Protect Litigants:

The act of October 24th, 1870, provides that the proprietor of a newspaper designated as the official paper of any county, shall file with the County Clerk of said county a written stipulation accepting the conditions of the Act, together with an approved bond for the faithful performance of the legal and judicial advertising for said county, and when such action on the part of a proprietor of a designated newspaper has taken place, the Governor shall without delay, by proclamation, appoint and confirm said newspaper as the medium through which all judicial and legal advertisements for said county shall be published for the term for which he may have been elected."

If this proceeding amounts to a franchise vested for the period named as has been held by high judicial authority in other States, under like acts or it is in the nature of a contract, and rights have vested under that contract, a repeal of the law could not divest those rights, nor annihilate or impair the privileges so acquired. Conceiving that in any event the repeal of said act of October 24th, 1870, before the period expressed for its termination, will throw the litigation of the State into confusion and tend to create a multiplication of collateral suits and proceedings to determine the right of publishers and litigants, expensive and disastrous to all parties connected therewith, I have concluded to withhold my signature from said bill.

L. F. GROVER.

APPREHENDED INDIAN WAR.—Mr. McKay, says the Yreka Union, who as one of the Ingalls' surveying party, has spent the last three months in the country between Tule and Goose Lakes, thinks that Captain Jack's faction or party of the Modocs are meditating and preparing for hostilities with the whites. It will be recollected that we stated last week, on the authority of Bob Whittle, that the officers at the Reservation, in conjunction with the military at Fort Klamath, were about to make another effort to take the Modocs onto the reservation. Heretofore Capt. Jack's followers have always exhibited an unconquerable aversion to the reservation, and, when forced, have gone on it with the greatest reluctance only to quit it at the first opportunity. It seems this aversion, instead of abating by lapse of time, has only grown stronger. It is the opinion of McKay—and he says it is the opinion of others also who have had the best opportunities to observe their movements and study their disposition and temper—that they do not intend to remove to the reservation peaceably, and that they have been providing the means to resist any attempt to take them there by force. Jack and his followers are camped on the banks of Lost River, near the site of the natural bridge, and latterly have exhibited more than their usual insolence to settlers in the vicinity, and in numerous instances have committed depredations on their stock. They have killed some five head belonging to Louis Land, who lives on the southwestern border of Tule Lake; they have given orders to a settler known as "Dennis" to leave; and in the presence of McKay, as he was on his way to Yreka, they demanded of another settler two sacks of flour. Of course they can make no successful resistance to the United States troops, but what is to be feared, is that they may massacre scattered and defenceless settlers, or shoot down unarmed and unsuspecting travellers and vaqueros, before the troops can bring their power to bear.

OREGON BUSINESS DIRECTORY!

THE UNDERSIGNED WILL COMMENCE soliciting for a BUSINESS DIRECTORY

OF THE STATE OF OREGON in a few days; and, to make it successful, respectfully requests the cooperation of all persons interested in the welfare of the country. The State has now reached that position when a yearly summary of her progress is necessary, hence the value of a work which will combine, in a condensed form, all matters of public interest.

The work in contemplation will embrace a general sketch of the State; its physical aspects, geology, climatology, botany, zoology, commerce, manufactures, societies, public buildings, productions, and all other subjects on which information is required.

The work will be illustrated with sketches of some of the leading prominent scenery of the State, and its completion will be under the charge of J. Mountain Murray, Esq., whose recent work on Washington Territory has been highly commended by the press and public.

The BUSINESS DIRECTORY of each Town and City will be complete; and that, with sketches of each place, should make it invaluable to the Merchant, Farmer and Mechanic.

As an advertising medium it will be the best yet introduced in the State, as it will be of such importance that it will always be retained in a prominent position for reference.

The Rates of advertising will be as follows: One Page.....$2.00. Half Page..... 1.00. Card..... .50. Advertisers taking one page will receive a copy of the book gratis. Price of work will be.....$2.50. The Book will be distributed on every route of travel and public place in the country.
