Town and County.

NEW LODGE.—Ruth Rebekah Degree Lodge No. 4, instituted last week by Wm. Ray, D. D. G. M., pro tem, is a new Lodge, and the fourth of that kind instituted in the State.

APPOINTED.—James Barnes having resigned his position as Commissioner of the proposed Southern Oregon Wagon Road, Gov. Grover has appointed Hon. E. C. Mason, of Goose Lake, instead.

NOT RESPONSIBLE.—In another column will be found the answers of Stephen Booth and J. C. Slagle to Sam. Colver and Caro & Baum, which are rather of a personal character. Of course we are not responsible for them.

MORE REGULARS.—A detachment of about 15 soldiers from Fort Vancouver, under Lieutenants Rheem and Ross, passed through town this week, en route for the scene of the Indian war.

THE WEATHER.—A heavy rain fell the forepart of the week, which caused the streams to raise considerably, furnishing some water for the miners conveniently situated. The rain, however, has now abated, and is superseded by a dense fog, interspersed by slight showers.

COME AND SEE THEM.—Persons indebted to the firm of Sachs Bros., will find it to their interest to settle immediately and thereby save costs, as they mean business.

J. M. Childers, proprietor of Bybee's ferry and store, requests those indebted to him to come forward and settle immediately.

FOR THE WAR.—Major General John F. Miller, of the Oregon Militia, accompanied by his two staff officers, Colonels Bellinger and Thompson, arrived here on Thursday and left early Friday morning for the seat of the Modoc war. We look confident for some decided movement on the part of the Militia soon after their arrival.

SPIEL-MARKS.—These pieces of bogus money, which somewhat resemble a $20 gold piece, have caused our citizens considerable trouble of late, several attempts at passing them having been made, many of which were successful. One of them was palmed off by a soldier on the proprietor of the Eldorado saloon, who returned $19.75 coin in change.

MORE VOLUNTEERS GONE TO THE FRONT. — On Wednesday last Lieut. Reames of the Oregon Militia left here for headquarters with the following nine recruits, viz.: Alvin Cardwell, A. P. Owen, A. J. Adams, Thos. J. Farris, E. Smith, Wm. Adam, Joseph McKee, W. C. Border, J. N. Harper. On reaching Ashland, the Lieutenant raised another recruit, whose name we did not learn.

THE RAILROAD.—It appears from an article in the Yreka Union, published on our first page, that Ben. Holladay is in no hurry to continue his railroad from Roseburg, and that he ain't certain of its going through Rogue River Valley. This is consolation for those residents of this valley who aided the Radical party at the State election last June, with the idea that that party only was sure to consummate that scheme soon.

INSTALLATION.—At a regular meeting of Jacksonville Stamm No. 148, U. O. R. M., held Thursday evening, January 9th, 1873, the following officers were installed for the ensuing term: Anton Ullman, O. Ch.; Benj. Sachs, U. Ch.; Carl Neumeyer, Sch.; Jos. Wetterer, Schatv.; Max Muller, P.; E. Jacobs, B. Ch.; Adam Schmidt, M.; Jacob Meyer, H.; Nick Fickle, D.; Louis Petzold, K.; Jacob Schmidtling, W. W.; Andrew Hauser, G. W.

DEATH OF A VOLUNTEER.—Private Wm. Rexford, of Co. A., 1st Brigade Oregon Militia, died at Soda Springs on the 3d inst. Mr. Rexford having become dangerously sick from exposure, was granted a furlough to return to this valley, and it was whilst on his way home that death overtook him. His remains were forwarded by Major Owen, of the Quartermaster's Department of this place, to the relatives of the deceased, living on Applegate creek.

I. O. O. F. INSTALLATION.—At a regular meeting of Jacksonville Lodge No. 10, I. O. O. F., held on the evening of the 4th, the following officers were installed for the ensuing term by S. J. Day, D. D. G. M.: Isaac Sachs, N. G.; John A. Boyer, V. G.; Kaspar Kubli, R. S.; F. Luy, Treasurer; C. W. Savage, P. S.; J. P. McDaniel, R. S. to N. G.; T. T. McKenzie, L. S. to N. G.; Sol. Sachs, R. S. to V. G.; T. B. Kent, L. S. to V. G.; Jos. Wetterer, R. S. S.; John McKee, L. S. S.; Peter Boschey, I. G.; John Neuber, W.; Edwin Smith, C.; Silas J. Day, Chaplain. Trustees, S. J. Day, T. T. McKenzie and H. Klippel.

Blanche Bridgman, Oct. 6th; aged 76 years; town cemetery.

H. J. Severance, Oct. 13th; aged 6 months and 22 days; dropsy of brain; town cemetery.

Daniel P. Norton, Oct. 17th; aged 58 years; bilious fever; town cemetery.

Geo. W. Oliver, October 17th; aged 51 years, 8 months and 5 days; dropsy; town cemetery.

Joseph C. Beggs, October 10th; aged 1 year and 7 months; town cemetery.

Laurence Pennell, Nov. 16th; aged 53 years; liver disease; town cemetery.

Dr. L. Ganung, Dec. 16th; 58 years, 4 months and 12 days; pleurisy; Red Men's cemetery.

Number of names, 32. Add to these five Chinamen and three still-born infants, and it makes a grand total of 40, against 50 in 1871. Of this number one was killed at Fort Klamath and brought here for interment, three of the others were accidents, and two were transients who did not belong in the State. Deduct these six and the Chinamen and still-borns from the list and it leaves only 26 who died from actual disease out of the resident white population. Taking into consideration the annually increasing number of people who come to Jacksonville to bury their dead, it will be seen that 1872 was as healthy a year as we ever had in Southern Oregon.

CONFEDERATE HEALING SALVE. — The following is the recipe for this superior salve, furnished us by a gentleman of this city, which has been ascertained by experience to be unequaled for the cure of all kinds of sores: Take 2 ounces of beeswax, 2 ounces of English resin, 2 ounces of linseed oil, and one-half ounce of gum camphor. First put the linseed oil in a vessel and heat it boiling hot; next add the camphor and stir till completely dissolved; then add the other ingredients. Stir the compounds together at a boiling heat about half a minute. Then take it off and let it cool, and it will be ready for use. For old, chronic sores, add to the above ingredients one ounce of dry red lead. No household should be without it, and we advise our readers to clip this recipe and try it.

A SUPERIOR INDUCEMENT.—We have made arrangements with Wood's Household Magazine, by which we are enabled to furnish that magazine, price $1, in conjunction with the TIMES, price $3, for the low sum of $3.50, in advance. By doing this, you subscribe for a superior local paper, and get a first class family magazine thrown in for almost nothing. Now is the time to subscribe.

LATEST FROM THE SEAT OF WAR.

HEADQUARTERS 1st BRIG. OGN. MIL., }
CAMP WILLOW CREEK, Jan. 7, 1873. }

EDITOR TIMES: As it appears from your paper that you have had very little information from the seat of war, I thought I would drop you a few dottings to show you and your numerous readers the situation of the soldiers and the Indians. The headquarters of the Regular army, with General Wheaton in command, and also the headquarters of the the Oregon Volunteer Militia, Brigadier General Ross, commanding, are stationed at this point, the situation being about eight miles on a straight line north-west of Capt. Jack's camp, which is at the west margin of Tule Lake, in what are called the Lava Beds, or rocks filled with deep, sunken holes or chasms. Captain Bernard with his command are camped at the south side of Tule Lake, 15 miles distant from Jack's camp, having a rough trail to the Indian fastnesses. Capt. Applegate, with part of Company B. of the Volunteers, is at the Yianox Agency, and the remainder are at these headquarters, under the command of Lieut. Hyzer. All these troops are continually kept on the scout and escort duty, except what are needed for camp duty.

I observe an article in the Sentinel from P. A. Dorris, stating that he, with Capt. Perry's command, had made a reconnoissance of Capt. Jack's camp before Gen. Ross' command had arrived. Mr. Dorris must either be very forgetful, or disposed to misrepresent the facts, as nearly everything published in the California papers in regard to matters here are misrepresentations. The facts are that Gen. Ross' command arrived 24 hours before Capt. Perry's, and the first reconnoissance that was made to Capt. Jack's camp, was made by 40 men under Capt. Perry, and 40 men from Gen. Ross' command, under Capt. Kelly, leaving camp together at 11 o'clock at night, under the guidance of Mr. Dorris. Mr. Dorris was furnished the morning of the reconnoissance with a field-glass that was in Capt. Kelly's command, to view the place around Capt. Jack's camp, and when he returned, Gen. Ross had his horse cared for, and invited him to his tent, where they indulged in several "smiles," had quite a long talk on the situation and a hearty dinner. When Mr. Dorris returned home and was deputized by the citizens of Yreka to visit Gov. Booth, we were all satisfied that nothing would be done in that quarter to relieve this country of these murderous Indians. I thought so then and publicly expressed myself, as did others, that he was not the man to send to get assistance to fight Indians.

Capt. Kelly had a little brush with a band of about 20 Indians on the 5th inst. The Captain had twelve of his men and five Indian scouts out in the direction of Capt. Jack's camp. When about four miles from the Modoc camp, they discovered this band of Indians coming out from their stronghold and gave chase across an open flat. The Indians retreated, however, and got in behind a point of rocks, and opened fire on the little squad as they came up. Nothing daunted, they dismounted under a shower of bullets from the concealed Indians, and whenever they could get sight of an Indian, they let drive at him. They were then in a mile and a half of Jack's camp, and the Indians behind the rocks were continually yelling. An Indian with Capt. Kelly told him they were calling on Jack for help, which was verified by the Indians at the camp coming up and yelling in return. Capt. Kelly's Indian told him that Jack was telling the Indians behind the rocks that he was coming to their aid, when the boys concluded they had better get out of that, which they did, and returned to camp, without any casualities to report. This is the first encounter any of the boys have had since their arrival here, the result of which is unknown.

We are all anxiously awaiting the arrival of the howitzers, which will be along in two or three days, when it will be short work.

The regular troops stationed here and our men get along finely together, which has heretofore been entirely different. The officers, from Gen. Wheaton down, are gentlemen, having shown us every courtesy in their power. Everything goes on harmoniously. The boys are all well and anxious for a chance at Capt. Jack's band, and your humble servant, like Artemus Ward, is willing to let them have all the glory to themselves.

More anon, E. D. FOUDRAY.

PERSONAL.—Hon. P. P. Prim started for Salem last week, to be in attendance on the Supreme Court, which met in Salem last Mouday.

The irrepressible Sam. Colver favored us with a call Monday. Although not belligerent, the smile so childlike and bland, that is wont to encircle his phiz, was missing.

Messrs. Howard, Robb and Turner, who were on business up North, have returned.

Wm. Thompson, Esq., of the Salem Mercury, and C. B. Bellinger, Esq., of Portland, favored us with a call yesterday.

J. R. Neil, Esq., arrived from the seat of war Thursday evening. He reports the war progressing slowly, and intends to return the coming week.

Business men advertise in the TIMES.
Surprise parties are all the rage now.
The Indian War is beginning to bite.

The times in Jacksonville are terribly dull.

Snow has fallen on the lofty mountains.

The wind has been playing smash this week.

Counterfeit postage stamps are in the market.

Two prisoners still lanuguish in Hotel de Coats.

A grand fight is expected soon in the Lake country.

Only 30 deaths last year in Jacksonville to about 45 in 1871.

Though the holidays are over, walking grog-shops still abound.

Employ your surplus capital in encouraging home enterprises.

B. F. Dowell, Esq., intends leaving shortly for Washington.

Sheriff McKenzie says taxes are being paid magnificently slow.

The ladies of Jacksonville have a regular Rebekah Lodge now.

Veit Schutz can redeem his beer keg, by replacing it with a full one.

Tom Short, formerly of this city, has gone and done it—got married.

The M. E. Sunday School has over 110 scholars, and is still increasing.

The Linkville Land Office will be open for business next Thursday, 16th inst.

The city election is approaching, and candidates are counting noses already.

About a dozen men, who appear to have lost Indians, started for the seat of war.

Considerable mining is being done at present in Jackson and Josephine counties.

The various schools, having recovered from the holidays, are in full blast again.

Holladay isn't a-going to kill himself getting his railroad through Rogue River Valley.

Quite a number of State land deeds were given to citizens of Jackson county last year.

Col. Stone last week forwarded large supplies to the Lake country, for the use of the soldiers.

We are pleased to notice that Silas J. Day, Esq., who has been ill for some time, has almost recovered.

Small change is exceedingly scarce, undoubtedly because it is sent to the heathen through church collections.

Wanted—some cheap cuss to make sausage meat of sundry K9's, who make night hideous with their plaintive melodies.

There were 51 marriages last year—Leap Year—against 34 for 1871, which shows that the ladies were decidedly on the "marry."

A large area of land having been sown with grain in Jackson county last Fall, we may reasonably expect a favorable Spring season.

The nomination of Geo. Nourse, as Register of the Linkville Land Office, has been confirmed by the Senate. Geo. Conn is Receiver.

B. F. Myer, of Jackson county, has been appointed Deputy U. S. Surveyor for Mining District No. 1, in accordance with an act of Congress

Those that don't get the TIMES for some reason or other, needn't get their "dander up," but gently inform us, and they shall have the missing numbers.

Owing to the roads being beautifully muddy, the stages ain't making the fastest of time, and we observe the drivers "pull 'em up," and use the lash quite lively.

Walk up, gentlemen, and settle your subscription and advertising accounts, and thereby save us considerable time in dunning you; besides dunning is disagreeable, and time is money with us.

Our poet gets this off at the expense of a red-headed damsel, who has been deluging this office with her doggerel: Unfortunate woman; how sad is your lot! Your ringlets are red, but your poems are not.

According to the new apportionment made by the last Legislature, Jackson county is entitled to one Senator and three Representatives, and Josephine to one Senator and one Representative—the same as they had under the old apportionment.

A young man residing on Applegate was badly sold Sunday night by his friends who sent him to hold the sack across a path while they proposed to drive a flock of snipe into it. He held the sack for about three hours in the dark and rain and then went home to find his companions in bed and asleep.

A Sam's Valley man who had only been acquainted with his girl two nights, attempted to kiss her at the gate. In his deposition he told the doctors that just as he "kissed her the earth slid out from under his feet, and his soul went out of his mouth, while his head touched the stars." Later dispatches show that what ailed him was the old man's boot.

COUNTY COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The following are the proceedings of the Jackson County Court for the January term, 1873:

MONDAY, Jan. 6th.—Present—E. B. Watson, Judge; M. H. Drake and Jacob Wagner, Commissioners, and Pat. Dunn, County Clerk.

Sealed proposals for the building of a bridge across Applegate creek, were received by the Court from the following persons: John Hockenyaus, $2,135 00; H. F. Phillips, $2,250; Samuel Hall, $2,000; Daily and Tozer, $1,800; Thomas Mee, $1,550; gold coin. Laid over until the next regular term of the Court.

It was ordered by the Court that the Sheriff remit all county taxes of Morris Mensor on all his assessments over $15,000 for the present year, it appearing that the applicant failed to appear before the Board of Equalization at the proper time, through an excusable mistake on his part, and it further appearing from a sworn statement of applicant that he has not more than $15,000 of assessable property in this county and State over his debts and liabilities. This, however, does not apply to his State taxes.

Bills to the amount of $1808 15 were audited and ordered paid.

The Court then adjourned to 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

TUESDAY, Jan. 7.—The Court met at the appointed time—all present.

Bills to the amount of $129 20 were audited and ordered paid. In the matter of M. Hanley and others, praying for a road commencing at Peter Simon's and running to Lundy's ford on the south fork of Butte creek. It was ordered by the Court that it be laid over until the February term of Court, for want of proof of notice.

Further action upon the matter of the Wagner Creek road was postponed until the next term of Court.

The Court then adjourned.

BOOTH ON COLVER.

ASHLAND, Ogn., Jan. 8, 1873.

EDITOR TIMES: I am informed that Sam. Colver in his attempt at a lecture in Jacksonville on the evening of Saturday, Dec. 28th, had considerable to say about me and my character. Now, while I never claimed that my character was the finest that could be found in the United States, yet, such as it is, I would not exchange it for that of the nefarious old Sam Colver's. * * * And now, since he has seen proper to bring my character before the public, I propose to have something to say about his, and I make the following charges against him, viz.:

1st. That he is an infamous liar and slanderer.

2d. That he is an officious intermeddler in other people's business, always interfering and dipping his bill into matters that do not concern him, and stirring up trouble and making himself a nuisance generally.

3d. That previous to the present war, he (Colver) advised and encouraged the Modoc Indians to stay off their reservation, and not obey the order of the Government, and it was this advice and encouragement on the part of Sam Colver and others that has produced the war.

4th. That since the war he has aided and abetted the hostile Indians in every possible way, carrying or sending news to Capt. Jack's camp, officiously interfering with the operations of the military and Indian Department, and is now going around finding fault with the course of the same and the settlers.

I was one of a party that went after the Hot Creek band of Modocs to bring them to the Klamath Reservation. We arrived at Whittle's ferry late in the evening, finding Colver with those Indians at that place. We camped at Small's, near there, that night, intending to take the Indians back with us in the morning; but about midnight, while we were all asleep, the Indians all stampeded, and Sam Colver with them. Next morning no trace was to be seen of either them or him. * * * * *

Colver in his published letter talks about having authority, in writing, from certain military officers to operate among the Hot Creek Indians. He never claimed that he had received that authority until the night I met him at Whittle's Ferry, but stated that he had received it that evening at the hands of Indian Agent Dyar. And now what did he do under that authority? In less than two hours after he received it, he stampeded with the Hot Creek Indians, as above stated. Every able-bodied buck joined the hostiles, and even old Sam, after he disappeared, was missing for so long a time that it was supposed that he also had united his fortunes with those of Capt. Jack. I have no means of knowing what the nature of the "authority" he brags about is, but that was the way he acted under it.

STEPHEN BOOTH.

A CARD.

ASHLAND, Ogn., Jan. 8, 1873.

EDITOR TIMES:—Sir:—In the TIMES of January 4th there appeared a notice signed by Caro & Baum, of this place, stating that Slagle & Son had "greenbacked" them in the sum of $235.25, on a debt contracted on a coin basis. Now, as far as the payment of that amount in greenbacks is concerned, we do not deny it, but I wish to make a statement of facts in connection with the payment of those greenbacks, which is as follows:

On or about the 1st of September, 1872, we commenced our account with the above firm, during which time we bought and paid said firm coin for articles they had us charged with in their bill, and on settlement, said Caro & Baum positively refused to deduct those articles, or any part thereof, out of their bill, which I am certain we had paid them the coin for at the time of purchase. These are the true facts of the case, and is the reason why we paid them in greenbacks.

I would caution parties, if there be any who are running accounts with said firm, to beware of them, or they will meet with the same fate we did.
