THE LOVE OF MONEY.

The desire for gain is an inborn motive of human nature. It is the natural and healthy outgrowth of the law of necessity.

Thus we see the folly of anchoring our hope in mere possessions. Wealth is nothing only in relation to its uses.

PLANTS AS DOCTORS.—Prof. Manne-gazza, of Paris, recently discovered that ozone is generated in immense quantities by all plants and flowers

THE BEST REMEDY FOR OBESITY.—Mr. Banting, an Englishman, became very fat, and strove by all sorts of means to rid himself of his incumbrance.

THE ONLY SAFE AND EFFECTIVE treatment of obesity is a reduction in the quality of the usual food.

PAGE, of California, has introduced in Congress a bill to prohibit the employment of coolie labor.

THE RURAL NEW YORKER says: Rams should not run with ewes, except during the coupling season.

THE number of cigars that a healthy man may smoke without injury depends upon the make up of his nervous system.

MRS. OLIVER WOULD RESPECTFULLY inform the public that she will shortly be prepared to weave carpets in the most artistic style.

THE AGE OF LYING.

There is too much lying. On every hand we meet with exaggeration, equivocation, deception.

Everywhere we hear lying. Men and women who would knock you down if you called them liars.

Gentlemen—ladies—why cannot the truth be told always and ever?

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH OUR DAUGHTERS?

Bring them up in the way they should go. Give them a good substantial common education.

Teach them how to cook a good meal of victuals. Teach them how to wash and iron clothes.

Teach them how to darn stockings and sew on buttons. Teach them how to make their own dresses.

Teach them to make shirts. Teach them to make bread. Teach them all the mysteries of the kitchen, the dining-room and parlor.

Teach them that a dollar is only one hundred cents. Teach them that the more one lives within their income, the more they will save.

Teach them that the further one lives beyond their income, the nearer they get to the poor-house. Teach them to wear calico dresses—and do it like a queen.

Teach them that a round rosy romp is worth fifty delicate consumptives. Teach them to wear thick, warm shoes. Teach them to do marketing for the family.

Teach them to foot up store bills. Teach them that God made them in His own image, and that no amount of tight lacing or Grecian bends will improve the model.

Teach them every-day, hard, practical common sense. Teach them self reliance. Teach them that a good, steady, greasy mechanic without a cent, is worth a dozen oily-pated loafers in broad-cloth.

Teach them to have nothing to do with intemperate and dissolute young men. SIGNS OF DEATH.—Some time ago the Academy of Sciences in Paris offered a prize of $4,000 for some simple and positive sign of death which any non-professional person could understand and apply.

Such a test, suggested in Verchow's Archiv, is considered very satisfactory by the British medical press. It consists in tying a string firmly round the finger of the supposed corpse; if the blood circulates in the least—in which event death has not taken place—the whole finger will swell and turn a bluish red.

It is conceivable that such a test would be very useful in cases of drowning and asphyxia. It may be legitimate to cite a case which occurred not long ago at Brussels. A drunken man fell into a canal, and remained so long immersed that very little hope was entertained of his recovery.

He was, to all appearance, a corpse. Dr. Joux, physician to the police, to whom application is made in such cases, did not share the conviction of the bystanders, and having used the most energetic means of restoration for three hours, ended by applying a hot iron to the patient, who instantly moved slightly.

The former measures were reverted to, and the supposed corpse stood up in less than half an hour, branded indeed, but none the worse for his accident.

LIME may be profitably applied to sandy soil, for it helps to dissolve the silica in it. But it is not necessary to apply it for any other purpose.

We would not apply it more frequently than once in three years. Sandy soils need organic matter more.

If the farmer who owns a sandy soil has an adjoining muck-bed and will take pains to supply his sand with this organic matter liberally, he will find his barren sand will manufacture for him products quicker and more surely than his neighbor's clayey loam.

Barn-yard manure, muck, lime, leaf mould, charcoal, burned clay, woolen rags, the refuse of tanneries, slaughter-houses, &c., are all wonderfully quickly converted by sandy land into fruits, vegetables, and grains.

But they must be brought together. Let no man who has a sandy farm wish it otherwise if he has access to and can obtain these fertilizers. Especially if he is near a large market town, where early crops pay good prices, let him be thankful that he has possession of such a manufactory of raw material into marketable products.

TO-MORROW.—To-morrow may never come to us. We do not live in to-morrow. We cannot find it in any of our title-deeds.
