

The Democratic Times.

Official Paper for Jackson & Josephine Counties.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 8, 1875.

MEACHAM'S LATEST ENTERPRISE.

A. B. Meacham, who was prominently connected with the late Modoc Peace Commission, and who has been at Washington some time perfecting arrangements, has started another enterprise, which will doubtless prove as lucrative as the former.

The Salem Record announces that Capt. O. C. Applegate, a gentleman well versed in the Indian character, will accompany Meacham. The Indians he has secured are Toby, the Modoc woman, cousin to Capt. Jack, who acted as the interpreter for the peace conferences and at the trial of Jack and Soanahin.

The Railroad.

In relation to completing the O. & C. R. R., the Yreka Journal says: "The impression seems to prevail that as long as old Holladay runs the Oregon railroad, that it will never be extended further than Roseburg, or at least will never be finished to the California line, and the California road will not be extended further, if no assurance is given that the Oregon branch will be completed, as the road will not pay unless completed through to Portland.

Simple Justice.

The Oregonian pays Gov. Tilden, of New York, and Gov. Allen, of Ohio, (both recently elected as Democrats) a high compliment for refusing railroad passes. Why does not the Oregonian be just in this matter, says the Democrat, and also ascribe His Excellency, Gov. Grover, of our State, the same measure of praise which he so lavishly showers upon our Eastern Democratic Governors?

How Tweed.

A late New York dispatch says Tweed and his friends are greatly alarmed by the appointment of the new Commissioners of Charities and Correction, whose supreme control of Blackwell's Island is certain to subject Tweed to the same discipline and restrictions as lesser rogues there have. There is little hope for his escape by means of future legal proceedings, and it is believed that unless he is carefully guarded he will soon seek relief in flight. His family spent two hours with him yesterday.

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS.

Gerritt Smith, the noted abolitionist and so-called philanthropist is dead. A firm at Beaverton, Washington county, is getting out 50,000 hoop poles on a contract.

Corvallis has a shingle machine in operation with a capacity to turn out 75,000 shingles per day.

Ben Butler declares that the Republican party has run its last Presidential ticket. Ben's head is level.

The receipts of internal revenue for the month of December were $9,000,000, which is $1,000,000 over last December's receipts.

William Bragg, who is living near Independence, Polk county, was 111 years old in October. He has been in Oregon since 1844.

A prominent citizen of Polk county was made the happy recipient of one hundred and fifty chalk pipes on the Christmas tree in Dallas.

The Albany Democrat gives notice that that office will accept no complimentary tickets for shows, theaters, concerts, etc., after Jan. 1st. All puffs must be paid for.

Fillbustering in aid of the Cuban insurgents is to be renewed soon with two steamers. They are also using efforts at Washington to have the insurgents recognized as belligerents.

Washington correspondents write that the House Committee on Railroads and canals has decided to recommend a subsidy of $8,000 per mile for the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad.

There are 243 Granges of the Patrons of Husbandry in Oregon and adjoining Territories. These have an average membership of 50 each, which gives 12,150 persons affiliated with the order here.

The emigrant ship Cospatrick, from London for New York, was burned at sea on November 17th. Of the crew and passengers, numbering 500, all perished but three, who arrived at St. Helena in a starving condition.

A gentleman well posted in live stock matters informs the Mountaineer that during last summer over 80,000 calves were branded in Eastern Oregon. It is estimated that next summer the number will reach 120,000.

The Portland Bulletin says: Strawberry vines were in bloom on the hills in Eagle creek precinct on the 15th of this month. We have had no winter so far, and trees seem ready to bloom out on the first warm day. Oregon is truly the finest climate on the continent.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs has issued orders that no Indians be allowed to leave their reservations without a written permit from the Superintendent, and then under guard from the nearest military post. While passing through white settlements without such permit and guard Indians will be treated as hostile bands.

Harry Wells, the founder of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express Company, passed Winnemucca on the 22d, going west. The old gentleman is 75 years of age, hale and hearty, and apparently as full of vigor as a man of 50. He was with a party of six or eight persons, who are going to some place in Southern California to spend the winter.

Money was never so plenty in the California street market as at the present time. Recently, the Bank of California received from New York a repaid loan of one million dollars, says the Coos Bay News, and other combinations of circumstances have reduced the current rate of interest on all good securities to eight per cent. per annum. The only thing to be regretted is that the San Francisco banks have been loaning money on property in Chicago and St. Louis for the past three months, and sending none of it for investment in Oregon, which is one of San Francisco's biggest feeders.

A dispatch dated Seattle, W. T., Jan. 1st, says the sweepstake race over the Seattle course took place to-day. The horses were called out at 1 o'clock. Osceola and Tom Merry were the only horses to run, Trifle having been withdrawn. Osceola won the race easily in three straight heats. Time—1:54, 1:50, 1:54. A heavy rain set in last night and continued throughout the day. The track was very heavy and slippery. Tom Merry was the favorite before the race, pools selling slowly at 20 to 15. Great disappointment was manifested at his actions in the race. Osceola was ridden by John Faylor, his trainer, and Tom Merry by Geo. Tebaw. About $8,000 changed hands.

Army Supplies in Oregon.

A telegram from Washington states that one of the requirements of the new law regulating the purchase of army supplies is that wherever purchases can be made in the vicinity of the points to be supplied, without extra cost, the local manufacturers and producers must be patronized in preference to contractors at a distance. And it is said that one of the results of this law is to give a San Francisco shoe factory a contract to furnish all the army boots and shoes for the Pacific Coast. That is not as "local" as it ought to be. Inasmuch as most of the soldiers on the coast are in Oregon, and at points naturally drawing supplies from Oregon, says the Bulletin, we insist that the Oregon factories should have the contracts for all boots, shoes, clothing, blankets, bread, meat and everything else that the army needs in this quarter. Wont our delegation in Congress just "localize" this matter a little more.

Louisiana.

Matters are serious again in Louisiana. The infamous fraud practiced by Kellogg's Returning Board of Elections upon the people of Louisiana have roused the latter to action, who intend making it tropical for the carpet-baggers. Another quota of Federal bayonets has been sent there to keep in the usurpers.

THE CRUCIAL TEST of the value of a medicine is time. Does experience confirm the claims put forth in its favor at the outset? is the grand question. Apply this criterion, so simple, yet so searching, to Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient. How has it worn? What has been its history? How does it stand to-day?

Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with success, in dyspepsia, sick headache, nervous debility, liver complaint, bilious remittents, bowel complaints (especially constipation), rheumatism, gout, gravel, nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of inflammation. So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the taste, so refreshing to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. For sale by all druggists.
