FROM EVANS CREEK.

EVANS CREEK, March 4, 1875. TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES : A few items from the quicksilver regions north and south of Evans Creek will doubtless be of interest to your readers, which I propose to furnish as correctly and reliable as possible.

Up to the present time, D. Hodges' claim on the north side of Evans Creek is considered by all who profess to be experts in cin- Clerk. nabar to be the most flattering on that side of Evans Creek. There are none so needy or more deserving of success than Mr. Hodges, as he has been prosecuting his search with great energy, under adverse circumstances, and it is to be hoped that his labors will be amply rewarded.

Turner, Caton & Co. have suspended operations on their claim for the present, owing to the inclemency of the weather, though I was told they intend prosecuting for murder. Same as above. their work with vigor as soon as the weather will permit. Their prospects are favorable. Joel Dixon, Goff and others are also operating with encouraging prospects ahead.

There are hundreds of other claims taken, but as yet no physical work, so essential to developing them, has been expended, and perhaps never will.

The late discovery near Benson's, I believe, is a grand humbug.

Cooling & Co., of California, are operating on the south side of Evans Creek, about three miles southwest of the Hodges' claim. Mr. Cooling professes to be an expert in cinnabar hunting, having had some experience in that business in California. He seems to know what he is doing, and evidently means business, judging from the preparations he is making. Since his return from California he has constructed a action to recover money. Same as comfortable cabin on his claim, and has brought some temporary machinery with him, which he intends using in the manufacture of his ore, as he has a small vein Dyar and Wm. MINING NEWS.

Klippel, Beekman & Johnson have nine men at work on the Elizabeth ledge and work is progressing finely. They will clean up in the course of a short time.

Several assayers and mining experts from California and other sections of this Coast, have been and are yet in this vicinity testing the mineral wealth of the country.

Wilbur Beeson informs us that persons from Los Angeles offered him quite a sum for a cinnabar deposit lately discovered by him, but he refused to sell.

Owing to the inclement weather no new developments are reported from Galice Creek. Prospecting is progressing, and everybody is anxious to retain his claim in hopes of a big thing. We were this week shown a very fine piece of quartz from the ledge of Messrs. Noland, Nunan & Company, in which much free gold could be seen. A tunnel of about 50 feet has already | can be deducted from a person's assessbeen run. The ledge, which is well ment. defined, was struck at the distance of 45 feet. The company is actively engaged developing it. This ledge is one vailing. One day sunshine, the next of the best yet discovered.

Wm. Chapman, of Josephine county, spersed to keep up the medley, has J. Elliott vs. D. C. Jones; action to who was in town Sunday, informs us been the programme.

The Grand Jury is still in session. The town is quite lively this week. L. Herling has a sewing machine for sale at Ben Sachs'. Some excellent articles from "Ceres" vill appear in our next. Correspondence from all parts of Southern Oregon solicited.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The entertainment given by the Ashland amateurs was a success.

A GOOD OPPORTUNITY. - Circuit Court is now in session and many persons from all parts of the county are in attendance. This is a first-class opportunity to settle what you owe the printer, and we request all those indebted to the TIMES office to come forward and square your accounts.

FROM COOS BAY .- Our old friend A. P. Owen, lately of this place, is clerking in the Empire City Drug Store and Post Office. By a letter lately received from him we learn times are good there and that he is pleased with the country. He has placed us under obligations for substantial favors. May his shadow never grow less.

IN OFFICE.-The new town officers have taken their various offices and the wheels of the city government run as glibly as ever. Marshal McDaniel's first official act was to arrest a man named Doherty last Monday for disturbance of the peace and assault with a dangerous weapon, for which latter offence he has been indicted by the Grand Jury.

T. A. DAVIS & Co.-Attention is called to the advertisement of this well known Portland firm. They keep constantly on hand a full and first-class stock of drugs, medicines, etc., and those desiring anything in their line can do as well with them, if not better, than they can do in San Francisco. "Keep your money at home," is a very good motto, and they should be given a trial.

M. A. Houston also has a flattering pro pect on the south side of this creek, in my judgment about as good as any now in process of development.
